

UPDATE ON 2025

HUNGARY

COUNTRY REPORT

MAY 2026

Acknowledgements & Methodology

This report was written by Gruša Matevžič and Katarina Petrov of the Hungarian Helsinki Committee (HHC). The initial report and all previous updates were written by the HHC. The annex on Temporary Protection was written by Eszter Benkő and Anikó Bakonyi of the HHC. The report and Temporary Protection annex were edited by ECRE.

The information for the 2025 update was obtained from the interviews with the HHC staff and contracted attorneys, UNHCR, as well as from questionnaires submitted to the Hungarian authorities and Hungarian civil and church organizations, i.e., Cordelia Foundation, Jesuit Refugee Service, Menedék Hungarian Association for Migrants, Next Step and from available reports.

Contributed information to the TPD annex: Caritas Hungarica, Cordelia Foundation, Evangelical Lutheran Diakonia, Jesuit Refugee Service, Hungarian Interchurch Aid, Hungarian Maltese Charity, Menedék Hungarian Association for Migrants, Hungarian Red Cross, IOM, Hungarian Reformed Church Aid, Next Step, BMSZKI.

The 2025 update to the AIDA country report on Hungary was shared with Hungarian authorities to provide an opportunity for comments. The comments were taken into account by the authors in the report below and the comments by the Government Office of Budapest and the Ministry of Finance are also published in a separate annex on the AIDA website.

The information in this report is up-to-date as of 31 December 2025, unless otherwise stated.

The Asylum Information Database (AIDA)

The Asylum Information Database (AIDA) is managed by the European Council on Refugees and Exiles (ECRE). It aims to provide up-to date information which is accessible to researchers, advocates, legal practitioners and the general public through the dedicated website www.asylumineurope.org. It covers 27 countries, including 21 EU Member States (AT, BE, BG, CY, CZ, DE, ES, FR, GR, HR, HU, IE, IT, MT, NL, PL, PT, RO, SE, SK and SI) and 6 non-EU countries (Egypt, Serbia, Switzerland, Türkiye, Ukraine and the United Kingdom). The database also seeks to promote the implementation and transposition of EU asylum legislation reflecting the highest possible standards of protection in line with international refugee and human rights law and based on best practice.

This report is part of the Asylum Information Database (AIDA), funded by the European Union's Asylum, Migration and Integration Fund (AMIF) and ECRE. The contents of this report are the sole responsibility of ECRE and can in no way be taken to reflect the views of the European Commission.

Table of Contents

Glossary & List of Abbreviations	6
Statistics	7
Overview of the legal framework	11
Overview of the main changes since the previous report update	14
Asylum Procedure	18
A. General	18
1. Flow chart	18
2. Types of procedures	19
3. List of authorities intervening in each stage of the procedure	19
4. Number of staff and nature of the first instance authority	20
5. Short overview of the asylum procedure	21
B. Access to the procedure and registration	25
1. Access to the territory and pushbacks	25
2. Preliminary checks of third country nationals upon arrival	36
3. Registration of the asylum application	37
C. Procedures	38
1. Regular procedure	38
2. Dublin	50
3. Admissibility procedure	59
4. Border procedure (border and transit zones)	63
5. Accelerated procedure	64
6. National protection statuses and return procedure	66
D. Guarantees for vulnerable groups	67
1. Identification	67
2. Special procedural guarantees	69
3. Use of medical reports	71
4. Legal representation of unaccompanied and separated children	72
E. Subsequent applications	75
F. The safe country concepts	76
1. Safe country of origin	76
2. Safe third country	77
3. First country of asylum	80
4. 'Hybrid' safe third country / first country of asylum	80
G. Information for asylum seekers and access to NGOs and UNHCR	81
1. Provision on information on the procedure	81
2. Access to NGOs and UNHCR	82
H. Differential treatment of specific nationalities in the procedure	84
Reception Conditions	85

A.	Access and forms of reception conditions	85
1.	Criteria and restrictions to access reception conditions.....	85
2.	Forms and levels of material reception conditions.....	86
3.	Reduction or withdrawal of reception conditions.....	87
4.	Freedom of movement	88
B.	Housing	89
1.	Types of accommodation	89
2.	Conditions in reception facilities.....	90
C.	Employment and education	92
1.	Access to the labour market.....	92
2.	Access to education	92
D.	Health care	94
E.	Special reception needs of vulnerable groups	96
F.	Information for asylum seekers and access to reception centres	97
1.	Provision of information on reception.....	97
2.	Access to reception centres by third parties	98
G.	Differential treatment of specific nationalities in reception	98
Detention of Asylum Seekers		99
A.	General	99
B.	Legal framework of detention	101
1.	Grounds for detention	101
2.	Alternatives to detention.....	102
3.	Detention of vulnerable applicants.....	103
4.	Duration of detention.....	104
C.	Detention conditions	104
1.	Place of detention	104
2.	Conditions in detention facilities.....	105
3.	Access to detention facilities	108
D.	Procedural safeguards	109
1.	Judicial review of the detention order	109
2.	Legal assistance for review of detention.....	114
E.	Differential treatment of specific nationalities in detention	115
Content of International Protection.....		116
A.	Status and residence	117
1.	Residence permit	117
2.	Civil registration.....	119
3.	Long-term residence	121
4.	Naturalisation	122
5.	Cessation and review of protection status	127
6.	Termination/revocation of protection status following a status review-procedure	129
7.	Withdrawal of protection status	130

- B. Family reunification 134
 - 1. Criteria and conditions 134
 - 2. Status and rights of family members..... 136
- C. Movement and mobility 137
 - 1. Freedom of movement 137
 - 2. Travel documents..... 137
- D. Housing 138
- E. Employment and education 141
 - 1. Access to the labour market..... 141
 - 2. Access to education and vocational training..... 143
- F. Social welfare 147
- G. Health care 148

Glossary & List of Abbreviations

Kúria	Hungarian Supreme Court
Rule 39 request	Request under Rule 39 of the Rules of the European Court of Human Rights for interim measures before a case is decided.
BMSZKI	Budapest Methodological Centre of Social Policy and Its Institutions Budapesti Módszertani Szociális Központ és Intézményei
CC	Constitutional Court
CJEU	Court of Justice of the European Union
CoE	Council of Europe
Col	Country of origin information
CPT	European Committee for the Prevention of Torture and Inhumane and Degrading Treatment or Punishment
CRC	The United Nations Committee on the Rights of the Child
EASO	European Asylum Support Office (since 01.01.2022 known as the EUAA)
EC	European Commission
ECHR	European Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms
ECRI	European Committee against Racism and Intolerance
ECtHR	European Court of Human Rights
EMN	European Migration Network
EUAA	European Union Asylum Agency (formerly known as EASO until 31.12.2021)
GRETA	Group of Experts on Action against Trafficking in Human Beings. GRETA is responsible for monitoring the implementation of the Council of Europe Convention on Action against Trafficking in Human Beings by the Parties.
HHC	Hungarian Helsinki Committee
IAO	Immigration and Asylum Office Bevándorlási és Menekültügyi Hivatal
JRS	Jesuit Refugee Service
LGBTI	Lesbian, Gay, Bisexual, Transgender, and Intersex
Mol	Ministry of Interior
MSF	Médecins sans Frontières
NDGAP	National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing/ Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
NANE	Women for Women Against Violence
OPCAT	Optional Protocol to the Convention Against Torture and other Cruel, Inhumane or Degrading Treatment or Punishment
PTSD	Post-traumatic stress disorder
SGBV	Sexual and gender-based violence
TEGYESZ	Department of Child Protection Services Területi Gyermekvédelmi Szakszolgálat
TP	Temporary protection
UaSC	Unaccompanied and separated child
UNHCR	United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees
UNHRC	United Nations Human Rights Committee
UNWGAD	United Nations Working Group on Arbitrary Detention

Statistics

Overview of statistical practice

Statistics are published annually in Hungarian and English by the National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP) on their website.¹ NDGAP also regularly provides statistical data to EUROSTAT. The HHC requests statistical data quarterly from NDGAP.

Applications and granting of protection status at first instance: figures for 2025 (1)

	Applicants in 2025(2)	Pending at end of 2025	In merit rejection	Refugee status	Subsidiary protection	Humanitarian protection (3)
Total	113	50	17	15	19	1
Breakdown by countries of origin of the total numbers
Syria	16	5	0	0	3	1
Unknown	14	1	0	3	8	0
Iran	11	8	0	2	0	0
Russia	8	5	1	4	0	0
Afghanistan	7	4	1	0	1	0
Ghana	5	3	0	1	0	0
Türkiye	5	0	2	0	1	0
Morocco	4	3	1	0	0	0
Pakistan	4	1	0	0	0	0
Nigeria	3	1	4	0	1	0
Palestine	3	1	0	1	1	0
Bangladesh	3	2	0	0	0	0
Mongolia	3	3	0	0	0	0
Sierra Leone	3	3	0	0	0	0
Poland	2	0	0	2	0	0
Georgia	2

¹ Statistical reports of the NDGAP in Hungarian may be found at: <https://tinyurl.com/bdcw5hn9>.

Myanmar	2			2
Algeria	2	1
Cuba	2	1	2
Egypt	2	1
Philippines	2	2
China	1
US	1
Kenya	1
Australia	1	1
Vietnam	1
Tajikistan	1	1
Albania	1	1
Belorussia	1	1
Libya	1
Turkmenistan	1	1	1
Uganda	0				2
Somalia	0				1
Congo	0				1
Gabon	0		1
Burundi	0		2
Liberia	0		1
Gambia	0		1

Source: NDGAP answers to HHC quarterly statistical data requests.

Note 1: all statistics concern people, including children and dependents.

Note 2: "Applicants in year" refers to the total number of applicants, and not only to first-time applicants.

Applications and granting of protection status at first instance: rates for 2025

Due to the extremely low number of asylum applications, the table on recognition/rejection rate for Hungary is not included, as the numbers would be misleading.

Gender/age breakdown of the total number of applicants: 2025

	Men	Women		Adults	Children
					Accompanied	Unaccompanied
Number	80	33	Number	80	29	4
Percentage	70.8%	29.2%	Percentage		25.7%	3.5%

Judicial remedy in asylum procedures in 2025

Judicial Remedy in Asylum Procedures in 2025
Total number of appeals / judicial review requests submitted	24 ²
Total number of judgments	31
Judgments rejecting the appeal/judicial review request	5
Judgments quashing the decision of NDGAP and ordering new procedure	24
Judgments quashing the decision of NDGAP	1
Judgments altering the decision of NDGAP	0
Judgments for the omission of NDGAP	1

Source: Data received from the National Office of the Judiciary by the HHC on 20 January 2026.

² Data received from the NDGAP by the HHC on 9 March 2026.

Embassy Procedure: 2025

Nationalities	Statement of intent	Authorisation by NDGAP	Rejection	Pending as of 31 December 2025
Türkiye	1			1
Syria	1
Tajikistan	1
Izrael	1	0	1
Total	4	0	1	1

Source: NDGAP answers to HHC quarterly statistical data requests.

Overview of the legal framework

Main legislative acts relevant to asylum procedures, reception conditions, detention and content of protection³

Title (EN)	Original Title (HU)	Abbreviation	Web Link
Fundamental Law of Hungary, 25 April 2011	Magyarország Alaptörvénye, 2011. április 25.	Fundamental Law	https://bit.ly/3wd8FbL (HU)
Act LXXX of 2007 on Asylum	2007. évi LXXX. törvény a menedékjogról	Asylum Act	https://bit.ly/32tEHb (HU)
Act II of 2007 on the Entry and Stay of Third-Country Nationals	2007. évi II. törvény a harmadik országbeli állampolgárok beutazásáról és tartózkodásáról	TCN Act	https://bit.ly/3FX9wfa (HU)
Act XC of 2023 on the General Rules on the Entry and Stay of Third Country Nationals (GRTCN Act)	A harmadik országbeli állampolgárok beutazására és tartózkodására vonatkozó általános szabályokról szóló 2023. évi XC. törvény (Btátv.)	GRTCN Act	https://bit.ly/4a27sTg (HU)
Act LXXXIX of 2007 on the State Border	2007. évi LXXXIX törvény az államhatárról	Border Act	http://bit.ly/3jAJ9qq (HU)
Act CL of 2016 on General Administrative Code	2016. évi CL. törvény az általános közigazgatási rendtartásról	GAC	https://bit.ly/4dkH3BY (HU)
Act LXXX of 2003 on Legal Aid	2003. évi LXXX. törvény a jogi segítségnyújtásról	Legal Aid Act	https://bit.ly/3Ar8jvw (HU)
Act LV of 1993 on the Hungarian citizenship	1993. évi LV. törvény a magyar állampolgárságról	Citizenship Act	https://bit.ly/3FUYIDR (HU)
Act I of 2017 on the Code of Administrative Court Procedure	2017. évi I. törvény a közigazgatási perrendtartásról	Code on Administrative Litigation	https://bit.ly/3WpSUJ7 (HU)

³ This includes acts that have since become out of effect, however these remain relevant to provide the reader with a comprehensive overview of the situation in Hungary.

Act L of 2025 on the elevation of the emergency decrees declared in view of the armed conflict in the territory of Ukraine to the level of law	2025. évi L. törvény az Ukrajna területén fennálló fegyveres konfliktusra tekintettel kihirdetett veszélyhelyzeti rendeletek törvényi szintre emeléséről	Act L of 2025	https://tinyurl.com/42j3x8vz (HU)
--	--	---------------	--

Main implementing decrees and administrative guidelines and regulations relevant to asylum procedures, reception conditions, detention and content of protection

Title (EN)	Original Title (HU)	Abbreviation	Web Link
Government Decree no. 301/2007 (XI. 9.) on the implementation of Act LXXX of 2007 on asylum	301/2007. (XI. 9.) Korm. rendelet a menedéjogról szóló 2007. évi LXXX. törvény végrehajtásáról	Asylum Decree	https://bit.ly/3fUA0DK (HU)
Government Decree no. 114/2007 (V. 24.) on the Implementation of Act II of 2007 on the Entry and Stay of Third-Country Nationals	114/2007. (V. 24.) Korm. rendelet a harmadik országbeli állampolgárok beutazásáról és tartózkodásáról szóló 2007. évi II. törvény végrehajtásáról	TCN Decree	https://bit.ly/3ly0hE5 (HU)
Government Decree no. 35/2024 (II.29) on the Implementation of Act XC of 2023 on the General Rules on the Entry and Stay of Third Country Nationals	35/2024. (II. 29.) Korm. rendelet a harmadik országbeli állampolgárok beutazására és tartózkodására vonatkozó általános szabályokról szóló 2023. évi XC. törvény végrehajtásáról	GRTCN Decree	https://bit.ly/3Tizeoi (HU)
Interior Minister Decree no. 29/2013 (VI.28.) on the rules of execution of asylum detention and bail	29/2013. (VI. 28.) BM rendelet a menekültügyi őrizet végrehajtásának szabályairól és a menekültügyi óvadékról	Decree 29/2013	https://bit.ly/3KB8ljM (HU)
Government Decree no. 191/2015 (VII. 21.) on safe countries of origin and safe third countries	191/2015. (VII. 21.) Korm. Rendelet a nemzeti szinten biztonságosnak nyilvánított származási országok és biztonságos harmadik országok meghatározásáról	Decree 191/2015	https://bit.ly/2TV7DbJ (HU)
Government Decree no. 41/2016. (III. 9.) on ordering the crisis situation caused by mass migration in relation to the entire territory of Hungary, and other relevant rules concerning the	41/2016. (III. 9.) Korm. Rendelet a tömeges bevándorlás okozta válsághelyzet Magyarország egész területére történő elrendeléséről, valamint a válsághelyzet elrendelésével, fennállásával és megszüntetésével összefüggő szabályokról	Decree 41/2016	https://bit.ly/3IznR3q (HU) declaration, existence and termination of the crisis situation

Minister of Interior Decree no. 23/2025. (VII. 8.) on the procedure concerning the statement of intent for the purpose of lodging an asylum application	23/2025. (VII. 8.) BM rendelet a menedékjogi kérelem benyújtására irányuló szándéknyilatkozattal kapcsolatos eljárásról	Decree 23/2025	https://tinyurl.com/mryc7v7y (HU)
Government Decree no. 23/2024. (XII. 30.) on the designation of embassies concerning the statement of intent for the purpose of lodging an asylum application	23/2024. (XII. 30.) KKM Rendelet a menedékjogi kérelem benyújtására irányuló szándéknyilatkozattal kapcsolatban nagykövetségek kijelöléséről	Decree 23/2024	https://tinyurl.com/4y2dtp6h (HU)
Justice and Law Enforcement Minister Decree no. 52/2007 (XII. 11.) on the institutional system of asylum	52/2007. (XII. 11.) IRM rendelet a menekültügy szervezeti rendszeréről	Decree 52/2007	https://bit.ly/3tRlx2p (HU)
Government Decree no. 424/2022 on the declaration of a state of emergency and certain emergency rules in view of the armed conflict and humanitarian disaster in the territory of Ukraine, and in order to prevent and manage their consequences in Hungary	424/2022. (X. 28.) Korm. rendelet az Ukrajna területén fennálló fegyveres konfliktusra, illetve humanitárius katasztrófára tekintettel, valamint ezek magyarországi következményeinek az elhárítása és kezelése érdekében veszélyhelyzet kihirdetéséről és egyes veszélyhelyzeti szabályokról	Decree 424/2022	https://tinyurl.com/4fnrvb5d (HU)

Overview of the main changes since the previous report update

The report was previously updated in June 2025.

National context

A quasi state of exception has been introduced into Hungarian law and applicable since September 2015, titled the “state of crisis due to mass migration”. During this state of crisis special rules apply to third-country nationals irregularly entering and/or staying in Hungary and to those seeking asylum, and certain provisions of the Asylum Act are suspended. The state of crisis has been used as a pretext to deviate from several EU law provisions on asylum. Ten and a half years later, the state of crisis due to mass migration is still in force. This also means that police are still authorised to carry out pushbacks of irregularly staying migrants across the border fence (including those who wish to seek asylum in Hungary) from any part of the country, without any legal procedure or opportunity to challenge this measure.

International protection

A new asylum system (embassy procedure) introduced in May 2020, severely limiting access to asylum, including for those who are legally staying in Hungary, is still in force. Asylum applications can only be lodged after a declaration of intent is approved by the asylum authority. Declarations of intent can only be lodged at the Hungarian embassy in Kyiv (Ukraine) or Belgrade (Serbia), except for beneficiaries of subsidiary protection, family members of recognised refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection and those being subject to forced measures, and measures or punishments affecting personal liberty. This system was found incompatible with EU law, as the CJEU judgement C-823/21 from 22 June 2023 clearly states. In August 2025, another exception was added, so that Unaccompanied Asylum Seeking Children (UaSC) who are residing in Hungary can now apply for asylum.

The Hungarian Government still maintains its stance that it has no intention of implementing the EU Asylum and Migration Pact.⁴

Asylum procedure

- ❖ No access to the asylum procedure: Although the number of asylum seekers increased in 2025 due to the additional exceptions added (i.e., detained persons or persons with compulsory placement of stay and UaSC can now apply for asylum), the number of asylum seekers is still very low (113 asylum applicants). As in 2024, no recommendation on the approval of entry from NDGAP was issued in the embassy procedure. The asylum authority still continues to issue refusal decisions to those who entered Hungary legally and try to apply for asylum, stating that they are requesting something impossible, as according to the current legislative framework in place, they should submit an intent at the Hungarian Embassy prior to being allowed to apply for asylum in Hungary, despite clear judgements of domestic courts to conduct an in-merit procedure (see Refusal of applications without examination on the merits under Admissibility procedures).
- ❖ Push backs (see Access to the territory and pushbacks):
 - Decrease due to the change in migration pathways: In 2025, 5,580 pushbacks were carried out, which is similar to 2024 figures, where 5,713 pushbacks were recorded. This is still a significant decrease compared with previous years, but not due to the changes in the Hungarian legislation or practice. Rather, this decline is due to a police operation and increased police presence in Northern Serbia, preventing migrants to access the Serbian Hungarian border.
 - Still no compliance with the CJEU judgement: On 13 June 2024, the CJEU ruled that Hungary failed to comply with the C-808/18 judgement (concluding, among others, that push backs are against EU law) and ordered the Member State to pay the European Commission a lump sum in the amount of EUR 200,000,000 and a penalty payment of EUR 1,000,000 per day until the date of compliance with the judgment. The Hungarian Government's reaction to the judgement was firm, as they have refused to pay anything up to this date and they did not make any changes in order to implement the judgement.

⁴ See, for example, here.

- ECtHR judgements in 2025: The ECtHR issued a judgement in 3 joint cases and for the first time directly called on the Hungarian authorities to immediately stop collective expulsions and to ensure effective access to asylum. The joint judgement is also relevant, as the ECtHR considers that the “embassy procedure” did not provide for “genuine and effective access to means of legal entry”.⁵
- ❖ No suspensive effect in appeals against expulsion: The provisions of the GRTCN Act that removed a recourse to a suspensive effect in administrative actions against a final decision ordering expulsion are still in force (see Admissibility procedure and Accelerated procedure).
- ❖ Asylum interviews: Inadequate interview conditions continued throughout 2025. In January 2026 the NDGAP changed its practice regarding the asylum interviews, and they introduced many additional questions, some of which are according to the HHC completely unnecessary. On average the interview in the regular procedure now lasts 5h (including a 20-minutes mandatory break) (see Personal interview).
- ❖ Legal aid: Access to state legal aid continued to be ineffective in practice throughout 2025.

Reception conditions

- ❖ Extremely low occupancy of reception centres: The reception centres had very low occupancy throughout 2025 (see Reception Conditions).
- ❖ Limited access to reception facilities: In 2025 the HHC was still not allowed to access reception facilities (see Access to reception centres by third parties).
- ❖ No activities: There are no activities provided in reception centres and, apart from using the internet, the residents have nothing to do the whole day.

Detention of asylum applicants

- ❖ Quasi automatic detention of people awaiting Dublin transfer: In 2025, 104 people were detained awaiting a Dublin transfer, which is an increase compared to 2024, when 83 people were detained. The HHC finds such a high number particularly worrying as it implies that the detention measure is imposed quasi automatically, taking into account also the fact that only 72 outgoing transfers were actually carried out. It should be noted that people awaiting an outgoing Dublin transfer are not considered asylum seekers in Hungary (see Detention of Asylum Seekers).
- ❖ Use of detention: Compared to 2024, there was 11.9% increase in the use of asylum detention in 2025.
- ❖ Limited access to detention facilities: In 2025, the HHC was still not allowed to access detention facilities. However, in November 2025, the Menedék Association gained access for their social worker (see Access to detention facilities).
- ❖ ECtHR judgements: In 2025, three more judgements finding breaches of the Convention with regard to detention in the transit zone were issued.⁶

⁵ ECtHR, H.Q. v. Hungary, Application No. 46084/21, Z.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 40185/22 and A.S.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 53952/22, Judgment of 24 June 2025, available here.

Content of international protection

- ❖ Increase in rejected citizenship applications: In 2025, the rejection of applications for citizenship from beneficiaries of international protection doubled compared to 2024.
- ❖ Increase in withdrawal of international protection status: In 2025, the NDGAP withdrew 187 statuses, which is a significant increase compared to 2024, where 50 statuses were withdrawn.
- ❖ Return of BIPs: Those who were previously granted international protection status by the Hungarian authorities and who return from another Member State (not voluntarily but, e.g., under a readmission agreement) face particular difficulties regarding housing and access to ID documents.
- ❖ Lack of funding: most of the funding is still focused on supporting people arriving in Hungary from Ukraine, ignoring the needs of people arriving from other countries.
- ❖ Inclusion: The absence of state-funded integration support continues to pose serious problems to persons receiving international protection status.

Temporary protection

The information given hereafter constitute a short summary of the 2025 Report on Temporary Protection, for further information, see Annex on Temporary Protection.

- ❖ Key temporary protection statistics: As of 31 December 2025, the number of temporary protection beneficiaries is still low (43,300) by regional international comparison. Over the course of 2025, only 6,091 persons registered for temporary protection, which is significantly less than the year before (8,070 persons in 2024). Hungary has also received a significant number of Ukrainian-Hungarian dual nationals who, due to their Hungarian citizenship, are not able to claim temporary protection and are therefore not included in the statistics. Nevertheless, they are also entitled to services provided to Ukrainian nationals, who apply for protection

Temporary protection procedure

- ❖ Preliminary reference for a potential breach of EU law: Under national legislation implementing the EU TP scheme, third-country nationals who had permanent residence in Ukraine are not eligible neither for temporary nor for any other adequate protection in Hungary. The Szeged Court (Szegedi Törvényszék) submitted a request for a preliminary ruling to the CJEU (C-21/26) to examine if the Hungarian relevant legislation is in line with the Temporary Protection Directive, as the asylum procedure is not accessible to those who cannot apply for TP. The case is pending before the CJEU.
- ❖ Post-TPD solutions: There are no plans communicated or steps taken to prepare for the time when the Temporary Protection Directive will no longer be applicable. Given the lack of access to asylum in Hungary, the future of many TP holders is uncertain after March 2027.

⁶ ECtHR, H.A. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 39498/18, Judgement of 19 June 2025, available here; M.S.H. v. Hungary, Application No. 44283/19, Judgement of 27 February 2025, available here; F.S. and A.S. v. Hungary, Application no. 50872/18, Judgement of 19 June 2025, available here.

Content of temporary protection

- ❖ Accommodation dependent upon area of origin in Ukraine: The Hungarian Government introduced the most restrictive housing measure among EU states in 2024, thereby making the housing area of the national TP scheme non-compliant with EU law. Since August 2024, only those are entitled to state-subsidized accommodation, who come from “war-affected areas” of Ukraine. The amendment primarily targeted Roma people arriving from the Zakarpattia region of Ukraine, which is not deemed to be war-affected. There is no clearly set criterion either as to when an area is to be regarded war-affected. The effects of these measures were still acutely felt in 2025. Many families were forced to move often, hindering their access to education and employment. In some cases, people were forced to take up exploitative employment opportunities where they received accommodation instead of a salary.
- ❖ Access to healthcare and education: Access to healthcare and education remained the most prevalent problems that beneficiaries of temporary protection faced in Hungary. In both areas, the lack of interpretation and insufficient knowledge of the relevant regulations by the institutions were the most common problems.

Asylum Procedure

A. General

1. Flow chart

* An application for asylum might be lodged before the NDGAP only in case of (a) beneficiaries of subsidiary protection, (b) family members of recognised refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection and (c) anyone being subject to forced measures, measures or punishments affecting personal liberty can submit their application without making a statement of intent.

2. Types of procedures

Indicators: Types of Procedures

Which types of procedures exist in your country?

- | | | |
|---|---|--|
| ❖ Regular procedure: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Prioritised examination: ⁷ | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Fast-track processing: ⁸ | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Dublin procedure: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Admissibility procedure: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Border procedure: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Accelerated procedure: ⁹ | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Other: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |

Are any of the procedures that are foreseen in the law, not being applied in practice? Yes No

Border procedures exist in law but are not applicable at the moment due to the state of crisis due to “mass migration”.¹⁰

Asylum procedures are rarely conducted in Hungary, due to the restrictive legislation that requires the submission of a statement of intent at the Embassies of Kyiv or Belgrade prior of being allowed to enter Hungary in order to apply for asylum (see Embassy procedure).

Section 35(7) of the Asylum Act provides that in the case of an unaccompanied child (UaSC), the asylum procedure shall be conducted as a matter of priority. In 2023, the NDGAP processed with priority applications from 4 asylum seekers held in asylum detention.¹¹ In 2024, the NDGAP processed with priority 1 application from a UaSC and 3 applications from asylum seekers held in asylum detention.¹² In 2025, the NDGAP processed with priority 3 applications from UaSC and 21 applications from asylum seekers held in asylum detention.¹³

3. List of authorities intervening in each stage of the procedure

Stage of the procedure	Competent authority (EN)	Competent authority (HU)
Application at the border	Police National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Rendőrség Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
Application on the territory	National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
Dublin (responsibility assessment)	Dublin Coordination Unit, National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Dublini Koordinációs Osztály, Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
Refugee status determination	National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
Appeal (Judicial review)	Regional Courts	Törvényszékek

⁷ For applications likely to be well-founded or made by vulnerable applicants. See Article 31(7) recast Asylum Procedures Directive.

⁸ Accelerating the processing of specific caseloads as part of the regular procedure.

⁹ Labelled as ‘accelerated procedure’ in national law. See Article 31(8) recast Asylum Procedures Directive.

¹⁰ Government Decree 41/2016. (III. 9.) on ordering the crisis situation caused by mass migration in relation to the entire territory of Hungary, and other relevant rules concerning the declaration, existence and termination of the crisis situation, Section 5(2).

¹¹ Information received from the NDGAP, 19 February 2024.

¹² Information received from the NDGAP, 20 February 2025.

¹³ Information received from the NDGAP, 9 March 2026.

Subsequent application (admissibility)	National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
Statement of intent for the purpose of lodging an asylum application	Hungarian Embassy in Belgrade, Hungarian Embassy in Kyiv (Ministry of Foreign Affairs and Trade) National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Magyarország Nagykövetsége Belgrádban és Kijevben (Külgazdasági és Külügyminisztérium) Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
Revocation / Withdrawal	National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság
Return (voluntary and forced)	National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság

4. Number of staff and nature of the first instance authority

Name in English	Number of staff	Ministry responsible	Is there any political interference possible by the responsible Minister with the decision making in individual cases by the determining authority?
National Directorate-General for Aliens Policing (NDGAP)	70 (15 in asylum department)	Ministry of Interior	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes <input type="checkbox"/> No

Source: NDGAP, 9 March 2026.

The Asylum and Immigration Office ceased to exist on 1 July 2019 as the NDGAP was established taking over the responsibility for asylum and aliens policing matters.¹⁴ The Directorate continues to be under the supervision of the Ministry of Interior (Mol) and having its own budget, but now operating as a law enforcement body under the Police Act.¹⁵ The head of Directorate is the General Director who is appointed by the Minister.¹⁶ In 2024, there were 16 case officers handling asylum cases.¹⁷ In 2025 there were 15 case officers handling asylum cases.¹⁸

The NDGAP is in charge of the asylum procedure through its Directorate of Refugee Affairs (asylum authority). The NDGAP is also in charge of operating the transit zones (out of operation since 21 May 2020),¹⁹ open reception centres and closed asylum detention facilities for asylum seekers.

According to the Justice and Law Enforcement Minister Decree no. 52/2007 (XII. 11.) on the institutional structure of asylum,²⁰ the authority provides regular training to its staff. Furthermore, the authority also makes sure that the personnel responsible for asylum cases obtains special knowledge on vulnerable asylum seekers, persons granted refugee status, beneficiaries of subsidiary protection and beneficiaries of temporary protection.²¹ According to the NDGAP, in 2020, 2021, 2022 2023, 2024 and 2025 there were two modules of the EASO (now EUAA) Training Curriculum available in Hungarian at the authority, titled as 'Personal interview of vulnerable persons' and 'Personal interview of children'.²² Neither is mandatory.

¹⁴ Sections 1, 2 and 4 of the Government Decree no. 126/2019 (V.30.) on the appointment of the aliens policing body and its powers.

¹⁵ Act XXXIV of 1994 on the Police.

¹⁶ Section 5 points g) and gd) of the Police Act.

¹⁷ This information was provided by the NDGAP, 20 February 2025.

¹⁸ This information was provided by the NDGAP, 9 March 2026.

¹⁹ The transit zones do not host asylum seekers anymore, but they are still officially not closed, the NDGAP staff works there.

²⁰ Section 1(3) of the Decree 52/2007.

²¹ Section 1(4) of the Decree 52/2007.

²² Information provided by NDGAP on 2 March 2021, 7 February 2022, 19 February 2024 and 20 February 2025.

Furthermore, according to the NDGAP, currently there is no EUAA training module that should be completed by all asylum case officers and social workers. The Documentation Centre is responsible for organising trainings to the personnel of the authority regarding countries of origin and third countries.

In 2023, 2 staff members of the Asylum Unit attended the EUAA training courses "Junior Information Provision/Junior Flow Expert" from 12 to 16 June, and "Junior Asylum Registration Expert" from 27 to 31 March. In addition, 2 other members of the Asylum Unit participated in the CEPOL training courses "Behaviour analysis in the context of migrant smuggling" from 24 to 28 April and "Police Cooperation in Addressing a High Influx of Displaced Populations and Migrants" from 23 to 27 October.²³ In 2024, the asylum sector participated in the international activities of the EUAA and the individual working groups. In this context, the staff members participated in several international conferences, broadening their professional horizons and gaining experience. The entire staff of the NDGAP and additional designated staff of the regional directorates participated in the "Asylum Professional Day" training event organized by the NDGAP on two occasions during the year for a duration of 1 day each. No person from the NDGAP staff participated in the official training based on the EUAA training material.²⁴ In 2025 the NDGAP held two one-day professional seminars on asylum issues, with the participation of its entire staff. The asylum department participated in the international activities of the EUAA and its various working groups. As part of this, staff members attended several international conferences. Three senior managers and four experts regularly participated in EUAA working group meetings, as well as various expert meetings and training sessions. 47 staff members of the NDGAP participated in a one-day training session titled "Intercultural Communication and the Assessment of Religion-Based Asylum Claims", organized twice by UNHCR. 16 employees of the NDGAP participated on two occasions at the 2-day training organised by the National Education Centre of the Police, under the Internal Security Fund, entitled "Operational models of human trafficking criminal networks and their migratory routes in Europe".²⁵

The Order of the NDGAP no. 1/2019. (X. 17.) on the Structure and Operation of the National Directorate of Alien Policing does not specify a unit that deals specifically with the cases of vulnerable asylum seekers. However, according to the NDGAP, in 2025, 2 case officers were specialised in the identification of asylum seekers in need of special treatment, and 2 case officers were specialised in the assessment of applications of UaSC.²⁶

According to the NDGAP, when making decisions, preliminary reviews are conducted for specific types of cases as defined within the scope of the specialist supervisor's responsibilities. In addition, decisions are sometimes evaluated ex post in the context of quality assurance projects. The results of the audits are not public.²⁷

5. Short overview of the asylum procedure

A quasi-state of exception operates under Hungarian legislation, entitled 'state of crisis due to mass migration'. The state of crisis can be ordered by a Government decree, on the joint initiative of the NDGAP and the Police, for a maximum of 6 months to certain counties or the entirety of the country. Once in effect, among others, the Hungarian Defence Forces are tasked with the armed protection of the border and assistance to the police forces in handling issues related to migration. The state of crisis due to mass migration has been in effect in the two counties bordering Serbia (Bács-Kiskun and Csongrád) since 15 September 2015, and in the four counties bordering Croatia, Slovenia and Austria (Baranya, Somogy, Vas, Zala) since 18 September 2015. On 9 March 2016, the state of crisis was extended to the entire ²³ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

²⁴ Information provided by NDGAP on 20 February 2025.

²⁵ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²⁶ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²⁷ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

territory of Hungary. This has been extended multiple times since then and is currently in effect until 7 September 2026.²⁸

During this state of crisis, special rules apply to third-country nationals irregularly entering and/or staying in Hungary and to those seeking asylum, including:

- ❖ Police are authorised to pushback across the border fence, without any assessment of individual circumstances, irregularly staying migrants who wish to seek asylum in Hungary from any part of the country, outside any legal procedure or opportunity to challenge this measure.²⁹
- ❖ Provisions on border and airport procedures are not applicable.

First due to the Gov. Decree 233/2020,³⁰ later due to the Transitional Act that temporarily regulated the asylum procedure, then from 1 January 2025 under the Gov. Decree 361/2024,³¹ which prolonged the embassy system (see below) without a sunset clause, and since 15 December 2025 under the Act L. of 2025,³² the following special rules related to the state of crisis are no longer applicable as of 26 May 2020:

- ❖ Asylum applications can only be submitted in the transit zones at the border unless the applicant is already residing lawfully in the territory of Hungary. Asylum seekers are to be held in the transit zones for the entire asylum procedure without any legal basis for detention or judicial remedies.
- ❖ All vulnerable persons and unaccompanied asylum-seeking children over 14 years of age are also automatically detained in the transit zones.

The asylum procedure is a single procedure where entitlement to refugee status and subsidiary protection is considered. The procedure consists of two instances. The first instance is an administrative procedure carried out by the NDGAP. The second instance is a judicial review procedure carried out by Regional Courts, which are not specialised in asylum. There is an inadmissibility procedure and an accelerated procedure in addition to the normal procedure.

Between March 2017 and 26 May 2020, asylum could only be sought at the border (inside the transit zone) and asylum seekers were required to remain in these transit zones for the whole duration of the procedure, with the exception of unaccompanied children below the age of 14, who were placed in a childcare facility. Only those lawfully staying could apply for asylum in the country. In practice no new entries were allowed in the transit zones as of March 2020, due to COVID-19.

On 26 May 2020 the Gov. Decree introduced new rules on asylum.³³ These rules were upheld from 18 June 2020 with the Transitional Act, from 1 January 2025 with the Gov. Decree 361/2024 and since 20 August 2025 with the Act L of 2025.³⁴ Those wishing to seek asylum in Hungary, with a few exceptions noted below, must first personally submit a 'statement of intent for the purpose of lodging an asylum application',³⁵ at the Embassy of Hungary in Belgrade or in Kyiv.³⁶ The embassy must then forward the 'statement of intent' to the NDGAP in Budapest, which shall examine it within 60 days. The NDGAP should make a proposal to the embassy whether to issue the would-be asylum seeker a special, single-entry permit to enter Hungary for the purpose of lodging an asylum application.³⁷ The law does not clarify

²⁸ Government Decree 41/2016. (III. 9.) on ordering the crisis situation caused by mass migration in relation to the entire territory of Hungary, and other relevant rules concerning the declaration, existence and termination of the crisis situation, Section 5(2).

²⁹ Section 5 of Act LXXXIX of 2007 on State Border.

³⁰ Government Decree 233/2020. (V. 26.) on the rules of the asylum procedure during the state of danger declared for the prevention of the human epidemic endangering life and property and causing massive disease outbreaks, and for the protection of the health and lives of Hungarian citizens.

³¹ Government Decree 361/2024. (XI. 28.) on the applicability of the transitional rules of the asylum procedure.

³² Act L of 2025 on the elevation of the emergency decrees declared in view of the armed conflict in the territory of Ukraine to the level of law, Section 7.

³³ HHC, Hungary de facto removes itself from the Common European Asylum System (CEAS), 12 August 2020, available here.

³⁴ Act L of 2025 on the elevation of the emergency decrees declared in view of the armed conflict in the territory of Ukraine to the level of law.

³⁵ The form is available here.

³⁶ Section 1 of Government Decree 23/2024. (XII. 30.).

³⁷ Section 2 of the Act L of 2025.

the criteria to be considered by the NDGAP in deciding on such applications. Applicants receive an email, with one paragraph stating that the NDGAP decided either to suggest or not to suggest the issuance of a single-entry permit. The decision therefore bears no reasoning, and the law does not foresee any remedy. Those issued a single-entry permit can then travel to Hungary in order to submit an asylum application.³⁸ In 2020, only one family, whereas in 2021 altogether 8 Iranian nationals were granted a single-entry permit to apply for asylum in Hungary, after submitting their statement of intent at the Embassy in Belgrade.³⁹ There have been no applications in the Embassy in Kyiv in 2021, nor in 2022, 2023, 2024 and 2025. In 2022, 4 Iranian nationals and in 2023, 5 Iranian nationals were granted a single-entry permit to apply for asylum in Hungary, after submitting their statement of intent at the Embassy in Belgrade,⁴⁰ but for unknown reason they did not reach Hungary. In 2024 nor in 2025 none was granted a single-entry permit.⁴¹ There were also no hearings conducted in 2025 in the context of the embassy procedure.⁴²

Only people belonging to the following categories are not required to go through the process described above. They can directly apply for asylum in Hungary:⁴³

- ❖ Beneficiaries of subsidiary protection who are staying in Hungary;
- ❖ Family members⁴⁴ of refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection who are staying in Hungary;
- ❖ Those subject to forced measures, measures or punishment affecting personal liberty, except if they have crossed Hungary in an illegal manner. This exception was modified with the Gov. Decree 494/2024, which entered into force on 1 January 2025, and the illegal entry was removed. The current exemption therefore reads: A person subject to forced measures, measures or punishment affecting personal liberty – excluding cases of apprehension and petty offence confinement. This in practice means that persons detained or those under compulsory place of stay can submit an asylum application, despite the illegal entry, but those just apprehended by the police cannot (push backs are therefore not affected with this modification).
- ❖ Unaccompanied minors residing in Hungary (this exception was introduced by Act L of 2025, which entered into force on 20 August 2025).

For all the others, including legally staying foreigners in Hungary, it is no longer possible to apply for asylum in Hungary or at the border.

For those that are allowed to apply for asylum in Hungary, the asylum procedure starts with the submission of an application for asylum in person before the determining authority. The NDGAP first assesses whether a person falls under a Dublin procedure. If this is not the case, the NDGAP proceeds with an examination of whether the application is inadmissible or whether it should be decided in an accelerated procedure. The decision on this shall be made within 15 days. If the application is not inadmissible and it will not be decided in an accelerated procedure, the NDGAP has to decide on the merits within 60 days.

Inadmissibility: An application is declared inadmissible if somebody: (a) is an EU citizen; (b) has protection status from another EU Member state; (c) has refugee status in a third country and this country is willing to readmit the applicant; (d) submits a subsequent application and there are no new circumstances or facts; (e) has travelled through a safe third country; and (f) arrived through a country where they are not exposed to persecution or to serious harm, or when in the country through which the applicant arrived to Hungary an adequate level of protection is available.

³⁸ Section 3 of the Act L of 2025.

³⁹ Information received from the Ministry of Trade and Foreign Affairs, 4 February 2022 and from the NDGAP, 7 February 2022.

⁴⁰ Information received from the NDGAP, 13 February 2023 and 19 February 2024.

⁴¹ This information was provided by the NDGAP, 20 February 2025.

⁴² This information was provided by the NDGAP, 9 March 2026.

⁴³ Section 5 of the Act L of 2025.

⁴⁴ Family members defined according to the Asylum Act (Section 2(j)) are the spouses, minor children and children's parents or an accompanying foreign person responsible for them under Hungarian law.

Accelerated procedure: The accelerated procedure can be used if the applicant: (a) has shared irrelevant information with the authorities regarding their asylum case; (b) comes from a safe country of origin; (c) gives false information about their name and country of origin; (d) destroys their travel documents with the aim to deceive the authorities; (e) provides contradictory, false and improbable information to the authorities; (f) submits a subsequent applicant with new facts and circumstances; (g) submits an application only to delay or stop their removal; (h) enters Hungary irregularly or extends their stay illegally and did not ask for asylum within reasonable time although they would have had the chance to do so; (i) does not give fingerprints; and (j) presents a risk to Hungary's security and order or has already had an expulsion order for this reason.

Border procedures exist in law but are not applicable at the moment since 26 May 2020 due to the aforementioned state of mass migration emergency.

Regular procedure: The asylum application starts out with an interview by an asylum officer and an interpreter. At that point, biometric data is taken, questions are asked about personal data, the route to Hungary and the main reasons for asking for international protection. Sometimes the NDGAP will conduct more than one interview with the applicant.

The asylum authority should consider whether the applicant should be recognised as a refugee, granted subsidiary protection or a tolerated stay under non-refoulement considerations. A personal interview is compulsory, unless the applicant is not fit to be heard, or submitted a subsequent application and, in the application, failed to state facts or provided proofs that would allow recognition as a refugee or a beneficiary of subsidiary protection.

An expulsion decision is issued together with a negative decision in the asylum procedure.

Appeal: The applicant may challenge the negative NDGAP decision by requesting judicial review from the Regional Court within 8 calendar days and within 7 calendar days in case of inadmissibility and in the accelerated procedure. The judicial review request does not have an automatic suspensive effect on the NDGAP decision in the regular procedure and according to the GRTCN Act, it is not possible to request a suspensive effect in appeals against expulsion decisions, but in practice the alien policing procedure never starts before the judicial review has concluded. In case of inadmissibility the law provides that it will only have legal suspensive effect if the application is declared inadmissible on 'safe third country' grounds. In the accelerated procedure, the judicial review has legal suspensive effect only if the accelerated procedure is applied because the applicant entered Hungary irregularly or extended their stay illegally and did not ask for asylum within reasonable time although they would have had the chance to do so.

The court should take a decision within 60 days in the normal procedure and within 8 days in case of inadmissibility and in the accelerated procedure. A personal hearing of the applicant is not compulsory. The court may uphold the NDGAP decision or may annul the NDGAP decision and order a new procedure.

B. Access to the procedure and registration

1. Access to the territory and pushbacks

Indicators: Access to the Territory

1. Are there any reports (NGO reports, media, testimonies, etc.) of people refused entry at the border and returned without examination of their protection needs? Yes No
2. Is there a border monitoring system in place? Yes No
3. Who is responsible for border monitoring? National authorities NGOs Other
4. How often is border monitoring carried out? Frequently Rarely Never

1.1 Regular entry through transit zones

The barbed-wire fence along the 175 km long border section with Serbia was completed on 15 September 2015. A similar barbed-wire fence was erected a month later, on 16 October 2015, at the border with Croatia. So-called 'transit zones' have been established as parts of the fence. The fence at the Serbian border was extended and reinforced.⁴⁵

Until 26 May 2020, asylum could only be sought inside the transit zones (for detailed description of the practice see AIDA 2020 Report).

On 14 May 2020, the CJEU delivered its judgment in the joint cases of C-924/19 PPU and C-925/19 PPU, ruling among others that the automatic and indefinite placement of asylum-seekers in the transit zones at the Hungarian-Serbian border qualifies as unlawful detention.⁴⁶ A week after the judgment was delivered, the government shut down the transit zones and announced that it will introduce a new asylum system (described in the following section). Transit zones therefore no longer function as places where asylum applications can be made and where asylum seekers are to be held. For further information, see Border procedure as well as Detention conditions).

1.2 Irregular entry and police ill-treatment

Criminalisation of irregular border crossing

Irregular entry into Hungary is punishable by actual or suspended terms of imprisonment of up to ten years – and/or the imposition of an expulsion order.⁴⁷ The criminal procedure is not suspended when the defendant has made an asylum application during the court hearing, which could have allowed for consideration by the court of a defence under Article 31 of the 1951 Refugee Convention (non-penalisation of irregular entry).

The criminalisation of illegal entry targeting asylum seekers ceased to be of relevance with the 5 July 2016 entry into force of the '8-km rule' discussed below. Between 15 September 2015 and 10 July 2016, over 2,800 criminal proceedings were started before the Szeged Criminal Court under the Criminal Code for illegally crossing the border fence. Since 10 July 2016, only few cases have been tried for 'illegally crossing the border fence'. In 2023 and in 2024⁴⁸ one criminal procedure was started for this offence. In 2024, one person was convicted for this offence.⁴⁹ In 2025 there were no such convictions.⁵⁰

⁴⁵ Schengenvisanews, 'Hungary Extends & Reinforces Border Fence with Serbia to Tackle Irregular Entries, 8 June 2023, available here.

⁴⁶ CJEU, C-924/19 PPU and C-925/19 PPU, 14 May 2020, here.

⁴⁷ Sections 352/A and 50(2a) Criminal Code.

Legalisation of summary pushbacks

Legal amendments that entered into force on 5 July 2016⁵¹ allowed the Hungarian police to automatically push back asylum seekers who were apprehended within 8 km of the Serbian-Hungarian or Croatian-Hungarian border to the external side of the border fence, without registering their data or allowing them to submit an asylum claim, in a summary procedure lacking the most basic procedural safeguards (e.g. access to an interpreter or legal assistance).⁵² Legalising pushbacks from within Hungarian territory denies asylum seekers the right to seek international protection, in breach of international and EU law,⁵³ and constitutes a violation of Article 4 of Protocol 4 of the European Convention on Human Rights and Fundamental Freedoms (ECHR).⁵⁴ Those pushed back have no practical opportunities to file a complaint, are denied the right to apply for international protection, despite most of them coming from war zones such as Syria, Iraq or Afghanistan, and many of them are also physically abused by personnel in uniforms and injured as a consequence.⁵⁵

Since 15 September 2015, Serbia generally does not take back third-country nationals under the readmission agreement except for those who hold valid travel/identity documents and are exempted from Serbian visa requirements. However, in 2021, Serbia again started to take back a few persons under the readmission agreement.⁵⁶ In 2023, Serbia took back 14 persons (4 Chinese, 7 Serbian, 3 Turkish citizens),⁵⁷ and, in 2024, 17 persons (3 Chinese, 13 Serbians and 1 Turkish citizen). The Hungarian authorities only requested the application of the readmission agreement for these three nationalities.⁵⁸ In 2025, the Hungarian authorities requested the application of the readmission agreement in 1,753 cases regarding the following nationals: Albanians, Azeris, Bosnians, Chinese, Georgians, Kazak, Kosovars, Macedonians, Montenegrins, Russians, Serbians and Turkish. They were all readmitted by Serbia.⁵⁹ Except for some Turkish citizens, the readmission requests do not concern nationalities that were pushed back. The pushbacks from Hungary therefore happen without Hungarian authorities contacting Serbian authorities, so without the application of a readmission agreement.

Amendments that entered into force on 28 March 2017 state that when the state of crisis due to mass migration is in effect, irregularly staying migrants found anywhere in Hungary are to be escorted to the external side of the border fence with Serbia, extending the 8-km zone to the entire territory of Hungary.⁶⁰ This includes migrants who have never even been to Serbia before and have entered Hungary through Ukraine or Romania. Migrants who arrive at the airport and ask for asylum there are also pushed back to Serbia, although they have never even been there, since they arrived by plane from another country.

⁴⁸ Information provided by the Police, 20 February 2024.

⁴⁹ National Office of the Judiciary, 4 February 2025.

⁵⁰ National Office of the Judiciary, 20 January 2026.

⁵¹ Section 5 of Act LXXXIX of 2007 on State Border, Section 80/J(3) of Asylum Act.

⁵² HHC, Hungary: Access denied, Information Note, 14 July 2016, available here.

⁵³ CJEU, C-808/18, 17 December 2020, available here.

⁵⁴ ECtHR, Shahzad v. Hungary, Application No. 12625/17, Judgment of 8 October 2021, available here. H.K. v. Hungary, Application No. 18531/17, Judgment of 22 September 2022, available here. S.S. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 56417/19 and F.W. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 44245/20, Judgment of 12 October 2023, available here; K.P. v. Hungary, Application No. 82479/17, Judgment of 18 January 2024, available here; R.N. v. Hungary, Application No. 71/18, Judgment of 4 May 2023, available here; M.D. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 60778/19, Judgment of 19 December 2024, available here; H.Q. v. Hungary, Application No. 46084/21, Z.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 40185/22 and A.S.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 53952/22, Judgment of 24 June 2025, available here.

⁵⁵ Shahzad v. Hungary (no. 2), Application No. 37967/18, available here.

⁵⁶ Information given to HHC by the Serbian border guards in June 2021.

⁵⁷ Information provided by the Police, 20 February 2024.

⁵⁸ Information provided by the Police, 19 February 2025.

⁵⁹ Information provided by the Police, 9 March 2026.

⁶⁰ Section 5 of Act LXXXIX of 2007 on State Border, Section 80/J(3) of Asylum Act.

In 2023, 100,138 pushbacks were carried out. A total of 80% of those pushed back were Syrian, whereas 11% were Turkish and 5% Afghans.⁶¹ In 2024, 5,713 pushbacks were carried out,⁶² amongst them the top three nationalities were Syrian, Turkish and Afghan.⁶³ In 2025, 5,580 pushbacks were carried out, amongst them the top three nationalities were Afghan, Syrian and Turkish.⁶⁴ 62 were children.⁶⁵

The 2024 pushback numbers show a significant decrease compared with previous years. This decline is due to a police operation in Serbia that took place in the end of 2023 during which migrants were forcibly evacuated from the entire northern border area with Hungary and Romania. 7,000 people were relocated to different camps in southern areas without being informed of their destination. Due to the continued police presence in the North of Serbia, migrants cannot access the Serbian-Hungarian border and are compelled to choose a different migratory route. As a result, the number of migrants attempting to cross the Serbian-Hungarian border decreased in 2024.⁶⁶

On 19 July 2018, the European Commission decided to refer Hungary to the CJEU for non-compliance of its asylum and return legislation with EU law.⁶⁷ The Commission considered that within its territory, Hungary failed to provide effective access to asylum procedures as third country nationals are escorted back across the border, even if they wish to apply for asylum. On 17 December 2020 the CJEU issued a judgement in the case C-808/18 and ruled that moving illegally staying third-country nationals to a border area, without observing the guarantees surrounding a return procedure constitutes infringements of EU law.⁶⁸

No legislative amendments followed the judgement, and the practice still remains the same. At the end of February 2021, the Hungarian Minister of Justice requested interpretation of the Hungarian Fundamental Law (the Constitution) by the Hungarian Constitutional Court (CC), arguing that the implementation of the CJEU judgment regarding pushbacks would be in breach of the Fundamental Law.⁶⁹ On 7 December 2021, the CC delivered a judgment that met only partially the government's expectations, as it rejected directly ruling on the primacy of EU law and clearly stated that foreigners in Hungary – including asylum-seekers – do have a right to human dignity. However, the judgement is worrying as it interprets the right to self-determination in the sense that Hungarians have a right to 'constitutional identity', to be interpreted as the right to live in a culturally homogeneous country, essentially associating the arrival of migrants and asylum seekers with a threat to said identity.⁷⁰ The Government's response to the judgment was that it confirms the Hungarian approach to migration and that pushbacks are as such allowed to continue.⁷¹

Following the CJEU judgment C-808/18 and in light of the Hungarian authorities' disregard of its findings, the HHC requested at the beginning of January 2021 that Frontex suspend its migration related operations in Hungary to avoid complicity in unlawful practices.⁷² At the end of January 2021, Frontex, for the first time in the Agency's history, decided to suspend its operational activities in Hungary, following increased attention from media, the European Parliament and the European Commission.⁷³

⁶¹ Available here.

⁶² Information from the official statistics from the Police website. Please note that the Police provided much lower data (4777) in their FOI response from 19 February 2025.

⁶³ Information provided by the Police, 19 February 2025.

⁶⁴ Information from the official statistics from the Police website. Please note that the Police provided lower data (4083) in their FOI response from 9 March 2026.

⁶⁵ Information provided by the Police, 9 March 2026.

⁶⁶ Civil society joint report, Pushed, beaten, left to die, European pushback report 2024, February 2025, available here.

⁶⁷ EC, Migration and Asylum: Commission takes further steps in infringement procedures against Hungary, IP 18/4522, 19 July 2018, available here.

⁶⁸ CJEU, Judgment of the Court (Grand Chamber) of 17 December 2020, European Commission v Hungary, C-808/18, available here.

⁶⁹ Minister of Justice, Case No. X / 00477 /2021, available here.

⁷⁰ Hungarian Constitutional Court, Case No. X/477/2021, available here.

⁷¹ Euronews, Hungarian Constitutional Court ruling is a migration milestone, 15 December 2021, available here, see HHC's response: here.

⁷² DRC, Pushing Back Responsibility. Rights Violations as a "Welcome Treatment" at Europe's borders, April 2021, here.

⁷³ EU Observer, Frontex suspends operations in Hungary, 27 January 2021, available here.

On 9 June 2021, the European Commission sent a letter of formal notice to Hungary for failing to comply with the ruling of the CJEU (C-808/18).⁷⁴ In November 2021, the European Commission once again referred Hungary to the CJEU for failure to comply with the judgment in case C-808/18.⁷⁵ On 13 June 2024, the CJEU ruled that Hungary failed to comply with the judgement and ordered to pay the European Commission a lump sum in the amount of EUR 200 000 000 and a penalty payment of EUR 1 000 000 per day until the date of compliance with the judgment.⁷⁶ Hungarian Government's reaction to the judgement was firm: they refuse to pay anything up to date, they did not make any changes in order to implement the judgement,⁷⁷ and they filed a lawsuit against the CJEU "pursuing compensation for (...) procedural failings in the case".⁷⁸

On 8 October 2021, the ECtHR issued a judgement in the first case against Hungary involving a pushback. The Court ruled that pushbacks carried out by Hungary under a domestic regulation are in breach of the prohibition of collective expulsions enshrined in Article 4 of Protocol 4 of the Convention.⁷⁹ On 22 September 2022 a similar judgement followed in H.K. v. Hungary.⁸⁰ In 2023, the ECtHR condemned Hungary in 4 collective expulsion cases. S.S. and Others v. Hungary and F.W. and Others v. Hungary concern the pushback of families to Serbia who applied for asylum at the airport and who have never been in Serbia before.⁸¹ *K.P. v. Hungary*⁸² and *R.N. v. Hungary*⁸³ concern the pushback of unaccompanied minors. In 2024, the ECtHR condemned Hungary in one collective expulsion case M.D. and Others v. Hungary.⁸⁴ The case differs from other cases, because the family was collectively expelled after their asylum procedure was officially over. In 2025, the ECtHR issued a judgement in 3 joint cases and, for the first time, directly called on the Hungarian authorities to immediately stop collective expulsions and to ensure effective access to asylum. The joint judgement is also relevant as the ECtHR considers that the "embassy procedure" did not provide for "genuine and effective access to means of legal entry".⁸⁵

Pushbacks are also addressed in the CoM supervision of the execution of the ECtHR judgments. First they were classified under the Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary judgement,⁸⁶ but later the CoM decided to make the Shahzad case a leading case for push backs.⁸⁷ One additional pushback case was communicated by the ECtHR in 2025.⁸⁸

Despite the above judgments, pushbacks continue on a daily basis.

The following example is particularly striking as it shows how it is not only impossible to apply for asylum in Hungary, but such an attempt leads to a pushback as well. An Afghan man, who, after having overstayed his study visa in Hungary, wanted to apply for asylum in September 2021 because of the Taliban takeover. Mr. H. Q. showed up in person at the NDGAP's asylum authority and expressed his wish to seek asylum. Instead of being admitted into the asylum procedure, he was removed from Hungary

⁷⁴ Proceedings No INFR(2015)2201: EC, June infringements package: key decisions, 9 June 2021, available here.

⁷⁵ EC, Migration: Commission refers HUNGARY to the Court of Justice of the European Union over its failure to comply with Court judgment, 12 November 2021, available here.

⁷⁶ CJEU, Judgment of the Court of 13 June 2024, European Commission v Hungary, C-123/22, available here.

⁷⁷ See: <https://tinyurl.com/yj4626nn>, <https://tinyurl.com/58efcjc5>.

⁷⁸ Infomigrants, 'Hungary files lawsuit against EU court over migration-related fine', 17 December 2025, available here.

⁷⁹ ECtHR, Shahzad v. Hungary, Application No. 12625/17, Judgment of 8 October 2021, available here.

⁸⁰ ECtHR, H.K. v. Hungary, Application No. 18531/17, Judgment of 22 September 2022, available here.

⁸¹ ECtHR, S.S. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 56417/19 and F.W. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 44245/20, Judgment of 12 October 2023, available here.

⁸² ECtHR, K.P. v. Hungary, Application No. 82479/17, Judgment of 18 January 2024, available here.

⁸³ ECtHR, R.N. v. Hungary, Application No. 71/18, Judgment of 4 May 2023, available here.

⁸⁴ ECtHR, M.D. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 60778/19, Judgment of 19 September 2024, available here.

⁸⁵ ECtHR, H.Q. v. Hungary, Application No. 46084/21, Z.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 40185/22 and A.S.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 53952/22, Judgment of 24 June 2025, available here.

⁸⁶ Committee of Ministers, H46-11 Ilias and Ahmed group v. Hungary (Application No. 47287/15) – Supervision of the execution of the European Court's judgments, available here.

⁸⁷ Committee of Ministers, Shahzad group v. Hungary (Application No. 12625/17) – Supervision of the execution of the European Court's judgments, available here.

⁸⁸ ECtHR, H.M. v. Hungary, Application No. 4922/23, available here.

by the police on the same day. He was carried to the external side of the Hungarian border fence situated at the official Hungarian-Serbian state border and had no other choice but to irregularly enter Serbia – a country where he had never been in his life.⁸⁹ His asylum application was rejected as inadmissible, as the NDGAP held that, based on Section 32/F(1)b) of Act LXXX of 2007 on Asylum, he was requesting something impossible within the established legal framework. His asylum claim was thus rejected without even launching an examination. In the decision, the NDGAP cites Act LVIII of 2020 on the transitional measures following the termination of the state of danger, according to which asylum applications can only be submitted through a ‘statement of intent’ at the embassies of Hungary in Belgrade or in Kyiv, and can by no means be submitted from Hungary itself. The NDGAP held that it has therefore no competence to examine this asylum application and excluded the possibility of submitting an appeal against the decision. Nevertheless, the applicant appealed the decision and requested to be granted the right to remain on the territory during the appeal procedure. However, the Police drove the applicant to the Serbian border and escorted him through the gate in the fence, despite the Police being aware of his interim measure request and the suspensive effect that such a request should have. The removal took place outside the scope of the readmission agreement with Serbia and without the presence of Serbian border guards or police officers. Neither the Police nor the Immigration authority conducted an assessment as to whether the applicant’s removal to Serbia would constitute refoulement and Serbian authorities were not informed of his removal. After being summarily removed, he was left without any assistance (with nothing else than what he had on him, as he had not been given the chance to retrieve his belongings from his house before being forcibly removed). He was denied access to a shelter in camps near the border, which were already running above capacity. He was subjected to physical violence while sleeping rough and the Serbian police twice refused to register him as an asylum seeker and physically attacked him. At national level, the Metropolitan Court adjudicating the rejection of his asylum application delivered its judgment on 12 November 2021, annulled the decision of the NDGAP and ordered that the applicant shall be allowed back.⁹⁰ It ordered that a new asylum procedure be conducted in accordance with the general rules of the Asylum Act. In a case challenging his de facto expulsion, the Metropolitan Court ruled that his expulsion was unlawful and also ordered to allow back the applicant.⁹¹ The authorities appealed to the Supreme Court and the Supreme Court upheld the appeal.⁹² According to the Supreme Court, it cannot be established that it was NDGAP who ordered the pushback and they don’t even have the competence to do that. In the repeated first instance court procedure new facts on NDGAP responsibility for ordering pushback were discovered in the files and the court ruled that since NDGAP has no competence over pushback decisions, this is a decision brought without competence, thus null and void from the beginning.⁹³ In 2025, the ECtHR found a violation of Article 4 of Protocol 4, Article 3 (procedural limb) and Article 13 of the Convention.⁹⁴

The border between Austria and Hungary has been reinforced.⁹⁵ The HHC is aware of cases, where Austria applied the readmission agreement with Hungary and when a person was returned to Hungary, they were further pushed back to Serbia, but without the use of the readmission agreement.

Resort to ill-treatment at the border and in the pushbacks and arbitrary deprivation of liberty

Since 5 July 2016, the HHC and other organisations working with migrants and refugees, including UNHCR and MSF, have received reports and documented hundreds of individual cases of violence perpetrated against would-be asylum seekers on and around the Hungarian-Serbian border. Common to these accounts is the indiscriminate nature of the violence and the claim that the perpetrators wore uniforms consistent with the Hungarian police and military. The best-known case is that of a young Syrian man who drowned in the river Tisza while attempting to cross into Hungary on 1 June 2016.⁹⁶ His surviving ⁸⁹ For more information on the case please see here.

⁹⁰ Metropolitan Court, Judgment No. 11.K.705.686/2021/22, 12 November 2021.

⁹¹ Metropolitan Court, Judgment No. 11.K.706.224/2021/25, 26 May 2022.

⁹² Kfv.II.37.290/2023/4., 21 June 2023.

⁹³ 11.K.702.533/2023/22., 21 November 2023.

⁹⁴ H.Q. v. Hungary, Application No. 46084/21, Judgment of 24 June 2025, available here.

⁹⁵ Fundamental Rights Agency, Migration: Key fundamental rights concerns. 1.7.2021 → 30.9.2021, here, 9.

⁹⁶ UNHCR, ‘UNHCR alarmed at refugee death on Hungary-Serbia border’, 6 June 2016, available here.

brother was represented by the HHC and after the criminal investigation in relation to the tragic incident was closed at the national level, a case was submitted to the ECtHR. The Court ruled in 2023 that Hungary violated Article 2 (ineffective investigation) and Article 3 (procedural limb) of the Convention.⁹⁷ In 2023, the ECtHR issued a judgement in another case addressing ineffective investigation of police ill-treatment during a pushback, finding a violation of Article 3 (substantive and procedural).⁹⁸ Compilation of different reports can also be found in AIDA Country Report: Serbia.

In 2023, the CPT conducted another visit in Hungary and published its report in 2024, finding it regrettable that there is still no legal procedure offering effective protection against informal forcible removals of foreign nationals (pushbacks) and refoulement, including chain refoulement.⁹⁹ The HHC prepared a detailed report on pushback practices prior to their visit.¹⁰⁰ The HHC also responded to the FRANET Service Request no. 15. on Investigations of fundamental rights violations and criminal offences at the EU's external borders.¹⁰¹ Following the visit to Hungary of the Council of Europe's Group of Experts on Action against Trafficking in Human Beings (GRETA), held on 27 February – 3 March 2023, GRETA noted with grave concern the pushbacks and forced removals of migrants and asylum seekers at the border with Serbia, as well as the absence of a proper asylum application procedure in place, which virtually eliminate any possibility of detecting and identifying possible victims of trafficking among this vulnerable group, and further increases the vulnerability of those individuals to become victims or to be re-trafficked.¹⁰²

The 2024 FRA Guidance on investigating alleged ill-treatment at borders singled out Hungary, together with Croatia and Greece, as countries which 'did not effectively investigate incidents of ill treatment and loss of life during border management'. The FRA also noted that, despite 'credible allegations' of mistreatment, the three countries made insufficient efforts to locate and hear victims and witnesses, hindered lawyers in their work and did not have access to key evidence (e.g., footage from border surveillance).¹⁰³

In 2025, the HHC wrote a submission to the UN Special Rapporteur on Torture on Experience of Victims and Survivors, addressing the risk of abuse and inhumane treatment at the borders.¹⁰⁴

1.3 Embassy procedure

On 26 May 2020, the government issued a government decree that introduced a new asylum system, the so called 'embassy procedure'.¹⁰⁵ This new system was later included in the Transitional Act, that entered into force on 18 June 2020. The system was first in place until 31 December 2020 but was since then prolonged several times. In 2024, the government issued a decree that entered into force on 1 January 2025, prolonging the Embassy system without a sunset clause.¹⁰⁶ The decree is issued under the authorisation obtained through the state of danger (the special legal order) and legally, will remain in force until a) the government repeals it b) the state of danger is lifted. This specific state of danger, referring to ⁹⁷ ECtHR, Alhowais v. Hungary, Application No. 59435/17, available here.

⁹⁸ Shahzad v. Hungary (no. 2), Appl. No. 37967/18, available here.

⁹⁹ Available here.

¹⁰⁰ HHC, The HHC Refugee Programme's Submission for the CPT's periodic visit to Hungary in 2023, 8 May 2023, here.

¹⁰¹ Available here.

¹⁰² GRETA, Evaluation Report Hungary, Access to justice and effective remedies for victims of trafficking in human beings, Third evaluation round, GRETA(2024)02, 26 February 2024, available here.

¹⁰³ FRA, Guidance on investigating alleged ill-treatment at borders, 30 July 2024, available here. For an overview of international organisations and human rights monitoring bodies' reports on the hungarian pushback practices from previous years, see previous AIDA, Country reports: Hungary, available here.

¹⁰⁴ HHC, Submission to the UN Special Rapporteur on Torture: Experiences of Victims and Survivors, 30 October 2025, available here.

¹⁰⁵ Government Decree 233/2020. (V. 26.) on the rules of the asylum procedure during the state of danger declared for the prevention of the human epidemic endangering life and property and causing massive disease outbreaks, and for the protection of the health and lives of Hungarian citizens.

¹⁰⁶ Government Decree 361/2024. (XI. 28.) on the applicability of the transitional rules of the asylum procedure.

the war in Ukraine, has been in force since February 2024 and has been prolonged until 14 May 2026.¹⁰⁷ In 2025, the Act L of 2025 on the elevation of the emergency decrees declared in view of the armed conflict in the territory of Ukraine to the level of law was adopted. The Act entered into force on 20 August 2025. The Government Decree 361/2024. (XI. 28.) prolonging the Embassy system without a sunset clause was therefore elevated to the level of law.

According to the new system, those wishing to seek asylum in Hungary, with a few exceptions noted below, must go through the following steps prior to being able to register their asylum application:

- ❖ A foreigner must personally submit a 'statement of intent for the purpose of lodging an asylum application' (hereafter: statement of intent) at the Embassy of Hungary in Belgrade or in Kyiv.¹⁰⁸
- ❖ The Embassy must then forward the 'statement of intent' to the NDGAP in Budapest, which shall examine it within 60 days.¹⁰⁹ During this period, the NDGAP might remotely interview the foreigner.
- ❖ The NDGAP should make a proposal to the Embassy whether to issue the 'would-be' asylum seeker a special, single-entry permit to enter Hungary for the purpose of lodging an asylum application.¹¹⁰
- ❖ In case the permit is issued, the would-be asylum-seeker must travel on their own to Hungary within 30 days, and upon arrival, immediately avail themselves to the border guards.¹¹¹
- ❖ The border guards must then present the 'would-be' asylum-seeker to the asylum authority within 24 hours.¹¹²
- ❖ The 'would-be' asylum-seeker can then formally register their asylum application with the NDGAP.

Only people belonging to the following categories are not required to go through the process described above:¹¹³

- ❖ Beneficiaries of subsidiary protection who are staying in Hungary.
- ❖ Family members¹¹⁴ of refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection who are staying in Hungary.
- ❖ Those subject to forced measures, measures or punishment affecting personal liberty, except if they have crossed Hungary in an 'illegal' manner. This exception was modified with the Gov. Decree 494/2024, which entered into force on 1 January 2025, and the illegal entry was removed. The current exemption therefore reads: A person subject to forced measures, measures or punishment affecting personal liberty – excluding cases of apprehension and petty offence confinement. This in practice means that persons detained or under compulsory place of stay can submit an asylum application, despite the illegal entry, but those just apprehended by the police cannot (push backs are therefore not affected with this modification).
- ❖ Unaccompanied minors residing in Hungary (this exception was included by the Act L of 2025).

As regards the procedure at the embassy, the law does not clarify the criteria to be considered by the NDGAP in deciding on such applications. Those wishing to submit their statement of intent must first secure an appointment at the embassy. There is no clear procedure on how this could and should be arranged. According to the HHC's knowledge, people are supposed to send an e-mail requesting an appointment. They are informed that they will be informed about the date of the appointment to lodge the ¹⁰⁷ Government Decree no. 424/2022 on the declaration of a state of emergency and certain emergency rules in view of the armed conflict and humanitarian disaster in the territory of Ukraine, and to prevent and manage their consequences in Hungary.

¹⁰⁸ Section 1 of Government Decree 23/2024. (XII. 30.).

¹⁰⁹ Section 2 (3)-(4) of the Act L of 2025.

¹¹⁰ Section 2(5) of the Act L of 2025.

¹¹¹ Section 3 of the Act L of 2025.

¹¹² Section 4 (3) of the Act L of 2025.

¹¹³ Section 5 of the Act L of 2025.

¹¹⁴ Family members defined according to the Asylum Act (Section 2(j)) are the spouses, minor children and children's parents or an accompanying foreign person responsible for them under Hungarian law. The HHC is aware of cases, where the asylum application was not accepted from adult children who joined their parent with int. protection status through family reunification.

intent (this implies that they are placed on an undefined 'waiting list'). The HHC is aware of several cases where applicants waited over 6 months to get an appointment, while some received a date within weeks. As of 31 December 2023, 44 people are on the waiting list in order to submit a statement of intent.¹¹⁵ As of 31 December 2024, 11 people are on the waiting list in order to submit a statement of intent.¹¹⁶ Some also miss the appointment, as they do not speak English and the information about the appointment is sent to them in English by e-mail, or they are not used to use emails, or they were not able to arrive to the appointment, as they couldn't arrange their travel, since they were placed in a reception centre further away from Belgrade. In 2023, 49 appointments were missed out of 51 appointments given (145 out of 147 people).¹¹⁷ In 2024, 29 appointments were missed out of 35 appointments given (47 out of 53 people).¹¹⁸ Reported issues are also related to the lack of knowledge of some of the applicants who had to be assisted in creating email accounts and using them for the purpose of scheduling the lodging of the statement of intent.¹¹⁹

The 'statement of intent' form has to be filled out in English or Hungarian, for which no interpretation or legal assistance is provided. Similar issues on the Embassy procedure in Belgrade have been reported in the AIDA report on Serbia. In 2022, according to the NDGAP, 16 statements of intent were submitted at the Embassy of Hungary in Belgrade. In 2023, according to the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, 2 statements of intent were submitted at the Embassy of Hungary in Belgrade and none in Kyiv. A total of 15 requests for appointments in order to submit a statement of intent were requested.¹²⁰ In 2024, 6 statements of intent were submitted at the Embassy of Hungary in Belgrade and none in Kyiv. A total of 29 requests for appointments in order to submit a statement of intent were requested.¹²¹

Only one family's 'statement of intent' was assessed positively in 2020 and the NDGAP granted them a single-entry permit in order to apply for asylum in Hungary. Eventually, this family from Iran was granted refugee status. All other applications were rejected in an email, by one paragraph stating that the NDGAP decided not to suggest the issuance of a single-entry permit. The decision therefore bears no reasoning, and the law does not foresee any remedy. This clearly denies asylum seekers access to a fair and efficient asylum procedure as it raises fundamental concerns over the possibility of a substantive assessment without appropriate procedural guarantees being in place as required by international and EU law. In 2021, 8 persons (4 persons in April and 4 in September) were granted a single-entry permit in order to apply for asylum in Hungary. In 2022 (December), 4 persons and in 2023, 5 persons were granted a single-entry permit in order to apply for asylum in Hungary, all of Iranian nationality. In 2024 nor in 2025, none was granted a single-entry permit.

Judicial and international criticism

The HHC represents several rejected people in domestic court procedures. Common to all the cases is that courts found that the lack of the most basic procedural guarantees, such as the disclosure of the reasoning behind the rejection decision, constitutes such a serious violation of procedural requirements that the asylum authority must conduct a new procedure at the end of which it must provide detailed justification of its decision.¹²²

The courts also found that although the Transitional Act remains silent on this, given the nature of the procedure and the effect of the outcome, the notification of the decision is in fact an administrative act and as such, can be subject to judicial review. However, this is not enshrined in the Transitional Act, and applicants are not informed by the Embassy of these developments in Hungarian case law. The asylum ¹¹⁵ Response of the Ministry of Foreign affairs to the HHC FOI request, 5 February 2024.

¹¹⁶ Response of the Ministry of Foreign affairs to the HHC FOI request, 11 February 2025.

¹¹⁷ Response of the Ministry of Foreign affairs to the HHC FOI request, 5 February 2024.

¹¹⁸ Response of the Ministry of Foreign affairs to the HHC FOI request, 11 February 2025.

¹¹⁹ See more in AIDA Country Report Serbia-2022 Update, p. 64.

¹²⁰ Response of the Ministry of Foreign affairs to the HHC FOI request, 5 February 2024.

¹²¹ Response of the Ministry of Foreign affairs to the HHC FOI request, 11 February 2025.

¹²² See for example the following judgments: 11.K.704.266/2021/6, 5 October 2021; 49.K.704.624/2021/16, 3 February 2022; 11.K.704.127/2021/11, 5 October 2021.

authority refused to implement these judgments.¹²³ Instead, using a loophole created recently to channel out sensitive cases from the ordinary court system,¹²⁴ it requested the CC to quash the first such court decision and requested that the CC grant suspensive effect. Despite the CC's rejection of the request for suspensive effect,¹²⁵ the NDGAP did not continue with the procedure and therefore did not implement the judgment in question. In all the other cases, where the court ordered a new procedure, the asylum office ex officio started repeated procedures, but it immediately suspended them based on a pending CC complaint procedure. More than half a year later, however, the court annulled the suspension decisions of the NDGAP.¹²⁶ Meanwhile, the CC dismissed the application on 24 May 2022, pointing out that the NDGAP did not name any fundamental rights that would have been violated by the court judgment subject to review by the CC.¹²⁷

The NDGAP finally had to issue new decisions in repeated procedures. Although the NDGAP provided some justification for rejections, it still did not properly meet the requirements set by the courts, so further appeals had to be lodged. Litigation had therefore been ongoing for more than 2.5 years, a delay that left many of the HHC's clients feeling hopeless.¹²⁸

The courts' reasoning in repeated procedures became stronger in 2023. For example, in one of the cases, the court ruled that given that the applicants brought their application more than two years ago and that the NDGAP has taken an unlawful decision for the second time, the court, in order to ensure effective legal protection, found it essential to provide the clearest possible guidance for the new procedure. The court noted that the applicants had no health problems and were not suffering from any infectious diseases and that in the case of persons entering Hungary from the territory of Serbia, there are currently no epidemiological restrictions in force. Therefore, granting the applicants a single-entry permit would not present a risk of infection. The Court further noted that there are no other reasons for refusing entry. The fact that the applicants did not lodge an application for asylum in Serbia could not be regarded as a reason for refusal of entry, as the legislature has not introduced any restriction in this regard in the legislation. The judge also instructed NDGAP that the new procedure should be finished within 8 days (last time it took the NDGAP one year to bring a new decision), and that all that NDGAP should do is to issue a recommendation on the approval of entry.¹²⁹ NDGAP complied with the judgement.

In a case of an UAM who was pushed back and later submitted a statement of intent at the Embassy, his statement of intent was rejected two times already. The NDGAP referred to the facts that he did not apply for asylum in Bulgaria nor Serbia and he did not show that he was not able to do so and that this system is needed in order to prevent illegal migration and smuggling. In the second appeal procedure, the court ruled that no new procedure should be started since the Embassy procedure was deemed illegal by CJEU, and it is not possible to instruct the authorities to let the applicant back, because if he really intended to submit an asylum application in Hungary, the authority's failure to receive it can be contested in either an omission lawsuit or a direct action.¹³⁰

UNHCR expressed its criticism over the new system,¹³¹ and this issue was brought up in Rule 9 submissions on implementation of Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary case¹³² by UNHCR¹³³ and NGO/NHRI.

¹²³ HHC, Implementing judgments in the field of asylum and migration on odd days, 17 October 2022, available here.

¹²⁴ HHC, New law threatens judicial independence in Hungary - again, January 2020, available here, 3-5.

¹²⁵ Section 53 (4), 61 of Act CLI of 2011 on the Constitutional Court.

¹²⁶ See for example the following judgments, 49.K.700.743/2022/5, 5 July 2022.

¹²⁷ Ruling of the Constitutional Court IV/3538-1/2021.

¹²⁸ HHC, No access to asylum – embassy system info note update, 13 June 2023, available here.

¹²⁹ 13.K.702.034/2023/5., 31 August 2023.

¹³⁰ Case 11.K.700.867/2024/5., 30 April 2024.

¹³¹ UNHCR, UNHCR Position on Hungarian Act LVIII of 2020 on the Transitional Rules and Epidemiological Preparedness related to the Cessation of the State of Danger, June 2020, available here.

¹³² Council of Europe, Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary – Status of execution, available here.

¹³³ UNHCR, Execution of the judgments of the European Court of Human Rights in the cases of Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary (Application No. 47287/15; Grand Chamber judgment of 21 November 2019) and Shahzad v. Hungary (Application No. 12625/17; Judgment of 8 July 2021), 31 August 2022, available here.

Ms Leyla Kayacik, Special Representative of the Secretary General on Migration and Refugees, noted in her report of the fact-finding mission to Hungary that the current Embassy Procedure in place limits the fair and effective access to asylum of individuals who are not entitled to temporary protection and that this procedure might raise issues under the ECHR.¹³⁴

On 30 October 2020, the European Commission decided to launch an infringement procedure against Hungary.¹³⁵ This represents the fifth infringement procedure related to asylum policies from the Commission against Hungary since 2015.¹³⁶ Following a letter of formal notice from October 2020¹³⁷ and a reasoned opinion sent in February 2021,¹³⁸ on 15 July 2021 the Commission decided to refer Hungary to the CJEU for unlawfully restricting access to the asylum procedure in breach of Article 6 of the Asylum Procedures Directive (APD), interpreted in light of Article 18 of the Charter.¹³⁹ The application initiating proceedings was received in December 2021 and the judgement was delivered on 22 June 2023. The CJEU ruled that by subjecting the possibility of making an application for international protection to the prior submission of a declaration of intent to an embassy located in a third country, Hungary failed to fulfil its obligations under the EU law.¹⁴⁰

Despite the above judgement, the validity of the embassy system was extended. In its latest prolongation reasoning, the Government cites as a reason the need to prevent the abuse of the asylum system on a massive scale by irregular migrants. Since the transit zones had to be closed, following the CJEU judgements C-924/19 PPU and C 925/19 PPU, the “embassy procedure” had to be introduced, in order to allow entry only to those who are in genuine need of asylum in the EU and who are not granted it elsewhere. The amendment is also justified in view of the massive and deliberate criminal activities of smugglers.¹⁴¹

In April 2024, the Commission has decided to send a letter of formal notice to Hungary for failing to comply with the ruling of the CJEU in case C-823/21.¹⁴²

Unaccompanied and separated children (UaSC)

Although the vast majority of irregularly staying third country nationals get automatically and forcibly removed from Hungary to Serbia in a summary procedure, there have been some rare exceptions, such as the cases of UaSCs who were injured when crossing the border – e.g., fell off the border fence or were beaten by the Police or military so severely that they needed to be hospitalised. For them, a guardian was appointed and following their release from the hospital, they were placed in a children’s home in Fót, near Budapest.¹⁴³

In their case, the guardian could contact the embassy in Belgrade and ask for an appointment to submit the statement of intent. In such cases, the appointment was given within a reasonable time. However, it normally still took in around 1.5-2 months on average for the guardian to arrange for their travel to Belgrade. Even when the embassy showed flexibility and accepted the statement of intent to be submitted in the Hungarian consulate in Subotica (near the border), this time frame remained the same. This delay is mainly due to the fact that when appointed, guardians need to arrange for a meeting with the child with ¹³⁴ Report of the fact-finding mission to Hungary by Ms Leyla Kayacik Special Representative of the Secretary General on Migration and Refugees 21-23 March 2023, 21 August 2023, SG/Inf(2023)26, available here.

¹³⁵ Procedure INFR(2020)2310: EC, ‘October infringement package: key decision’, 30 October 2020 available here.

¹³⁶ ECRE, Hungary: Facing Fifth Infringement Procedure Related to Asylum Since 2015, 6 November 2020, available here.

¹³⁷ EC, October infringements package: key decisions, 30 October 2020, available here.

¹³⁸ EC, February infringements package: key decisions, 18 February 2021, available here.

¹³⁹ EC, Commission refers Hungary to the Court of Justice of the European Union for unlawfully restricting access to the asylum procedure, 15 July 2021, available here.

¹⁴⁰ CJEU, Commission v. Hungary, Case C-823/21, 22 June 2023, available here.

¹⁴¹ Explanatory memorandum to Section 91 of the Act XCI of 2023 on amending necessary laws in order to strengthen public security and fight against migration.

¹⁴² EC, April infringement package: key decisions, 24 April 2024, available here.

¹⁴³ Practice-informed observation by Hungarian Helsinki Committee.

an interpreter and a legal representative and then must arrange for their travels. The statement of intent cannot be sent by post, email, fax or anything else and the guardian, who often is in charge of 30-40 children at the same time, must travel hundreds of kilometres just to submit a few sheets of paper, which is particularly challenging.¹⁴⁴ Also, UASCs who are waiting for their declaration of intent to be registered and approved remain in legal limbo and cannot access different rights.

According to the Child Protection Act, only guardians working at TEGYESZ (Child Protection Guardian Services of Budapest) may be appointed to be guardians of unaccompanied children. The Government Decree on the qualification requirements for civil servants contains an exhaustive list of the necessary qualifications a person needs to possess in order to be able to become a guardian. For instance, they need to hold a degree (or be certified in) one of the following: law, public administration manager, administration manager, social work, pedagogy (except for religious studies), psychologist or mental hygiene, child protection counsellor, family advisor holding a legal certificate (not a law degree), district nurse, theologian, teacher of religious studies, pastoral advisor.¹⁴⁵

When the guardians did submit the statement of intent, the embassy forwarded it to the asylum authority in a speedy manner, and the asylum authority invited the minor and the guardian to formally submit the asylum application within a couple of days. In 2024, there was a case where, one week after the submission of the statement of the intent, the asylum authority held an asylum interview on the same day as the formal application was submitted to the NDGAP.

What was mentioned above, however, should in no way be understood in the sense that unaccompanied children are, as a rule, exempt from pushbacks, as such procedure was applied only in a handful of cases in 2021 and 2022. Only a few cases resulted in a favourable decision. UASC suffer from the systemic denial of access to the territory and procedure as much as adults. Practice shows that it is the level of their injuries upon irregular entry, or a rare spark of humanity in the Police officer in question, as opposed to a child-focused approach, which determines their fate following interception by the authorities near the border.¹⁴⁶

The following case clearly illustrates the insufficiency of the system. In September 2021, a Syrian UaSC arrived in Hungary. He climbed through the fence on the Serbian border together with a small group of other asylum seekers. When climbing up on the second fence on the border, he was apprehended by the Police. He told the HHC staff that a policeman pushed him to the dirt with excessive force and hit him several times with a metal baton. Severely injured, he was taken to a hospital where he stayed for several days. After being released, he was not pushed back to Serbia but instead taken to the children's home housing UASCs. When arriving to the children's home, he was frightened, traumatised and extremely angry. He wanted to seek protection but also wanted to report police ill-treatment which occurred at the border. However, he required a legal guardian to be able to initiate relevant proceedings. When his guardian was appointed to him, they could not meet immediately since guardians are overworked, and there is not enough of them. He had to wait for around 2 weeks to meet the guardian so he could attempt to apply for asylum in Hungary because his statement of intent form must be brought to Serbia by their guardian. It must be said that the embassy staff was flexible enough to meet the guardian halfway at the Hungarian consulate in Subotica. The child entered Hungary on 10 September, and his intent form was finally submitted on 19 November. It was accepted by the asylum authority on 26 November. However, and as outlined above, he was in a legal limbo. He did not have access to free healthcare for the repeated hospital visits he needed to recover from the violence he suffered at the border. After his asylum interview on 2 December (nearly three months after entering Hungary), he decided to leave Hungary. He absconded from the children's home and decided to move on in an irregular manner. What normally would have been an easy administrative task - registering the asylum claim of a child - took two months and one ¹⁴⁴ Practice-informed observation by Hungarian Helsinki Committee.

¹⁴⁵ Government Decree 29/2012 (III.7.) on the qualification requirements for civil servants, Annex 3, point 48.

¹⁴⁶ Practice-informed observation by Hungarian Helsinki Committee.

international trip. In the meantime, the child was kept in an uncertain legal limbo, which caused him further trauma.¹⁴⁷

By Act L of 2025, that entered into force on 20 August 2025, UaSC residing in Hungary are added to the exemptions from the embassy procedure.

1.4 Legal access to the territory

Third country nationals cannot apply for a humanitarian visa with the intention to apply for international protection upon arrival. There are also no resettlement or relocation operations in place. In 2017, the European Commission referred Hungary, Czechia and Poland to the CJEU for non-compliance with the Council Decision on relocation.¹⁴⁸ The CJEU established that the Member States had breached the Council Decision by failing to relocate asylum applicants from Italy or Greece.¹⁴⁹

However, Hungary did assist certain group of people in need of protection. In 2018, Hungary accepted approximately 300 refugees from Venezuela, after the country's descent into political and economic turmoil. They were not subject to the asylum procedure but received a settlement paper that allowed them to work, access to free accommodation for one year and access to an integration programme with free Hungarian and English language courses. The Hungarian Government decided not to communicate about this programme in public and it remained a secret until discovered by the media.¹⁵⁰

Similarly, following the Taliban take-over in Afghanistan in August 2021, almost 500 former NATO co-workers and their families were flown to Hungary in the rescue operation. The rescued Afghan citizens were not subject to the asylum procedure but were instead channelled into the alien policing procedure (residence permit for other purposes, i.e., humanitarian purposes). An AMIF-funded project was set up to provide apartments for Afghan evacuees in Budapest, as part of an integration programme but ended in 2023.¹⁵¹

One of the routes people in need of international protection may take to legally enter Hungary is family reunification.

2. Preliminary checks of third country nationals upon arrival

Indicators: Preliminary checks at the arrival point

1. Are there any checks that are applied systematically or regularly at the point of entry when a person enters the territory? Yes No
2. Is the person considered under law to have entered the territory during these checks? Yes No

There are no checks foreseen for people entering Hungary illegally. When they are apprehended by the police, they are not identified, their data is not registered, and they are not allowed to submit an asylum claim. Instead, they are pushed back to Serbia. The only data registered was their nationality, which was recorded based on their self-identification (see Irregular entry and police ill-treatment). In the statistics on pushbacks provided by the Police in 2024, the breakdown by age is also recorded and in the statistics for 2025, the breakdown by gender and age is also recorded.

¹⁴⁷ Practice-informed observation by Hungarian Helsinki Committee December 2021.

¹⁴⁸ EC, 'Relocation: Commission refers the Czech Republic, Hungary and Poland to the Court of Justice', 7 December 2017, available here.

¹⁴⁹ CJEU, Joined cases C-715/17, C-718/17 and C-719/17, 2 April 2020.

¹⁵⁰ Index, 'Hungary accepts Venezuelan refugees with the utmost secrecy', 21 February 2019, available here.

¹⁵¹ EUAA, Asylum Report 2022, June 2022, available here and AIDA, Country Report Hungary – 2022 Update, April 2023, available here.

3. Registration of the asylum application

Indicators: Registration

1. Are specific time limits laid down in law for making an application? Yes No
 ❖ If so, what is the time limit for lodging an application?
2. Are specific time limits laid down in law for lodging an application? Yes No
 ❖ If so, what is the time limit for lodging an application?
3. Are registration and lodging distinct stages in the law or in practice? Yes No
4. Is the authority with which the application is lodged also the authority responsible for its examination? Yes No
5. Can an application for international protection be lodged at embassies, consulates or other external representations? Yes¹⁵² No

There is no time limit for lodging an asylum application. Until March 2020, applications could only be lodged in the transit zones (except for those lawfully staying in the territory, and UaSCs below 14 years old) and asylum seekers entering the transit zone were asked immediately whether they wished to apply for asylum. If they did not wish to do so, they were immediately escorted back through the gate of the transit zone.

Since 26 May 2020, only those who receive a single-entry permit after submitting a statement of intent at the Embassy in Belgrade or Kyiv or belong to certain exceptions described in the section on the Embassy procedure are able to apply for asylum once they enter Hungary.

The application should be lodged in writing or orally and in person by the person seeking protection at the NDGAP.¹⁵³ The Asylum Act states that children between 14 and 18 years old have the capacity to exercise their rights in their own asylum procedure, even though, in general, they only have limited legal capacity. If a family lodges an asylum application together, children between 14 and 18 must formally (in writing) agree to the joint application. They also have the right to lodge an asylum application separately from their parents/responsible adults. Furthermore, the individualised risks may be examined during the separate interviews (in general, children above 14 years need to be interviewed separately from their family members). A humanitarian residence permit is issued to a person who applies for asylum. If the person staying in Hungary seeking protection, who is allowed to apply for asylum, appears before another authority to lodge an application for asylum, that authority should inform the asylum seeker about where to turn to with their application. If the asylum claim is made during forced measures or measures or punishment affecting personal liberty, the proceeding authority must record the statement and forward it to the asylum authority without delay.

Numbers of applications for international protection are presented below:

Asylum applicants in Hungary
2015	2016	2017	2018	2019	2020	2021	2022	2023	2024	2025
177,135	29,432	3,397	671	468	117	38	44	28	29	113

Source: Former IAO and NDGAP.

According to the Section 353/A of the Criminal Code, in force as of 1 January 2023, any person who provides contribution with the aim of aiding another person in initiating an asylum procedure or any other procedure for obtaining a title of residence in Hungary by means of making a false statement or suppressing known facts is guilty of a misdemeanour punishable by custodial arrest, insofar as the act did not result in a more serious criminal offense. For more information see section on Access to NGOs and UNHCR.

¹⁵² It concerns the possibility to submit only the intent to apply for asylum, and not the application itself. The procedure is described in the section on the Embassy procedure

¹⁵³ Section 32/D(2) Asylum Act.

C. Procedures

1. Regular procedure

From 28 March 2017 until 26 May 2020, but in practice until March 2020, asylum applications could only be submitted in the transit zones, with the exception of those staying lawfully in the country. All asylum seekers, excluding UaSCs below the age of 14, had to stay at the transit zones for the whole duration of their asylum procedure. The asylum procedure in the transit zone was therefore a regular procedure and no longer a Border Procedure. Provisions regulating the border procedure are currently suspended in Hungary, due to the 'state of crisis due to mass migration'.

As of 26 May 2020, the regular procedure can be used only by those who receive single-entry permit after submitting a 'statement of intent' at the Embassy in Belgrade or Kyiv or by certain exceptions described under the section on the Embassy procedure.

1.1 General (scope, time limits)

Indicators: Regular Procedure: General

1. Time limit set in law for the determining authority to make a decision on the asylum application at first instance: 2 months
2. Are detailed reasons for the rejection at first instance of an asylum application shared with the applicant in writing? Yes No
3. Backlog of pending cases at first instance as of 31 December 2025 : 50
4. Average length of the first instance procedure in 2025: No official data

The asylum procedure in Hungary is regulated in the Asylum Act.

The asylum procedure in Hungary starts with an assessment of whether a person falls under a Dublin procedure. If this is not the case, the NDGAP proceeds with examining whether the application is inadmissible or whether it should be decided in an accelerated procedure. The decision on this shall be made within 15 days.¹⁵⁴

The procedural deadline for issuing a decision on the merits is 60 days.¹⁵⁵ The amendment to the Asylum Act that entered into force on 1 January 2018 provides that the head of the former IAO, and now NDGAP, may extend this administrative time limit once before its expiry, by a maximum of 21 days.¹⁵⁶ The following shall not count towards the administrative time limit:

- ❖ periods when the procedure is suspended;
- ❖ periods for remedying deficiencies and making statements;
- ❖ periods needed for the translation of the application and other documents;
- ❖ periods required for expert testimony;
- ❖ duration of the special authority's procedure (for instance the Security Agency);
- ❖ periods required to comply with a request (for example when the NDGAP requests COI from the documentation centre).

¹⁵⁴ Section 47(2) Asylum Act.

¹⁵⁵ Section 47(3) Asylum Act.

¹⁵⁶ Section 32/G Asylum Act.

In 2022, according to the HHC's experience, procedures got longer due to the Ukrainian crisis and lack of additional capacity. NDGAP usually decided between 3 to 5 months, but in some cases it took even longer, more than 6 months. In 2023, similar delays were reported. In 2024, according to the HHC experience, the average length of a regular asylum procedure was 5-6 months. In 2025, the average length of the administrative phase of the asylum procedure was 6 months.

First instance decisions on the asylum application are taken by so-called eligibility officers within the Refugee Directorate of the NDGAP. A decision of the NDGAP may:

- ❖ Grant refugee status;
- ❖ Grant subsidiary protection status;
- ❖ Grant tolerated status where non-refoulement prohibits the person's return; or
- ❖ Reject the application as inadmissible or reject it on the merits.

The refugee authority shall terminate the proceedings if:

- ❖ the client has withdrawn his/her application;
- ❖ the client fails to provide the documents requested by the refugee authority in due time, or failed to provide the statement requested, hence the application cannot be decided;
- ❖ the reason for continuing the proceedings no longer exists;
- ❖ the client did not initiate, by the prescribed time limit, the proceedings within his/her right for determining the incidental question as is required for the refugee authority's decision, where the decision concerning the incidental question lies with another authority or court;
- ❖ if the proceeding has become moot upon the death of the client.

Amendments to the Asylum Act which entered into force on 1 January 2018 provide an additional ground for termination of the procedure that is unclear and the application of which could be problematic:

'The refugee authority shall terminate the procedure if the client failed to submit any document requested by the refugee authority in time or failed to comply with the invitation to make a statement within the time limit and, in the absence of the document or statement, the application cannot be decided on.'¹⁵⁷ The HHC has not observed any such termination practice since the entry into force of the amendments.

In parallel with the rejection decision, the NDGAP also immediately expels the rejected asylum seeker and orders a ban on entry and stay for 1 or 2 years.¹⁵⁸ This ban is entered into the Schengen Information System and prevents the person from entering the entire Schengen area in any lawful way.

Since 2020, every year upon request, the NDGAP has stated it did not have the requested data on the average length of the asylum procedure.¹⁵⁹

In practice, according to the HHC, in 2021 the average length of an asylum procedure, including both the first-instance procedure conducted by the NDGAP and the judicial review procedure, was 3-6 months. The HHC's lawyers reported that what mainly delayed decision making at the first instance was waiting for the approval of the decision by the superior of the case officer. Decisions in status revision procedures and asylum procedures of applicants residing in the territory of Hungary (not in the transit, not in detention) took 2-4 months. In 2022 and 2023, according to the HHC's experience, the average time of proceedings was roughly the same as in 2021. In 2024, according to the HHC's experience, the court procedures lasted around 3 months. In 2025, the court procedures lasted in average around 4 months.

The HHC attorneys report that COI is not automatically shared by the NDGAP with the applicants, before a decision in their asylum case is made, but it can be obtained by requesting access to the case documentation.

¹⁵⁷ Section 32/I Asylum Act.

¹⁵⁸ Practice-informed observation by Hungarian Helsinki Committee.

¹⁵⁹ Information provided by NDGAP on 2 March 2021, 7 February 2022, 19 February 2024 and 9 March 2026.

1.2 Prioritised examination and fast-track processing

According to Section 35(7) of the Asylum Act, cases of UaSCs should be prioritised. However, this prioritisation is not applied in practice. According to HHC lawyers and attorneys working with UaSCs, still in 2024 the decision-making procedure took the same length as in the cases of adults and the former IAO and the NDGAP used up the 60 days. The HHC is not aware of cases where the former IAO or the NDGAP used the legal possibility to extend the deadline.

In case an asylum seeker is detained in an asylum detention or immigration jail, the asylum procedure shall be conducted as a matter of priority. This is usually applied in practice, including in 2024 and 2025.¹⁶⁰ Note that the Government did not consider transit zones as detention; therefore, the prioritisation did not apply there.

1.3 Personal interview

Indicators: Regular Procedure: Personal Interview

1. Is a personal interview of the asylum seeker in most cases conducted in practice in the regular procedure? Yes No
❖ If so, are interpreters available in practice, for interviews? Yes No
2. In the regular procedure, is the interview conducted by the authority responsible for taking the decision? Yes No
3. Are interviews conducted through video conferencing? Frequently Rarely Never
4. Can the asylum seeker request the interviewer and the interpreter to be of a specific gender? Yes No
❖ If so, is this applied in practice, for interviews? Yes (but not always) No

The personal interview of the asylum seeker is mandatory in the asylum procedure. The NDGAP may omit the personal interview if the asylum seeker:¹⁶¹

- ❖ Is not fit for being heard;
- ❖ Submitted a subsequent application and, in the application, failed to state facts or provided proofs that would allow the recognition as a refugee or beneficiary of subsidiary protection. The personal hearing cannot be dispensed with, if the subsequent application is submitted by a person seeking recognition whose application was submitted earlier on their behalf as a dependent person or an unmarried minor.

The quality of the asylum interviews highly depends on the personality of the case officer. Although in most cases, the interview recordings – especially when legal representative is not present – are vague and lack the resolution of contradictions, the HHC is also aware of an extremely punctual and detailed interview technique applied in Budapest. Accordingly, the case officer conducts extensive interviews and usually holds two hearings with the aim that by the second time contradictions are clarified in light of their country-of-origin information.

In 2024, an inappropriate hearing happened with the NDGAP in a case of a UaSC, who came out during the hearing. The case officer was very rude, asked questions like "but can you imagine having a romantic relationship with a girl in the future?", which made the UaSC cry. In any case, positive practices are also worth noting. Case officers were in some cases open to adjust the interview appointment to the needs of the applicant. For example, interviews could be arranged in the afternoon so that the applicant does not have to miss work. In one case the applicant, dependent on a wheelchair, was not required to be present in person at the announcement of the decision. Case officers often called legal representatives before making an appointment, to inform them and to make sure the appointment would be appropriate.

¹⁶⁰ Section 35/A Asylum Act.

¹⁶¹ Section 43 Asylum Act.

The asylum interviews are often conducted without due regard to a person's vulnerability and previous trauma. The treatment of LGBTI applicants is especially inadequate; they often receive questions that are not in line with the standards of EU law and jurisprudence and violate their right to private life. According to HHC's experience, there have been cases where an LGBTI person's asylum interview was held with the doors open, while the security guard listened in and walked around outside, disregarding the asylum seekers' privacy and the fact that it was difficult for them to talk about what had happened to them.

Privacy is an issue for everyone detained, as several guards are present during the interviews conducted in detention centre.

The HHC colleagues also reported that the interview questions are sometimes humiliating (e.g. suggested terrorism).

The applicants also complain that the interviews are extremely lengthy and tiring. One of the reasons for this is that there are many introductory questions regarding the personal data of the applicants and their travel route. By the time the interview reaches the reasons of fleeing or reasons for not being able to go back, the applicants are already very tired, and therefore they may fail to provide details which can be crucial for the positive outcome of their application.¹⁶² This became even worse with the introduction of several new mandatory questions in 2026 (see below).

The interviewer usually does not ask anything concerning the IPA (internal protection alternative) and does not even tell the asylum seeker that they are examining the possibility of the IPA. When there are contradictions, the interviewers usually do not try to fully resolve them.¹⁶³ The new questions introduced in 2026 address IPA as well (see below).

In 2019, the NDGAP conducted a total of 549 personal interviews.¹⁶⁴ Since 2020, every year upon request the NDGAP has stated it did not have the requested data.¹⁶⁵

Where the applicant requests so, a same-sex interviewer must be provided, where this is considered not to hinder the completion of the asylum procedure.¹⁶⁶ For asylum seekers who are facing gender-based persecution and make such a request, this designation is compulsory.¹⁶⁷ Amendments that entered into force on 1 January 2018 secure the right of the applicant to request a case officer and interpreter of the gender of their choice on grounds that their gender identity is different from the gender registered in the official database.¹⁶⁸ Nevertheless, the HHC is not aware of any gender or vulnerability-specific guidelines applicable to eligibility officers conducting interviews (see Special Procedural Guarantees).

In 2023, the HHC colleague reported that a Constitutional Protection Office representative was present at asylum interviews, without prior announcement. The officer did not ask about the flight story but was asking questions regarding the activities in the country of origin and the travel and entry to Hungary. His role was to assess the security. The officer was not always of the same gender as the applicant. In 2024 this practice ceased.

In January 2026 the NDGAP changed its practice regarding the asylum interviews, and they introduced many additional questions. On average, the interview now lasts 5h (including 20 minutes of mandatory break). Half of this time is spent on questions that are, in HHC's opinion, completely unnecessary. For example, in one of the interviews there were over 10 questions about all previous workplaces, over 20 questions about family members, etc., and only after around 2h the applicant was asked why they were asking for asylum. The HHC colleague also noticed that certain questions were not asked, but the case

¹⁶² Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁶³ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁶⁴ Information provided by NDGAP, 3 February 2020.

¹⁶⁵ Information provided by NDGAP on 2 March 2021, 7 February 2022, 19 February 2024 and 9 March 2026.

¹⁶⁶ Section 66(2) Asylum Decree.

¹⁶⁷ Section 66(3) Asylum Decree.

¹⁶⁸ Section 66(3a) Asylum Decree.

officer would nevertheless write an answer down, which was then not read to the applicant. And also the opposite, the case officer did not write down everything that the applicant said at the interview. The conditions of the interview room were also problematic, as the room does not have any windows and the air gets very stuffy.

The law states that everyone who has the capacity to exercise their rights individually must be interviewed separately. However, family members can be present at each other's interviews if it is essential to clarify the facts. If a child is being interviewed, their parent/legal guardian must be present. Accompanied children are generally not heard in the procedure but can be interviewed if this is considered essential to ascertain relevant facts of the case (children older than 14 years old).

1.3.1 Interpretation

Section 36 of the Asylum Act and Section 66 of the Asylum Decree set out rules relating to the right to use one's native language in the procedure and on gender-sensitive interviewing techniques. A person seeking asylum may use their mother tongue or the language they understand orally and in writing during their asylum procedure. If the asylum application is submitted orally and the asylum seeker does not speak Hungarian, the determining authority must provide an interpreter speaking the applicant's mother tongue or another language understood by that person. There may be no need for using an interpreter if the asylum officer speaks the mother tongue of that person or another language understood by them, and the asylum seeker consents in writing to not having an interpreter.

Where the applicant requests so, a same-sex interpreter and interviewer must be provided, where this is considered not to hinder the completion of the asylum procedure.¹⁶⁹ For asylum seekers who are facing gender-based persecution and make such a request, this designation is compulsory.¹⁷⁰

The costs of translation, including translations into sign language, are borne by the NDGAP.

There is no specific code of conduct for interpreters in the context of asylum procedures. Many interpreters are not professionally trained on asylum issues. There is no quality assessment performed on their work, nor are there any requirements to become an interpreter for the NDGAP. The NDGAP is obliged to select the cheapest interpreter from the list, even though their quality would not be the best.¹⁷¹

Moreover, case officers are sometimes reluctant to phrase the questions or any information in a non-legalistic way to enable the applicant to understand what the case officer is talking about.¹⁷² Furthermore, the formalistic language, makes the task more difficult for interpreters. Additionally, interpreters also sometimes overstep their limits, for example by making comments such as that the asylum seeker comes from different part of a country, because the pronunciation is not used in the area they claim to be from.¹⁷³

Amendments which entered into force on 1 January 2018 introduced a new procedural safeguard regarding the selection of interpreters. The NDGAP is required to consider the possible differences/contrast in terms of the country of origin and the cultural background of the interpreter and that of the applicant, as indicated by the applicant to the authority.¹⁷⁴

In 2022, the HHC lawyers did not report any problems with the interpretation through videoconference. However, it was reported that sometimes the interpreter does not stay in the neutral position and does not translate in an objective manner. In 2024, the HHC lawyers did not report any interpretation issues

¹⁶⁹ Section 66(2) Asylum Decree.

¹⁷⁰ Section 66(3) Asylum Decree.

¹⁷¹ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁷² In the context of its reply to this report in 2025, the Ministry of Interior denied this practice. However, the HHC has witnessed such practice upon some occasions.

¹⁷³ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁷⁴ Section 66(2a) Asylum Decree.

through videoconferences. In 2025, the HHC lawyers reported that there were issues with hearing, when the persons involved had some hearing problems.

The quality of the interpreters proved to be a challenge in cases where an applicant only spoke one dialect of certain language (e.g., Sorani dialect of Kurdish language). Arabic interpretation can be problematic, when the interpreter and applicant speak a different dialect. Certain asylum seekers would also prefer to have a translator who comes from the same country as them, but this was not always possible (e.g. an Afghan translator would translate for Iranians). It was also difficult to find an interpreter for Eritrean applicants, and it happened that on certain occasions an applicant speaking English would translate to the others. Once a Russian woman claimed the translator did not understand her well enough. At the end of the hearing, she accepted the interview minutes as they were, because she understands Hungarian reasonably well, so at the end the interview was read to her in Hungarian. In another case, there was an understanding problem between a Sudanese woman and the translator in Pidgin English. This did not jeopardise the quality of the hearing, but slowed it down significantly.¹⁷⁵ In 2023, the HHC colleague reported that Iranian asylum-seekers claimed that the Afghan translator translating from Farsi mistranslated at many instances. NDGAP was asked to provide another translator in the repeated procedure, and they complied. In 2024, the HHC lawyer reported that the interpreter the NDGAP uses for English speaks too high-level English, which is not understood by the applicants from English-speaking African countries or by those whose mother tongue is not English. Despite complaints, the NDGAP still uses the same interpreter, also in 2025.

In 2025, the HHC reported occasional poor Hungarian and Spanish language skills of interpreters. For example, in a case of an asylum seeker from Cuba, the NDGAP found him not credible, but the contradictions turned out to be due to the mistranslation of a Spanish translator, who did not speak Cuban Spanish. The HHC attorney submitted a corrected translation at the appeal and the court considered the applicant credible. The requests to change the interpreter was sometimes accepted, sometimes not. Some interpreters ask questions themselves, instead of just translating the questions. The inappropriate, insulting comments from certain interpreter were also reported (e.g. “you are lying” or “your God should be cursed”).

1.3.2 Videoconferencing

Despite the closure of the transit zones, asylum interviews are still occasionally held through videoconferencing, as some of the case officers remain stationed in transit zones. The asylum seeker and their lawyer as well as translator are present at the Immigration office in Budapest, but the interview is done via videoconferencing, because the case officer is in the transit zone.

The applicant’s approval over the use of videoconferencing is not required. In general, the connection is reported as of poor quality, as it is often not working, and everyone has to wait. Sometimes it is hard to understand what the person on the other side is saying, so both parties have to shout. Conducting an interview through a videoconference does not sufficiently protect the personal data and the flight story of an asylum seeker from those who are not entitled to hear it; for this reason, this practice raises confidentiality issues, as it is possible to hear the interviews of other applicants at the same time. The videoconference hearing is also very impersonal; it does not help the applicants and beneficiaries to talk about their past and traumas. It also appears unnecessary to use videoconference to communicate a decision, if the case officer is not present at the place of the applicant when it would be easier if the case officer would fax or email the decision to the NDGAP officer present at the place of the applicant and they would then read it out to the applicant.¹⁷⁶ No videoconferences issues occurred in 2024, involving HHC’s lawyers. In 2025, the HHC lawyers reported occasional poor quality of the videoconference. Another problematic issue is that when the interview is conducted online, the legal representative can only be present at the location of the applicant or at the location of the case officer. If they are not in Budapest, then the legal representative also has to travel, it is not possible to join the online hearing from the NDGAP office in Budapest, or from the legal representative's office. The HHC also reported that in one case, the applicant was placed in a room at a regional NDGAP office where the local NDGAP staff continuously passed through the room throughout the interview.

¹⁷⁵ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁷⁶ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

According to the HHC's experience, the signing of the interview minutes after video-conference interviews is always difficult as the NDGAP case-officer/translator/legal representative signs the minutes and then they are scanned and sent to the other parties, who then should also sign them and send the scanned copies. The original copies are sent by post, so by the time the parties can get an original copy it takes weeks. In one case, the interview minutes were not signed by the minor applicant following a video interview at the Belgrade embassy, although the case-officer asked the consulate officer to make the minor sign it, so at least the scanned copies would have been provided to the parties. The consular officer, however, did not do so and only contacted the legal representative weeks later, asking the legal representative to help in getting the minor applicant's signature on the minutes. This posed a logistical difficulty as the UaSC was not accommodated in Belgrade, so he needed the help of his Serbian representative to get to the Embassy or sign the minutes otherwise.¹⁷⁷

HHC represented an asylum seeker who was deported prior to the court decision in the appeal against the negative asylum decision. The court quashed the negative decision and ordered to bring the applicant back, to take part in a new asylum procedure. NDGAP was insisting on conducting the interview through the Hungarian Embassy in the applicant's country of origin. The applicant was hiding and did not wish to travel to the capital in order to attend the hearing at the Embassy, but the NDGAP refused to conduct the hearing from the applicant's home.

1.3.3 Recording and transcript

Interviews are not recorded by audio-video equipment.

The questions and statements are transcribed verbatim by the asylum officers conducting the interview. The interview transcript is orally translated by the interpreter to the asylum seeker who will have an opportunity to correct it before its finalisation and signature by all present persons.

Based on the adopted amendments to the Asylum Act,¹⁷⁸ as of July 2020 the asylum authority may seize the electronic device of the applicant if:

- a) the facts of the case cannot not be ascertained without the seizure;
- b) or if without it, the establishment of the facts would result in a significant delay;
- c) or if without the seizure the success of the procedure would be at stake.

In the view of HHC, the new regulation violates the asylum seekers' right to private and family life (right to correspondence), as it gives the NDGAP unlimited access to all the personal data stored on the device. Furthermore, it is also in breach of the right to an effective remedy, since the decision on the seizure can only be subject to judicial review together with the petition submitted against the decision on the application. This legislation is not necessary as asylum seekers already have an obligation to cooperate with the asylum authority and to reveal the circumstances of their flight and provide all the necessary information to ascertain their identity. Moreover, they are obliged to hand over all documents in their possession to the case officer. All these obligations, therefore, should be enough to ascertain the facts of the case.¹⁷⁹ The provision is also in breach of Article 4(5) Qualification Directive which does not require the provision of further evidence in case the asylum seeker lacks documents or other evidence substantiating their citizenship, identity and the reasons of fleeing. Finally, the provision is not in line with the legal observations of the UNHCR issued on the Seizure and Search of Electronic Devices of Asylum-Seekers either, by not providing any room for requesting the consent of the applicant prior to the ¹⁷⁷ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁷⁸ Section 32/Z Asylum Act.

¹⁷⁹ Section 5(3)-(4) Asylum Act.

implementation of the measure.¹⁸⁰ HHC is not aware of an application of the provision as of February 2026.

1.4 Appeal

Indicators: Regular Procedure: Appeal

1. Does the law provide for an appeal against the first instance decision in the regular procedure

❖ If yes, is it	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> No
❖ If yes, is it suspensive	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Judicial	<input type="checkbox"/> Administrative
	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Some grounds <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No
2. Average processing time for the appeal body to make a decision: No official data available

A decision must be communicated orally to the person seeking asylum in their mother tongue or in another language they understand. Together with this oral communication, the decision shall also be made available to the applicant in writing, but only in Hungarian. Since 2019, including in 2025, HHC's lawyers reported that usually the decision is translated to the applicant by an interpreter. Whether the justification is translated depends on the case officer, but it was translated in most of the cases and always if the lawyer is present. Detailed description of the justification was quite rare, although it did happen a few times.

Decisions taken by the NDGAP may be challenged in a single instance judicial review procedure; there is no onward appeal. The Public Administrative and Labour Law Courts, organised at the level of regional courts (at the judicial second-instance level), have jurisdiction over asylum cases, which are dealt with by single judges. Judges are typically not asylum specialists, nor are they specifically trained in asylum law.¹⁸¹

Competent court

Since April 2020, the administrative branches of the regional courts have jurisdiction.¹⁸²

Time limits

The deadline for lodging a request for judicial review is only 8 days.¹⁸³ The drastic decrease of the time limit to challenge the NDGAP's (and before the IAO's) decision from 15 days to 8, in force since 1 July 2013, has been sharply criticised by UNHCR and NGOs such as HHC, which have argued that this will jeopardise asylum seekers' access to an effective remedy.¹⁸⁴ For example, the short deadline proves to be problematic when a person receives subsidiary protection and is not sufficiently informed about the opportunity to appeal this and about the benefits refugee status would bring them (e.g. possibility of family reunification under beneficial conditions). Within 8 days, it is sometimes impossible to meet a lawyer and the person might miss the deadline for the appeal.¹⁸⁵ The Ministry of Interior in its comments to this report challenged this statement as subjective, affirming that "When notifying a client of a decision, the authority always informs the client of the possibility to appeal, as evidenced by the fact that in most cases the client verbally indicates (not using legal terms) that (s)he does not accept the decision, and this statement is considered as an "action" by the authority and is acted upon accordingly." However, in the experience of HHC, this affirmation by the authorities does not hold in practice, as the HHC has witnessed cases where the court dismisses a judicial review request expressed in such a manner due to lack of respect for the necessary formalities, which is something an applicant without legal assistance cannot know about.

¹⁸⁰ See UN High Commissioner for Refugees (UNHCR), UNHCR Preliminary Legal Observations on the Seizure and Search of Electronic Devices of Asylum-Seekers, 4 August 2017, available here.

¹⁸¹ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁸² Section 12 Code of Administrative Court Procedure.

¹⁸³ Section 68 Asylum Act.

¹⁸⁴ UNHCR, UNHCR Comments and Recommendations on the Draft modification of certain migration-related legislative acts for the purpose of legal harmonisation, 12 April 2013, available here, 14.

¹⁸⁵ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

In 2023, the NDGAP conducted the repeated procedure of one UaSC. This procedure lasted 6-7 months. In 2024, the NDGAP conducted only one asylum procedure in the case of an unaccompanied boy, who in the meantime turned 18. The asylum interview was held in June 2024, and he received a rejection decision only in May 2025. In 2025, the NDGAP assessed 3 asylum applications from UaSCs.¹⁸⁶ In the case of an unaccompanied girl, the NDGAP held an asylum interview in December 2024, and the decision was delivered in October 2025. In the meantime, the girl turned 18.¹⁸⁷

The request for judicial review does not have automatic suspensive effect. The Asylum Act does not specifically state that appeals do not have a suspensive effect, but the amendments in 2015 removed the relevant provision, with the motivation that the Asylum Procedures Directive and the right to an effective remedy do not require an automatic suspensive effect, which should instead be requested by the interested party. What is more, the new GRTCN Act removed a recourse to a suspensive effect in administrative actions against a final decision on ordering expulsion.¹⁸⁸ In practice, the attorneys report different approaches. Some do not request the suspensive effect, while others do. However, the lack of suspensive effect in regular asylum procedures was never an issue in practice. The HHC is not aware of any case under the regular procedure where an alien policing procedure was started before the appeal was decided on. On 17 December 2020 the CJEU issued a judgement in the infringement case C-808/18 and ruled that Hungary has not respected the right, conferred by the Asylum Procedures Directive upon any applicant for international protection to remain in the territory of the Member State concerned after the rejection of their application, until the time limit within which to bring an appeal against that rejection or, if an appeal has been brought, until a decision has been taken on it.¹⁸⁹ Despite the judgement, there was no change in legislation, instead the removal of possibility to request a suspensive effect in appeals against expulsion decisions was enacted.

Section 68(3) of the Asylum Act provides that the court should take a decision on the request for judicial review within 60 days. However, in practice the appeal procedure takes more time, around 3 months or even more, depending on the number of hearings the court holds in a case. A preliminary reference to the CJEU was asked as to whether the above deadline for the judges to decide is compatible with the requirements of an effective remedy. On 5 December 2019, the Advocate General in his opinion concluded that judges must disapply the applicable time limit if they consider that the judicial review cannot be carried out effectively.¹⁹⁰ The CJEU confirmed this position in a judgement on 19 March 2020.¹⁹¹

Hearing

The hearing is only mandatory if the person is in detention. And even this is subject to some exceptions, where:¹⁹²

- (a) The applicant cannot be summoned from their place of accommodation;
- (b) The applicant has departed for an unknown destination; or
- (c) The appeal concerns a subsequent application presenting no new facts.

The HHC colleagues reported that in 2023 and in 2024, the courts almost never granted a personal hearing of an applicant. In 2025, the HHC is aware of some personal hearings of the applicants.

Interpreters are provided and paid by the court. For rare languages (e.g., Oromo) there is usually one or two interpreters nationwide and if they travel home, the client has to wait months for an interview.¹⁹³

¹⁸⁶ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

¹⁸⁷ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

¹⁸⁸ Section 101(2a) GRTCN Act.

¹⁸⁹ CJEU, Judgment of the Court (Grand Chamber) of 17 December 2020, European Commission v Hungary, C-808/18, 17 December 2020, available here.

¹⁹⁰ Opinion of advocate general Bobek (CJEU), Case C-406/18, PG v. Bevárdorlási és Menekültügyi Hivatal, 5 December 2019, available here.

¹⁹¹ CJEU, 19 March 2020, PG v. Bevárdorlási és Menekültügyi Hivatal, C-406/18, available here.

¹⁹² Section 68(3) Asylum Act.

¹⁹³ Practice-informed experience of the HHC.

Hearings in asylum procedures are public. Individual court decisions in asylum cases are published on the Hungarian Court portal.¹⁹⁴ However, personal data - including nationality - of the appellant are deleted from published decisions.

The court carries out an assessment of both points of fact and law as they exist at the date in which the court's decision is taken (ex nunc examination). The HHC has experienced a problematic application of the ex nunc review in one of the cases, where the court actually relied on legal arguments in the judgement that were not invoked by either party to the procedure and were not addressed at the hearing.¹⁹⁵ The court may not alter the decision of the NDGAP; it shall annul any administrative decision found to be against the law – with the exception of the breach of a procedural rule not affecting the merits of the case – and it shall order the NDGAP to conduct a new procedure if necessary.¹⁹⁶ On 29 July 2019, the CJEU delivered its ruling on the question of the compatibility of such a remedy with the right to an effective remedy under Article 47 of the EU Charter (Torubarov judgement).¹⁹⁷ The CJEU clearly stated that courts must substitute their own decision on the merits of an asylum claim where the administrative body had disregarded their earlier decision on the case. This is a landmark decision for asylum seekers in Hungary, who had been locked in a ping-pong game between the asylum authority and the courts. Following the Torubarov judgement, the asylum seeker was granted refugee status by the Hungarian court.¹⁹⁸ Nonetheless, the Torubarov judgement has not been uniformly implemented by the courts. The HHC is aware of a recent case in which the court should have granted international protection based on the principles laid down by the CJEU. Nevertheless, it simply annulled the decision and referred the case back to the NDGAP, without referring to the Torubarov judgement at all.¹⁹⁹ Therefore, it seems unpredictable, and highly dependent on the presiding judge, whether the conclusions of the CJEU in the Torubarov judgement will be observed.²⁰⁰ HHC attorneys reported two positive implementations of the Torubarov judgement. In one case, the court granted refugee status to an Afghan woman and her child and in another case, the NDGAP followed the instructions from the court and granted refugee status to a Russian asylum seeker.

Statistical information

The courts issued a total of 27 decisions in asylum cases in 2024. In 7 cases, the courts rejected the appeal of the asylum seekers while in 17 cases the courts annulled the decisions of NDGAP and ordered a new procedure.²⁰¹ The court issued a total of 31 decisions in asylum cases in 2025. In 5 cases, the courts rejected the appeal of the asylum seekers, while in 24 cases the courts annulled the decisions of the NDGAP and ordered a new procedure. In one case the court only quashed the decision of the NDGAP.²⁰²

¹⁹⁴ Asylum cases published on the Hungarian court portal are available in Hungarian here.

¹⁹⁵ 14.K.703.145/2025/8., 17.11.2025.

¹⁹⁶ Section 68(5) Asylum Act.

¹⁹⁷ CJEU, Case C-556/17, Alekszij Torubarov v Bevándorlási és Menekültügyi Hivatal, 29 July 2019, available here.

¹⁹⁸ HHC, The man who defeated the Hungarian asylum system. Refugee status granted to Russian asylum-seekers after six years, 30 September 2019, available here.

¹⁹⁹ 11.K.700.169/2022/12, 26 April 2022. More details on the procedure can be found here.

²⁰⁰ HHC, Implementing judgments in the field of asylum and migration on odd days, 17 October 2022, here.

²⁰¹ Information received from the National Office for Judiciary on 3 February 2025.

²⁰² Information received from the National Office for Judiciary on 20 January 2026.

1.5 Legal assistance

Indicators: Regular Procedure: Legal Assistance

1. Do asylum seekers have access to free legal assistance at first instance in practice?
 Yes With difficulty No
❖ Does free legal assistance cover:²⁰³
 Representation in interview
 Legal advice
2. Do asylum seekers have access to free legal assistance on appeal against a negative decision in practice?
 Yes With difficulty No
❖ Does free legal assistance cover
 Representation in courts
 Legal advice

Under Section 37(3) of the Asylum Act, asylum seekers in need have access to free legal aid according to the rules set out in the Act on Legal Aid Act or by an NGO registered in legal protection. The needs criterion is automatically met, given that asylum seekers are considered in need irrespective of their income or financial situation, merely based on their statement regarding their income and financial situation.²⁰⁴

The Legal Aid Act sets out the rules for free of charge, state-funded legal assistance provided to asylum seekers. Sections 4(b) and 5(2)(d) provide that asylum applicants are entitled to free legal aid if they are entitled to receive benefits and support under the Asylum Act. Section 3(1)(e) provides that legal aid shall be available to those who are eligible for it, as long as the person is involved in a public administrative procedure and needs legal advice in order to understand and exercise their rights and obligations or requires assistance with the drafting of legal documents or any submissions.

Section 13(b) of the Legal Aid Act also provides that asylum seekers may have free legal aid in the judicial review procedure contesting a negative asylum decision. Chapter V of the Legal Aid Act sets out rules on the availability of legal aid in the context of the provision of legal advice and assistance with drafting of legal documents for persons who are eligible for legal aid.

Section 37(4) of the Asylum Act provides that legal aid providers may attend the personal interview of the asylum seeker, have access to the documents produced during the procedure and have access to reception and detention facilities to contact their client. Furthermore, a modification to the Asylum Act emphasises the right of the legal representative to be present at the personal interview even if the interview is conducted through a closed telecommunication network (i.e., either the translator or the case officer is not present at the same place as the asylum seeker).²⁰⁵

State legal aid may be provided by legal aid providers registered within the so-called 'Legal Aid Service system'.²⁰⁶ Legal aid providers may be attorneys, NGOs or law schools who have registered with the Legal Aid Service of the Judicial Affairs Office of the Ministry of Justice.²⁰⁷ Since 2019, following a series of Court rulings,²⁰⁸ lawyers who are not yet members of the Bar Association can again represent asylum seekers in their administrative proceedings. Legal aid providers may indicate in the register the general fields of law in which they undertake cases. According to data provided by the Ministry of Justice, as of 31 December 2025, the legal aid register included 205 contracted legal aid providers, of whom only 19 indicated immigration or asylum law as their field of activity.

Applications for state legal aid are examined by the capital and county government offices. The application must be submitted to the competent government office for the applicant's place of residence, place of stay ²⁰³ This refers both to state-funded and NGO-funded legal assistance.

²⁰⁴ Section 5(2)(d) Legal Aid Act.

²⁰⁵ 43(5) Asylum Act, adopted by the Act CXXXIII of 2018 and in effect since 1 January 2019.

²⁰⁶ See here.

²⁰⁷ Chapter VIII Legal Aid Act.

²⁰⁸ 33.K.32.469/2018/5. judgment dated 30 August 2018; 45.K.30.841/2018/8. judgment, dated 14 September 2018; 45.K.30.838/2018/9. Judgement dated 14 September 2018; 45.K.30.845/2018/9. Judgement dated 14 September 2018.

or place of work, either in person during office hours or by post. The government office first assesses eligibility and, once a decision granting legal aid has been issued, the applicant may choose a legal aid provider from the official register. However, the official register and the related information materials are available only in Hungarian and legal aid providers are not under an obligation to accept a case.

Specific rules apply in cases where a third-country national seeks judicial review of a final expulsion decision. This is relevant in case of asylum seekers, who were not expelled before and therefore the expulsion decision is issued together with the negative asylum decision. In case a person expelled pursuant to Section 98(1) or (3) of GRTCN Act requests legal aid, the decision on granting legal aid simultaneously appoints a legal aid provider and, where necessary, an interpreter.²⁰⁹ The Legal Aid Service shall immediately notify the appointed legal aid provider and, where necessary, the interpreter of the appointment.²¹⁰ Following the appointment, the legal aid provider shall, in consultation with the interpreter where necessary, contact the person concerned in person without delay, but no later than within five days, in order to prepare the application for judicial review.²¹¹ After establishing personal contact, the legal aid provider shall submit the application to the competent court without delay, but no later than on the next working day.²¹²

The hourly fee payable to legal aid providers in 2026 is HUF 7,000 (approx. EUR 18). In addition, legal aid providers are entitled to a flat-rate reimbursement of expenses corresponding to 25% of the total hourly fee, and value added tax may also be charged where applicable. The available hours are set individually in the decision granting legal aid. In non-litigation legal aid cases the remuneration of the legal aid provider consists of a fee – calculated as the hourly rate multiplied by the number of hours spent providing the legal service – and a flat-rate reimbursement of expenses corresponding to 25% of that fee.²¹³ By contrast, in litigation legal aid cases, the legal aid lawyers are also entitled to the reimbursement of travel expenses.²¹⁴ Interpretation in the context of legal aid is regulated only in expulsion procedures (see above). Therefore, in the context of legal aid in asylum procedures, the legal aid providers have to arrange interpretation by themselves.

In 2023, state legal aid was requested by 1 person.²¹⁵ In 2024, state legal aid was requested by 2 persons.²¹⁶ In 2025, 3 persons submitted 5 applications for state legal aid.²¹⁷

State-funded legal aid in asylum ²¹⁸ procedures in 2025
	Extrajudicial procedures	Court procedures
Jász-Nagykun-Szolnok		1
Baranya		1
Veszprem	3

For all counties not listed, there was no state legal aid requested in 2025.

Source: Ministry of Justice, 27 February 2026.

²⁰⁹ Section 41(2) Legal Aid Act.

²¹⁰ Section 47(A)(1) Legal Aid Act.

²¹¹ Section 47(B)(1) Legal Aid Act.

²¹² Section 47(C) Legal Aid Act.

²¹³ Section 1(2) and Section 3 of the Decree No. 11/2004 (III. 30.) of the Minister of Justice on the remuneration of legal aid providers.

²¹⁴ Section 2 of a Decree No. 32/2017 (XII. 27.) of the Minister of Justice.

²¹⁵ Information provided by the Ministry of Justice, 5 February 2024.

²¹⁶ Information provided by the Ministry of Justice, 11 February 2025.

²¹⁷ Information provided by the Ministry of Justice, 27 February 2026.

²¹⁸ Note that the Ministry of Justice does not collect separate data for asylum procedures, temporary protection procedures and for expulsion procedures, therefore it is not possible to tell in which of these procedures the legal aid was requested.

In 2023, 1 request was granted and none rejected. In 2024 both requests were granted, and legal aid was provided by 2 legal aid providers.²¹⁹ According to the Ministry of Justice, all legal aid requests detailed in the table above were approved. However, the HHC is aware of a case of a rejected asylum seeker for whom legal aid was rejected. When the Ministry of Justice was asked about this case, they answered that the case was registered as a “civil law” case by the government office and therefore was not part of the basis for the data query from the system. The above data is therefore not reliable, as similar mistakes could have happened in other cases as well.

Access to state legal aid is ineffective in practice, especially for people held in a detention centre, where no specific assistance is available for this purpose. Detainees have difficulties in filling out the form, which they have to send by post at their own expense. The procedure is not adapted to short deadlines in the asylum procedure. The application for state legal aid does not suspend the deadline for the appeal. Further on, even if legal aid is granted, the applicant only receives a registry of the available attorneys and has to contact them on their own, also at their own expense (except if the applicant is challenging a final expulsion). As the legal providers are not obliged to accept a case, the access to an actual legal aid provider can be hindered in practice. The HHC is aware of a case where a detained person tried to reach out to many attorneys from the register, without actual success. The low financial compensation for legal assistance providers might be one of the obstacles for lawyers and other legal assistance providers to engage effectively in the provision of legal assistance to asylum seekers. The lack of foreign language skills and remote locations of detention and reception centres are also an obstacle. According to the registry, in the Szabolcs-Szatmár-Bereg county (where Nyírbator asylum detention centre is located), there are only 2 attorneys that have listed migration as their specialisation, and only one of them listed English as a spoken language.

HHC attorneys or any other non-government affiliated attorneys do not have access to the open reception centres or detention centres. HHC attorneys can only represent the clients if the asylum seekers explicitly communicate the wish to be represented by the HHC attorney to the NDGAP and sign a special form. Once this form is received by the NDGAP, the HHC attorney can meet the client – accompanied by police officers – in a special room inside the reception centre or detention. Because of this, access to legal aid is seriously obstructed, as free legal advice does not reach everyone, but only those explicitly asking for it.

While legal aid exists in law, it is often inaccessible in practice, and asylum seekers largely rely on NGO-provided legal assistance instead. The HHC is the only NGO that provides free legal assistance and representation in asylum procedures, but not through state funded legal aid, but based on the organisation’s own fundraising. The resources are limited; therefore the provision of legal aid has to be very selective. In 2023, the HHC provided legal counselling in 338 cases. In 2024, the HHC provided legal counselling in 316 cases. In 2025, the HHC provided legal assistance in 320 cases.

2. Dublin

It should be noted that the following information does not give rise to much practice, as with the embassy procedure there are extremely few asylum seekers and thus even less Dublin transfer decisions. Since 2021, HHC has not represented any asylum seekers in Dublin transfer decisions appeal cases.

2.1 General

Dublin statistics: 1 January – 31 December 2025

Outgoing procedure			Incoming procedure
Requests	Accepted	Transfers	Requests	Accepted	Transfers

²¹⁹ Information provided by the Ministry of Justice, 21 May 2021 and 5 April 2022 and 10 February 2023, 5 February 2024 and 11 February 2025.

Total	233		72	Total	908		33
Germany	50		27		416		2
Croatia	93		22		3		0
Austria	16		6		64		11
Bulgaria	9		7		0		0
Netherlands	7		4		2		0
France	10		3		162		5
Portugal	1		1		0		0
Sweden	1		1		72		0
Chechia	1		1		10		1
Norway	0		0		2		3
Poland	0		0		15		3
Iceland	0		0		8		6
Greece	24		0		10		2
Belgium	1		0		44		0
Irland	1		0		4		0
Lithuania	0		0		2		0
Italy	13		0		61		0
Switzerland	1		0		24		0
Slovenia	1		0		3		0
Spain	1		0		3		0
Slovakia	0		0		1		0
Malta	1		0		1		0
Latvia	0		0		1		0
Romania	1		0		0		0
Finland	1		0		0		0

Source: NDGAP. Requests refers to both sent and accepted requests. Transfers refers to the number of transfers actually implemented, not to the number of transfer decisions.

Outgoing Dublin requests by criterion: 2025
Dublin III Regulation criterion	Requests sent	Requests accepted
“Take charge”: Articles 8-17:
Article 8 (minors)	1
Article 9 (family members granted protection)	1
Article 10 (family members pending determination)	0
Article 11 (family procedure)	1
Article 12 (visas and residence permits)	1
Article 13 (entry and/or remain)	0
Article 14 (visa free entry)	0
“Take charge”: Article 16	0
“Take charge” humanitarian clause: Article 17(2)	0

“Take back”: Article 18 and Article 20(5)
Article 18 (1) (a)	2
Article 18 (1) (b)	102
Article 18 (1) (c)	2
Article 18 (1) (d)	32
Article 20(5)	91

Source: NDGAP, 20 February 2025.

Incoming Dublin requests by criterion: year 2025
Dublin III Regulation criterion	Requests received	Requests accepted
“Take charge”: Articles 8-17		N/A
Article 8 (minors)	0
Article 9 (family members granted protection)	0
Article 10 (family members pending determination)	0
Article 11 (family procedure)	9
Article 12 (visas and residence permits)	720
Article 13 (entry and/or remain)	31
Article 14 (visa free entry)	3
“Take charge”: Article 16	0
“Take charge” humanitarian clause: Article 17(2)	0
“Take back”: Articles 18 and 20(5)
Article 18 (1) (a)	1
Article 18 (1) (b)	141
Article 18 (1) (c)	0
Article 18 (1) (d)	3
Article 20(5)	0

Source: NDGAP, 20 February 2025.

2.1.1 Application of the Dublin criteria

In 2024, as in previous years most outgoing requests were issued based on a previous application in another Member State. In 2023 most requests were addressed to Germany. In 2024, most requests were addressed to Croatia. In 2025, most requests were addressed to Croatia as well.

If an asylum seeker informs the NDGAP that they have a family member in another Member State, the NDGAP requests the personal data of the family member. Depending on the case officer, documents may also be requested, but this is not a general practice. HHC lawyers have experienced a general sense of goodwill and cooperative spirit from the NDGAP’s Dublin Unit in cases where asylum seekers were requesting to be united with their family members.

The Dublin Unit accepts documents (birth certificates, national ID) without translation and transfers them to the requested Member State’s authorities in a speedy manner. Communication between Dublin caseworkers and HHC lawyers was good and constructive, both sides working to realise transfers swiftly.

Despite the positive attitude of the Hungarian Dublin Unit, it is still evident that Dublin transfers could hardly take place without the active involvement of competent lawyers.

In 2022 one UAM was transferred to Switzerland.

The HHC is aware of a case in 2021, where an asylum applicant from Belarus held in extradition detention was not released by the criminal judge, despite Poland accepting responsibility for his asylum application. His extradition detention lasted more than 7 months. He was finally released, as the judge ruled that extradition to Belarus was not possible.

2.1.2 The dependent persons and discretionary clauses

In 2023, Article 17(1) was never applied.²²⁰ In 2024, Article 17(1) was applied six times.²²¹ In 2025, Article 17(1) was never applied.²²²

In 2023 and 2024 no case was recorded where Hungary established the responsibility of other Member States under the 'humanitarian clause'.²²³ There were no requests under humanitarian clause sent to Hungary by other Member States in 2023.²²⁴ In 2024, one such request was received.²²⁵ In 2025, no such request was received.²²⁶

The NDGAP's practice does not have any formal criteria defining the application of the sovereignty clause. The sovereignty clause is not applied in a country-specific manner; cases are examined on a case-by-case basis.

2.2 Procedure

Indicators: Dublin: Procedure

1. Is the Dublin procedure applied by the authority responsible for examining asylum applications?
 Yes No
2. On average, how long does a transfer take after the responsible Member State has accepted responsibility?
41 days²²⁷

The Dublin Unit had 5 NDGAP staff members on 31 December 2023.²²⁸ For 2024, NDGAP did not provide an answer. The International Cooperation Unit of the NDGAP (previously a Dublin unit) had 12 NDGAP staff members on 31 December 2025.²²⁹

Where an asylum seeker refuses to have their fingerprints taken, this can be a ground for an accelerated procedure,²³⁰ or the NDGAP may proceed with taking a decision on the merits of the application without conducting a personal interview.²³¹

If a Dublin procedure is initiated, the asylum procedure is suspended until the issuance of a decision determining the country responsible for examining the asylum claim.²³² The suspension ruling cannot be subject to individual appeal.²³³ Even though a Dublin procedure can also be started after the case has been referred to the in-merit asylum procedure, Dublin procedures can no longer be initiated once the NDGAP has taken a decision on the merits of the asylum application. Finally, the apprehension of an irregular migrant can also trigger the application of the Dublin III Regulation.

²²⁰ Information provided by the NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

²²¹ Information provided by the NDGAP on 20 February 2025.

²²² Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²²³ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2024 and 20 February 2025.

²²⁴ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

²²⁵ Information provided by the NDGAP on 20 February 2025.

²²⁶ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²²⁷ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²²⁸ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

²²⁹ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²³⁰ Section 51(7)(i) Asylum Act.

²³¹ Section 66(2)(f) Asylum Act.

²³² Section 49(2) Asylum Act.

²³³ Section 49(3) Asylum Act.

2.2.1 Individualised guarantees

The former IAO and the NDGAP report that they note the existence of vulnerability factors already in the request sent to the other EU Member State and, if necessary, ask for individual guarantees. Nonetheless, the former IAO and NDGAP do not have any statistics on the number of requests of individual guarantees. The request of individual guarantees concerns the treatment and accommodation – especially the possibility of detention – of the transferred person. The inquiry furthermore includes questions about access to the asylum procedure, legal aid, medical and psychological services and about the appropriateness of material reception conditions.²³⁴

According to the HHC's experience with Dublin cases concerning Bulgaria, the Dublin Unit has asked the Bulgarian Dublin Unit in several cases to provide information on the general reception conditions for Dublin returnees, but these questions did not include individual characteristics of the persons concerned, so no questions were asked regarding specific needs of specific individuals. All Dublin decisions then contained a standard generic reply from the Bulgarian Dublin Unit. This would therefore constitute general information rather than individual guarantees.²³⁵

In 2024 and in 2025, no decisions were issued regarding irregular entry criteria.²³⁶

2.2.2 Transfers

If another EU Member State accepts responsibility for the asylum applicant, the NDGAP has to issue a decision on the transfer within 8 days, and this time limit is complied with in practice.²³⁷ Once the NDGAP issues a Dublin decision, the asylum seeker can no longer withdraw their asylum application.²³⁸

The transfer procedure to the responsible Member State is organised by the Dublin Unit and the Expulsion and Transfer Unit of the NDGAP, in cooperation with the receiving Member State, but the actual transfer is performed by the police. In case of air transfer, the police assist with boarding the foreigner on the airplane, and – if the foreigner's behaviour or their personal circumstances such as age do not require it – the foreigner travels without escorts. UsSCs travel with their legal guardian who hands them over to the authorities of the receiving Member State. Otherwise, the person will be accompanied by Hungarian police escorts.

In case of land transfers, the staff of the police hands over the foreigner directly to the authorities of the other state.²³⁹ According to HHC's experience, voluntary transfers are rare. In 2023, the average time between the request and the execution of the transfer was 44 days. If another Member State has taken responsibility the average time-period between the acceptance of the responsibility and the execution of the transfer was 35 days. In 2024, the average time between the request and the execution of the transfer was 52 days. If another Member State has taken responsibility, the average time-period between the acceptance of the responsibility and the execution of the transfer was 43 days. The average time-period between the receipt of an incoming request and the execution of the transfer from another EU Member State to Hungary was 166 days in 2023 and 2024. The average time-period between the acceptance of the responsibility by Hungary and the execution of the incoming transfer was 138 days in 2023 and 153 days in 2024.²⁴⁰ In 2025, the average time between the request and the execution of the transfer was 49 days. If another Member State took responsibility, the average time-period between the acceptance of the responsibility and the execution of the transfer was 41 days. The average time-period between the receipt of an incoming request and the execution of the transfer from another EU Member State to ²³⁴ Practice-based observation of the HHC.

²³⁵ Practice-based observation of the HHC.

²³⁶ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²³⁷ Section 83(3) Asylum Decree.

²³⁸ Section 49(4) Asylum Act.

²³⁹ Practice-based observation of the HHC.

²⁴⁰ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2024 and 20 February 2025.

Hungary was 178 days. The average time-period between the acceptance of the responsibility by Hungary and the execution of the incoming transfer was 142 days.²⁴¹

In 2024, Hungary issued 169 outgoing requests and carried out 50 transfers. In the same year, Hungary received 821 incoming requests, out of which 20 transfers were executed, mainly from Norway, Austria and Germany. In 2025, Hungary issued 233 outgoing requests and carried out 72 transfers, mainly to Germany, Croatia and Bulgaria. In the same year, Hungary received 908 incoming requests, out of which 33 transfers were executed, mainly from Austria, Iceland and France.

In 2021, 23 persons were detained because of Dublin procedure (Section 31/A(1a) Asylum Act).²⁴² These persons were not asylum seekers in Hungary. Data for 2022 or 2023 was not provided. In 2024, 83 people were detained awaiting Dublin transfer.²⁴³ The HHC finds such a high number particularly worrying as it implies that the detention measure is imposed quasi automatically. In 2025 the number was even higher, with 104 people being detained while awaiting a Dublin transfer.

2.3 Personal interview

Indicators: Dublin: Personal Interview

Same as regular procedure

1. Is a personal interview of the asylum seeker in most cases conducted in practice in the Dublin procedure? Yes No
❖ If so, are interpreters available in practice, for interviews? Yes No
2. Are interviews conducted through video conferencing? Frequently Rarely Never

There is no special interview conducted in the Dublin procedure. The information necessary for the Dublin procedure is obtained in the first interview with the NDGAP, upon submission of asylum application, but usually only in relation to the way of travelling and family members.

As of 2018, the HHC observed that the interview questions (poorly elaborated in practice)²⁴⁴ did touch upon the conditions in the EU countries on the applicants' journey, such as:

1. 'For how long and where did you stay there?
2. What did you do meanwhile?
3. Why did you not apply for asylum?
4. Did you consider it as a safe country?
5. Why do you think it is not safe?
6. What would happen to you upon your return there?
7. Did you try to apply for accommodation in a reception centre? What kind of documents were you issued?'

2.4 Appeal

Indicators: Dublin: Appeal

Same as regular procedure

1. Does the law provide for an appeal against the decision in the Dublin procedure?
 Yes No
❖ If yes, is it Judicial Administrative
❖ If yes, is it suspensive Yes No

²⁴¹ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

²⁴² Information provided by NDGAP on 7 February 2022.

²⁴³ No data was provided by NDGAP in their response to FOI request, but the numbers can be found on their website.

²⁴⁴ Practice-based observation of the HHC, January 2024.

Asylum seekers have the right to request judicial review of a Dublin decision before the competent Regional Administrative and Labour Court within 3 days.²⁴⁵ The extremely short time limit of 3 days to challenge a Dublin transfer does not appear to reflect the 'reasonable' deadline for appeal under Article 27(2) of the Dublin III Regulation or the right to an effective remedy under Article 13 ECHR.²⁴⁶

The request for review shall be submitted to the NDGAP, which forwards the request for review, together with the documents of the case and its counter application, to the court without delay.²⁴⁷

The court can examine points of fact and law of the case, however only based on available documents. This has been interpreted by the courts as precluding them from accepting any new evidence that were not submitted to the NDGAP already. This kind of interpretation makes legal representation in such cases meaningless, since the court's assessment is based on the laws and facts as they were at the time of the NDGAP's decision and the court does not at all examine the country information on the quality of the asylum system and reception conditions for asylum seekers in responsible Member State submitted by the asylum seeker's representative in the judicial procedure. The court must render a decision within 8 calendar days.²⁴⁸ In practice, however, it can take a few months for the court to issue a decision.²⁴⁹

A personal hearing is specifically excluded by law; therefore, there is no oral procedure.²⁵⁰ In the case of Dublin proceedings initiated from an alien-policing procedure, the procedural rules are set out in the GRTCN Act, which does not preclude the holding of a personal hearing in appeal proceedings against a Dublin decision.²⁵¹

Appeals against Dublin decisions do not have automatic suspensive effect. Asylum seekers have the right to ask the court to suspend their transfer. Contrary to the Dublin III Regulation,²⁵² according to the GRTCN Act and Asylum Act this request does not have automatic suspensive effect either.²⁵³ However, the Director-General of the former IAO issued an internal instruction, stating that if a person requests for suspensive effect, the transfer should not be carried out until the court decides on the request for suspensive effect.²⁵⁴ However, it seems worrying that despite the clear violation of the Dublin III Regulation, the controversial provision was not amended in the scope of the several amendments of the Asylum Act.

The HHC's experience shows that the courts often do not assess the reception conditions in the receiving country, nor the individual circumstances of the applicant.

The above information is from the past, as in the last four years HHC did not represent any asylum seekers in Dublin transfer decisions appeal cases.

²⁴⁵ Section 49(6) Asylum Act.

²⁴⁶ UNHCR has also criticised the effectiveness of Dublin appeals, citing CJEU, Case C-69/10, Diouf, Judgment of 28 July 2011, paras 66-68. See UNHCR, UNHCR Comments and recommendations on the draft modification of certain migration, asylum-related and other legal acts for the purpose of legal harmonisation, January 2015, available here, 20.

²⁴⁷ Section 49(7) Asylum Act.

²⁴⁸ Section 49(8) Asylum Act.

²⁴⁹ Practice-based observation of the HHC, added following the authorities' comments to the report.

²⁵⁰ Section 49(8) Asylum Act.

²⁵¹ Section 119 (2) to (4) GRTCN Act.

²⁵² Article 27(3) Dublin III Regulation.

²⁵³ Section 49(9) Asylum Act; Section 119 (5) GRTCN Act. Contrary to the HHC's view, the authorities in their comments to the report consider this to be in line with the Dublin Regulation.

²⁵⁴ Information provided by the Dublin Unit based on the HHC's request, March 2014. See also EASO, Description of the Hungarian asylum system, May 2015, available here, 6.

2.5 Legal assistance

Indicators: Dublin: Legal Assistance

Same as regular procedure

1. Do asylum seekers have access to free legal assistance at first instance in practice?
 Yes With difficulty No
❖ Does free legal assistance cover:
 Representation in interview
 Legal advice
2. Do asylum seekers have access to free legal assistance on appeal against a Dublin decision in practice?
 Yes With difficulty No
❖ Does free legal assistance cover
 Representation in courts
 Legal advice

Asylum seekers have the same conditions and obstacles to accessing legal assistance in the Dublin procedure as in the regular procedure (see section on Regular Procedure: Legal Assistance). What is particularly problematic for asylum seekers in the Dublin procedure are the short deadlines (only 3 days to lodge an appeal) and the absence of a right to a hearing before the court (except if the Dublin procedure is initiated in the alien-policing procedure). In such a short time it proves difficult to access legal assistance, which is even more crucial since there is no right to a hearing.

Asylum seekers and their legal representatives do not receive any information on the procedural steps taken in the Dublin procedure, as they are only informed about the final decisions issued by the NDGAP. They therefore do not know when and if the request was sent to another Member State, whether the Member State responded, etc. This documentation must be proactively obtained by the lawyer, by requesting the documentation from the Dublin Unit.²⁵⁵

2.6 Suspension of transfers

Indicators: Dublin: Suspension of Transfers

1. Are Dublin transfers systematically suspended as a matter of policy or jurisprudence to one or more countries (2024)? Yes No
❖ If yes, to which country or countries? Greece but only for vulnerable applicants²⁵⁶

Greece

Until May 2016, because of the ECtHR's ruling in M.S.S. v. Belgium and Greece,²⁵⁷ transfers to Greece occurred only if a person consented to the transfer. However, in May 2016, the former IAO started to issue Dublin decisions on returns to Greece again.²⁵⁸ In some cases, HHC lawyers successfully challenged such decisions in the domestic courts and in two cases the HHC obtained Rule 39 interim measures from the ECtHR.²⁵⁹ Both cases were struck out in 2017 because the applicants had left Hungary.²⁶⁰

However, in December 2016, the practice changed again and no more Dublin transfer decisions to Greece were issued. No Dublin transfer decisions to Greece has been issued between 2017 and 2025, with the exception of two decisions in 2020 (no transfer took place).²⁶¹

Bulgaria

²⁵⁵ Practice-based observation of the HHC.

²⁵⁶ Information provided by the Ministry of Interior in the context of the right of reply on 25 June 2024.

²⁵⁷ ECtHR, M.S.S. v. Belgium and Greece, Application No. 30696/09, Judgement of 21 January 2011 [GC], EDAL, available here.

²⁵⁸ For further information about the situation prior to that, see previous updates of this report, available here.

²⁵⁹ HHC, Hungary: Update on Dublin transfers, 14 December 2016, available here.

²⁶⁰ ECtHR, M.S. v. Hungary, Application No 64194/16 and H.J. v. Hungary, Application No 70984/16, available here.

²⁶¹ Information was provided by the NDGAP on 7 February 2022 and on 13 February 2023.

Hungary never officially suspended transfers to Bulgaria,²⁶² despite UNHCR communication on the matter,²⁶³ 3 United Nations Human Rights Committee (UNHRC) interim measures,²⁶⁴ and a few national court decisions ruling against such transfers.²⁶⁵

However, the HHC observed that in 2018 Bulgaria stopped accepting responsibility for requests sent by the Dublin Unit. There were no Dublin decisions and transfers to Bulgaria until 2022.²⁶⁶ In 2022 there were 3 outgoing requests to Bulgaria, based on Article 18(1)a) and 3 actual transfers.²⁶⁷ There were no Dublin decisions and transfers to Bulgaria in 2023 nor in 2024.²⁶⁸ In 2025, there were 7 transfers to Bulgaria.²⁶⁹

Where the transfer is suspended, Hungary assumes responsibility for examining the asylum application and the asylum seeker has the same rights as any other asylum seeker.

2.7 The situation of Dublin returnees

The applicant is entitled to request, within nine months after the decision to discontinue the procedure, that their case be reopened. Such request shall be submitted by the applicant in person, before the asylum authority. If the request for having the case reopened is submitted in due time, the asylum authority shall resume the procedure from the procedural step taken immediately before the decision for terminating the procedure was adopted. Reopening the case may be requested by the applicant once.²⁷⁰

The amendments to the Asylum Act adopted between 2015 and 2017 have imposed some serious obstacles to asylum seekers who are transferred back to Hungary under the Dublin Regulation regarding re-accessing the asylum procedure.

The following situations are applicable to Dublin returnees:

- (a) Persons who had not previously applied for asylum in Hungary and those whose applications are still pending would usually be treated as first-time asylum applicants. However, according to the current asylum legislation in force (Act L of 2025), only 4 groups of persons (see Embassy procedure) can apply for asylum within the Hungarian territory. Since they are not considered as an exception, Dublin returnees are not allowed to apply for asylum when returned to Hungary. Despite such legislation, the HHC is aware of several cases, where people returned under Dublin were allowed to submit an asylum application. The NDGAP clarified that, according to the authority's interpretation and practice, applicants returned through the Dublin procedure have to declare upon arrival whether they intend to uphold their asylum application lodged in the transferring country, and if they do, the asylum procedure will commence.²⁷¹ On the other hand, the HHC is also aware of a case of a Dublin returnee, who due to illness could not appear at the NDGAP upon his return and despite informing the NDGAP about this, was not given a new appointment. Instead, the NDGAP informed him that because he did not appear at NDGAP upon his Dublin return, he could not apply for asylum and should go to the Embassy. In April 2025 a Syrian woman was returned from Austria, and she did not immediately apply for asylum, as she believed that her transfer might be still reviewed and annulled by the sending Member State. The NDGAP considered this uncertainty as an indication that she did not apply for international protection. Since she no longer had a valid residence permit in Hungary, the NDGAP ordered her

²⁶² For further details on this topic, please see previous updates of this report, such as AIDA, Country Report Hungary – 2021 Update, April 2022, available here, 47-48.

²⁶³ See UNHCR, UNHCR Observations on the Current Situation of Asylum in Bulgaria, 2 January 2014, available here.

²⁶⁴ See e.g., Human Rights Committee, B. v. Hungary, Communication No 2901/2016, 9 December 2016.

²⁶⁵ Administrative and Labour Court of Szeged, Decision No 11. Kpk.27.469/2017/12, 3 July 2017, and Decision No 4. 10.K.27.051/2018/5, 7 February 2018.

²⁶⁶ As to 2021, information was provided by the NDGAP on 7 February 2022.

²⁶⁷ Information was provided by the NDGAP on 13 February 2023.

²⁶⁸ Information was provided by the NDGAP on 19 February 2024 and 20 February 2025.

²⁶⁹ Information was provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2025.

²⁷⁰ Section 66(6) Asylum Act.

²⁷¹ EASO, EASO Asylum Report 2021, available here, p. 97.

detention and expulsion. Therefore, the application of Dublin returnees appears sometimes allowed purely based on the discretionary decision of the NDGAP. According to the HHC, individual assurances should therefore be obtained in each case. A transfer acceptance letter, without concrete individual assurances that a person returned under Dublin will actually be accepted in the asylum procedure in Hungary according to the Asylum Procedures Directive and be provided reception conditions according to the Reception Conditions Directive is not enough. Usually there is no one from the police or NDGAP awaiting those who are being returned under a Dublin transfer, and to inform them about the next steps. Dublin returnees have to find the client service of the NDGAP to submit their application for international protection on their own.

- (b) The asylum procedure would not continue, if the returned foreigner had previously received a negative decision and did not seek judicial review. This is problematic when the NDGAP issued a decision in someone's absence. The asylum seeker who is later returned under the Dublin procedure to Hungary will have to submit a subsequent application and present new facts and evidence in support of the application (see section on Subsequent Applications). However, the current asylum legislation in force (Act L of 2025), does not even allow 'Dublin returnees' to apply for asylum within the Hungarian territory (see the first point). According to Article 18(2) of the Dublin III Regulation, the responsible Member State that takes back the applicant whose application has been rejected only at the first instance shall ensure that the applicant has or has had the opportunity to seek an effective remedy against the rejection. According to the NDGAP, the applicant only has a right to request a judicial review in case the decision has not yet become legally binding. Since a decision rejecting the application becomes binding once the deadline for seeking judicial review has passed without such a request being submitted, the HHC believes that the Hungarian practice is in breach of the Dublin III Regulation because in such cases Dublin returnee applicants are not afforded an opportunity to seek judicial review after their return to Hungary.

In 2023, several judgments notably in Germany have suspended Dublin transfers to Hungary due to systematic deficiencies in Hungary's asylum procedure and reception conditions, or lack of individual guarantees.²⁷² In 2024, Hungary received 363 transfer requests under the Dublin Regulation, resulting in only 3 actual transfers, which accounts for just 0.1% of all transfers conducted within the Dublin framework.²⁷³ However, the Administrative Court of Düsseldorf, concluded in May 2024 that no systemic weaknesses exist in Hungary's asylum system or reception conditions for healthy, employable individuals during the asylum process or after being granted international protection.²⁷⁴ Transfers are officially suspended by the Swedish Migration Agency due to risk of non-access to reception conditions when claims are considered subsequent applications.²⁷⁵ In the Netherlands, since 2015 the authorities have applied the sovereignty clause in cases where Hungary was established as the responsible Member State.²⁷⁶

3. Admissibility procedure

3.1 General (scope, criteria, time limits)

The admissibility of an application should be decided within 15 calendar days, and this deadline may not be extended; there is no longer a separate admissibility procedure.

Under Section 51(2) of the Asylum Act, as amended in July 2018, an application is inadmissible where:

- a) The applicant is an EU citizen;

²⁷² See for example Administrative Court of Munich, Judgment No. M 30 S 22.50354, 11 August 2022, available in German here; Administrative Court of Munich, Judgment No. M 10 S 22.50494, 20 September 2022, available in German here; Regional Administrative Court of Arnberg, Judgement No. 1 L 827/22.A, 13 September 2022, available in German here; Regional Administrative Court of Aachen, Judgement No. 5 K 2643/22.A, available in German here.

²⁷³ AIDA, Country Report: Germany – Update 2024, available here.

²⁷⁴ Administrative Court of Düsseldorf, 22 L 764/24.A, 15 May 2024, available in German here.

²⁷⁵ SMA, 'Överföringar till Ungern i enlighet med Dublinförordningen, RS/010/2022, 11 November 2022', available in Swedish here.

²⁷⁶ AIDA, Country Report: The Netherlands – Update 2024, available here.

- b) The applicant was granted international protection by another EU Member State;
- c) The applicant is recognised as a refugee by a third country and protection exists at the time of the assessment of the application and the third country is prepared to readmit them;
- d) The application is repeated, and no new circumstance or fact occurred that would suggest that the applicant's recognition as a refugee or beneficiary of subsidiary protection is justified; or
- e) There exists a country in connection with the applicant which qualifies as a Safe Third Country for them.

In 2022, one inadmissible decision was issued based on Section 51(2)d) of the Asylum Act.²⁷⁷ In 2023, the NDGAP again claimed that they did not have the data.²⁷⁸ In 2024 nor in 2025, no such decision was issued.²⁷⁹

A new inadmissibility ground, merging the concepts of 'safe third country' and 'first country of asylum', was in effect from 1 July 2018²⁸⁰ (see Hybrid Safe Third Country / First Country of Asylum), however it was not applied in practice in 2021 and in 2022 and as of 1 January 2023, it was finally removed from the Asylum Act.

Article 33(2)(e) of the recast Asylum Procedures Directive, providing that an application by a dependant of the applicant who has consented to their case being part of an application made on their behalf is inadmissible, has not been transposed into Hungarian legislation.

Refusal of applications without examination on the merits

According to Section 32/F of Asylum Act, the refugee authority shall refuse an application by way of a ruling, without examination as to merits, if:

- a) it has no jurisdiction for the assessment of the application;
- b) the application pertains to an objective that is manifestly impossible;
- c) the application comes from a person who is manifestly not entitled to make the request.²⁸¹

This procedure however does not fall under the scope of the APD.

Asylum seekers who do not fall under the exceptions described under the section on the Embassy procedure but nevertheless apply for asylum, are issued a 'refusal decision' based on Section 32/F b) of the Asylum Act. The NDGAP position is that they are requesting something impossible, as according to the current legislative framework, they should submit an intent at the Hungarian Embassy prior to being allowed to apply for asylum in Hungary. The HHC has been litigating many such cases.²⁸²

As previously mentioned in the report, in one case in which an Afghan citizen applied for asylum, while staying in Hungary in an undocumented way, he was immediately pushed to Serbia after such a 'refusal decision' was issued. The HHC appealed the 'refusal decision' and on 12 November 2021, the court quashed the decision and ordered the applicant's return to Hungary so that a new asylum procedure could start.²⁸³ It ordered that a new asylum procedure is to be conducted in accordance with the general rules of the Asylum Act. The ECtHR issued a judgment on the case on 24 June 2025.²⁸⁴ It found that (i) the lack of an individual assessment, and the fact that the embassy procedure did not provide for genuine and effective access to means of legal entry, led to a collective expulsion in violation of Article 4 Protocol 4 ECHR; (ii) Hungary had failed to discharge its procedural obligation under Article 3 ECHR to examine whether the applicants would have access to an adequate asylum procedure in Serbia; and (iii) the ²⁷⁷ Information provided by NDGAP on 13 February 2022.

²⁷⁸ Information received from the NDGAP by the HHC on 19 February 2024.

²⁷⁹ Information received from the NDGAP by the HHC on 20 February 2025 and 9 March 2026.

²⁸⁰ Section 51(2)(f), and newly introduced Section 51(12) Asylum Act.

²⁸¹ This provision has been amended as of 3 December 2022.

²⁸² HHC, No access to asylum on the territory since 27 May 2020, 13 March 2023, available here.

²⁸³ Metropolitan Court, 11.K.705.686/2021/22, 12 November 2021.

²⁸⁴ H.Q. v. Hungary, Application No. 46084/21, 24 June 2025, available here.

applicants did not have at their disposal any remedy which may satisfy the criteria under Article 13 in conjunction with Article 4 Protocol 4 ECHR.

The HHC represented two children who turned 18 when they came to Hungary via family reunification with their parents holding international protection status and who also received a 'refusal decision' based on Section 32/F b), as they no longer fell under the category of exceptions to the embassy procedure, since they no longer constituted family members under the Asylum Act definition (see Embassy procedure). The HHC appealed and in both cases the Metropolitan court quashed the decisions and ordered NDGAP to conduct an asylum procedure according to the general provisions of the Asylum Act.²⁸⁵ In one case the NDGAP started a new procedure and granted subsidiary protection to the applicant.

The HHC represented a Ugandan asylum seeker who reached Hungary legally by plane and was also issued a 'refusal decision'. The court quashed the decision and ordered a new procedure.²⁸⁶ However, after initiating the procedure, the NDGAP immediately suspended it based on the pending request for the Constitutional court review of a judgment issued in the embassy procedure.²⁸⁷

Issuing 'refusal decisions' has become common practice since the second half of 2021. Previously, the NDGAP would simply refuse to accept an asylum application and turn the applicants away immediately. In one case HHC lawyers accompanied the client and reminded NDGAP officials that refusing to accept an application is a crime (abuse of authority, Section 305 of the Criminal Code).²⁸⁸ As a result, the NDGAP took in the application, but the case officer present said they would not register the claim. The applicant was issued an 'information note' by the NDGAP, notifying him that they could not examine his application due to the Transitional Act rules. The HHC appealed and UNHCR intervened.²⁸⁹ On 8 June 2021, the Metropolitan court ruled that the asylum application must be considered lodged and that the NDGAP must conduct a procedure and issue a formal decision.²⁹⁰ The NDGAP therefore issued a 'refusal decision'. The HHC appealed and the Metropolitan court ruled that the NDGAP has to examine the applicant's claim under the general provisions of the Asylum Act and that the applicant should be allowed to come back to Hungary.²⁹¹ By the time this last judgement was issued, the procedure had been going on for more than 2 years and the applicant managed to secure legal entry to another EU country in the meantime, therefore the case was discontinued.

Towards the end of 2022, the HHC noticed that the Asylum authority was again refusing to even accept the asylum applications. Such practice continued in 2023. In one of such cases litigated by HHC the court issued a judgement that the NDGAP should have issued a decision on asylum application. The NDGAP appealed, but Supreme Court rejected the appeal.²⁹² The NDGAP then issued a decision, rejecting the application based on Section 32/F of the Asylum Act (see above), despite the CJEU judgement C-823/21 ruling that it is not compliant with EU law to deprive the applicants who are on the territory of Hungary or at the border from accessing asylum by referring them to the embassy procedure. Beginning of 2024, the HHC however observed that the NDGAP started to accept the asylum applications again but immediately issues a 'refusal decision' based on Section 32/F of Asylum Act. The HHC challenged such decisions at the court and the court in all cases issued a positive decision, quashing the 'refusal decision' and ordered the NDGAP to examine the asylum application according to the general provisions of the Asylum Act.²⁹³ Before issuing new decisions, NDGAP sought opinion from the Ministry of the Interior, as they were convinced that they cannot examine the asylum applications according to the Hungarian law currently in ²⁸⁵ Metropolitan Court 19.K.700.022/2022/5, 3 March 2022, 102.K.706.770/2021/15, 3 May 2022.

²⁸⁶ Metropolitan Court, 29.K.705.858/2021/6, 29 November 2021.

²⁸⁷ IV/03538-1/2021, here.

²⁸⁸ Available in English here.

²⁸⁹ UNHCR, Written observations by the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees in the case of A.H. v National Directorate-General/or Aliens Policing (11.K.706.750/2020) before the Budapest Capital Regional Court, 25 November 2020, available here.

²⁹⁰ Metropolitan Court, 11.K.703.256/2021/7, 2 June 2021.

²⁹¹ Metropolitan Court, 11.K.703.946/2022/5, 9 January 2023.

²⁹² 1.Kf.700.326/2023/4., 27.9.2023.

²⁹³ 11.K.701.171/2024/5., 6.5.2024, 14.K.704.220/2023/10., 8.4.2024, 10.K.701.786/2024/6., 11.6.2024, 10.K.701.599/2024/6., 11.6.2024, 11.K.700.719/2024/5., 8.4.2024.

force. Finally, they issued new ‘refusal decisions’, completely ignoring the court’s instructions, referred to political arguments and CC decision 32/2021 (CC held that where an obligation stemming from EU law cannot be effectively implemented, Hungary shall have the sovereign right to pass laws for the protection of fundamental rights - until the conditions to effectively execute EU law are guaranteed), arguing that the need to adopt the Pact is a proof of the current shortcomings of the exercise of EU competence in the field of asylum. The HHC appealed and the court quashed the NDGAP’s decision and again emphasised that a declaration of intent at the Embassy cannot be considered a prerequisite for the asylum application and that the application has to be examined on the merits and that neither the CC decision nor the Pact can be a legal obstacle to the substantive assessment.²⁹⁴

In 2025 the HHC obtained several more positive judgements from the court, obliging the NDGAP to start the asylum procedure on the merits.²⁹⁵ At first the NDGAP was not initiating new procedures and the HHC submitted an action for enforcement of the judgement. Before the court ruled on the enforcement action, the NDGAP started to initiate the in-merit asylum procedures, but only for the clients who had already got a court judgement obliging the NDGAP to do so. In the enforcement appeal the court found that the NDGAP had failed to comply with the judgment and imposed a 100,000 HUF fine on the NDGAP and ordered that the NDGAP shall issue an in-merit decision within 30 days.²⁹⁶

3.2 Personal interview

There is no longer a separate procedure for admissibility, therefore the same rules as in the Regular Procedure: Personal Interview apply.

3.3 Appeal

Indicators: Admissibility Procedure: Appeal

Same as regular procedure

1. Does the law provide for an appeal against the decision in the admissibility procedure?

<ul style="list-style-type: none"> ❖ If yes, is it ❖ If yes, is it suspensive 	<table style="width: 100%; border: none;"> <tr> <td><input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes</td> <td><input type="checkbox"/> No</td> </tr> <tr> <td><input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Judicial</td> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Administrative</td> </tr> <tr> <td><input type="checkbox"/> Yes</td> <td><input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Some grounds <input type="checkbox"/> No</td> </tr> </table>	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> No	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Judicial	<input type="checkbox"/> Administrative	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Some grounds <input type="checkbox"/> No
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> No
<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Judicial	<input type="checkbox"/> Administrative
<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Some grounds <input type="checkbox"/> No

The deadline for seeking judicial review against a negative decision on admissibility is shorter than in the regular procedure, as the request must be filed within 7 calendar days.²⁹⁷

Judicial review is carried out by the same Regional Administrative and Labour Court which considers other asylum cases. The court’s review shall include a complete examination of both the facts and the legal aspects.²⁹⁸

A hearing is not mandatory; it only takes place ‘in case of need’.²⁹⁹ Moreover, the review procedure in admissibility cases differs from that for those rejected on the merits, since the court must render a decision within 8 days, instead of 60. A preliminary reference was sent to the CJEU for it to determine whether this short deadline for the judges to decide is compatible with the requirements of an effective remedy. On 5 December 2019, the Advocate General in his opinion concluded that judges must disapply the applicable time limit if they consider that the judicial review cannot be carried out effectively.³⁰⁰ The CJEU confirmed this position in a judgement on 19 March 2020 (C-564/18).

²⁹⁴ 14.K.703.751/2024., 11.12.2024.

²⁹⁵ For example: 11.K.704.816/2024/7., 7.2.2025, 11.K.701.082/2025/5., 5.5.2025, 10.K.701.992/2025/5, 19.6.2025, 14.K.701.522/2025, 24.6.2025, 20.K.701.898/2025/4., 1.7.2025.

²⁹⁶ 14.Kpk.750.171/2025/11., 5.11.2025.

²⁹⁷ Section 53(3) Asylum Act.

²⁹⁸ Section 68(4) Asylum Act.

²⁹⁹ Section 68(2) Asylum Act.

³⁰⁰ Opinion of advocate general Bobek (CJEU), Case C-564/18, LH v. Bevándorlási és Menekültügyi Hivatal, 5 December 2019 available here.

A request for judicial review against the NDGAP decision declaring an application inadmissible has no suspensive effect, except for judicial review regarding inadmissible applications based on safe third country grounds.³⁰¹ Gov. decree 570/2020. (XII. 9.), Section 5 removed the possibility to ask for an interim measure in order to prevent expulsion in case of violation of epidemic rules or when expulsion was ordered based on the risk to national security or public order, is no longer in force since June 2022. This provision had serious consequences for people who had been expelled prior to submitting their asylum application, as in case their asylum application was rejected as inadmissible, the appeal did not have a suspensive effect and even if it was requested, it did not suspend the expulsion that was ordered prior to the asylum procedure.³⁰² However, the new GRTCN Act removed a recourse to a suspensive effect in administrative actions against a final decision ordering expulsion.³⁰³

The court may not alter the decision of the determining authority; it shall annul any administrative decision found to be against the law, with the exception of the breach of a procedural rule not affecting the merits of the case, and it shall oblige the refugee authority to conduct a new procedure.³⁰⁴

3.4 Legal assistance

There is no longer a separate procedure for admissibility, therefore the same rules as in the Regular Procedure: Legal Assistance apply. What is particularly problematic for asylum seekers in the case of an inadmissibility decision are the short deadlines (only 7 days to lodge an appeal) and the fact that a hearing at the court is the exception rather than the rule. In such a short time, it is difficult to provide effective legal assistance.

3.5 Suspension of returns for beneficiaries of protection in another Member State

The HHC has no information on any such procedures. The authorities in their comments to the report provided the following information: “In case the TCN is a recognised refugee or subsidiary protection is granted for the TCN by another Member State, a return decision to any third country will not be issued by the Hungarian authorities. These cases are not Dublin cases anymore as Dublin procedure shall only be applicable before the final decision on the international protection application is taken by the competent authority. In such cases Readmission Agreement between Hungary and the other Member State shall apply.”

4. Border procedure (border and transit zones)

In 2017, the border procedure regulated in Section 71/A of Asylum Act was used only until the amendments to the Asylum Act entered into force on 28 March 2017. The amendments prescribe that due to the current state of mass migration emergency the provisions on border procedures are no longer applicable.³⁰⁵ However, Hungary had a de facto border procedure: whilst qualified by the Hungarian authorities as a regular procedure in the transit zones, the European Commission in the infringement procedure against Hungary noted that it indeed constitutes a border procedure, which is not in compliance with the EU law. The CJEU confirmed that Hungary has failed to fulfil its obligations under EU law by unlawfully detaining applicants of international protection in transit zones.³⁰⁶ In practice, this de facto border procedure is no longer applied either, as following the CJEU judgement transit zones were closed on 21 May 2020 and the border procedure is still suspended due to the state of mass migration emergency.

³⁰¹ Section 53(6) Asylum Act.

³⁰² HHC, Decree Justified by Pandemic Causes Immediate Risk of Refoulement without Access to an Effective Judicial Remedy, available here.

³⁰³ Section 101(2a) GRTCN Act.

³⁰⁴ Section 53(5) Asylum Act.

³⁰⁵ Section 80/I(i) Asylum Act.

³⁰⁶ CJEU, Judgment of the Court (Grand Chamber) of 17 December 2020, European Commission v Hungary, C-808/18, 17 December 2020, available here.

5. Accelerated procedure

The Asylum Act lays down an accelerated procedure, where the NDGAP is expected to take a decision within the short timeframe of 15 days.³⁰⁷ As for 2021, 2022 and 2023, the NDGAP did not provide the requested data on accelerated procedures.³⁰⁸ There were no such decisions in 2024 nor in 2025.³⁰⁹

The law provides 10 different grounds for channelling an admissible asylum claim into an accelerated procedure,³¹⁰ where the applicant:

- (a) Discloses only information irrelevant for recognition as both a refugee and a beneficiary of subsidiary protection;
- (b) Originates from a country listed on the European Union or national list of safe countries of origin as specified by separate legislation;
- (c) Misled the authorities by providing false information on their identity or nationality
 - ❖ by providing false information;
 - ❖ by submitting false documents; or
 - ❖ by withholding information or documents that would have been able to influence the decision-making adversely;
- (d) Has destroyed or thrown away, presumably in bad faith, their identity card or travel document that would have been helpful in establishing their identity of nationality;
- (e) Makes clearly incoherent, contradictory, clearly false or obviously unlikely statements contradicting the duly substantiated information related to the country of origin that makes it clear that, on the basis of their application, they are not entitled to recognition as a refugee or beneficiary of subsidiary protection;
- (f) Submitted a subsequent application that is not inadmissible;
- (g) Submitted an application for the only reason of delaying or frustrating the order of the alien policing expulsion or carrying out of the expulsion ordered by the refugee authority, the alien police authority or the court;
- (h) Entered into the territory of Hungary unlawfully or extended their period of residence unlawfully and failed to submit an application for recognition within a reasonable time although they would have been able to submit it earlier and has no reasonable excuse for the delay;
- (i) Refuses to comply with an obligation to have his/her fingerprints taken; or
- (j) For a serious reason may pose a threat to Hungary's national security or public order, or they were expelled by the alien policing authority due to harming or threatening public safety or the public order.

Vulnerable groups are not excluded from accelerated procedures.

The application cannot be rejected solely on the grounds of failing to submit an application within a reasonable time.³¹¹

In accelerated proceedings, the NDGAP, with the exception of the case where the applicant originates from a safe country of origin, shall assess the merits of the application for recognition in order to establish whether the criteria for recognition as a refugee or beneficiary of subsidiary protection exist.³¹²

In the event of applying an accelerated procedure to an applicant originating from a safe country of origin, the applicant, when this fact is communicated to them, can declare immediately but within 3 days at the latest why in their individual case, the specific country does not qualify as a safe country of origin.³¹³

³⁰⁷ Section 47(2) Asylum Act.

³⁰⁸ Information not provided by the NDGAP on 7 February 2022, 13 February 2023 and 19 February 2024.

³⁰⁹ Information received from the NDGAP by the HHC on 20 February 2025 and 9 March 2026.

³¹⁰ Section 51(7) Asylum Act.

³¹¹ Section 51(8) Asylum Act.

³¹² Section 51(9) Asylum Act.

³¹³ Section 51(11) Asylum Act.

Where the safe country of origin fails to take over the applicant, the determining authority shall withdraw its decision and continue the procedure.³¹⁴

In the accelerated procedure, the judicial review has legal suspensive effect only if the accelerated procedure is applied because the applicant entered Hungary irregularly or extended their stay illegally and did not ask for asylum within reasonable time although they would have had the chance to do so. In all other cases there is not even a possibility to request a suspensive effect in the appeal against expulsion, according to the new GRTCN Act.³¹⁵

Gov. decree 570/2020. (XII. 9.), Section 5 removed the possibility to ask for interim measures to prevent expulsion in case of violation of epidemic rules or when expulsion was ordered based on the risk to national security or public order, is no longer in force as of June 2022. This provision had serious consequence for people who had been expelled prior to submitting their asylum application, as in case their asylum application was rejected in an accelerated procedure, the appeal did not have a suspensive effect and even if it was requested, it did not suspend the expulsion that was ordered prior to the asylum procedure.³¹⁶ In January 2021 the HHC submitted a complaint to the European Commission, who did not reach any final conclusion while the decree was still in force. However, in the complaints proceedings the Commission had indicated that based on its initial analysis, it appeared that the problem raised in the complaint may indicate a possible infringement of the Return Directive. The HHC is aware of one such case, where an asylum applicant was rejected in an accelerated asylum procedure and was deported prior to his appeal even reaching the court. The rejection decision was communicated to the lawyer in an email when the applicant was already on the plane. The application of this decree was challenged at the national level by the HHC in several cases, unfortunately unsuccessfully. Even the Supreme Court of Hungary (Kúria) did not find the deprivation of a right to ask for suspensive effect problematic.³¹⁷ According to the new GRTCN Act, there is now not even a possibility to request a suspensive effect in the appeal against expulsion.³¹⁸

A total of 15 days to process a first-time asylum application is – as a general rule – an insufficient time period to ensure the indispensable requirements of such a procedure, including finding the right interpreter, conducting a proper asylum interview, obtaining individualised and high-quality country information, obtaining – if necessary – medical or other specific evidence, and an eventual follow-up interview allowing the asylum seeker to react on adverse credibility findings or legal conclusions.³¹⁹ This extremely short deadline is therefore in breach of EU law, which requires reasonable time limits for accelerated procedures, ‘without prejudice to an adequate and complete examination being carried out’ and to the applicant’s effective access to basic guarantees provided for in EU asylum legislation.³²⁰

Also, in contradiction to the relevant EU rule, Hungarian law does not provide any specific safeguard that would prevent the undue application of accelerated procedures to asylum seekers in need of special procedural guarantees.³²¹

The rules governing the appeal in accelerated procedure are the same as in case of inadmissible decisions (see section on Admissibility Procedure).

³¹⁴ Section 51/A Asylum Act.

³¹⁵ Section 101(2a) GRTCN Act.

³¹⁶ Hungarian Helsinki Committee, Decree Justified by Pandemic Causes Immediate Risk of Refoulement without Access to an Effective Judicial Remedy, available here.

³¹⁷ Supreme Court of Hungary, Kpkf.VI.39.459/2021/2, 2 March 2021.

³¹⁸ Section 101(2a) GRTCN Act.

³¹⁹ The latter being mandatory under EU law as interpreted by the CJEU. See Case C-277/11, M.M. v. Minister for Justice, Equality and Law Reform, Ireland, Attorney General, Judgment of 22 November 2012, available here; Case C-349/07, Sopropé – Organizações de CalçadoL da v Fazenda Pública, Judgment of 18 December 2008, available here.

³²⁰ Recital 20, Article 31(2) and (9) recast Asylum Procedures Directive.

³²¹ Recital 30 recast Asylum Procedures Directive.

6. National protection statuses and return procedure

6.1 National forms of protection

Hungarian legislation provides a national form of protection, so called “tolerated status”. Tolerated status is granted when a foreign national does not meet the conditions for international protection status and, however, is at a significant risk of refoulement, if returned to their country of origin, and there is no safe third country offering refuge to them.³²²

Tolerated status is automatically reviewed by NDGAP when they reject an asylum application, and they consider a return decision. Rejected asylum applicants can therefore access this form of national protection if return decision cannot be issued in their case. Tolerated status is also granted in immigration proceedings if the refugee authority has adopted a decision on the prohibition of refoulement.³²³ If the return decision is issued, but it turns out that it cannot be implemented (for other reasons, not because of non-refoulement), the GRTCN Act does not provide the possibility to get a tolerated status.³²⁴

Persons granted tolerated status receive a humanitarian residence permit, valid for one year. Persons with a tolerated status are entitled to be accommodated in the reception centres free of charge for a 30-day period after they received the recognition decision.³²⁵ In order to work, they are required to obtain a work permit. If people under tolerated status do not benefit from the general social security regime (this would be possible through work), they are provided the following free of charge healthcare services:³²⁶

- ❖ Healthcare services provided by a general practitioner
- ❖ Emergency healthcare services
- ❖ Postmortem services
- ❖ Access to mandatory vaccinations

Children are entitled to mandatory public education and have access to higher education with national scholarships.³²⁷

Humanitarian residence permit can also be granted to:

- ❖ a person recognised by Hungary as a stateless person (valid for 3 years);
- ❖ any third-country national who was born in the territory of Hungary and who has been removed from the custody of his guardian having custody according to Hungarian law, and/or unaccompanied minors (valid for 1 year);
- ❖ for substantial national security or law enforcement reasons, by initiative of the court, the public prosecutor’s office, national security or law enforcement agency, or the investigating arm of the National Tax and Customs Authority
- ❖ to any third-country national, or other affiliated third-country nationals on his or her account, who has cooperated with the authorities in a crime investigation and has provided considerable assistance to gather evidence (valid up to 6 months);
- ❖ by initiative of the court, to third-country nationals who have been subjected to particularly exploitative working conditions, or to third-country national minors who were employed illegally without a valid residence permit or other authorization for stay (valid up to 6 months).³²⁸

Further on, in the absence of the conditions for granting refugee status, the Minister in charge of immigration can grant a refugee status to an alien under special and equitable circumstances, where this is necessary on humanitarian grounds, insofar as there are no grounds for exclusion of the alien from ³²² Section 25/A Asylum Act.

³²³ Section 25/B Asylum Act.

³²⁴ Section 104 GRTCN Act.

³²⁵ Section 41(1) Gov. Decree 301/2007. (XI. 9.).

³²⁶ Section 44(3)-(6) Gov. Decree 301/2007. (XI. 9.).

³²⁷ Section 92(1)(a) and (c) and Section 39(1)(b) Act CCIV of 2011 on Higher Education.

³²⁸ Section 70 GRTCA Act.

refugee protection.³²⁹ In 2024, a Polish opposition politician, Mr. Romanovski, was granted such refugee status by the Minister in charge of immigration.³³⁰ On 23 December 2025, Hungary informed the EU Council that it had given refugee status to two additional Polish citizens, without giving any further details and without naming the newly accepted refugees.³³¹ On 1 January 2026, Hungary modified Act CLXXX of 2012 on Co-operation in Matters of Criminal Justice with other Member States of the European Union, effectively exempting refugees from EU states from extradition to their original state of nationality.³³²

6.2 Return procedure

If asylum seekers are not already expelled before they apply for asylum, the return decision is issued jointly with the asylum rejection. The new GRTCN Act removed a recourse to a suspensive effect in administrative actions against a final decision ordering expulsion.³³³

Return decisions in case of rejected asylum seekers who are not detained usually contain a voluntary departure in 30 days. In case of detained rejected asylum seekers, the return is order by deportation. Rejected asylum seekers who were not detained during their asylum procedure are usually not detained while awaiting return.

A return decision issued in the return procedure has to be appealed within 8 days. Return decisions issued jointly with the asylum rejection should be appealed together with the appeal against a negative asylum decision, so the deadlines and legal aid are the same as described under the relevant sections before. Persons who are already expelled cannot get any other type of residence.

In 2025, the NDGAP issued expulsion decisions in respect of 45 people in the asylum procedure. 363 persons were actually deported (there is no information how many had been asylum seekers before).³³⁴

D. Guarantees for vulnerable groups

1. Identification

Indicators: Identification

1. Is there a specific identification mechanism in place to systematically identify vulnerable asylum seekers? Yes For certain categories No
❖ If for certain categories, specify which:
2. Does the law provide for an identification mechanism for unaccompanied children? Yes No

Under the Asylum Act, a person with special needs can be an ‘unaccompanied minor or a vulnerable person, in particular, a minor, elderly or disabled person, pregnant woman, single parent raising a minor child and a person who has suffered from torture, rape or any other grave form of psychological, physical or sexual violence, found, after proper individual evaluation, to have special needs because of his/her individual situation’.³³⁵ Hungarian law does not explicitly include survivors or potential victims of human trafficking, persons suffering of serious illnesses and persons with mental disorders in the definition of vulnerable asylum seekers.

³²⁹ Section 7(4) of the Asylum Act.

³³⁰ Information obtained from the media. Ministry of Interior answered to the HHC’s FOI response that they do not keep statistic on this status.

³³¹ See here.

³³² Section 5(1a) Act CLXXX of 2012.

³³³ Section 101(2a) GRTCN Act.

³³⁴ Information provided by NGDAP on 9 March 2026.

³³⁵ Section 2(k) Asylum Act.

1.1 Screening of vulnerability

Although both the Asylum Act and the Asylum Decree provide that the special needs of certain asylum seekers should be addressed,³³⁶ there is no further detailed guidance available in the law and no practical identification mechanism in place to adequately identify such persons. The Decree only foresees the obligation of the authority to consider whether the special rules for vulnerable asylum seekers are applicable in the given individual case. However, no procedural framework has been elaborated to implement this provision in practice.³³⁷ Hungarian law also fails to provide a timeframe within which the determining authority shall carry out this assessment, nor does it clarify in which phase of the proceedings this shall take place. The Mapping Report of IOM on the available assistance to migrant victims of sexual and gender-based violence states: 'Currently there are no standard operating procedures (SOPs) on sexual and gender-based violence available and used in migration facilities in Hungary. The lack of clear guidance on prevention and referral mechanisms makes the identification of victims and potential victims of SGBV among asylum-seekers and refugees difficult and thus the provision of appropriate support to those who are in need of assistance is not ensured.'³³⁸

According to HHC, it generally depends on the asylum officer in charge whether the applicant's vulnerability will be examined and taken into account. An automatic screening and identification mechanism is lacking; applicants need to state that they require special treatment, upon which asylum officers consider having recourse to an expert opinion to confirm vulnerability. The NDGAP asks the asylum seeker in every asylum interview whether they have any health problems. This of course does not guarantee that the authorities get information about the special needs of asylum seekers.

A medical or psychological expert may be involved to determine the need for special treatment. The applicant should be informed in simple and understandable language about the examination and its consequences. The applicant has to consent to the examination, however, if no consent is given, the provisions applicable to persons with special needs will not apply to the case.³³⁹ According to HHC's lawyers it is up to the legal representative to argue that the applicant is vulnerable, which may, or not, be then considered by the caseworker. If not, the lack of proper assessment of the facts of the case (such as individual vulnerability) may lead to the annulment of the decision in the judicial review phase.

1.2 Age assessment of unaccompanied children

The law does not provide for an identification mechanism for unaccompanied and separated children. The Asylum Act only foresees that an age assessment can be carried out in case there are doubts as to the alleged age of the applicant.³⁴⁰ In case of such uncertainty, the asylum officer, without an obligation to inform the applicant of the reasons, may order an age assessment be conducted. Therefore, decisions concerning the need for an age assessment may be considered arbitrary.

The applicant (or their statutory representative or guardian) must consent to the age assessment examination.

The asylum application cannot be refused on the ground that the person did not consent to the age assessment.³⁴¹ However, as a consequence most of the provisions relating to children may not be applied in the case since, they will be considered as an adult.³⁴²

³³⁶ Section 4(3) Asylum Act.

³³⁷ Section 3(1) Asylum Decree.

³³⁸ IOM, Mapping Report on Legal Frameworks and Assistance Available to Migrant Victims of Sexual and Gender-based Violence (SGBV), 2019, available here.

³³⁹ Section 3 Asylum Decree.

³⁴⁰ Section 44(1) Asylum Act.

³⁴¹ Section 44(2) Asylum Act.

³⁴² Section 44(3) Asylum Act.

The age assessment was conducted by the military doctor in the transit zone. Since the closure of the transit zones in 2020, the HHC is aware of only one age assessment procedure carried out in 2021. The information provided by the NDGAP confirms that there was only one asylum seeker subjected to age assessment in 2021 where the examination concluded that the asylum seeker was indeed a child.³⁴³ The main method employed was a dental examination and the observation of the child's physical appearance, e.g., weight, height etc., and the child's sexual maturity. The primary and secondary sexual characteristics were also examined, which the HHC considers to be a violation of the child's human dignity. In the context of age assessment, the NDGAP does not use a psychosocial assessment. There was no age assessment procedure 2023,³⁴⁴ 2024,³⁴⁵ or 2025³⁴⁶

Up to the time of writing, no protocol has been adopted to provide for uniform standards on age assessment examinations carried out by the police and the NDGAP. On several occasions (conferences, roundtables etc.), the former IAO denied its responsibility to adopt such a protocol, stating that age assessment is a medical question, which is beyond its professional scope or competence. The police elaborated a non-binding protocol for the purpose of police-ordered age assessment examinations which provides a checklist to be followed by doctors commissioned to carry out the examination.³⁴⁷ This protocol, which was published in 2014, did not consider the psychosocial or intercultural elements of age assessment, only foreseeing that in case the applicant (the subject of the age assessment) is suspected to be a victim of sexual violence, follow-up assistance from a psychologist may be requested (but this is not automatic and the HHC has never assisted a case where the authorities would refer the applicant to a psychologist ex officio).

The age assessment opinion usually does not specify the person's exact age; instead, it gives an estimate if the person is above or under 18 or margin of error of at least 2 years e.g. 17-19 or 16-18 years of age. In these cases, in HHC's experience the benefit of the doubt is usually given to the applicant.

There is no direct remedy to challenge the age assessment opinion. It can only be challenged through an appeal against the negative decision in the asylum procedure, which cannot be considered an effective remedy as in practice several months pass by the time the rejected application reaches the judicial phase of the procedure.

On 10 February 2020, the CRC published its concluding observations on Hungary, where it highlighted that age assessment has to be in line with international standards.³⁴⁸

2. Special procedural guarantees

Indicators: Special Procedural Guarantees

1. Are there special procedural arrangements/guarantees for vulnerable people?
 Yes For certain categories No
 ❖ If for certain categories, specify which: Unaccompanied minors

There is a specialised unit within the NDGAP which deals with asylum applications of vulnerable groups, namely the applications of unaccompanied and separated children. The competent department is the Regional Directorate of Budapest and Pest County Asylum Unit. The employees (case officers) of the unit have special knowledge on UaSCs, which enables them to conduct the hearings and make the decision in accordance with their special situation. They receive training on how to handle such cases, but there is no specific entry requirement they must meet.

³⁴³ Information provided by NDGAP on 7 February 2022.

³⁴⁴ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

³⁴⁵ Information provided by NGDAP on 20 February 2025.

³⁴⁶ Information provided by NGDAP on 9 March 2026.

³⁴⁷ The protocol is available in Hungarian here.

³⁴⁸ CRC, Concluding observations on the sixth periodic report of Hungary, 3 March 2020, CRC/C/HUN/CO/6*, available here, paras. 38 and 39.

According to the NDGAP,³⁴⁹ in 2021, 2022 and 2023 two modules of the EASO and then EUAA Training Curriculum were available in Hungarian at the authority, entitled 'Personal interview of vulnerable persons' and 'Personal interview of children'.

Based on the experience of HHC lawyers, it is mostly their individual sense of empathy, rather than professional support and training, that case officers make use of when interviewing UaSCs. Personal discussions with case officers shed light on the fact that being assigned to the cases of unaccompanied minors mostly happens without providing trainings on the specific legal provisions applicable in the cases of children or child friendly techniques to be used.

2.1 Adequate support during the interview

The NDGAP is obliged to conduct an individual examination of the asylum claim by examining '[t]he social standing, personal circumstances, gender and age of the person [...] to establish whether the acts which have been or could be committed against the person applying for recognition qualify as persecution or serious harm.'³⁵⁰ Persons making gender-based applications have the right to have their case considered by an asylum officer of the same sex if they so request,³⁵¹ and this right is respected in practice. Since 2018, the law also explicitly provides this for persons with claims based on gender identity.³⁵²

There is a possibility to use sign language interpretation besides regular interpretation, as the costs of both are covered by the NDGAP.³⁵³ If the asylum seeker is not able to write, this fact and their statement shall be included in the minutes.³⁵⁴ This, however, does not happen in practice according to the HHC's experience.

In case the applicant cannot be interviewed due to being unfit to be heard, the NDGAP may decide not to carry out a personal interview. If in doubt about the asylum seeker's fitness, the determining authority will seek the opinion of a doctor or psychologist. If the doctor confirms this, the asylum applicant can be given an opportunity to make a written statement or the applicant's family members can be interviewed.³⁵⁵

If the NDGAP has already obtained information about the fact that the asylum seeker is a survivor of ill-treatment or displays signs of trauma, the asylum seeker is interviewed by a specifically trained case officer. However, since there is no formal mechanism to identify these asylum seekers, there is a risk that such an applicant is heard by a case officer who is not appropriately trained. If the applicant does not feel fit to be interviewed, the interview can be postponed, although the NDGAP can reject a request for postponement, if it would prevent the NDGAP from taking its decision within the procedural deadline foreseen in the law. Still, these requests are generally accepted in practice. The NDGAP can also give permission for a family member or a psychologist to be present at the hearing, which has happened in the past.³⁵⁶

However, it has also happened that unaccompanied minors, victims of torture or traumatised asylum seekers were not interviewed in a proper room with suitable conditions for such interviews. Due to the lack of space, and due to organisational shortcomings by the former IAO and NDGAP, the interviews sometimes take place in a room where there are other case officers. One interview room is stationed behind a front desk used by the Police. This means that vulnerable asylum seekers, among whom UaSCs have to go into their interview right before the Police, whose presence and physical proximity they may feel to be intimidating.³⁵⁷

³⁴⁹ Information provided by NDGAP on 7 February 2022, 13 February 2023 and 19 February 2024.

³⁵⁰ Section 90 Asylum Decree.

³⁵¹ Section 66(3) Asylum Decree.

³⁵² Section 66(3a) Asylum Decree.

³⁵³ Section 36(7) Asylum Act.

³⁵⁴ Section 62(2) Asylum Decree.

³⁵⁵ Section 43(2) Asylum Act and Sections 77(1) and (2) Asylum Decree.

³⁵⁶ Practice-based observation of the HHC.

³⁵⁷ Practice-based observation of the HHC.

According to HHC's experience, there have been cases where an LGBTI person's asylum interview was held with the doors open, while the security guard listened in and walked around outside, disregarding the asylum seekers' privacy and the fact that it was difficult for them to talk about what had happened to them.

Amendments which entered into force on 1 January 2018 describe detailed procedural safeguards for interviewing children. These include the requirement for the asylum authority to conduct the asylum interview in an understandable manner and by taking into account the age, maturity, and the cultural and gender particularities of the child. This includes a child-friendly interview room for children below the age of 14. Any subsequent interview needs to be conducted by the same case officer in case the child needs to be heard. Finally, case officers interviewing children must possess the necessary knowledge on interviewing children.³⁵⁸

In 2022, the HHC lawyer reported that in a case of a homosexual Bangladeshi asylum-seeker (later granted refugee status), the case officer had questions which did not consider the applicant's vulnerability and can be regarded as intrusive and had no relevancy regarding the applicant's reasons for claiming asylum. The applicant was asked for example: 'Do you think that sexual relationships entail emotional attachment too?', 'How many partners did you have as a homosexual person?', 'What did your mother think of you after you did things which are done by girls?', "What does the notion of 'family' mean to you?" etc. In 2024, a UaSC came out during the NDGPA hearing. The case officer was very rude, asked questions like "but can you imagine having a romantic relationship with a girl in the future?", which made the UaSC cry.

2.2 Exemption from special procedures

There is no exemption of vulnerable groups from accelerated procedures.

Since March 2017, border procedures are no longer applied, due to the state of crisis caused by 'mass migration'.

For UaSCs, the asylum authorities as a general rule have to trace the person responsible for the child, except if it is presumed that there is a conflict or if the tracing is not justified in light of the minor's best interests.³⁵⁹ The determining authority may ask assistance in the family tracing from other member states, third countries, UNHCR, the International Committee of the Red Cross, the International Federation of Red Cross and Red Crescent Societies and other international organisations engaged in supporting refugees. Practice shows, however, that this tracing is not carried out in practice by the former IAO, and now the NDGAP.

3. Use of medical reports

Indicators: Use of Medical Reports

1. Does the law provide for the possibility of a medical report in support of the applicant's statements regarding past persecution or serious harm?
 Yes In some cases No
2. Are medical reports taken into account when assessing the credibility of the applicant's statements?
 Yes No Sometimes

A medical expert opinion could be required to determine whether the asylum seeker has specific needs.³⁶⁰ Moreover, section 78/A of the amendments to the Asylum decree that entered into force on 21 December 2021 states the following:

³⁵⁸ Section 74 Asylum Decree.

³⁵⁹ Section 4 Asylum Decree.

³⁶⁰ Section 3(2) Asylum Decree.

- (1) The determining authority shall inform the applicant that they may undergo a medical examination on their own initiative and at their own expense in order to investigate any signs of previous persecution or serious ill-treatment.
- (2) The medical examination referred to in paragraph (1) may be carried out by a qualified specialist with a licence issued by the Hungarian authority and the results of the examination shall be forwarded to the determining authority without delay.
- (3) The result of the medical examination pursuant to paragraph (1) shall be assessed by the determining authority together with the other elements of the application. Where appropriate, in addition to the medical service provider chosen and used by the applicant, the determining authority may call upon a State medical service provider or an expert to verify the results of the medical examinations submitted by the applicant. Failure by the applicant to attend a medical examination shall not prevent the determining authority from taking a decision on the application for recognition.

However, no criteria are set out in law or established by administrative practice indicating when a medical examination for the purpose of drafting a medical report should be carried out ex officio by the Asylum authority. According to the Asylum Act, the credibility of the asylum-seeker should not be doubted if according to an expert of forensic medicine, the inconsistent and contradictory representations made by the applicant are attributable to their health or mental condition.³⁶¹

The only NGO that deals with psychosocial rehabilitation of torture survivors is the Cordelia Foundation, which prepares medical reports on applicants' conditions in line with the requirements set out in the Istanbul Protocol.³⁶² The psychiatrists of this NGO, however, are not forensic experts and in some cases their opinion was not recognised by the former IAO or courts, since according to the Act CXL of 2004 on the General Rules of Public Administration Procedures (in effect at the relevant time), the expert opinion may only be delivered by a forensic expert registered by the competent ministry. For the reasons above (lack of an official forensic expert standing in proceedings), sometimes both the former IAO and the courts disregarded the medical opinion issued by the Cordelia Foundation, but at the same time failed to hire forensic expert from the Ministry's list.

In January 2018, the CJEU ruled that asylum seekers may not be subjected to a psychological test, a practice the former IAO had had, in order to determine their sexual orientation as this would amount to disproportionate interference in their private life.³⁶³

In 2021, the NDGAP ordered a DNA test in a few cases to determine the family ties between the parent and a child. In one of the cases the DNA test was ordered once the child who had already joined the refugee mother through family reunification procedure applied for asylum. In another case the DNA was ordered more than 2 years after the family first applied for asylum.

4. Legal representation of unaccompanied and separated children

Indicators: Unaccompanied and Separated Children

1. Does the law provide for the appointment of a representative to all unaccompanied children?

Yes No

The law provides for the appointment of a guardian (who is the legal representative) upon identification of a UaSC. Upon realising that the asylum seeker is a UaSC, regardless of the phase of the asylum procedure, the NDGAP has to contact the Guardianship Authority, which will appoint within 8 days a ³⁶¹ Section 59 Asylum Act.

³⁶² OHCHR, Manual on the Effective Investigation and Documentation of Torture and Other Cruel, Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment ("Istanbul Protocol"), HR/P/PT/8/Rev. 2, 2022, available here.

³⁶³ CJEU, Case C-473/16, Judgment of 25 January 2018, F v. Bevándorlási és Állampolgársági Hivatal, available here. See also HHC, 'No more psychological testing of asylum seekers to determine sexual orientation in Hungary', 17 April 2018, available here.

guardian to represent the child.³⁶⁴ The appointed guardian is not only responsible for representation in the asylum procedure and other legal proceedings but also for ensuring that the child's best interest is respected.

The law states that in order to conduct the age assessment procedure, the legal guardian has to agree to it. However, in the transit zones, the age assessment came first and then the appointment of the guardian.

In 2023 there were several significant delays in appointing guardians to UaSCs which implied a period of 3 to 4 weeks. The delay in appointing the guardians persisted in 2024 and in 2025. For example, during the monitoring visit of the Children's Home, the HHC found that two unaccompanied minors, who had been there for more than a week, were still staying there without an appointed guardian, and since they only spoke Arabic, it was only during the conversation with the HHC staff that they learned that they had the opportunity to apply for asylum in Hungary.

Legal guardians are employed by the TEGYESZ. Obstacles with regard to children's effective access to their legal guardians remained a problem in 2023, 2024 and 2025. Under the Child Protection Act, a guardian may be responsible for 30 children at the same time.³⁶⁵ Based on personal interviews with guardians, the HHC found that this is hardly the case, as some of them gave accounts of caring for 40-45 children at once, in 2022, significantly more than 30 at once. This means that in practice, guardians cannot always devote adequate time to all the children they represent. Not all guardians speak a sufficient level of English and even if they do, the children they are in charge of may not. TEGYESZ employs one interpreter, but guardians rarely have access to his services. In 2018, the Children's Home hired an Afghan social worker who helped with translation and intercultural communication who was still present in 2022 and 2023. He was no longer present in 2025 and there were allegations of mistreatment. In 2025, each guardian was on average responsible for 5 children.³⁶⁶

Legal guardians previously had participated in trainings held by the HHC, the Cordelia Foundation and other actors such as IOM. In 2022, the Menedék Association, together with UNHCR, organised a joint training on the rights of children for civil society, legal guardians and some NDGAP case workers. It was the first such event since 2017. The HHC and other NGOs continue to enjoy a good working relationship with legal guardians. In June 2023, there was a roundtable discussion at the Faculty of Law (ELTE University) regarding children's rights in migration. NGOs HHC and Menedék were present, as well as employees of TEGYESZ.

In 2024, the Ludovika University of Public Service held a conference on child protection in cooperation with the National Police Headquarters and the University of Leuven. The conference was held mainly for judges, prosecutors and child protection workers, and the main topic was the method of hearing (vulnerable) children in court or by the police, including disabled, foreign and refugee children. It was very practical, for example with participants like a Belgian policeman, who explained how they interrogate minors as witnesses in criminal proceedings.

The regular roundtable discussions initiated by the HHC in 2016 continued throughout 2021 as well and in 2022 as well, although much more rarely, owing to the increased workload due to the war in Ukraine. With the exception of the NDGAP, all relevant stakeholders – the legal guardians, the Károlyi István Children's Home, Menedék Association for Migrants, UNHCR Hungary, the Jesuit Refugee Service, HHC and sometimes the Cordelia Foundation for the Rehabilitation of Torture Victims – took part in these meetings most of the time. The discussions aim to serve as a substitution for the non-existent best interest determination procedure by providing for a multidisciplinary case assessment in the case of those children staying in the Károlyi István Children's Home while also discussing broader, systematic issues such as children's access to education or health care during the Embassy procedure (regarding the latter see Health Care). Currently this is the only forum where State actors and the NGO sector together discuss how to further the case of unaccompanied and separated children.³⁶⁷ In 2023 and 2024 these discussions still took place, but usually in a more ad hoc way and within smaller groups – those stakeholders were present who were working on the relevant case and the discussion was needed to coordinate tasks. In 2025, no such roundtable discussions took place to the knowledge of HHC.

³⁶⁴ Section 35(6) Asylum Act.

³⁶⁵ Section 84(6) Act XXXI of 1997 on the Protection of Children.

³⁶⁶ Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 28 January 2026.

The role of the child protection guardian consists of supervising the care for the child, following and monitoring their physical, mental and emotional development.³⁶⁸ In order to fulfil their duties, the child protection guardian has a mandate to generally substitute the absent parents. They:

- ❖ Are obliged to keep regular personal contact with the child;
- ❖ Provide the child with their contact details so the child can reach them;
- ❖ If necessary, supervise and facilitate the relationship and contact with the parents;
- ❖ Participate in drafting the childcare plan with other child protection officials around the child;
- ❖ Participate in various crime prevention measures if the child is a juvenile offender;
- ❖ Assist the child in choosing a life-path, schooling and profession;
- ❖ Represent the interests of the child in any official proceedings;
- ❖ Give consent when required in medical interventions;
- ❖ Take care of the schooling of the child (enrolment, contact with the school and teachers etc.);
- ❖ Handle/manage the properties of the child and report on it to the guardianship services;
- ❖ Report on their activities every 6 months.

Due to the above-mentioned shortcomings, guardians usually find it extremely challenging to adequately fulfil their duties in due manner and be regularly in touch with the children they are responsible for.³⁶⁹

The child protection guardian may give consent to a trained legal representative to participate in the asylum procedure. Both the guardian and the legal representative are entitled to submit motions and evidence on behalf of the applicant and may ask questions to the asylum seeker during the interview.

There are mandatory trainings that guardians must take, which is regulated by SZCSM Decree 9/2000 (VIII.4.). The obligation to undergo further training can be fulfilled by attending a qualified training course, and it takes four years.

A child can make a complaint against their guardian, there is even a possibility to ask the help of a children's rights representative, to assist the child in formulating their complaint, and the child rights representative can also initiate an investigation.³⁷⁰ If a complaint is received about a guardian, and the investigation shows that the complaint was well founded, the Guardianship Office can call upon the employer of the guardian to take the necessary measure to restore and maintain the lawful situation.³⁷¹

³⁶⁷ EuroChild and SOS Children's Villages International, Let Children Be Children, November 2017, available here, 75.

³⁶⁸ Section 86 Child Protection Act.

³⁶⁹ Practice-based observation of the HHC.

³⁷⁰ Section 11/A(2)(a) Child Protection Act

³⁷¹ Interior Ministry: Child Protection Guardianship, methodological guide, March 2023, available here, p. 89

E. Subsequent applications

Indicators: Subsequent Applications

1. Does the law provide for a specific procedure for subsequent applications? Yes No
2. Is a removal order suspended during the examination of a first subsequent application?
 - ❖ At first instance Yes No
 - ❖ At the appeal stage Yes No
3. Is a removal order suspended during the examination of a second, third, subsequent application?
 - ❖ At first instance Yes No
 - ❖ At the appeal stage Yes No

An application is considered to be a subsequent application when following a final termination or rejection decision on a former application. New circumstances or facts have to be submitted in order for a subsequent application to be admissible.³⁷²

In 2023, 3 subsequent applications were lodged, 2 of them made by Afghan minor asylum-seeker boys.³⁷³ In 2024, 1 subsequent application was lodged.³⁷⁴ In 2025, 4 subsequent applications were lodged.³⁷⁵

Submitting a subsequent application carries a series of consequences for the applicant:

- (a) New facts or circumstances have to be presented in order for the application to be admissible;³⁷⁶
- (b) Admissible subsequent applications are examined in an accelerated procedure (see Accelerated Procedure);³⁷⁷
- (c) The court hearing of subsequent applicants who are detained can be dispensed with if their subsequent application is based on the same factual grounds as the previous one;³⁷⁸
- (d) The NDGAP interview can be dispensed with if a person failed to state facts or to provide proofs that would allow recognition as a refugee or beneficiary of subsidiary protection in the subsequent application;³⁷⁹
- (e) If a person submits a subsequent application just before the execution of their expulsion, and the application is rejected as inadmissible (i.e., no new facts or evidence were presented), then the person does not have a right to remain on the territory anymore and no right to accommodation, to aid and support, and to undertake employment following the inadmissible decision.³⁸⁰ An appeal in such cases does not have a suspensive effect;³⁸¹
- (f) Judicial review of rejected subsequent applications does not have a suspensive effect (see Accelerated Procedure);³⁸²
- (g) The amendments that entered into force on 1 January 2018 provided that subsequent procedures are no longer free of charge. As a general rule, applicants in repeat procedures are granted an exemption from paying any costs incurred during the procedure (e.g. related to expert opinions), but applicants having adequate financial resources may be required to pay such fees. This is decided on a case-by-case basis by the NDGAP based on the personal circumstances of the applicants, and a standalone legal remedy is available against the interim decision of the NDGAP.³⁸³
- (h) If a person submits a second subsequent application, when the first subsequent application was rejected by a final decision, they shall not be entitled to exercise the right to stay on the territory, ³⁷² Section 51(2)(d) Asylum Act.

³⁷³ Information received from the NDGAP by the HHC on 19 February 2024.

³⁷⁴ Information received from the NDGAP by the HHC on 20 February 2025.

³⁷⁵ Information received from the NDGAP by the HHC to the quarterly data requests.

³⁷⁶ Section 51(2)(d) Asylum Act.

³⁷⁷ Section 51(7)(f) Asylum Act.

³⁷⁸ Section 68(3) Asylum Act.

³⁷⁹ Section 43(2)(b) Asylum Act.

³⁸⁰ Section 54(2) Asylum Act.

³⁸¹ Section 54(4) Asylum Act.

³⁸² Section 53(6) Asylum Act.

³⁸³ Section 34 Asylum Act.

to aid, support and accommodation and to undertake employment.³⁸⁴ An appeal in such cases does not have a suspensive effect.³⁸⁵

There is no time limit to submit a subsequent application or an explicit limitation on the number of asylum applications that may be lodged in the same case.

Not much guidance is provided by the Asylum Act as to what can be considered as new elements. Section 86 of the Asylum Decree only stipulates that the refugee authority shall primarily assess whether the person seeking recognition was able to substantiate any new facts or circumstances as grounds for recognition of the applicant as a refugee or as a beneficiary of subsidiary protection. The existence or not of new facts or circumstances is determined in the admissibility procedure.

Given the lack of clear and publicly available guidelines, the NDGAP may interpret the concept of 'new facts or circumstances' in a restrictive and arbitrary way. Examples of such arbitrary interpretation occurred in 2019. For example, an Afghan family received an inadmissible decision, based on Serbia being a 'safe transit country' and the court confirmed the decision. However, Serbia then explicitly refused to take back the applicants. The NDGAP refused to continue examining their application on the merits but instead changed their expulsion order from Serbia to Afghanistan. The applicants submitted another request for asylum, but the NDGAP rejected it as an inadmissible subsequent application, since according to the NDGAP no new facts were provided. Refusal of Serbia to admit the applicants was not considered to be a new fact by the NDGAP. The decision was quashed by the Metropolitan Court who explicitly stated that this is an inappropriate use of the rules on subsequent procedures.³⁸⁶

F. The safe country concepts

Indicators: Safe Country Concepts

- | | | |
|--|---|-----------------------------|
| 1. Does national legislation allow for the use of 'safe country of origin' concept? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Is there a national list of safe countries of origin? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Is the safe country of origin concept used in practice? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 2. Does national legislation allow for the use of 'safe third country' concept? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Is the safe third country concept used in practice? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 3. Does national legislation allow for the use of 'first country of asylum' concept? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |

1. Safe country of origin

Section 2(h) of the Asylum Act explains a 'safe country of origin' as a country included in a list of countries approved by the Council of the EU or 'the national list stipulated by a Government Decree', or part of such a country.

The presence of a country in such a list is 'a rebuttable presumption with regard to the applicant according to which no persecution is experienced in general and systematically in that country or in a part of that country, no torture, cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment is applied, and an efficient system of legal remedy is in place to address any injury of such rights or freedoms.'

If the applicant's country of origin is regarded as 'safe', the application will be channelled into the accelerated procedure (see Accelerated Procedure).³⁸⁷ In the event of applying the accelerated procedure to an applicant originating from a safe country of origin, the applicant, when this fact is communicated to them, can declare immediately but within 3 days at the latest why in their individual ³⁸⁴ Section 54(3) Asylum Act.

³⁸⁵ Section 54(4) Asylum Act.

³⁸⁶ Metropolitan Court, 15.K.31.737/2019/17, 2 December 2019.

³⁸⁷ Section 59(1) Asylum Act.

case, the specific country does not qualify as a safe country of origin.³⁸⁸ Where the safe country of origin fails to readmit the applicant, the refugee authority shall withdraw its decision and continue the procedure.³⁸⁹

In July 2015, Hungary amended its asylum legislation in various aspects and adopted a National List of Safe Countries of Origin,³⁹⁰ which are the following:

- | | |
|--|----------------------|
| ❖ EU Member States | ❖ Switzerland |
| ❖ EU candidate countries | ❖ Bosnia-Herzegovina |
| ❖ Member States of the European Economic Area | ❖ Kosovo |
| ❖ US States that do not have the death penalty | ❖ Canada |
| | ❖ Australia |
| | ❖ New Zealand |

In 2018, the former Prime Minister of North Macedonia, Nikola Gruevski, was granted refugee status in an extremely rapid procedure within a few working days, despite his country of origin being a candidate country to the EU.³⁹¹ The decision was met with heavy criticism by the HHC.³⁹²

In 2024, a Polish opposition politician, Mr. Romanovski, was granted refugee status by the Minister in charge of immigration. According to the Section 7(4) of the Asylum Act, in the absence of the conditions for granting refugee status, refugee status can nonetheless be granted under special and equitable circumstances to an alien where this is necessary on humanitarian grounds, insofar as there are no grounds for exclusion of the alien from refugee protection. On 23 December 2025, Hungary informed the EU Council that it had given refugee status to two additional Polish citizens, without giving any further details, and without naming the newly accepted refugees.³⁹³

This ground is not often applied in practice.

2. Safe third country

According to Section 2(i) of the Asylum Act, a safe third country is defined as:

‘[A]ny country in connection to which the refugee authority has ascertained that the applicant is treated in line with the following principles:

- (a) his/her life and liberty are not jeopardised for racial or religious reasons or on account of his/her ethnicity/nationality, membership of a social group or political conviction and the applicant is not exposed to the risk of serious harm;
- (b) the principle of non-refoulement is observed in accordance with the Geneva Convention;
- (c) the rule of international law, according to which the applicant may not be expelled to the territory of a country where s/he would be exposed to death penalty, torture, cruel, inhuman or degrading treatment or punishment, is recognised and applied, and
- (d) the option to apply for recognition as a refugee is ensured, and in the event of recognition as a refugee, protection in conformance of the Geneva Convention is guaranteed.’

³⁸⁸ Section 51(11) Asylum Act.

³⁸⁹ Section 51/A Asylum Act.

³⁹⁰ Government Decree 191/2015 (VII. 21.) on the national list of safe countries of origin and safe third countries. The original list did not include Turkey, but the country was inserted as of 1 April 2016.

³⁹¹ Euronews, Fugitive ex-FYROM prime minister Gruevski granted asylum in Hungary, 20 November 2018, available here. The Guardian, ‘Anti-asylum Orbán makes exception for a friend in need’, 20 November 2018, available here.

³⁹² HHC, Mi a helyzet a volt macedón kormányfő itteni menedékjogi eljárásával?, 13 November 2018, available in Hungarian here. Egyre több a kérdőjel Gruevszki menedékkérérelme körül, 15 November 2018, available in Hungarian here.

³⁹³ See here.

Section 51(2)(e) provides that an application is inadmissible ‘if there exists a country in connection with the applicant which qualifies as a safe third country for him or her.’

2.1 Connection criteria

The ‘safe third country’ concept may only be applied as an inadmissibility ground where the applicant (a) stayed or (b) travelled there and had the opportunity to request effective protection; (c) has relatives there and may enter the territory of the country; or (d) has been requested for extradition by a safe third country.³⁹⁴ In practice, according to the HHC experience, transit or stay is a sufficient connection, even in cases where a person was smuggled through and did not know the country at all.

2.2 Procedural guarantees

In the event of applying the ‘safe third country’ concept, the applicant, when this fact is communicated to them, can declare immediately but within 3 days at the latest why in their individual case, the specific country does not qualify as a safe third country.³⁹⁵ The law does not specify in which format and language this information should be communicated to the applicant, if an interpreter should be made available, or if a written record should be prepared. The law does not specify the format or language, the availability of interpreters, and the preparation of a written record pertaining to applicants’ ‘declaration’. No mandatory, free-of-charge legal assistance is foreseen for this process, however if the applicants request the assistance of HHC attorneys in time, then HHC attorneys are able to assist their clients with these submissions.

In case the application is declared inadmissible on safe third country grounds, the NDGAP shall issue a certificate in the official language of that third country to the applicant that their application for asylum was not assessed on the merits.³⁹⁶ In HHC’s experience, this guarantee has so far always been respected in practice.

Where the safe third country fails to take back the applicant, the refugee authority shall withdraw its decision and continue the procedure.³⁹⁷ This provision is not respected in practice. Since 15 September 2015, Serbia generally does not take back third-country nationals under the readmission agreement except for those who hold valid travel/identity documents and are exempted from Serbian visa requirements. Therefore, official returns to Serbia have not been possible. Despite this fact, inadmissibility decisions with regard to Serbia as a safe third country were still issued. What is more, in a case that resulted in a preliminary reference to CJEU,³⁹⁸ regarding the ‘hybrid’ safe third country ground (see section on ‘Hybrid’ safe third country / first country of asylum) and in which the CJEU ruled that the ‘hybrid’ safe third country ground is against EU law, the NDGAP after the CJEU judgement issued another inadmissible decision, this time based on a safe third country ground with regard to Serbia, despite the fact that Serbia had already explicitly refused to readmit the applicants. In 2021, Serbia did accept some third-country nationals back under the readmission agreement, but it seems that this occurred arbitrarily, and only in few cases.³⁹⁹ In 2024, Serbia accepted back 17 persons (3 Chinese, 13 Serbians and 1 Turkish citizen). The Hungarian authorities only requested the application of readmission agreement for these three nationalities.⁴⁰⁰ In 2025, the Hungarian authorities requested the application of the readmission agreement in 1,753 cases, regarding the following nationals: Albanians, Azeris, Bosnians, Chinese, Georgians, Kazak, Kosovars, Macedonians, Montenegrins, Russians, Serbians and Turkish. They were all readmitted by Serbia.⁴⁰¹ Except for some Turkish citizens, the readmission requests do not concern nationalities that were pushed back.

³⁹⁴ Section 51(4) Asylum Act.

³⁹⁵ Section 51(11) Asylum Act.

³⁹⁶ Section 51(6) Asylum Act.

³⁹⁷ Section 51/A Asylum Act.

³⁹⁸ CJEU, joint cases C-924/19 and C-925/19 PPU, 14 May 2020.

³⁹⁹ HHC’s meeting with Serbian border guards, June 2021.

⁴⁰⁰ Information provided by the Police, 19 February 2025.

⁴⁰¹ Information provided by the Police, 9 March 2026.

2.3 The list of safe third countries

In July 2015, Hungary amended its asylum legislation in various aspects and adopted a National List of Safe Third Countries.⁴⁰² The following countries are currently considered safe third countries:

- ❖ EU Member States
- ❖ EU candidate countries
- ❖ Member States of the European Economic Area
- ❖ US Federal States that do not have the death penalty
- ❖ Switzerland
- ❖ Bosnia-Herzegovina
- ❖ Kosovo
- ❖ Canada
- ❖ Australia
- ❖ New Zealand

The former IAO issued inadmissibility decisions based on Serbia being a safe third country also to vulnerable applicants, for example transgender persons from Cuba, disabled or single women victims of sexual and gender-based violence. They did so in the case of an extremely vulnerable single woman from Cameroon, who was a victim of trafficking in Serbia, held in hostage and raped several times. The HHC obtained an interim measure from the UN Human Rights Committee,⁴⁰³ and after that her case was finally decided on the merits, UNHRC decided the case to be inadmissible, since the applicant was no longer at risk of being sent back to Serbia. Regrettably, the Human Rights Committee did not take into account the fact that the applicant was able to get protection in Hungary only due to the interim measure issued and, therefore, there was clearly a violation of Article 13 of the International Covenant on Civil and Political Rights – right to an effective domestic remedy.

On 14 March 2017, the ECtHR issued a judgment in the *Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary*⁴⁰⁴ case and found a violation of Article 3 of ECHR in respect of the applicants' return to Serbia based on safe third country grounds, because of the exposure to the risk of chain-refoulement to North Macedonia and onwards. The Court stated that the Hungarian authorities had failed to carry out an individual assessment of each applicant's case, did not take their share of the burden of proof and placed the applicants in a position where they were not able to rebut the presumption of safety, since the Government's arguments remained confined to the 'schematic reference' to the inclusion of Serbia in the national list of safe countries. The Court emphasised that relying on the Decree is not a sufficient reason to consider a country a safe third country and that the ratification of the 1951 Refugee Convention is not a sufficient condition to qualify a country as safe. The government appealed against the judgement and the Grand Chamber of the ECtHR delivered its judgement on 21 November 2019 and confirmed the violation of Article 3 with regard to the applicants' return to Serbia.⁴⁰⁵

However, the execution of the judgement remains problematic. The Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe has issued six decisions on the execution of the judgement.⁴⁰⁶ At its meeting, on 21 September 2023, the Committee adopted an interim resolution, where they strongly urged the authorities to intensify their efforts in reforming the asylum system in order to afford effective access to means of legal entry; exhorted the authorities to terminate, without further delay, the practice of removing asylum-seekers to Serbia pursuant to section 5 of the State Borders Act without their identification or examination of their individual situation and reiterated its call on the authorities to introduce an effective remedy providing a person alleging that their expulsion procedure is "collective" in nature with an effective possibility of challenging the expulsion decision by having a sufficiently thorough examination of their complaints ⁴⁰² Government Decree 191/2015 (VII. 21.) on the national list of safe countries of origin and safe third countries. The original list did not include Turkey, but the country was inserted as of 1 April 2016.

⁴⁰³ Human Rights Committee, Communication No 2768/2015.

⁴⁰⁴ ECtHR, Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary, Application No. 47287/15, Judgment of 14 March 2017, EDAL, available here.

⁴⁰⁵ ECtHR, Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary, Application No. 47287/15, Judgment of November 2019, EDAL, available here.

⁴⁰⁶ Decisions in June 2021, November-December 2021, September 2022 and September 2023. Council of Europe, H46-17 Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary (Application No. 47287/15), Supervision of the execution of the European Court's judgments, available here.

carried out by an independent and impartial domestic forum, in line with the Court's case-law.⁴⁰⁷ At their meeting from 17 to 19 September 2024, the Committee again called on the authorities to ensure that, before the removal of any asylum-seeker from Hungary to Serbia, a thorough and up-to-date assessment is carried out in every case of whether they would have access to an adequate asylum procedure in Serbia and if the principle of non-refoulement is respected.⁴⁰⁸ The same was reiterated at their latest meeting from 15 to 17 September 2025.⁴⁰⁹

2.4 Use of the safe third country ground

In 2017, the former IAO stopped issuing inadmissibility decisions based on safe third country grounds. The reasons for the change in practice are not known but can be potentially attributed to the Ilias and Ahmed judgment. In 2019, inadmissibility decisions based on safe third country grounds were not issued either, as inadmissibility under the Hybrid ground became the norm. In 2020 the HHC is aware of one case in which the NDGAP again used the safe third country ground in an inadmissibility decision. According to the HHC's information, no inadmissibility decision based on the safe-third country grounds was issued in 2021 nor in 2022. The NDGAP did not provide the requested information for 2021 nor for 2022 or 2023.⁴¹⁰ No such decision was issued in 2024 nor 2025.⁴¹¹

3. First country of asylum

Under Section 51(2)(c) of the Asylum Act, the 'first country of asylum' concerns cases where 'the applicant was recognised by a third country as a refugee, provided that this protection exists at the time of the assessment of the application and the third country in question is prepared to admit the applicant'. The 'first country of asylum' is a ground for inadmissibility but has not been applied as such until now. There is no further legislative guidance on this concept. The criteria listed in Article 38(1) of the recast Asylum Procedures Directive are not applied.

4. 'Hybrid' safe third country / first country of asylum

A new inadmissibility ground, a hybrid of the concepts of 'safe third country' and 'first country of asylum', was in effect from 1 July 2018⁴¹² to 1 January 2023. Once an asylum application was lodged, the authorities systematically denied international protection to those who had arrived via Serbia, declaring these applications inadmissible under the new rules.⁴¹³ The applicant could rebut the NDGAP's presumption of inadmissibility in 3 days, after which the NDGAP would deliver a decision.⁴¹⁴ In case the NDGAP decided the application is inadmissible, it also ordered the applicant's expulsion, launching an alien policing procedure.

This inadmissibility ground was not compatible with current EU law as it arbitrarily mixes rules pertaining to inadmissibility based on the concept of 'safe third country' and that of 'first country of asylum'. Article 33(2) of the recast Asylum Procedures Directive provides an exhaustive list of inadmissibility grounds, which does not include such a hybrid form. The Metropolitan Administrative and Labour Court turned to the CJEU, requesting a preliminary ruling on whether the July 2018 amendments to the Asylum Act violate the EU asylum acquis.⁴¹⁵ On 19 March 2020, the CJEU issued a judgement ruling that the new inadmissibility ground is against EU law, reiterating the stance of the HHC on this matter.⁴¹⁶

⁴⁰⁷ Committee of Ministers, Interim Resolution CM/ResDH(2023)260, Execution of the judgments of the European Court of Human Rights, Ilias and Ahmed group against Hungary, adopted by the Committee of Ministers on 21 September 2023 at the 1475th meeting of the Ministers' Deputies, available here.

⁴⁰⁸ CM/Notes/1507/H46-11, available here.

⁴⁰⁹ CM/Notes/1537/H46-16, available here.

⁴¹⁰ Information not provided by NDGAP on 7 February 2022 and 19 February 2024.

⁴¹¹ Information provided by NDGAP on 20 February 2025 and 5 March 2025.

⁴¹² Section 51(2)(f), and newly introduced Section 51(12) Asylum Act.

⁴¹³ FRA, Periodic data collection on the migration situation in the EU, November 2018, available here.

⁴¹⁴ Section 51(12) Asylum Act.

⁴¹⁵ CJEU, Case C-564/18 LH, Reference of 7 September 2018.

⁴¹⁶ CJEU, C-564/18, 19 March 2020, LH v Bevándorlási és Menekültügyi Hivatal, available here.

Serbia has not readmitted any third-country national who does not have a valid visa or residence permit to stay in Serbia since October 2015, therefore the application of this inadmissibility ground was clearly malevolent.

The NDGAP did not examine whether Serbia would be willing to readmit the applicant before issuing an inadmissibility decision based on this hybrid ground, despite this being a condition for a country to be considered a first country of asylum, according to Article 35 of the recast Asylum Procedures Directive. In all final inadmissibility cases based on the hybrid of the concepts of safe third country and first country of asylum, the NDGAP would not withdraw its inadmissibility decision despite the fact that Serbia officially refused to admit the applicants back. Instead, the NDGAP's alien policing department began an arbitrary practice of modifying internally the expulsion order issued by the NDGAP's asylum department by changing the destination country from Serbia to the country of origin of the applicants. Against such internal modification no effective legal remedy is available under domestic legislation. This means that Hungary not only automatically rejected all asylum claims, but it also expelled asylum seekers to their countries of origin (such as Afghanistan) without ever assessing their protection claims in substance⁴¹⁷ According to the TCN Act, such modification of an expulsion order cannot be challenged at the court, however the HHC submitted an appeal and the Szeged Administrative and Labour court accepted it and referred a preliminary reference to the CJEU. On 14 May 2020, the CJEU issued a judgement,⁴¹⁸ in which it ruled among other things that this inadmissibility ground is unlawful, that asylum-seekers have a right to continue their asylum procedures once a third country refuses to take them back and that the lack of judicial oversight over the immigration authority's arbitrary decisions on changing the destination of expulsion breaches the right to an effective remedy.⁴¹⁹

G. Information for asylum seekers and access to NGOs and UNHCR

1. Provision on information on the procedure

Indicators: Information on the Procedure

1. Is sufficient information provided to asylum seekers on the procedures, their rights and obligations in practice? Yes With difficulty No

❖ Is tailored information provided to unaccompanied children? Yes No

The NDGAP is obliged to provide written information to the asylum seeker upon submission of the application. The information concerns the applicant's rights and obligations in the procedure and the consequences of violating these obligations.⁴²⁰ As people submitting a statement of intent at the Embassy are not yet considered asylum seekers and there is no specific obligation to provide them with information. The only information available can be accessed on the NDGAP website.⁴²¹

Asylum seekers, who want to apply for asylum in Hungary, but do not fall under the exceptions from the Embassy procedure, would receive information about the Embassy procedure from the NDGAP.

Asylum seekers also receive information about the Dublin III Regulation. The level of understanding of the information varies a lot amongst asylum seekers, and in some instances the functioning of the Dublin III system is too complicated to comprehend. Leaflets created by the Commission are often used in practice.⁴²² ⁴¹⁷ HHC, One year after. How legal changes resulted in blanket rejections, refoulement and systemic starvation in detention, 1 July 2019, available here.

⁴¹⁸ CJEU, joint cases C-924/19 and C-925/19 PPU, 14 May 2020, available here.

⁴¹⁹ For further information, see previous updates of this report here.

⁴²⁰ Section 37 Asylum Act.

⁴²¹ See here.

⁴²² Practice-based observation by the HHC, January 2024.

The asylum seeker is informed about the fact that a Dublin procedure has started, but after that, they are not informed about the different steps in the Dublin procedure, which leads to frustration. Asylum seekers only receive the transfer decision, which includes the grounds for application of the Dublin Regulation and against which they can appeal within 3 days. The NDGAP does not provide a written translation of the Dublin decision, but they do explain it orally in a language that the asylum seeker understands. In the past, some asylum seekers have told the HHC that they were not informed about the possibility to appeal the Dublin decision when they were given the decision. Due to the fact that such cases were not encountered since 2022, the authors of this report are not able to provide further up to date information.

The main factors that render access to information difficult are:

- (a) untimely provision of the information enabling asylum seekers to make an informed choice;
- (b) language barriers;
- (c) illiteracy;
- (d) failure to address specific needs of asylum seekers, e.g. by using child- and disability-friendly communication; and
- (e) highly complex and technical wording of official information material.⁴²³

Frequently, information is not provided in user-friendly language, and written communication is the main means of information provision, although it has been shown to be less effective than video material. The HHC's experience shows that alternative sources of information are rarely used in practice.

2. Access to NGOs and UNHCR

Indicators: Access to NGOs and UNHCR

1. Do asylum seekers located at the border have effective access to NGOs and UNHCR if they wish so in practice? Not applicable
2. Do asylum seekers in detention centres have effective access to NGOs and UNHCR if they wish so in practice? Yes With difficulty No
3. Do asylum seekers accommodated in remote locations on the territory (excluding borders) have effective access to NGOs and UNHCR if they wish so in practice? Yes With difficulty No

In the summer of 2017, the authorities terminated their cooperation agreements with the HHC and denied them access to police detention, prisons and immigration detention after two decades of cooperation and over 2,000 visits. The HHC can no longer monitor human rights in places of deprivation of liberty, even though NGOs' access to police, prison and immigration detention reduces the risk of torture and other forms of ill-treatment and contributes to improving detention conditions.⁴²⁴ Regarding the access of HHC lawyers for the purpose to provide legal aid, see Regular Procedure: Legal Assistance.

In 2025, Mendék Association re-gained access to the asylum detention facility in Nyírbator. In 2025, their social worker regularly visited the facility.

On 10 February 2020, the CRC published its concluding observations on Hungary, finding it worrying that NGOs were excluded from consultation and could not conduct activities in a free environment, including NGOs working on asylum and detention.⁴²⁵

⁴²³ See also the highly technical language used in NDGAP's website on the asylum procedure, available here, and Dublin, available here.

⁴²⁴ HHC, National authorities terminated cooperation agreements with the Hungarian Helsinki Committee, available here.

⁴²⁵ CRC, Concluding observations on the sixth periodic report of Hungary, 3 March 2020, CRC/C/HUN/CO/6*, available here, para. 14.

The case of European Commission v. Hungary (C-78/18) on the so called 'Lex NGO'⁴²⁶ is important because the restrictions imposed by Hungary on the financing of civil society organisations has an impact on national organisations working in the field of asylum. The CJEU held that Hungary had introduced discriminatory and unjustified restrictions on civil society organisations and on individuals providing them support by imposing obligations of registration and declarations and by publishing information on civil society organisations which directly or indirectly receive support from abroad. Hungary also provided for the possibility to issue penalties to the organisations that did not comply with the obligations. The measures do not comply with the free movement of capital laid down in the TFEU, Article 63 and the EU Charter, Article 7 (the right to private and family life), Article 8 (protection of personal data) and Article 12 (right to freedom of Association).⁴²⁷

In the summer of 2018, Hungary passed legislation criminalising otherwise legal activities aimed at assisting asylum seekers, the so-called 'Stop Soros' law. Preparing or distributing information materials or commissioning such activities to:

- a) allow the initiating of an asylum procedure in Hungary by a person who in their country of origin or in the country of their habitual residence or another country via which they had arrived, was not subjected to persecution for reasons of race, nationality, membership of a particular social group, religion or political opinion, or their fear of indirect persecution is not well-founded,
- b) or for the person entering Hungary illegally or residing in Hungary illegally, to obtain a residence permit, became a crime, which is punished by custodial arrest or, in aggravated circumstances, imprisonment up to one year (e.g., in case of material support to irregular migrants, organisations or individuals operating within the 8 km zone near the border; or providing assistance on a regular basis).⁴²⁸

On 25 July 2019, the European Commission decided to refer Hungary to the CJEU concerning legislation criminalising activities in support of asylum applications and further restricts the right to request asylum.⁴²⁹ On 16 November 2021, the CJEU issued a judgment in case C-821/19.⁴³⁰ It ruled that the 2018 'Stop Soros' law breaches EU law. Threatening people with imprisonment who assist asylum-seekers to claim asylum violates EU norms. No criminal procedures were started based on this law.

Three NGOs brought cases before the ECtHR concerning 'Stop Soros' legislation and the cases have been communicated in 2024.⁴³¹

On 7 December 2022, the Hungarian Parliament amended the Stop Soros law in a last-minute amendment that was introduced through a parliamentary super committee to an unrelated omnibus bill.⁴³² The changes entered into force on 1 January 2023. In the HHC's view, the amendments fail to implement the CJEU's judgment. The general criminalisation of assistance was replaced by a new, vaguely defined criminal activity that jeopardises the attorney-client privilege, and in the case of non-attorney helpers, forces them to sacrifice the applicant's best interests to protect themselves from potential prosecution.⁴³³ The HHC is the only NGO that provides free legal aid and representation for asylum seekers in Hungary. Menedék Association provides social assistance and integration support to asylum seekers, Cordelia

⁴²⁶ Law No LXXVI of 2017 on the Transparency of Organisations which receive Support from Abroad.

⁴²⁷ EASO, EASO Asylum Report 2021, available here, 58.

⁴²⁸ HHC, Criminalisation and Taxation – The summary of legal amendments adopted in the summer of 2018 to intimidate human rights defenders in Hungary, 25 September 2018, available here.

⁴²⁹ EC, 'Commission takes Hungary to Court for criminalising activities in support of asylum seekers and opens new infringement for non-provision of food in transit zones', 25 July 2019, available here.

⁴³⁰ CJEU, Judgment in Case C-821/19 Commission v Hungary (Criminalisation of assistance to asylum seekers), PRESS RELEASE No 203/21, 16 November 2021, available here.

⁴³¹ ECtHR, Amnesty International Hungary v. Hungary, Application No. 42086/19, available here; Hungarian Helsinki Committee v. Hungary, Application No. 44253/19, available here and The Open Society Institute Budapest Foundation v. Hungary, Application No. 44928/19, available here.

⁴³² Bill T/1837.

⁴³³ HHC, Criminalisation continues – Hungary fails to implement CJEU judgment, 21 December 2022, here.

Foundation is specialised in providing psychosocial counselling to asylum seekers and the Jesuit Refugee Service provides programmes for children in Fót.

H. Differential treatment of specific nationalities in the procedure

Indicators: Treatment of Specific Nationalities

1. Are applications from specific nationalities considered manifestly well-founded? Yes No
❖ If yes, specify which:
2. Are applications from specific nationalities considered manifestly unfounded?⁴³⁴ Yes No
❖ If yes, specify which:

EEA countries, EU candidate countries, Albania, Bosnia-Herzegovina, North Macedonia, Kosovo, Montenegro, Serbia, Canada, Australia, New Zealand, US states which do not have the death penalty

There is a national list of safe countries of origin (see section on Safe Country of Origin).

Hungary accepted approximately 300 refugees from Venezuela in 2018 and almost 500 Afghans in August 2021 through special programmes, giving them residence permits and not using asylum procedure (see Legal access to the territory).

⁴³⁴ Whether under the “safe country of origin” concept or otherwise.

Reception Conditions

Short description of the reception system

From March 2017 until 21 May 2020 the main form of reception was detention, carried out in the transit zones. Following the FMS and Others judgment,⁴³⁵ open reception centres gained back their role for a short period of time, when all the 280 asylum seekers detained in transit zones were transferred to one of the open reception facilities. However, by the end of July the number of residents in Vámosszabadi and Balassagyarmat had significantly decreased. After the entry into force of the new 'Embassy procedure', only 12 new applicants entered Hungary in 2020 and 2021 and were subsequently placed in Vámosszabadi. In 2023 there were no asylum seekers in Vámosszabadi during the whole year, only 2 persons with temporary protection. On 31 December 2023, there were 2 asylum seekers accommodated in Balassagyarmat. In 2024, there was only one asylum seeker, who was entitled to accommodation, but not to any benefits (subsequent asylum application), initially accommodated in Vámosszabadi and was moved to Balassagyarmat within a month. On 31 December 2024, there were 13 people accommodated in Balassagyarmat, out of which 4 were asylum seekers.⁴³⁶ On 31 December 2025, there were 22 people accommodated in Balassagyarmat, out of which 7 had subsidiary protection and 14 were asylum seekers. No one was accommodated in Vámosszabadi.⁴³⁷

All in all, due to the low number of asylum seekers, the role of open reception centres remained limited in the Hungarian asylum system.

A. Access and forms of reception conditions

1. Criteria and restrictions to access reception conditions

Indicators: Criteria and Restrictions to Reception Conditions

- Does the law allow for access to material reception conditions for asylum seekers in the following stages of the asylum procedure?

❖ Regular procedure	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Reduced material conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> No
❖ Dublin procedure	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Reduced material conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> No
❖ Admissibility procedure	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Reduced material conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> No
❖ Border procedure	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Reduced material conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> No
❖ Accelerated procedure	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Reduced material conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> No
❖ Appeal	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Reduced material conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> No
❖ Subsequent application	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Reduced material conditions	<input type="checkbox"/> No
- Is there a requirement in the law that only asylum seekers who lack resources are entitled to material reception conditions?

<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> No
---	-----------------------------

Pursuant to Section 26(1) of the Asylum Act, 'reception conditions include material reception conditions, and all entitlements and measures defined in an act of parliament or government decree relating to the freedom of movement of persons seeking asylum, as well as health care, social welfare and the education provided to asylum seekers.'

According to the Asylum Act, asylum seekers who are first-time applicants are entitled to material reception conditions and other aid to ensure an adequate standard of living as regards the health of asylum-seekers until the end of the asylum procedure,⁴³⁸ i.e., until their appeal has been definitively ruled upon. UaSC, beneficiaries of subsidiary protection, family members of refugees or subsidiary protection

⁴³⁵ CJEU, Joined Cases C-924/19 PPU and C-925/19 PPU, FMS and Others v Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság Dél-alföldi Regionális Igazgatóság and Országos Idegenrendészeti Főigazgatóság, 14 May 2020.

⁴³⁶ Information provided by the NDGAP on 20 February 2025.

⁴³⁷ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁴³⁸ Section 27 Asylum Act.

beneficiaries and those subject to forced measures or punishment affecting personal liberty, who are allowed to lodge their asylum application from within the country in accordance with the rules laid down by the Act L of 2025 (see the section on Embassy procedure), are subject to material conditions provided by the Asylum Act (in case of the fourth category of applicants it is reduced as the applicant is held in a detention facility). Asylum seekers who arrive to Hungary via the Embassy procedure are also eligible for reception conditions and after their asylum application is registered.

Until 21 May 2020 though, first-time asylum seekers without lawful Hungarian residence or visa were accommodated exclusively in one of the transit zones immediately after claiming asylum, where they were entitled only to reduced material conditions.⁴³⁹ Asylum seekers who entered the transit zones could no longer request to stay in private accommodation at their own cost on account of the existent state of crisis due to mass migration.⁴⁴⁰

Asylum seekers who had been residing lawfully in the country at the time of submitting their asylum application and who did not ask to be placed in a reception centre had the right to request private accommodation as their designated place to stay during the asylum procedure.⁴⁴¹

Only those asylum seekers who are deemed destitute are entitled to material reception conditions free of charge.⁴⁴² According to the Asylum Decree, upon submission of the asylum application, the asylum seeker also declares their assets and income.⁴⁴³ An asylum seeker is deemed destitute if, taking into account the financial situation of their spouse and direct relative, they do not have an asset in Hungary providing for their living, and their total income does not surpass the amount of the social projection base.⁴⁴⁴ If an asylum seeker is not destitute, the determining authority may decide to order that the applicant pays for the full or partial costs of material conditions and health care. The level of resources is however, not established in the Asylum Act and applicants must make a statement regarding their financial situation. Presently, this condition does not pose any obstacle to access reception conditions.

2. Forms and levels of material reception conditions

Indicators: Forms and Levels of Material Reception Conditions

1. Amount of the weekly financial allowance/vouchers granted to asylum seekers for hygienic items and food allowance in Vámoszabadi and Balassagyarmat (in original currency and €):

❖ Single adults / Children above age of 3:	N/A
❖ Pregnant women, women with child below age of 3:	N/A

The Asylum Decree determines the content of reception conditions. Pursuant to Section 26(1) of the Asylum Act, 'reception conditions include material reception conditions, and all entitlements and measures defined in an act of parliament or government decree relating to the freedom of movement of persons seeking asylum, as well as health care, social welfare and the education provided to asylum seekers.' Asylum seekers are entitled to accommodation and care provided at the reception centre, use of travel discounts, and covering the costs of the public burial. They are also entitled to a financial support for permanent departure from the country.⁴⁴⁵

Since 1 April 2016, asylum seekers are not entitled to receive pocket money either. According to the Asylum Decree, asylum seekers residing in reception centres receive:⁴⁴⁶

⁴³⁹ In the context of the right of reply received by ECRE on 25 June 2024, the authorities stated that reception conditions were not reduced. However, HHC highlights that the content of material reception conditions is limited under the state of crisis due to 'mass migration', as described under Forms and levels of material reception conditions.

⁴⁴⁰ Section 80/I(d) Asylum Act.

⁴⁴¹ For further information, see previous updates of this report here.

⁴⁴² Section 26(2) Asylum Act.

⁴⁴³ Section 17(1) Asylum Decree.

⁴⁴⁴ Section 18 Asylum Decree, corrected following the authorities' right of reply to the report received on 25 June 2024.

⁴⁴⁵ Section 15(2) Asylum Decree.

⁴⁴⁶ Section 21 Asylum Decree.

- a) Accommodation;
- b) Three meals per day (breakfast, lunch and dinner) or an equivalent amount of food allowance;
- c) Hygienic and dining items or an equivalent amount of allowance.

In Balassagyarmat over the course of 2023, 2024 and 2025 food and hygienic items were provided in kind.⁴⁴⁷

Cooking was a possibility for residents both in Balassagyarmat and Vámosszabadi. However, in case of in-kind food provision, asylum seekers cannot opt for cooking if they don't have enough financial recourses. In Fót, UaSC can also use the kitchen.

3. Reduction or withdrawal of reception conditions

Indicators: Reduction or Withdrawal of Reception Conditions

1. Does the law provide for the possibility to reduce material reception conditions?
 Yes No
2. Does the legislation provide for the possibility to withdraw material reception conditions?
 Yes No

No decision has been issued on the reduction or the withdrawal of the reception conditions since 2017.⁴⁴⁸

Section 30(1) lays down the grounds for reducing and withdrawing material reception conditions. These include cases where the applicant:

- (a) Leaves the private housing designated for them for an unknown destination, for a period of at least 15 days;
- (b) Deceives the authorities regarding their financial situation and thus unlawfully benefits from reception;
- (c) Lodges a subsequent application with the same factual elements; or
- (d) Does not comply with reporting obligations relating to the asylum procedure, does not supply the required data or information or fails to appear at personal hearings.

Furthermore, the NDGAP may consider sanctions in designating another place of accommodation if the person seeking recognition grossly violates the rules of conduct in force at the designated place of accommodation or manifests seriously violent behaviour.⁴⁴⁹

A decision of reduction or withdrawal is issued by the NDGAP and is based on a consideration of the individual circumstances of the person. The decision contains the reasoning. The reduction can be in the form of retaining the monthly financial allowance. The reduction or the withdrawal should be proportionate to the violation committed and can be ordered for a definite or for an indefinite period of time with the possibility of judicial review.⁴⁵⁰ The Asylum Act furthermore stipulates that emergency health care services must be provided at all times even in the event of the reduction or withdrawal of reception conditions.⁴⁵¹ If circumstances have changed, reception conditions can be provided again. The request for judicial review shall be submitted within 3 days and it does not have an automatic suspensive effect.⁴⁵² The applicant has a right to free legal assistance.

According to Section 39(7) of the Asylum Decree, if asylum seekers turn out to have substantial assets or funds, they will be required to reimburse the NDGAP for the costs of reception.

⁴⁴⁷ Based on the information provided by the NDGAP on 3 March 2021, 7 February 2022, 13 February 2023 and 19 February 2024.

⁴⁴⁸ Information provided by former IAO, 12 February 2018; 12 February 2019 and by the NDGAP on 2 February 2020, 3 March 2021, 7 February 2022, 19 February 2024, 20 February 2025 and 9 March 2026.

⁴⁴⁹ Section 30(2) Asylum Act.

⁴⁵⁰ Section 31 Asylum Act.

⁴⁵¹ Section 30(3) Asylum Act

⁴⁵² Section 31(1) Asylum Act.

Recuperation of financial claims can be ordered by the NDGAP and implemented via the national tax authority.⁴⁵³ According to Section 32/Y(4) of the Asylum Act, the person concerned shall be required to pay a default penalty if they have failed to comply with a payment obligation. There is no independent remedy set out in the law against such an enforcement order issued by the NDGAP, however it can be challenged before the administrative court.⁴⁵⁴ The head of the authority might authorise the instalment payment or the postponement of the payment upon the request of the applicant.⁴⁵⁵ However, recuperation of financial claims has not yet been implemented in practice.⁴⁵⁶

4. Freedom of movement

Indicators: Freedom of Movement

1. Is there a mechanism for the dispersal of applicants across the territory of the country? Yes No
2. Does the law provide for restrictions on freedom of movement? Yes No

There is no mechanism for the dispersal of asylum seekers across the territory of the country, however there are only two reception centres for applicants who are not UaSCs, both in towns close to the Slovakian border. Between March 2017 and 21 May 2020, asylum seekers were primarily held in the transit zones and those who had been exceptionally released from there were placed in open reception centres. At the end of 2023, only 2 asylum seekers were accommodated in Balassagyarmat (Vámosszabadi was empty).⁴⁵⁷ At the end of 2024, 4 asylum seekers were accommodated in Balassagyarmat (Vámosszabadi was empty).⁴⁵⁸ At the end of 2025, 14 asylum seekers were accommodated in Balassagyarmat (Vámosszabadi was empty).⁴⁵⁹

The EUAA reported that Hungary is among the EU Member States that resorted to allocation of asylum applicants according to the procedure they are in. Accordingly, '[A]s a general rule, recognised persons and applicants are accommodated in the reception centre, and those under aliens' proceedings are placed in the community shelter. If necessary, this allocation can be changed, and the profile of the applicant is also taken into account.'⁴⁶⁰

Asylum seekers who are not detained can move freely within the country but may only leave the reception centre where they are accommodated for less than 24 hours unless they notify the authorities in writing about their intention to leave the facility for more than that. In this case, the NDGAP upon the request issues the permission for the asylum seekers. HHC is not aware of any relevant complaints from 2021 - 2025.

Asylum authority might permit asylum seekers to reside at private accommodation upon their request.⁴⁶¹ The only family arriving as a result of the 'Embassy procedure' to Hungary on 1 December 2020 was placed in Vámosszabadi and was quarantined for 10 days. In April and September 2021, altogether 2 Iranian asylum seeker families (8 persons) arrived to Hungary via the Embassy Procedure. At first, they were quarantined in the transit zone and subsequently one family was placed in Vámosszabadi, whereas the other family was accommodated in Balassagyarmat. No one arrived via Embassy procedure in 2022, 2023, 2024, or in 2025.

Due to the fact that people who are under compulsory place of stay can actually apply for asylum, there are currently some asylum seekers, who live at a private address, but their freedom of movement is ⁴⁵³ Section 32/Y Asylum Act.

⁴⁵⁴ Section 32/Y(1) Asylum Act.

⁴⁵⁵ Section 32(Y)(12) Asylum Act.

⁴⁵⁶ Practice-informed observation by the HCC, January 2025.

⁴⁵⁷ Information provided by the NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

⁴⁵⁸ Information provided by the NDGAP on 20 February 2025.

⁴⁵⁹ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁴⁶⁰ EUAA, Overview of the organisation of reception systems in EU+ countries, Situational Update Issue No 8, 13 January 2022, here, 14.

⁴⁶¹ Section 48 Asylum Act.

restricted (e.g., they can leave the house between 8-11 am). Persons who are under immigration procedure and got compulsory placement of stay in Balassagyarmat can also apply for asylum and their freedom of movement is also restricted.

B. Housing

1. Types of accommodation

Indicators: Types of Accommodation
1. Number of reception centres: ⁴⁶²	3
2. Total number of places in the reception centres:	480
3. Total number of places in private accommodation:	Not available
4. Type of accommodation most frequently used in a regular procedure:	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Reception centre <input type="checkbox"/> Hotel <input type="checkbox"/> Emergency shelter <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Private housing <input type="checkbox"/> Transit zone
5. Type of accommodation most frequently used in an accelerated procedure:	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Reception centre <input type="checkbox"/> Hotel <input type="checkbox"/> Emergency shelter <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Private housing <input type="checkbox"/> Transit zone

On 31 December 2025, there were 2 open reception centres and 1 home for UaSC in Hungary.

The reception centres are:

Reception Centre	Location	Maximum capacity	Occupancy at end of 2025
Balassagyarmat	Near Slovakian border	140	22 (amongst them 7 with subsidiary protection and 14 asylum seekers)
Vámoszabadi	Near Slovakian border	210	0
Fót	Near Budapest	130	29 (5 with int. protection status in the aftercare, 15 with international protection status and 14 with temporary protection status)
Total		480	51

Source: NDGAP and Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection.

Balassagyarmat is a community shelter with a maximum capacity of 140 places for asylum seekers, beneficiaries of international protection, persons tolerated to stay, persons under immigration procedure and foreigners having been held for 12 months in immigration detention. NDGAP provided only an aggregated number of people placed there regarding 2022 (163 persons)⁴⁶³ and 2023, (48 persons)⁴⁶⁴ but such number was not provided for 2024 nor for 2025.

Vámoszabadi Reception Centre is located outside of Vámoszabadi, close to the Slovakian border. It is a three-storey-high pre-manufactured building, which used to serve as one of the barracks of the Soviet troops stationed in Hungary.⁴⁶⁵ The centre hosts primary asylum seekers. No asylum seeker was placed ⁴⁶² Both permanent and for first arrivals.

⁴⁶³ Information provided by the NDGAP on 13 February 2023.

⁴⁶⁴ Information provided by the NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

⁴⁶⁵ Cited from the report published by HHC, Safety Net Torn Apart – Gender-based vulnerabilities in the Hungarian asylum system, 26 June 2018, available here.

in Vámoszabadi in 2022 or in 2023 and one asylum seeker in a subsequent asylum procedure was placed there in 2024. No one was placed there in 2025.⁴⁶⁶

The centres are managed by the asylum authority.⁴⁶⁷ Since 2019, the reception facilities and detention centres fall under the exclusive management and supervision of the central Refugee Affairs Directorate of the NDGAP.⁴⁶⁸

Unaccompanied and separated children are accommodated in Fót. The Károlyi Istvány Children's Home in Fót is a home for UaSC located in the North of Budapest and belongs to the Ministry of Human Resources. Its maximum capacity is 130 children.⁴⁶⁹ Prior to 21 May 2020 children above the age of fourteen were detained in the transit zones (as detailed in Detention of vulnerable applicants).

Fót hosts UaSCs whose asylum procedure is still ongoing, recipients of refugee status, subsidiary protection and tolerated status, as well as those who are under the effect of an alien policing procedure. The Children's Home's closure was announced in 2016, however it remains open. The children and staff are constantly kept in the dark about the future of the Children's Home and any possible plans for the future.

On 31 December 2023, there were 3 unaccompanied asylum seekers present, 3 with international protection status, 3 with temporary protection status and 15 with international protection and 2 with temporary protection status in the aftercare.⁴⁷⁰ On 31 December 2024, there were 2 unaccompanied asylum seekers present, 5 with temporary protection status and 5 with international protection status in the aftercare.⁴⁷¹ On 31 December 2025, there were no unaccompanied asylum seekers present, 14 temporary protection status holders 15 international protection status holders and 5 with international protection status in the aftercare.⁴⁷²

2. Conditions in reception facilities

Indicators: Conditions in Reception Facilities

1. Are there instances of asylum seekers not having access to reception accommodation because of a shortage of places? Yes No
2. What is the average length of stay of asylum seekers in the reception centres? N/A
3. Are unaccompanied children ever accommodated with adults in practice? Yes No
4. Are single women and men accommodated separately? Yes No⁴⁷³

In 2022, 2023, as well as in 2024 and 2025, asylum seekers were never left without accommodation due to a shortage of places in reception centres.

2.1 Overall conditions

There is no regulation on the minimum surface area, the minimum common areas or on the minimum sanitary fittings regarding reception centres.⁴⁷⁴ In Vámoszabadi and Balassagyarmat, residents get 3

⁴⁶⁶ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁴⁶⁷ Section 12(3) Asylum Decree.

⁴⁶⁸ Order of the Minister of Interior no. 26/2018. (XII. 28.) amended the order of the Minister of Interior no. 39/2016. (XII. 29.) on the determination of the structural and operational order of the Immigration and Asylum Office.

⁴⁶⁹ Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 28 January 2026.

⁴⁷⁰ Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 20 February 2024.

⁴⁷¹ Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 12 February 2025.

⁴⁷² Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 28 January 2026.

⁴⁷³ In the context of the right of reply to this report received by ECRE on 25 June 2024, the authorities state that "accommodating single women and men separately is provided for." However, this was not the case in HHC's experience working in asylum in Hungary.

⁴⁷⁴ EASO, Description of the Hungarian asylum system, May 2015, available here, 10.

meals per day. Minor children, pregnant women and nursing mothers receive five meals a day.⁴⁷⁵ In Fót, UaSC receive 5 meals per day.⁴⁷⁶ The Decree 52/2007 stipulates the amount of nutritional value that must be provided at the open reception facilities and states that religious diets are to be respected in all facilities.⁴⁷⁷ There were no related complaints reported regarding Fót in the last years, including 2025.

In all centres, regular cleaning is arranged, and the number of toilets and showers are sufficient in all facilities during regular occupancy. Menedék Association still sees it as a significant problem that the toilets and showers cannot be locked – the institution claims that this is to prevent suicidal tendencies and self-harm.⁴⁷⁸

Residents share rooms. Families are accommodated in family rooms. Every facility has computers, community rooms and sport fields. Children placed in Fót are not allowed to lock their room doors, however, the doors of the individual housing units, where those under 18 live mixed in terms of age and gender, are constantly closed.

There have been no problems reported regarding religious practices in Fót. Pork-free food is served, but not halal.

As none of the organisations visited Vámosszabadi or Balassagyarmat in 2024, the information on complains there are not available. There were no complaints reported from Balassagyarmat in 2025.

2.2 Activities in the centres

Since 2018 community activities have been mainly provided by NGOs in reception facilities. However, the number of organisations in the field has also decreased due to funding limitations. There is a community room with toys in Vámosszabadi and the internet room is accessible in both reception facilities. In spring 2021, an initiative aiming at providing Hungarian classes was proposed, but due to lack of interest by the residents it did not materialise. In 2023, 2024 and 2025, no activities were provided in neither of the two centres and no NGOs or church organisations visited the centres.

In Fót, there are a developmental teacher, psychologist and educators. They also organize leisure programs. In the summer of 2025, they took the minors to many outdoor programs, such as free beaches on the Danube, trips to the Danube Bend, and a vacation at Lake Balaton. According to Menedék Association, it raises serious concerns that only one educator accompanied the minors to a trip that often lasted for days.⁴⁷⁹

In 2022, as well as in 2023, 2024 Menedék Association was not present in Vámosszabadi neither in Balassagyarmat shelters. The organisation has been present in Fót twice a week. The focus of the sessions continued to be on creating a sense of safe space, as well as on information transfer, orientation and school integration. In 2025, Menedék Association visited Fót twice a week (until November) and Balassagyarmat on some occasions. Menedék no longer visits Fót.

The Jesuit Refugee Service (JRS) has been also present in Fót since autumn 2019. In 2020 and 2021 the organisation offered programs for the children on a weekly basis. In 2022, the organisation offered weekly Hungarian language as a foreign language classes and informal supportive conversations for unaccompanied minors. JRS continued with their activities in 2023, 2024 and 2025 as well.

In 2023, the Cordelia Foundation did not provide psychosocial services in Vámosszabadi, Balassagyarmat and Fót. In 2024, the Cordelia Foundation was present in Fót. In 2025, Cordelia Foundation visited Fót every 2-3 weeks.

⁴⁷⁵ Information received on 25 June 2024 in the context of the authorities' comments on this report.

⁴⁷⁶ Information received from Menedék Association on 26 February 2025.

⁴⁷⁷ Section 3(1a) of Decree 52/2007.

⁴⁷⁸ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

⁴⁷⁹ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

C. Employment and education

1. Access to the labour market

Indicators: Access to the Labour Market

1. Does the law allow for access to the labour market for asylum seekers? Yes, with restrictions No
2. Does the law allow access to employment only following a labour market test? Yes No
3. Does the law only allow asylum seekers to work in specific sectors? Yes No
❖ If yes, specify which sectors: Insert
4. Does the law limit asylum seekers' employment to a maximum working time? Yes No
❖ If yes, specify the number of days per year Insert
5. Are there restrictions to accessing employment in practice? Yes No

Asylum seekers have the right to work after 9 months have passed since the start of their procedure in accordance with the general rules applicable to foreigners.⁴⁸⁰ In this case, the employer has to request a work permit – valid for 1 year and renewable – from the local employment office. Asylum seekers can only apply for jobs which are not taken by Hungarians or nationals of the European Economic Area. As per the experience of the HHC and the account of the Menedék Association, in practice employers are not willing to offer a job to people currently in an asylum procedure, who only have a humanitarian residence permit with a 2-3-month-long definite time of validity.⁴⁸¹ This problem still persists.

According to the Asylum Act,⁴⁸² asylum seekers are also able to undertake employment in the premises of the reception centre, without obtaining a work permit. However, the HHC is not aware of any such example from the last five years.

2. Access to education

Indicators: Access to Education

1. Does the law provide for access to education for asylum-seeking children? Yes No
2. Are children able to access education in practice? Yes No

The Public Education Act provides for compulsory education (kindergarten or school) for asylum seeking and refugee children under the age of 16 staying or residing in Hungary. Children have access to kindergarten and school education under the same conditions as Hungarian children. Schooling is only compulsory until the age of 16.⁴⁸³

Refugee children are often not enrolled in normal classes with Hungarian pupils but placed in special preparatory classes. Integration with Hungarian children therefore remains limited (see below the account of Menedék Association). They can move from these special classes into normal classes once their level of Hungarian is sufficient. However, there are only a few institutions which accept such children and are able to provide appropriate programmes according to their specific needs, education level and language knowledge. According to the experience of the Menedék Association, many local schools are reluctant to receive foreign children as:

- a) they lack the necessary capacity and expertise to provide additional tutoring to asylum-seeking children; and ⁴⁸⁰ Section 5(1)(c) Asylum Act.

⁴⁸¹ i.e., the humanitarian residence permit is prolonged every 2-3 months with further 2-3 months.

⁴⁸² Section 5(1)(c) Asylum Act.

⁴⁸³ Section 45(3) Act CXC of 2011 on public education.

- b) Hungarian families would voice their adversarial feelings towards the reception of asylum-seeking children.

This is a clear sign of intolerance of the Hungarian society in general. In some other cases, the local school only accepts asylum seeking children in segregated classes but without a meaningful pedagogical programme and only for 2 hours a day, which is significantly less than the 5-7 hours per day that Hungarian pupils spend in school.

The HHC is also aware of positive examples of schools accepting asylum-seeking children in the last years, including in 2021 and 2022, while there is no data for 2023. However, regarding the administration of official documents, some problems were reported in the last years, although they were solved with the help of the HHC's legal officer who explained the legal background of such children to the headmaster of that particular school. The Menedék Association also reported administrative barriers due to the lack of certificates providing for the attendance of primary school (8 grades) in the country of origin. Moreover, if the asylum-seeking child has special needs, they rarely have access to special education because of language barriers.

In 2021 already, due to the Embassy procedure, enrolment of unaccompanied and separated children was further delayed by 2-3 months since children are eligible for education only once they are registered as asylum seekers. Even though they were placed in Fót by virtue of a 'temporary placement decision', the statement of intent to lodge an asylum application in Hungary must have been submitted in one of the designated embassies. In practice, this could be done by the legal guardian of the UaSC; besides the designated embassies, the submission could also be made in Subotica (Szabadka), closer to Hungary than Belgrade (see Embassy Procedure). This problem no longer persists, since UaSC can now be exempted from the Embassy procedure.

UaSCs in Fót attend elementary and secondary school in Budapest because the local elementary school is not willing to accept these children. Children in the Károlyi István Children's Home find it hard to enrol in formal education for several reasons, such as the delays in providing them with documents (such as an ID card) and the lack of available capacity in the few schools that accept them. Children therefore need the support of NGOs so that they can successfully fulfil the obligations imposed by the school. In the last few years, the Menedék Association in cooperation with the legal guardians provided them the necessary help in this regard.

Thus, in 2023, as well as in 2024, UaSCs still had significant difficulties in enrolling into schools. Firstly, the submission of the letter of intent at the Embassy in Belgrade delayed their already difficult enrolments by an extra few weeks. Secondly, access to local primary school has not been resolved. Access to education could be ensured through many individual solutions, not at the system level. According to Menedék Association, in 2023, three children with temporary protection status placed in Fót attended school. In 2024, one UaSC placed in Fót attended school. In September 2025, thanks to the work of Menedék Association, all children of compulsory school age staying in Fót were enrolled in a public educational institution. They were mainly Ukrainians beneficiaries of temporary protection, but there were also two asylum seekers among them.⁴⁸⁴

JRS and Menedék Association help those placed in Fót with their school studies.

In Balassagyarmat, there has been no arrangement made with local schools. There is a school operating on the premises of the community shelter, where resident children can be enrolled. In 2021, two asylum seeking children were successfully enrolled, while there is no data which indicates that such enrolments happened in 2022, 2023 or 2024. The HHC is aware of one asylum seeking family (since February 2025), whose children do not attend any school.

⁴⁸⁴ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

Education opportunities and vocational training for adults is only offered once they have a protection status under the same conditions as Hungarian citizens. In practice, asylum seekers can sometimes attend Hungarian language classes offered by NGOs free of charge. AssociationIn Balassagyarmat there has been no Hungarian language class provided in the last years to asylum seekers. Menedék Association did not visit Balassagyarmat or Vámoszabadi in 2022, 2023 nor in 2024. In 2025, Menedék Association visited Balassagyarmat on some occasions. One of their clients attended their Hungarian conversation group in Budapest, for which he applied for a travel discount under Section 24 of the Asylum Decree, with the help of Menedék. This client is also learning Hungarian with the help of a volunteer of Menedék Association.⁴⁸⁵

There are no accelerated education programs for out-of-school youth. There is no scholarship program that specifically supports foreigners living in Hungary or those granted international protection, only in the case of persons with temporary protection, there is the "Students at risk" program as a sub-program of the Stipendium Hungaricum scholarship program. There are no early childhood education and care opportunities.⁴⁸⁶

D. Health care

Indicators: Health Care
1. Is access to emergency healthcare for asylum seekers guaranteed in national legislation?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> No
2. Do asylum seekers have adequate access to health care in practice?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Limited	<input type="checkbox"/> No
3. Is specialised treatment for victims of torture or traumatised asylum seekers available in practice?	<input type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Limited	<input type="checkbox"/> No
4. If material conditions are reduced or withdrawn, are asylum seekers still given access to health care?	<input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes	<input type="checkbox"/> Limited	<input type="checkbox"/> No

Access to health care is provided for asylum seekers as part of the reception conditions.⁴⁸⁷ It covers essential medical services and corresponds to the free medical services provided to legally residing third-country nationals.⁴⁸⁸ Asylum seekers have a right to examinations and treatment by general practitioners, but all specialised treatment conducted in polyclinics and hospitals is free only in case of emergency and upon referral by a general practitioner.

According to the Asylum Decree, asylum seekers with special needs are 'eligible for free of charge health care services, rehabilitation, psychological and clinical psychological care or psychotherapeutic treatment required by the person's state of health.'⁴⁸⁹

In practice, there are no guidelines for identifying vulnerable asylum seekers as well as a lack of specialised medical services. Furthermore, only a few experts speak foreign languages and even fewer have experience in dealing with torture or trauma survivors. The Cordelia Foundation, a Budapest based NGO, is the only organisation with the necessary expertise and experience and that is specialised in providing psychological assistance to torture survivors and traumatised asylum seekers. Their capacity is constrained and every year the question arises whether it will continue to provide these much-needed services, as its activities are funded on a project-by-project basis and not under the framework of a regular service provider contracted by the NDGAP. The therapeutic activities of the Foundation include verbal and non-verbal, individual, family and group therapies, and psychological and social counselling.

⁴⁸⁵ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

⁴⁸⁶ For more information, see AIDA, Country Report : Hungary – Annex on Temporary Protection, 2023 update, available here, p. 57.

⁴⁸⁷ Section 26 Asylum Act.

⁴⁸⁸ A detailed list is provided under Section 26 Asylum Decree.

⁴⁸⁹ Section 34 Asylum Decree.

In 2022, the Cordelia foundation continued visiting Fót facility. In 2023, the Cordelia foundation did not visit Fót, neither Balassagyarmat nor Vámosszabadi. In 2024 and 2025, the Cordelia foundation again visited Fót.

In 2024, Menedék had a regular presence in Fót - 1h/week. Until November 2025 (but not after that), they were present twice a week.

In Balassagyarmat asylum seekers are provided with specialised and general medical care by the local health care services in town.⁴⁹⁰ In 2025 Menedék Association reported about a case of a pregnant woman placed in Balassagyarmat. She was given minimal information about the services she could use, and almost until the last moment of the birth she did not know where she would be able to give birth. In principle, there was someone who accompanied her to the four mandatory ultrasound examinations before the birth, but no one interpreted for her, so she did not understand anything. In the end, since she managed to extend their stay there (the birth took place more than 30 days after the recognition, so in principle she should have left the facility), she gave birth to her child in the designated hospital there, but an interpreter was there with her only once.

Concerning unaccompanied or separated asylum-seeking children, access to health care services is seriously delayed due to the Embassy procedure. Even though the submission of the statement of intent at the Hungarian Embassies in Kyiv or Belgrade can be realised by the legal guardian of the UaSC, children are often not registered as asylum seekers for months. And, although the Health Insurance Act provides for the health care of children temporarily placed in Fót (regardless of whether they are considered asylum applicants), health service providers are unaware of the applicable type of billing, due to a legislation gap in the executive decree.⁴⁹¹ Thus, non-emergency health care is provided only on the condition that the childcare facility reimburses the costs.⁴⁹² There are many children who have serious health problems, have had an accident (e.g. fell from the Serbian-Hungarian border fence) or were subject to police ill-treatment. These children initially received emergency health care. However, their access to subsequent necessary health treatments is hindered by the fact that Fót is reluctant to reimburse the costs. The same issues were reported by the Menedék Association for 2022, 2023 and 2024. These problems no longer persist for asylum seeking UaSC, since they are now allowed to apply for asylum within Hungary. In addition, Ukrainian children were placed in Fót, and in their case, the slow appointment of a guardian caused a problem, therefore for this group the above-described access to health care issues continued in 2025 as well.

The Children's Home in Fót has its own psychologist, but according to the Cordelia Foundation, due to the lack of an interpreter, there were no regular sessions, but occasionally there was the possibility of using an interpreter.

The Asylum Decree states that asylum seekers residing in private accommodation are eligible for health care services at the general physician operated by the competent local government and determined by the residency address of the applicant.⁴⁹³ In practice, these asylum seekers struggle with accessing medical services as physicians systematically refuse the registration and treatment of asylum seekers on the ground that they lack a health insurance card. According to oral information provided by the former IAO in 2016, asylum seekers can be registered with the number of their humanitarian residency card and must be treated in accordance with the law, although not all health centres are aware of this information. The Menedék Association and the legal officers of the HHC often provide asylum seekers with the necessary written explanation (written in Hungarian) that the patients can take with themselves to the check-ups, thus avoiding any misunderstanding and complications. Eventually, the social workers of the Menedék Association even give a call to the doctor and explain the legal eligibility of the asylum-seeker over the phone. This solution proves successful. The same problem persisted in 2023 as well, as some ⁴⁹⁰ Information provided by the NDGAP on 19 February 2023.

⁴⁹¹ Section 22(1)(m) of the Act CXXII all 2019 on Health Insurance.

⁴⁹² Note that emergency health care is ensured in all cases.

⁴⁹³ Section 27(2) Asylum Decree.

doctors believing that they can only treat free of charge people who have Hungarian social security number (TAJ).

E. Special reception needs of vulnerable groups

Indicators: Special Reception Needs

1. Is there an assessment of special reception needs of vulnerable persons in practice?
 Yes, partly No

Section 2(k) of the Asylum Act identifies persons with special needs as including ‘unaccompanied children or vulnerable persons, in particular, minor, elderly, disabled persons, pregnant women, single parents raising minor children or persons suffering from torture, rape or any other grave form of psychological, physical or sexual violence.’

Furthermore, the Asylum Act provides that in case of persons requiring special treatment, due consideration shall be given to their specific needs.⁴⁹⁴ Persons with special needs – if needed with respect to the person’s individual situation and based on the medical specialist’s opinion – shall be eligible to additional free of charge health care services, rehabilitation, psychological and clinical psychological care or psychotherapeutic treatment required by the person’s state of health.⁴⁹⁵ As cited by the EUAA in its Asylum Report 2021, the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child (CRC) recommended Hungary to establish mechanisms to identify child soldiers so that they can be provided physical and psychological support.⁴⁹⁶

It is the duty of the NDGAP to ascertain whether the rules applying to vulnerable asylum seekers are applicable to the individual circumstances of the asylum seeker. In case of doubt, the NDGAP may request expert assistance by a doctor or a psychologist.⁴⁹⁷ There is no protocol for the identification of vulnerable asylum seekers upon reception therefore, it depends on the personal judgment of the actual asylum officer whether the special needs of a particular asylum seeker are identified at the beginning or in the course of the procedure at all (see Identification).

NANE (Women for Women Against Violence), as an implementing partner of UNHCR, elaborated a case referral system and shared it with NGOs in November 2021. The objective was to inform NGOs on how to refer to NANE cases of persons of concern affected by and seeking support regarding sexual and gender-based violence (SGBV) and domestic violence. The referral mechanism targets beneficiaries and clients of civil society partners and UNHCR who are or have been victims of SGBV, including domestic violence. Once the person of concern has been referred to NANE, they receive crisis intervention counselling by NANE counsellors about domestic violence, partnership violence, sexual harassment, exploitation and abuse. NANE also provided a risk assessment tool for NGOs who might be in contact with persons concerned.⁴⁹⁸

Unaccompanied asylum-seeking children are placed in special homes in Fót, designated specifically for UaSCs, where social and psychological services are available.⁴⁹⁹ However, it is the responsibility of the authorities to conduct an age assessment, and often their level of expertise is dubious at best (see Identification). If the assessment mistakenly establishes that the person is an adult it renders the person incapable to receive all the services that a child would need. According to Menedék, in 2023 in two cases, the suspicion of human trafficking was raised in the case of young people who ended up in Fót (i.e., that ⁴⁹⁴ Section 4(3) Asylum Act.

⁴⁹⁵ Section 34 Asylum Decree.

⁴⁹⁶ EUAA, Annual Report on the Situation of Asylum in the European Union, 2021, here, 257.

⁴⁹⁷ Section 3(1)(2) Asylum Decree.

⁴⁹⁸ The flyer was received via email by NANE.

⁴⁹⁹ HHC, Best Interest Out of Sight - The Treatment of Asylum-Seeking Children in Hungary, 17 May 2017, available here.

they might be recognised as victims of human trafficking), but the staff there did not treat this with special attention, and these young people left for an unknown place within a short time.

Hungary has no specific reception facility for vulnerable asylum seekers except for unaccompanied and separated children. Single women, female-headed families, and survivors of torture and SGBV (including rape), as well as LGBTI asylum seekers are accommodated in the same facilities as others, with no specific attention, while there are no protected corridors or houses.⁵⁰⁰ An exceptional guarantee for transgender asylum seekers set out by the law is that if the gender identity of the asylum seeker is different from their registered gender, this must be considered upon providing them with accommodation at the reception centre.⁵⁰¹

Medical assistance for seriously mentally challenged persons is unresolved. Similarly, residents with drug or other type of addiction have no access to mainstream health care services.⁵⁰²

According to Menedék Association, in Fót, unaccompanied and separated children minors coming from Ukraine and the same category of children coming from other countries are placed separately. In 2023 and still in 2024, a very significant problem which was reported implies that there is no gender-segregated placement. Unfortunately, the institution's employees do not pay any attention to the prevention of mixed-sex placement. In the summer of 2023, gender-segregated housing did not take place even after a violent incident, and at the beginning of 2024 a 17-year-old boy was abusing and terrorising the 15-17-year-old girls living there. The gender-segregated placement (removal of the abusive youth) did not take place even 2 weeks after the first incident. The situation escalated in the spring of 2024, when an 11-year-old girl was also a victim of the abuse, and the guardian also filed a complaint. During the year, the 17-year-old boy became an adult and was thus released from the care facility. In 2025 this problem persisted. In Fót, there is no emphasis on gender segregation, even though there would be housing capacity for it (presumably the low number of educators limits the capacities). It is a serious problem that in many cases there is no female educator, or any female staff at all, in a given shift. The girls there are forced to ask the male educators for basic hygiene items and communicate medical complaints, who in many cases do not even speak English. This significantly increases the vulnerability of young girls.⁵⁰³

F. Information for asylum seekers and access to reception centres

1. Provision of information on reception

Asylum seekers are informed of their rights and obligations pursuant to Section 17(3) of the Asylum Decree. After the submission of the asylum application, the NDGAP shall inform the person seeking asylum in writing in their mother tongue or in another language understood by them, without delay and within a maximum of 15 days, concerning all provisions and assistance to which they are entitled under the law, as well as the obligations with which they must comply in respect to reception conditions, and information as to organisations providing legal or other individual assistance.

Information is also provided orally to asylum seekers on the day when they arrive at the reception centre, in addition to an information leaflet. The information given includes the house rules of the reception centre, the material assistance to which applicants are entitled, and information on access to education and health ⁵⁰⁰ In their comments provided in the context of the right of reply to this report received on 25 June 2024, the authorities stated that “In the reception facility, segregated accommodation and increased attention from the host institution staff are guaranteed.” However, according to the HHC’s experience this was not the case.

⁵⁰¹ Section 22 Asylum Decree.

⁵⁰² Practice-informed observation by Hungarian Helsinki Committee. In their comments provided in the context of the right of reply to this report received on 25 June 2024, the authorities state that “with regards to people accommodated in reception facilities, both people with severe mental disabilities and substance users receive appropriate medical care”, however this is not HHC’s experience.

⁵⁰³ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

care. Since 2019 the written information on reception conditions is available in Hungarian, English, Arabic and Farsi in Vámosszabadi.⁵⁰⁴

According to Menedék Association, upon their arrival to Fót, the home manager provides information to the UaSC, but in the interests of the effectiveness of the information and the consistent quality of the information, Menedék would consider it useful if the home developed a common protocol for provision of information.

2. Access to reception centres by third parties

Indicators: Access to Reception Centres

1. Do family members, legal advisers, UNHCR and/or NGOs have access to reception centres?
 Yes With limitations No

Reception centres are open facilities and residents may leave the centre according to the house rules of the facility and are able to meet anyone outside. Family members do not often come to visit in practice, but they can enter the reception centres provided the asylum seeker living in the centre submits a written request to the authorities. If the family member does not have any available accommodation and there is free space in the reception centre, the management of the centre might provide accommodation to the family member visiting the asylum seeker.⁵⁰⁵

Only specific NGOs (listed in previous sections on Reception Conditions) have a regular access to the reception centres without any issues. The former IAO unilaterally terminated the cooperation agreement (concluded in 1998) with HHC on 2 June 2017. The agreement entitled the HHC to enter reception and detention centres and conduct monitoring visits, to provide free legal counselling for asylum seekers and to request statistical data. As a result of the termination of the cooperation agreement asylum seekers do not have access to legal assistance on the premises of the reception centres. They may only meet the lawyer outside the reception facility.

UNHCR has full access to these facilities and does not need to send any prior notification to the NDGAP before the visit.⁵⁰⁶ UNHCR visited Balassagyarmat once in 2022 and IOM twice, in order to provide information on voluntary repatriation programme. No other organisation visited Balassagyarmat in 2022 or in 2023. In 2024, ICRC, together with the national Red Cross, visited Balassagyarmat, as well as UNHCR. In 2024 UNHCR visited Fót on a monthly basis. In 2025, UNHCR visited Balassagyarmat twice and Menedék once.

G. Differential treatment of specific nationalities in reception

There is no difference in treatment with respect to reception based on nationality, except the fact that Ukrainian unaccompanied minors are separated from unaccompanied children of other nationalities in Fót.

⁵⁰⁴ Reported by the Menedék Association since 2020.

⁵⁰⁵ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁵⁰⁶ Act XVI of 2008, Agreement between the government of the Republic of Hungary and the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees, Article II, point 5.

Detention of Asylum Seekers

A. General

Indicators: General Information on Detention

1. Total number of asylum seekers detained in 2025: 133 (29 asylum seekers and 104 under an outgoing Dublin procedure)
2. Number of asylum seekers in detention at the end of 2025: 19 (out of them 8 asylum seekers and 11 under an outgoing Dublin procedure)
3. Number of detention centres: 1
4. Total capacity of detention centres: 105

Statistical information

In 2023, the NDGAP only provided the overall number of asylum detention orders, which was 36, but this number does not tell how many of persons detained actually applied for asylum in Hungary.⁵⁰⁷ The number 36 therefore contains also the number of persons detained during the outgoing Dublin procedures, but who were not asylum applicants in Hungary. The officially published NDGAP statistics show that there were 3 asylum seekers detained in asylum detention in 2023.⁵⁰⁸ In 2024, there were 4 asylum seekers detained in asylum detention and 83 persons who were detained for the purpose of outgoing Dublin transfer (not asylum seekers in Hungary).⁵⁰⁹ In 2025, there were 29 asylum seekers detained in asylum detention and 104 persons who were detained for the purpose of outgoing Dublin transfers (not asylum seekers in Hungary).⁵¹⁰

Asylum detention of asylum seekers: 2022-2025
	Asylum applicants detained	Total asylum applicants ⁵¹¹	Percentage
2022	7	44	15,9%
2023	3	28	10,7%
2024	4	29	13,8%
2025	29	113	25,7%

Source: former IAO and NDGAP.

Compared to 2022, there was 5.2% decrease in the use of asylum detention in 2023. Compared to 2023, there was 3.1% increase in the use of asylum detention in 2024. Compared to 2024, there was an 11.9% increase in the use of asylum detention in 2025.

In 2022 there were 7 asylum seekers detained out of 44 asylum-seekers total in Hungary, thus detainees accounted for 15,9% of all applicants. In 2023, there were 3 asylum seekers detained out of 28 asylum-seekers⁵¹² total in Hungary, thus detainees accounted for 10.7% of all applicants. In 2024, there were 4 asylum seekers detained out of 29 asylum-seekers⁵¹³ total in Hungary, thus detainees accounted for ⁵⁰⁷ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

⁵⁰⁸ NDGAP, Statistics, 6 May 2024, available here.

⁵⁰⁹ NDGAP, Statistics, 21 February 2025, available here.

⁵¹⁰ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026 and NDGAP, Statistics, 13 March 2026, available here.

⁵¹¹ It covers first-time and subsequent applicants together.

⁵¹² The number is based on statistics the HHC requested from the NDGAP on a quarterly basis. 28 is the sum of the numbers the NDGAP provided on a quarterly basis. According to the statistical report published by the NDGAP, however, this number is 31.

⁵¹³ NDGAP, Statistics, 21 February 2025, available here.

13,8% of all applicants. In 2025, there were 29 asylum seekers detained out of 113 asylum-seekers in total in Hungary, thus detainees accounted for 25.7% of all applicants.

There are also 3 immigration detention centres located in Budapest Airport Police Directorate (23 places), Nyírbátor (162 places), and Győr (36 places), which hold persons waiting to be deported. Asylum seekers who no longer have a right to remain on the territory are also held there. Families with children can be detained only in Nyírbátor.

Transit zones and international case law

From 28 March 2017 until 21 May 2020, all asylum seekers entering the transit zones of Röszke and Tompa were de facto detained, although the Hungarian authorities refused to recognise that this is detention.

On 14 March 2017, the ECtHR issued a long-awaited judgment in the HHC-represented Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary case. The Court confirmed its established jurisprudence that confinement in the transit zones in Hungary amounted to unlawful and arbitrary detention and established a violation of Article 5(1), a violation of Article 5(4) and a violation of Article 13 in conjunction with Article 3 of the Convention due to the lack of effective remedy to complain about the conditions of detention in the transit zone. The government appealed against the judgment and the Grand Chamber of the ECtHR⁵¹⁴ did not agree with the Chamber's unanimous decision concerning the nature of the placement in the transit zone and ruled that the applicants were not deprived of their liberty within the meaning of Article 5.

On 14 May 2020, the CJEU delivered its judgment in the joint cases of C-924/19 PPU and C-925/19 PPU, ruling among others that the automatic and indefinite placement of asylum-seekers in the transit zones at the Hungarian-Serbian border qualifies as unlawful detention. A week after the judgment was delivered, the government shut down the transit zones.

On 22 May 2020, the UN Working Group Arbitrary Detention (UNWGAD) delivered its Opinion No. 22/2020 concerning Saman Ahmed Haman (Hungary) based on an individual complaint. The Working Group concluded that 'the detention of Mr. Hamad was arbitrary and falls within category IV (when asylum seekers, immigrants or refugees are subjected to prolonged administrative custody without the possibility of administrative or judicial review or remedy).'

On 17 December 2020, the CJEU issued a judgement in the infringement procedure case C-808/18 and ruled that Hungary by unlawfully detaining applicants for international protection in transit zones infringes upon EU law.⁵¹⁵

The HHC is of the opinion that the above CJEU judgment, the UN WGAD opinion and all the reports, statements, concluding observations and recommendations of various bodies, institutions, organisations and special procedures of both the Council of Europe and of the United Nations, show the existence of a 'broad consensus' as to the fact that placement in the transit zones in Hungary constitutes deprivation of liberty,⁵¹⁶ which should be taken into account by the ECtHR when ruling on the pending cases concerning the transit zones.

On 2 March 2021, the ECtHR ruled in its judgment in *R.R. and others v. Hungary*⁵¹⁷ that the confinement of an Iranian-Afghan family, including three minor children, to the Röszke transit zone constituted unlawful ⁵¹⁴ ECtHR, Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary, Application No. 47287/15, Judgment of November 2019, EDAL, available here.

⁵¹⁵ CJEU, Judgment of the Court (Grand Chamber) of 17 December 2020, European Commission v Hungary, C-808/18, 17 December 2020, available here.

⁵¹⁶ HHC, Placement in transit zones is a form of deprivation of liberty, Development of a broad consensus by international organisations that qualifies placement in the transit zones of Hungary as deprivation of liberty, after the legal amendments of March 2017, Information Update, 6 August 2020, available here.

⁵¹⁷ ECtHR, R.R. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 36037/17, Judgment of 2 March 2021, available here.

detention in violation of Article 5 and inhuman and degrading treatment in violation of Article 3 of the Convention. Moreover, it considered that the applicants did not have an avenue in which the lawfulness of their detention could have been decided on promptly by a court, thereby violating Article 5(4) ECHR. Since then, the Court reached similar finding, that placement in the transit zone constitutes detention, in several cases concerning families with children,⁵¹⁸ single men,⁵¹⁹ single woman⁵²⁰ and UaSC.⁵²¹ However, the Court did not consider that the placement in the transit zone constituted detention, seemingly because the placement period was either too short, or the applicants did not have any special vulnerabilities and declared the following cases inadmissible: appl. no. 3047/18 (single man, 57 days),⁵²² appl. no. 83/18 (single woman, 63 days),⁵²³ appl. no. 74718/17 (single man, 26 days),⁵²⁴ appl. no. (single man, 135 days),⁵²⁵ appl. no. 37325/17 (family with children, 27 days),⁵²⁶ appl. no. 34883/17 (family with children, 40 days),⁵²⁷ appl. no. 9203/18 (mother and a child, 37 days)⁵²⁸ and appl. no. 30056/18 (UaSC, 46 days).⁵²⁹

B. Legal framework of detention

1. Grounds for detention

Indicators: Grounds for Detention

1. In practice, are most asylum seekers detained
 - ❖ on the territory: Yes No
 - ❖ at the border: Yes No
2. Are asylum seekers detained in practice during the Dublin procedure?
 - Frequently Rarely Never
3. Are asylum seekers detained during a regular procedure in practice?
 - Frequently Rarely Never

Under Section 31/A(1) of the Asylum Act, the NDGAP may detain an asylum seeker:

- (a) To establish their identity or nationality;
- (b) Where a procedure is ongoing for the expulsion of a person seeking recognition and it can be proven on the basis of objective criteria – inclusive of the fact that the applicant had the ⁵¹⁸ ECtHR, M.B.K. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 73860/17, Judgment of 24 February 2022, available here; A.A.A. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 37327/17, Judgment of 9 June 2022, available here; W.O. and Others, Application No. 36896/18, Judgment of 25 August 2022, available here and H.M. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 38967/17, Judgment of 2 June 2022, available here; K.K.S. v. Hungary, Application No. 32660/18, Judgement of 3 October 2023, available here; P.S. and A.M. v. Hungary, Application no 53272/17, 5 October 2023, available here; M.A. and others v. Hungary, Application No. 58680/18, Judgement of 5 October 2023, available here; S.A.B. and S.A.R. v. Hungary, Application No. 17089/19, Judgment of 30 November 2023, available here; Z.L. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 13899/19, Judgement of 12 September 2024, available here and M.D.A. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 16217/19, Judgement of 19 December 2024, available here; H.A. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 39498/18, Judgement of 19 June 2025, available here.

⁵¹⁹ ECtHR, O.Q. v. Hungary, Application No. 53528/19, Judgement of 5 October 2023, available here; H.L. v. Hungary, Application No. 37641/19, Judgement of 20 June 2024, available here; A.P. v. Hungary, Application No. 18581/19, Judgement of 3 October 2024, available here; M.S.H. v. Hungary, Application No. 44283/19, Judgement of 27 February 2025, available here.

⁵²⁰ ECtHR, S.H. v. Hungary, Application No. 47321/19, Judgement of 20 June 2024, available here.

⁵²¹ ECtHR, M. H. v. Hungary, Application No. 652/18, Judgement of 3 October 2024, available here; F.S. and A.S. v. Hungary, Application no. 50872/18, Judgement of 19 June 2025, available here.

⁵²² ECtHR, Al Atrash v. Hungary, Application no. 3047/18, Decision of 12 March 2020.

⁵²³ ECtHR, A.A. v. Hungary, Application no. 83/18, Decision of 12 March 2020.

⁵²⁴ ECtHR, H.K. v. Hungary, Application No. 74718/17, Decision of 19 March 2020.

⁵²⁵ ECtHR, F.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 8172/18, Decision of 19 March 2020.

⁵²⁶ ECtHR, N.A. and others v. Hungary, Application No. 37325/17, Decision of 24 February 2022, available here.

⁵²⁷ ECtHR, A.S. and others v. Hungary, Application No. 34883/17, Decision of 9 June 2022, available here.

⁵²⁸ ECtHR, F.O. and others v. Hungary, Application No. 9203/18, Decision of 20 June 2024, available here.

⁵²⁹ ECtHR, Z.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 30056/18, Decision of 3 October 2024, available here.

opportunity beforehand to submit an application of asylum – or there is a well-founded reason to presume that the person seeking recognition is applying for asylum exclusively to delay or frustrate the performance of the expulsion;

- (c) In order to establish the required data for conducting the procedure and where these facts or circumstances cannot be established in the absence of detention, in particular when there is a risk of absconding by the applicant;
- (d) To protect national security or public order;
- (e) Where the application has been submitted in an airport procedure;
- (f) Where it is necessary to carry out a Dublin transfer and there is a serious risk of absconding; or
- (g) In order to decide on the applicant's right to enter the country.⁵³⁰

- (1a) In order to carry out the Dublin transfer, the refugee authority may take into asylum detention a foreigner who failed to apply for asylum in Hungary and the Dublin handover can take place in their case.
- (1b) The rules applicable to applicants in asylum detention shall apply mutatis mutandis to a foreigner detained under Subsection (1a) for the duration of the asylum detention. Following the termination of the asylum detention and the frustration of the transfer, the alien policing rules shall apply.

The risk of absconding is defined in Section 36/E of the Asylum Decree where 'the third-country national does not cooperate with the authorities during the immigration proceedings, in particular if':

- (a) They refuse to make a statement or sign the documents;
- (b) They supply false information in connection with their personal data; or
- (c) Based on their statements, it is probable that they will depart for an unknown destination, and therefore there are reasonable grounds for presuming that they will frustrate the realisation of the purpose of the asylum procedure (including Dublin procedure).

The new asylum system introduced on 26 May 2020 (see section on Embassy procedure) foresees that persons arriving in Hungary with a single-entry permit in order to apply for asylum can be placed in a closed facility for 4 weeks following the registration of their asylum application, without any available legal remedy to challenge the placement.⁵³¹ However, so far none of the applicants allowed to enter Hungary after submitting their statement of intent at the Embassy were detained on this ground.

In 2024, there were 29 asylum applicants, out of which 4 were detained. In 2025, there were 113 asylum applicants, out of which 29 were detained.

The HHC finds it particularly worrying that such a high number of outgoing Dublin transfer cases end up being detained (104), which could imply that the detention measure is imposed quasi automatically, taking into account also the fact that only 72 outgoing transfers were actually carried out.

2. Alternatives to detention

Indicators: Alternatives to Detention

1. Which alternatives to detention have been laid down in the law?
 Reporting duties Surrendering documents Financial guarantee
 Residence restrictions Other
2. Are alternatives to detention used in practice? Yes No

Alternatives to detention, called 'measures ensuring availability', are available in the form of:

- (a) Bail;⁵³²

⁵³⁰ The new ground entered into force on 14 May 2021.

⁵³¹ Section 4(5) of the Act L of 2025.

⁵³² Sections 2(lc) Asylum Act.

- (b) Designated place of stay;⁵³³ and
- (c) Periodic reporting obligations.⁵³⁴

Asylum detention may only be ordered based on an assessment of the individual's circumstances and if its purpose cannot be achieved by applying less coercive alternatives to detention. However, the HHC's experience shows that detention orders lacked individual assessments and alternatives were not properly and automatically examined. Decisions ordering and upholding asylum detention were schematic, lacked individualised reasoning regarding the lawfulness and proportionality of detention, and failed to consider the individual circumstances (including vulnerabilities) of the person concerned. The necessity and proportionality tests were not used. The orders only stated that alternatives are not possible in a concrete case, but there is no explanation as to why.⁵³⁵ According to the Supreme Court (Kúria) opinion,⁵³⁶ contrary to the current practice, alternatives must be considered not only during initial, but also in subsequent decisions on extension.

The *O.M. v. Hungary*⁵³⁷ ECtHR case of 5 July 2016 also established that the detention order of a vulnerable asylum seeker was not sufficiently individualised.

Alternatives were applied as follows between 2016 and 2020 (the NDGAP did not provide the requested data between 2021 and 2024, claiming no relevant statistics are available).⁵³⁸ In 2025, the NDGAP reported that there was no bail ordered and that they do not have any statistics on other forms of alternative measures.⁵³⁹

3. Detention of vulnerable applicants

Indicators: Detention of Vulnerable Applicants

1. Are unaccompanied asylum-seeking children detained in practice?
 - Frequently Rarely Never
 - ❖ If frequently or rarely, are they only detained in border/transit zones?
 - Yes No
2. Are asylum seeking children in families detained in practice?
 - Frequently Rarely Never

3.1 Vulnerable applicants in asylum detention

Unaccompanied and separated children are explicitly excluded from asylum detention by law.⁵⁴⁰ When asylum detention was still widely used, despite that clear ban, UaSC were detained due to incorrect age assessment,⁵⁴¹ as the age assessment methods employed by the police and NDGAP are considerably problematic (see section on Identification). For example, the CPT found during its visit one unaccompanied boy who was detained for 4 days.⁵⁴²

Until 1 January 2024, UaSCs were also excluded from detention in general immigration proceedings. Under the GRTCN Act however, UaSCs above the age of 16 may now be detained.⁵⁴³ However, the HHC is not aware of any such detention actually being ordered.

⁵³³ Section 2(lb) Asylum Act.

⁵³⁴ Section 2(la) Asylum Act.

⁵³⁵ HHC, Information Note on asylum-seekers in detention and in Dublin procedures in Hungary, May 2014, available here, 6-7.

⁵³⁶ The Asylum Working Group of the Supreme Court summary opinion, 13 October 2014, available here.

⁵³⁷ ECtHR, O.M. v. Hungary, Application No. 9912/15, judgment of 5 July 2016, available here.

⁵³⁸ Information provided by the NDGAP on 7 February 2022 and 20 February 2024.

⁵³⁹ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁵⁴⁰ Section 31/B(2) Asylum Act.

⁵⁴¹ HHC, Information Note on asylum-seekers in detention and in Dublin procedures in Hungary, May 2014, available here, 12.

⁵⁴² CPT, Report to the Hungarian Government on the visit to Hungary carried out from 21 to 27 October 2015, 3 November 2016, CPT/Inf (2016) 27, available here, para 60.

⁵⁴³ Section 131(3) GRTCN Act

No other categories of vulnerable asylum seekers are excluded from detention.

According to the NDGAP, there was one person with vulnerability in asylum detention in 2021 and none in 2022, 2023 or 2024.⁵⁴⁴ In 2025, the NDGAP reported zero detained persons with special needs,⁵⁴⁵ but the HHC was contacted by several detainees, who according to the HHC should have been considered vulnerable and therefore not detained.⁵⁴⁶

Asylum detention must be terminated if the asylum seeker requires extended hospitalisation for health reasons.⁵⁴⁷

The HHC is aware of asylum detention cases, where persons with serious physical and mental health issues as well as LGBTI people were detained.⁵⁴⁸

3.2 Vulnerable applicants in transit zones

The transit zones were closed on 21 May 2020. For more information on the situation of vulnerable applicants in transit zones before 21 May 2020, see previous updates of the AIDA report on Hungary.⁵⁴⁹

4. Duration of detention

Indicators: Duration of Detention

1. What is the maximum detention period set in the law (incl. extensions):
 - ❖ Asylum detention 8 months
2. In practice, how long in average are asylum seekers detained?
 - ❖ Asylum detention 42 days

The maximum period of asylum detention is 8 months. Families with children under 18 years of age may not be detained for more than 30 days.⁵⁵⁰

In 2023, the average period was 49 days. According to the statistics of the NDGAP, there were no families with children placed in asylum detention.⁵⁵¹ In 2024, the average period was 31 days, there were no families with children placed in asylum detention.⁵⁵² In 2025, the average period was 42 days and there were no families with children placed in asylum detention.⁵⁵³

C. Detention conditions

1. Place of detention

Indicators: Place of Detention

1. Does the law allow for asylum seekers to be detained in prisons for the purpose of the asylum procedure (i.e. not as a result of criminal charges)? Yes No
2. If so, are asylum seekers ever detained in practice in prisons for the purpose of the asylum procedure? Yes No

⁵⁴⁴ Information provided by NDGAP on 7 February 2022, 13 February 2023, 19 February 2024 and 20 February 2025.

⁵⁴⁵ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁵⁴⁶ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, February 2026.

⁵⁴⁷ Section 31/A(8)(d) Asylum Act.

⁵⁴⁸ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, February 2026.

⁵⁴⁹ Available here.

⁵⁵⁰ Section 31/A(7) Asylum Act.

⁵⁵¹ Information provided by NDGAP on 2 March 2021, 7 February 2022, 13 February 2023 and 19 February 2024.

⁵⁵² Information provided by NDGAP on 20 February 2025.

⁵⁵³ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

Since 2013, asylum seekers have been detained in asylum detention facilities.⁵⁵⁴ As of January 2023, the only functioning asylum detention facility is Nyírbátor, with a capacity of 105 places holding also people detained during the Dublin procedure.⁵⁵⁵

According to the law, asylum detention can be carried out in places designated for this purpose, or in a healthcare institution on an exceptional and duly justified basis, with the assistance of the body established for carrying out official police business.⁵⁵⁶

2. Conditions in detention facilities

Indicators: Conditions in Detention Facilities

- | | | |
|---|---|--|
| 1. Do detainees have access to health care in practice? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ If yes, is it limited to emergency health care? | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> No |

2.1 Living conditions and physical security

Asylum detention

Detained asylum seekers have the right to unsupervised contact with their relatives, to send and receive correspondence, to practice religion and to spend at least one hour per day outdoors.⁵⁵⁷ The Asylum Decree also specifies minimum requirements for such facilities, including material conditions such as freedom of movement, access to open air, as well as access to recreational facilities, internet and phones, and a 24-hour availability of social workers. According to the Decree, there should be at least 15m³ of air space and 5m² of floor space per person in the living quarters of asylum seekers, while for married couples and families with minor children there should be a separate living space of at least 8m², taking the number of family members into account.⁵⁵⁸ In practice, asylum seekers' time outdoors is not restricted during the day. They can make telephone calls every day, but only if they can afford to purchase a phone card, as their mobile phones are taken away by the authorities on arrival.⁵⁵⁹

There were no issues of overcrowding since 2021.

Men must be detained separately from women, except for spouses, and families with children are also to be separated from other detainees.⁵⁶⁰ This is complied with in practice.⁵⁶¹

Religious diet is always respected. The nutritional value of the food is regulated in the legal act.

Asylum detention facilities are managed by the NDGAP. Security in the centres is provided by trained police officers.

Regarding records of ill-treatment, the CPT finds that 'the records of medical consultations were often rather cursory, lacking details, in particular when it came to the recording of injuries. Moreover, it remained somewhat unclear to the delegation to what extent allegations of ill-treatment and related injuries were reported to the management and relevant authorities.'⁵⁶²

⁵⁵⁴ Section 31/F(1) Asylum Act and Sections 36/A-36/F Asylum Decree.

⁵⁵⁵ Section 31/A(1) Asylum Act

⁵⁵⁶ Section 32/1(1) Asylum Act.

⁵⁵⁷ Section 31/F(3) Asylum Act.

⁵⁵⁸ Section 36/D Asylum Decree.

⁵⁵⁹ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2025.

⁵⁶⁰ Section 31/F(1) Asylum Act.

⁵⁶¹ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁵⁶² CPT, Report to the Hungarian Government on the visit to Hungary carried out by the European Committee for the Prevention of Torture and Inhuman or Degrading Treatment or Punishment (CPT) from 21 to 27 October 2015, CPT/Inf (2016) 27, 3 November 2016, available here, para 48.

In Nyírbátor, when escorted from the facility to court for hearings, or on other outings (such as to visit a hospital, bank or post office), detained asylum seekers are handcuffed and escorted on leashes, which are normally used for the accused in criminal proceedings.⁵⁶³

Open-air space is of adequate size. Each centre also has a fitness room.

The open-air space in Nyírbátor is lawned. People can play football and a basketball hoop can be provided upon request. There is also a ping-pong table and a covered pagoda with a table and benches and an additional separate bench.⁵⁶⁴

According to the HHC experience, detainees have access to internet. The computer room was renovated in 2021, and computers work more efficiently than prior to the renovation. In Nyírbátor, the detention centre has a small library.

In 2025, the HHC received several complaints of ill-treatment in Nyírbator detention centre, especially from LGBTI people, but also others. Detainees complained of hostile and discriminatory treatment, verbal abuse, insults, and harassment, including manifestations of homophobia. There were several incidents of physical attacks as well. Detainees feared for their safety and psychological well-being. They also complained of material conditions, such as no adequate access to drinking water, poor quality of the food and medical services and lack of information on their rights and the procedure.⁵⁶⁵

Transit zones (prior to their closure in May 2020)

The conditions in the transit zones of Röszke and Tompa were problematic.⁵⁶⁶

The ECtHR has now ruled multiple times on the inadequate living conditions in the transit zones. On 2 March 2021, the ECtHR ruled in its judgment in R.R. and others v. Hungary that detention conditions in the Röszke transit zone amounted to inhuman and degrading treatment. The ECtHR pointed to the obligations under the Reception Conditions Directive that require that the specific situation of children and pregnant women be taken into account, along with any special reception needs linked to their status throughout the duration of the asylum procedure. It observed that no individualised assessment of the special needs of the applicants was carried out by the Hungarian authorities. In view of, inter alia, the physical conditions of the containers in which the applicants were accommodated, the unsuitability of the facilities for children, the lack of professional psychological assistance and the duration of the stay in the transit zone, the Court found that the threshold of severity required to engage Article 3 of the ECHR had been reached, and Hungary had therefore violated the provision.⁵⁶⁷ In 2022, four more judgements followed, finding the breach of Article 3 and 13 with regard to detention conditions in the transit zone.⁵⁶⁸ In 2023, ECtHR issued 4 judgements, finding the breach of Article 3 with regard to detention conditions

⁵⁶³ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2025.

⁵⁶⁴ Information provided by the authorities in the context of the right of reply to this report received on 25 June 2024.

⁵⁶⁵ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, February 2026.

⁵⁶⁶ For further information about the situation prior to that, see previous updates of this report, available here.

⁵⁶⁷ Despite contrary findings by courts, as evidence by this judgement except, in the context of the right of reply to this report received on 25 June 2024 the authorities maintain that "physical conditions of the containers were excellent" and that "psychosocial, psychological assistance provision was also arranged in transit zones".

⁵⁶⁸ ECtHR, M.B.K. and Others v. Hungary, Application no 73860/17, Judgment of 24 February 2022, available here. A.A. and Others v. Hungary, Application no 37327/17, Judgment of 9 June 2022, available at: <https://bit.ly/4bhCLK2>; W.O. and Others, Application no. 36896/18, Judgment of 25 August 2022, available at: <https://bit.ly/4bhCLK2> and H.M. and Others v. Hungary, Application no 38967/17, Judgment of 2 June 2022, available here.

in the transit zone⁵⁶⁹ and in 2024 seven more judgements followed,⁵⁷⁰ and another three judgments in 2025.⁵⁷¹

2.2 Access to health care in detention

Asylum detention

Asylum seekers are entitled only to basic medical care. Paramedical nurses are present in the centre all the time and general practitioners regularly visit the facilities. However, the medical care provided is often criticised by detainees. They rarely have access to specialised medical care when requested and are only taken to the hospital in emergency cases. In severe cases of self-harm, detainees are taken to the local psychiatric ward. In the absence of interpretation services available, the patient is usually released after a short stay and some medical treatment provided. Such emergency interventions, however, do not contribute to detainees' overall mental wellbeing and sometimes even fuel further tensions between them. Those, however, whose condition is not deemed to fall under the scope of emergency treatment, are not eligible to see a dentist, cardiologist or psychiatrist.⁵⁷² No systematic, specialised and state-funded medical care and monitoring is ensured for survivors of torture or other forms of ill-treatment in asylum or immigration detention.⁵⁷³ Detainees complain about receiving the same medication for a range of different medical problems (e.g., sleeping pills, aspirin). The language barrier is also an issue.

There is no regular psychosocial support available in any of the detention centres. However, visits from a psychologist can be arranged upon a special request on a case-by-case basis. During consultation hours, interpretation is provided in Nyírbátor by a social worker who speaks 3 languages (Russian, English, German). In other cases, the interpretation is done by an AI translation program.

Cordelia Foundation, which is specialised in psychosocial rehabilitation of torture survivors, and which prepares medical reports on applicants' conditions in line with the requirements set out in the Istanbul Protocol, no longer has any dedicated funding the visit Nyírbator detention facility.

Transit zones (prior to their closure in May 2020)

For health care in the transit zones see previous AIDA reports.⁵⁷⁴

When finding a violation of Article 3 in the transit zone cases, the ECtHR made the following findings with regard to medical care in its R.R. and Others case of 2021:

'it finds disconcerting the lack of medical documentation for the applicant child and the applicants' undisputed allegation, confirmed also by the CPT report, that she had not been given the vaccines recommended at her age. It also accepts that outside medical treatment in the presence of (male) police officers, an allegation not disputed by the Government, must have caused a degree of discomfort to the ⁵⁶⁹ ECtHR, M.A. and others v. Hungary, Appl. No. 58680/18, 5 October 2023, S.A.B. and S.A.R. v. Others, Appl. no. 17089/19, 30 November 2023, O.Q. v. Hungary, Appl. No. 53528/19, 5 October 2023, P.S. and A.M. v. Hungary, Application No. 53272/17, 5 October 2023.

⁵⁷⁰ ECtHR, F.O. and others v. Hungary, Application No. 9203/18, Decision of 20 June 2024, available here; S.H. v. Hungary, Application No. 47321/19, Judgement of 20 June 2024, available here; H.L. v. Hungary, Application No. 37641/19, Judgement of 20 June 2024, available here; Z.L. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 13899/19, Judgement of 12 September 2024, available here; M. H. v. Hungary, Application No. 652/18, Judgement of 3 October 2024, available here; A.P. v. Hungary, Application No. 18581/19, Judgement of 3 October 2024, available here and M.D.A. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 16217/19, Judgement of 19 December 2024, available here.

⁵⁷¹ ECtHR, M.S.H. v. Hungary, Application No. 44283/19, 27 February 2025, available here; F.S. and A.S. v. Hungary, Application No. 50872/18, 19 June 2025, available here; and H.A. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 39498/18, 19 June 2025, available here.

⁵⁷² Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁵⁷³ Cordelia Foundation et al., From Torture to Detention: Access of Torture Survivor and Traumatized Asylum-Seekers to Rights and Care in Detention, Hungary and Bulgaria, January 2016, available here.

⁵⁷⁴ For further information see previous updates of this report, available here.

applicants, particularly during the second applicant's gynaecological examinations. Of further concern to the Court is the fact that at the material time there was no professional psychological assistance available for traumatised asylum-seekers in the transit zone.⁵⁷⁵

In H.M. and Others case the Court found that handcuffing the husband and attaching him to a leash when accompanying his pregnant wife to a hospital diminished his human dignity and was in itself degrading and unjustified.⁵⁷⁶

2.3 Conditions for vulnerable asylum seekers

Asylum detention

Under Section 31/F of the Asylum Act, detention must take into account the special needs of the person concerned.⁵⁷⁷

Vulnerable persons, except unaccompanied children, are not excluded from detention. The HHC in the past regularly saw applicants with special needs such as the elderly, persons with mental or physical disability detained and not receiving adequate support. A mechanism to identify persons with special needs does not exist within the asylum procedure (see Identification of vulnerable persons). The lack of a systematic identification mechanism led to the frequent detention of torture survivors and other traumatised asylum seekers, as well as making existing legal safeguards ineffective. There are no special conditions for vulnerable asylum seekers in detention. An asylum seeker in 2021 was detained despite being in need of special medical treatment that was not available in detention. No vulnerable asylum seekers were detained in 2022 nor in 2023, nor in 2024. In 2025, the HHC was contacted by several detainees, who according to the HHC should have been considered vulnerable and therefore not detained,⁵⁷⁸ but according to the NDGAP there were no persons with special needs detained in 2025.⁵⁷⁹

There is no systematic training for those who order, uphold or carry out the detention of asylum seekers regarding the needs of survivors of torture, SGBV such as rape or other serious acts of ill-treatment. It is therefore questionable to what extent the authority is capable to carry out the assessment of vulnerabilities and special needs in the framework of detention, given that no expert psychologists and doctors are employed to this end. The NDGAP may decide to use the assistance of external medical or psychological specialists. However, this is not a common or frequent practice.⁵⁸⁰

Transit zones (prior to their closure in May 2020)

See the information provided in the previous AIDA reports on Hungary.

3. Access to detention facilities

Indicators: Access to Detention Facilities

- | | | | |
|--|---|---|-----------------------------|
| 1. Is access to detention centres allowed to | | | |
| ❖ Lawyers: | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Limited | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ NGOs: | <input type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Limited | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ UNHCR: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> Limited | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| ❖ Family members: | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> Limited | <input type="checkbox"/> No |

⁵⁷⁵ ECtHR, R.R. and Others v. Hungary, Application No. 36037/17, Judgment of 2 March 2021, available here.

⁵⁷⁶ ECtHR, H.M. and Others v. Hungary, Application no 38967/17, Judgment of 2 June 2022, available here.

⁵⁷⁷ Section 31/F(1) Asylum Act.

⁵⁷⁸ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, February 2026.

⁵⁷⁹ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁵⁸⁰ Cordelia Foundation et al., From Torture to Detention: Access of Torture Survivor and Traumatized Asylum-Seekers to Rights and Care in Detention, Hungary and Bulgaria, January 2016, available here.

In the summer of 2017, the authorities terminated its cooperation agreements with the Hungarian Helsinki Committee and denied them access to police detention, prisons and immigration detention after two decades of cooperation and over 2,000 visits (see Information for Asylum Seekers).

Politicians have access to asylum detention, but they need to ask for permission in advance. In practice, this rarely happens, since the interest is not very high. Media access is more limited. Media were let in the transit zones only on one occasion, soon after the opening of the transit zones, when a press conference was organised by the Ministry of Interior in Tompa transit zone on 6 April 2017, which was virtually emptied of its inhabitants for the time of the press conference.⁵⁸¹ On 8 October 2019, the ECtHR ruled that refusing a journalist access to report on living conditions in a reception centre for asylum seekers is a violation of freedom of expression.⁵⁸²

On 10 February 2020, the UN Committee on the Rights of the Child published its concluding observations on Hungary, where it found worrying that NGOs are excluded from consultation and cannot conduct activities in a free environment, including NGOs working on asylum and detention.⁵⁸³

In asylum detention, Menedék Association gained access again in November 2025. Their social worker is visiting the facility once a week. Until the end of the year, they visited the centre 9 times.

Neither in 2022 nor in 2023, none of the civil organisations or religious entities visited Nyírbator asylum detention centre.⁵⁸⁴ In 2024, UNHCR visited the Nyírbator asylum detention centre once. In 2025, UNHCR visited the Nyírbator detention centre three times.

D. Procedural safeguards

1. Judicial review of the detention order

Indicators: Judicial Review of Detention

- | | | |
|---|---|-----------------------------|
| 1. Is there an automatic review of the lawfulness of detention? | <input checked="" type="checkbox"/> Yes | <input type="checkbox"/> No |
| 2. If yes, at what interval is the detention order reviewed? | 60 days | |

Asylum seekers are informed of the reasons of their detention and their rights orally in a language that they understand, but the detention order is given to them in Hungarian. Asylum seekers often complain that they were not properly informed, or they did not understand the grounds of their detention and the length thereof.⁵⁸⁵ The CPT confirmed this and made an explicit recommendation to the Hungarian government regarding this issue.⁵⁸⁶

The CPT further found that '[...] many foreign nationals (including unaccompanied juveniles) complained about the quality of interpretation services and in particular that they were made to sign documents in Hungarian, the contents of which were not translated to them and which they consequently did not understand.'⁵⁸⁷ And that '[A] number of the foreign nationals interviewed during the visit claimed that they had not been informed upon their arrival at the establishment of their rights and obligations in a language

⁵⁸¹ Hvg, Megnéztük a helyet, ahol Németh Szilárd szívesen lakott volna, 6 April 2017, available in Hungarian here, Abcúg, Szöges drótok pókhálója szövi körbe a tranzitónában malmozó menedékkérőket, 7 April 2017, available in Hungarian here. Index.hu, Szöges drótok pókhálója szövi körbe a tranzitónában malmozó menedékkérőket, 7 April 2017, available in Hungarian here.

⁵⁸² ECtHR, Szurovecz v. Hungary, Application no 15428/16, Judgment of 8 October 2019, available here.

⁵⁸³ CRC, Concluding observations on the sixth periodic report of Hungary, 3 March 2020, CRC/C/HUN/CO/6*, available here, para. 14.

⁵⁸⁴ Information provided by NDGAP on 13 February 2023.

⁵⁸⁵ Cordelia Foundation et al., From Torture to Detention: Access of Torture Survivor and Traumatized Asylum-Seekers to Rights and Care in Detention, Hungary and Bulgaria, January 2016, available here.

⁵⁸⁶ CPT, Report to the Hungarian Government on the visit to Hungary carried out from 21 to 27 October 2015, 3 November 2016, CPT/Inf (2016) 27, available here, paras 58 and 63.

⁵⁸⁷ Ibid, para 59.

they could understand (let alone in writing) and that they had been made to sign documents which they had not understood. They were also uncertain, for example, whether and to whom they could lodge complaints. The examination by the delegation of a number of personal files of detained foreign nationals revealed that some of the files contained a copy of information materials provided to the foreign national concerned. However, in all cases, they were in Hungarian and only some of them were signed by the foreign national concerned and/or an interpreter.⁵⁸⁸

There are no separate legal remedies against the asylum and immigration detention orders since the NDGAP's decision on detention cannot be appealed. The lawfulness of detention can only be challenged through an automatic court review system. Section 31/C(3) of the Asylum Act, however, provides that asylum seekers can file an objection against an order of asylum detention.

In recent years, the effectiveness of judicial review has been criticised by the CoE Commissioner for Human Rights who expressed concern about the lack of effective judicial review,⁵⁸⁹ along with UNHCR⁵⁹⁰ and the UNWGAD.⁵⁹¹

In HHC's view, detention orders and detention prolongations do not properly explain why a particular ground for detention is cited. For example, a justification for detention of an asylum seeker based on Section 31(1)c) of the Asylum Act (risk of absconding) is that the asylum seeker would be likely to withdraw from the asylum procedure in order not to be returned to his/her country of origin; an argument that is hard to understand in light of the fact that the reason for asking asylum is not to be returned to the country of origin in the first place.⁵⁹² In a case pending before the ECtHR, the risk of absconding was justified by the immigration authority by stating that the applicant would probably withdraw from the asylum procedure, so that he would not have to return to his country of origin, as well as by his illegal entry, no financial or social ties to Hungary and his risk to national security, which in the HHC's view in itself are not sufficient indicators that the applicant would actually abscond.⁵⁹³

Detention orders are generic in nature and fail to properly consider alternatives to detention or take into account individual special circumstances and vulnerable persons are not detained only in exceptional cases. The HHC has documented cases where migrants are held in detention despite the fact that the medical treatment and care they would need is not available in the detention centre. For example, in a case pending before the ECtHR, despite several requests put forward, the applicant was not ensured access to adequate and timely medical care. The applicant's detention in a place without adequate health care was clearly disproportionate due to his serious medical condition.⁵⁹⁴ In another case the applicant's representative submitted an expert report from a clinical psychologist, which stated that the applicant is likely to have a personality disorder and depressive symptoms induced by confinement and requested the application of the alternatives to detention. In the judicial review procedure, the court did not even address the expert's report in its reasoning when it decided to prolong the detention.⁵⁹⁵

The HHC is aware of a few cases in 2025 where asylum seekers applied for asylum immediately upon arriving at the airport and they were nevertheless detained, on the grounds of a risk of absconding. The justification was similar as above, namely, that they refused to return to their country of origin and that they did not have any ties to Hungary. The Nyírbátor court extended their detention, in one case despite the very poor mental state of the applicant, who had been undergoing psychiatric treatment in his country of origin for several years prior to his escape, and who reported suicidal thoughts several times in ⁵⁸⁸ Ibid, para 62.

⁵⁸⁹ CoE Commissioner for Human Rights, Report by Nils Muižnieks Commissioner for human rights of the Council of Europe following his visit to Hungary from 1 to 4 July 2014, CommDH(2014)21, available here.

⁵⁹⁰ UNHCR, UNHCR Comments and recommendations on the draft modification of certain migration, asylum-related and other legal acts for the purpose of legal harmonisation, January 2015, available here.

⁵⁹¹ UNWGAD, Hungary: UN experts concerned at overuse of detention and lack of effective legal assistance, 2 October 2013, available here.

⁵⁹² For example: Nyírbátor District Court, 1.Beü.143/2023/4., 12 April 2023.

⁵⁹³ ECtHR, Application No. 34126/21.

⁵⁹⁴ ECtHR, Application No. 34126/21.

⁵⁹⁵ Nyírbátor District Court, 1.Beü.353/2023/6., 5 September 2023.

detention, but did not receive any medical or psychological help. However, the HHC is also aware of some positive examples. In one case the applicant received a negative asylum decision, but the court did not extend his detention, because the applicant had a partner with whom he could stay, and he was ordered to report to the immigration office regularly.⁵⁹⁶ In another case, where the clients were represented by the HHC, the court refused to extend their detention after 90 days, despite the grounds for detention being a threat to national security, because the applicants were in a very poor mental health state. However, in this case, the applicants were able to pay for an expert opinion from a psychiatrist (approx. 1,000 EUR) and the court also conducted an online hearing of their psychiatrist from their country of origin.⁵⁹⁷

1.1 Automatic judicial review

Judicial review of the administrative decision imposing detention on a foreigner is conducted by first instance courts in case of a decision for the purpose of extending the duration of detention. Detention may initially be ordered by the NDGAP for a maximum duration of 72 hours, and it may be extended by the court of jurisdiction upon the request of the NDGAP, which should be filed within 24 hours from the time it has been ordered. The court may grant an extension of asylum detention for a maximum duration of 60 days. Every 60 days, the NDGAP needs to request the court for another prolongation, 8 working days prior to the due date for extension. The court can prolong detention for 60 days repeatedly up to 6 months. The court has to decide on prolongation before the date of expiry of the detention order.⁵⁹⁸

A hearing in the judicial review procedure is mandatory in the first prolongation procedure (after 72 hours of detention) or if the detained person asks for it when they file an objection against the detention order. The court shall appoint a lawyer for the asylum seeker if they do not speak Hungarian and are unable to arrange their representation by an authorised representative.⁵⁹⁹ Asylum seekers are often not informed that they can request a hearing. The HHC's lawyers reported that it has happened that, where an asylum seeker requested a hearing, the court reacted in a discouraging way, asking why they had requested a hearing if no change had occurred since the detention was ordered.

In January 2021, a client of the HHC was placed in asylum detention and despite the request for a hearing and an obligation to hold a hearing in the first prolongation procedure, the Nyírbátor court refused to hear the applicant stating that due to COVID restrictions and the state of health this was not possible. According to the Asylum Act, the hearing during the first prolongation procedure can only be omitted only if a) the person seeking asylum is unfit or unable to be interviewed owing to being hospitalised, or b) the complaint or the motion does not originate from a party entitled to do so.⁶⁰⁰ The applicant was not in a hospital and therefore not holding a hearing was clearly unlawful.

Judicial reviews of immigration and asylum detention are conducted mostly by criminal law judges. Judicial review of immigration detention has been found to be ineffective, as Hungarian courts fail to address the lawfulness of detention in individual cases or to provide individualised reasoning based upon the applicant's specific facts and circumstances. The HHC's analysis of 64 court decisions from February 2014 (and the experience of HHC lawyers in 2015) confirmed that the judicial review of asylum detention is ineffective because of several reasons.⁶⁰¹ According to the HHC the below shortcomings were still observed in 2020, 2021, 2022, 2023, 2024 and 2025.

Firstly, the proceeding courts systematically fail to carry out an individualised assessment regarding the necessity and proportionality of detention and rely merely on the statements and facts presented in the former IAO's detention order, despite clear requirements under EU and domestic law to apply detention as a measure of last resort, for the shortest possible time and only as long as the grounds for ordering ⁵⁹⁶ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, February 2026.

⁵⁹⁷ Nyírbátori District Court, 4.Beü.666/2025/11., 19 December 2025.

⁵⁹⁸ Section 31/A(6) Asylum Act.

⁵⁹⁹ Section 31/A(6) Asylum Act.

⁶⁰⁰ Asylum Act, Section 31/D (7).

⁶⁰¹ HHC, Information Note on asylum-seekers in detention and in Dublin procedures in Hungary, May 2014, available here.

detention are applicable.⁶⁰² As an extreme example demonstrating the lack of individualisation, 4 decisions of the Nyírbátor District Court analysed by the HHC contained incorrect personal data (name, date of birth or citizenship of the applicant).⁶⁰³ The judges are only able to make their decisions on the basis of the unilateral information in the motions submitted by the NDGAP, because the documents supporting those motions are not submitted to the courts, making it difficult to have individualised decisions on each case, resulting in the formulaic nature of the courts' statements of reasons.

Moreover, 4 court decisions contained a date of birth which indicates an age lower than 18 years.⁶⁰⁴ Nevertheless, none of the decisions questioned the lawfulness of detention of the persons concerned, nor did they refer to any age assessment process or evidence proving the adult age of the asylum seeker concerned.

The HHC's attorneys report that if the asylum seeker is not represented by an attorney who is not an ex officio attorney, the chances of success at the court are equal to zero. If the asylum seeker is represented, then there is a very slim chance that they will be released. The same findings apply in 2024 and 2025.

The 60-day interval for automatic judicial review per se excludes the use of detention only for as short a period as possible and only until the grounds for detention are applicable, as required by EU law.⁶⁰⁵ If for any reason, the relevant grounds for detention cease to be applicable, for example, one week after the last judicial review, this fact is extremely unlikely to be perceived by the detaining authority and the detainee's first chance to bring this change to the attention of the district court and request their released will be only 53 days later. Therefore, the 60-day intervals cannot be considered as 'reasonable intervals' in the sense of Article 9(5) of the Recast Reception Conditions Directive.

The Asylum Working Group of the Supreme Court adopted a summary opinion on 13 October 2014,⁶⁰⁶ which, based on a vast analysis of cases and consultations with judges and experts, dealt with several different issues including the judicial review of asylum detention. Such summary opinions constitute non-binding guidance to courts, aimed at the harmonisation of judicial practices, and are not related to a particular individual case. The Kúria confirmed the HHC's concerns with regard to the ineffectiveness of the judicial review of asylum detention in all aspects and concluded that 'the judicial review of asylum detention is ineffective', for the same reasons as in the case of immigration detention.

The Kúria especially pointed out inter alia that judicial decisions are completely schematic and limit themselves to the mere repetition of the arguments submitted by the authority ordering detention; judges are overburdened, insufficiently qualified and not in a position to conduct an individualised assessment, nor able to verify whether or not detention was ordered as a 'last resort'.

Despite the Supreme Court's very positive analysis and guidance, nothing has changed since then in the practice. The same is true for the similar summary conclusions on immigration detention published in September 2013, which put forward very positive standards, with yet no visible impact on anything.

In 2023, the ECtHR issued five judgements, and in 2024 three, concerning asylum detention, finding a violation of Article 5(1) in all of them.⁶⁰⁷ The Committee of Ministers of the Council of Europe, who monitors ⁶⁰² Articles 8(2) and 9(1) recast Reception Conditions Directive; Section 31/A(2) Asylum Act.

⁶⁰³ Nyírbátor District Court, Decisions Nos 1.Ir.214/2014/3., 9.Ir.350/2014/3., 1.Ir.728/2013/5., 9.Ir.335/2014/3.

⁶⁰⁴ Nyírbátor District Court case 1.Ir.46/2014/3., Debrecen District Court cases 68.Beü.94/2014/4-I., 68.Beü.108/2014/4, 68.Beü.104/2014/4., 68.Beü.1087/2014/4.

⁶⁰⁵ Article 9(1) recast Reception Conditions Directive.

⁶⁰⁶ The Asylum Working Group of the Supreme Court summary opinion, 13 October 2014, here.

⁶⁰⁷ ECtHR, A.A. v. Hungary, Application No. 7077/15, Judgment of 14 September 2023, available here, H.N. v. Hungary, Application No. 26250/15, Judgment of 4 May 2023, available here. M.M. v. Hungary, Application No. 26819/15, Judgment of 4 May 2023, available here, M.N. v. Hungary, Application No. 48139/16, Judgment of 14 September 2023, available here. DSHIJRI v. Hungary, Application No. 21325/16, Judgment of 23 February 2023, available at: <https://bit.ly/3UAmIXy> and S.B. v. Hungary and M.H. v. Hungary, Application Nos. 15977/17 and 10940/17, Judgment of 22 February 2024, available here and L. v. Hungary, Application No. 6182/20, Judgment of 21 March 2024, available here.

the execution of ECtHR judgments, has not closed any of the Hungarian cases where the judgment was delivered on the arbitrariness of detention of asylum seekers, as they are aware that Hungary has not implemented any systemic changes.⁶⁰⁸ On 20 June 2024, the HHC submitted a Rule 9.2 on non-implementation.⁶⁰⁹ On 23 September 2024, the Committee of Ministers assessed the Government's action report and invited the authorities to provide more detailed information on centralised trainings provided to domestic authorities and to present, if available, recent case-law of the asylum authority and domestic courts to demonstrate how the principles of the European Court are applied by these authorities.⁶¹⁰ On 3 October 2025, the HHC submitted a Rule 9.2 on non-implementation in case S.B. and M.H. v. Hungary, which concerned the arbitrary detention of UaSC, due to the domestic authorities' failure to act expeditiously and with due regard to the children's best interests. The Committee of Ministers issued several recommendations and invited the authorities to submit an updated action plan.⁶¹¹

When an asylum seeker is detained based on being considered a risk to national security, the reasons for such classification are classified data to which the detainee or their representative does not have access (not even to the essence of it). The judge reviewing detention could have access to the classified data, but they never ask for it, therefore, such detention is often prolonged automatically, without any chance to effectively challenge it.⁶¹²

1.2 Objection

According to Section 31/C(3) of the Asylum Act, an asylum seeker may file an objection against the ordering of asylum detention and the denial of certain rights of detainees during detention e.g. right to use a phone, right to special diets etc. The amendments to the Asylum Act that entered into force in January 2018 prescribe that objections should be submitted within 3 days after the issuance of the detention order.⁶¹³ The objection must be decided upon by the local court within 8 days.⁶¹⁴ Based on the decision of the court, the measure shall be carried out or the unlawful situation shall be terminated.⁶¹⁵

In practice, however, the effectiveness of this remedy is highly questionable for several reasons. Firstly, an objection can only be submitted against the ordering of asylum detention (i.e., the decision of the NDGAP, ordering detention for 72 hours). Following the first 72 hours, asylum detention can only be upheld by the local District Court for a maximum period of 60 days. Thus, the legal ground for detention will not be the NDGAP's decision, but that of the court. This means that only the first type of decision (that of the NDGAP) can be 'objected' against. The objection can therefore still not be regarded as a stand-alone judicial remedy against the detention order, as following the 72-hour period asylum detention is only subject to regular period review by the court, and the period is too long (courts can prolong detention for a maximum of 60 days). Accordingly, the asylum seeker is left with no legal means to challenge the detention order at their own initiative (not only during the mandatory periodic judicial review).

Secondly, during the first 72 hours of detention, detained asylum seekers do not have access to professional legal aid. The Asylum Act ensures a case guardian for asylum seekers in asylum detention (who is an attorney at law appointed by the authority), but only for the regular prolongation of detention at 60-day intervals and the judicial assessment of an 'objection' that has already been submitted to the court. No case guardian or ex officio appointed legal representative is present when asylum detention is ordered, ⁶⁰⁸ The leading case is: ECtHR, Lokpo and Toure v. Hungary, Application no 10816/10, Judgment of 20 September 2011, available here.

⁶⁰⁹ CoE Committee of Minister, Communication from an NGO (Hungarian Helsinki Committee) (21/06/2024) concerning the Lokpo and Toure group of cases v. Hungary (Application No. 10816/10), available here.

⁶¹⁰ CoE Committee of Minister, Lokpo and Toure v Hungary – Status of Execution, available here.

⁶¹¹ CoE Committee of Minister, S.B. and M.H. v. Hungary – Status of Execution, available here.

⁶¹² Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024. See also a pending ECtHR case Application No. 34126/21.

⁶¹³ Section 31/C(3) Asylum Act.

⁶¹⁴ Section 31/C(4) Asylum Act.

⁶¹⁵ Section 31/C(5) Asylum Act.

nor is such assistance provided in the first 72 hours of detention. Therefore, no legal professional can help the detainee file an objection.

Thirdly, there are also serious general concerns about the effectiveness of information provision upon issuing the detention order. The law provides for an interpreter that the asylum seeker can reasonably be expected to understand. However, asylum seekers in asylum detention unanimously stated to HHC during its monitoring visits in the past that the information provision was limited to the fact that a person is detained and the explanation about the specific grounds or other details, or appeal possibilities were not understood or not even provided.

1.3 No review of placement in transit zones

See previous versions of the AIDA reports on Hungary for a more detailed explanation.⁶¹⁶

2. Legal assistance for review of detention

Indicators: Legal Assistance for Review of Detention

1. Does the law provide for access to free legal assistance for the review of detention?
 Yes No
2. Do asylum seekers have effective access to free legal assistance in practice?
 Yes No

The court must appoint a legal representative and an interpreter in the detention review procedure for any asylum seeker who does not understand the Hungarian language and is unable to procure the services of a legal representative on their own.⁶¹⁷

Even though the presence of an officially appointed lawyer is obligatory, the HHC has witnessed that lawyers usually do not object to the prolongation of detention. Officially appointed lawyers often provide ineffective legal assistance when challenging immigration detention, which is caused by their failure to meet their clients before the hearing, study their case file, or present any objections to the extension of the detention order. Besides, this ex officio legal assistance is only provided at the first court prolongation of the detention order (after 72 hours). This is corroborated by the Hungarian Supreme Court 2014 summary opinion, finding that the ex officio appointed legal guardians' intervention is either formal or completely lacking and therefore the 'equality of arms' principle is not applied in practice. The CPT observed that:

'[S]ome detained foreign nationals met by the delegation were unaware of their right of access to a lawyer, let alone one appointed ex officio. A few foreign nationals claimed that they had been told by police officers that such a right did not exist in Hungary. Moreover, the majority of those foreign nationals who did have an ex officio lawyer appointed complained that they did not have an opportunity to consult the lawyer before being questioned by the police or before a court hearing and that the lawyer remained totally passive throughout the police questioning or court hearing. In this context, it is also noteworthy that several foreign nationals stated that they were not sure whether they had a lawyer appointed as somebody unknown to them was simply present during the official proceedings without talking to them and without saying anything in their interest.'⁶¹⁸

These statements remain true for 2024 and 2025, as no changes have been implemented.

Since the cooperation agreements were revoked by the authorities in the summer of 2017, HHC lawyers do not have direct access to the detention centres. HHC lawyers can only represent clients if the asylum seekers explicitly communicate the wish to be represented by the HHC lawyer to the NDGAP (they have to make a written request). Once this request is received by the NDGAP, HHC lawyers can meet the client in a special room. Lawyers are not allowed to use their phones, therefore it is not possible to call a translator or use internet translation or to take pictures of the documents. This way legal aid in the asylum detention is seriously obstructed, as free legal advice does not reach everyone in the facility, but only those explicitly asking for it.

⁶¹⁶ For further information about the situation prior to that, see previous updates of this report, available here.

⁶¹⁷ Section 31/D(4) Asylum Act.

⁶¹⁸ CPT, Report to the Hungarian Government on the visit to Hungary carried out from 21 to 27 October 2015, CPT/Inf (2016) 27, 3 November 2016, available here, para 55.

Asylum seekers can contact their private lawyers, if they have one, and meet them in privacy. Access to state legal aid is particularly problematic for those in detention (see Legal assistance).

E. Differential treatment of specific nationalities in detention

The HHC is not aware of differential treatment in terms of specific nationalities being more susceptible to detention or systematically detained.

Content of International Protection

Since June 2016, the Hungarian state has completely withdrawn integration services provided to beneficiaries of international protection, thus leaving recognised refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection to destitution and homelessness. Only non- and intergovernmental and church-based organisations provide services aimed at integration such as housing, language courses, assistance with finding employment, or with family reunification.⁶¹⁹ However, their capacities are seriously limited and cannot provide for all. Since 2022, accessing the available solutions became even more difficult for the system being overburdened by the Ukrainian refugee flow.

The Commissioner for Human Rights of the Council of Europe pointed out in her 2019 report that xenophobic rhetoric and attitudes in Hungary have a harmful effect on the integration of recognised refugees.⁶²⁰ According to a comparative report on refugee integration frameworks in 14 EU Member States from 2019 among east-central European countries, Hungary provides the least advantageous integration policy framework. According to the authors, this is due to deliberate policy choices.⁶²¹

In June 2019, the UN Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination recommended that Hungary take all immediate measures to stop racist hate speech and incitement to violence against, among others, asylum seekers, refugees and migrants. The Committee was particularly alarmed by racist and discriminatory statements made by public figures, with more power to promote racial hatred.⁶²² The Special Rapporteur on the human rights of migrants remarked that journalists from local media helped fuelling xenophobia and anti-migration attitudes in Hungary.⁶²³ The UNHCR raised similar concerns. According to the organisation, 'the Government of Hungary has been systematically pursuing an anti-refugee rhetoric over the years. In the context of the coronavirus pandemic, Prime Minister Viktor Orbán and other senior government officials have on several occasions asserted that foreigners and migrants are to blame for the arrival of the pandemic in Hungary. This rhetoric has fuelled xenophobia, ethnic and racial hatred including by associating immigration and refugees with terrorism, by vilifying refugees and migrants as a threat to the country.'⁶²⁴ A recent study showed no changes. Attitudes towards immigration are still negative, with Hungary consistently featuring at the bottom of the European rankings when it comes to welcoming attitudes and openness towards refugees and other migrants. However, there are small signs of change, most notably in personal comfort levels with immigrants as friends, neighbours and in professional settings. Political narratives around immigration are extremely xenophobic, racist and islamophobic. Prime Minister Viktor Orbán's centre-right Fidesz party has monopolised the issue, aligned with the far right and turning the most anti-migrant political rhetoric in Europe into a highly successful electoral strategy.⁶²⁵

As indicated in European Commission against Racism and Intolerance (ECRI) 2022 report on Hungary, the integration of international protection beneficiaries relies solely on national laws. This may be attributed to the fact that there has been no outlined integration plan adopted, although the Hungarian Migration Strategy had advocated for that, and that the specialised integration assistance program -

⁶¹⁹ HHC, Two years after: What's Left of Refugee Protection in Hungary?, September 2017, available here.

⁶²⁰ CoE-CommDH – Council of Europe - Commissioner for Human Rights: Commission for Human Rights of the Council of Europe Dunja Mijatović; Report following her visit to Hungary from 4 to 8 February 2019, 21 May 2019, available here.

⁶²¹ Wolffhardt et al., The European benchmark for refugee reintegration: A comparative analysis of the National Integration Evaluation Mechanism in 14 EU countries, 2019, <https://bit.ly/2KZgiYY>, 10.

⁶²² Committee on the Elimination of Racial Discrimination, Concluding observations on the combined eighteenth to twenty-fifth periodic reports of Hungary, CERD/C/HUN/CO/18-25, 6 June 2019, available here.

⁶²³ UN Human Rights Council, Compilation on Hungary; Report of the Office of the United Nations High Commissioner for Human Rights, A/HRC/WG.6/39/HUN/2, 25 August 2021, available here.

⁶²⁴ UNHCR, Submission by the United Nations High Commissioner for Refugees; For the Office of the High Commissioner for Human Rights' Compilation Report; Universal Periodic Review: 3rd Cycle, 39th Session; Hungary, February 2021, available here.

⁶²⁵ ODI Global, Public narratives and attitudes towards refugees and other migrants: Hungary country profile, 7 January 2025, Research report written by Amanda Gray Meral, Claire Kumar, available here.

providing various supports, such as monthly allowance, assistance with school enrolment, and financial aid for housing for up to two years - was terminated in 2016.⁶²⁶

Keeping in mind the complete withdrawal of the state from the integration of beneficiaries of international protection, we discuss the content of international protection as follows.

A. Status and residence

1. Residence permit

Indicators: Residence Permit

- | | |
|--|---------|
| 1. What is the duration of residence permits granted to beneficiaries of protection? | |
| ❖ Refugee status | 3 years |
| ❖ Subsidiary protection | 3 years |
| ❖ Humanitarian protection | 1 year |

In Hungary, persons with protection status do not get a residence permit, but a Hungarian ID. Since 1 June 2016, the duration of refugee status and subsidiary protection were brought to 3 years. According to the Asylum Act, refugee and subsidiary protection statuses shall be reviewed at least every 3 years.⁶²⁷

According to the law, the issuance of ID and address cards should take up to 20 days.⁶²⁸ However, in practice it takes at least 1 month, noting that given the low number recognitions, applying for an ID is not a frequent occurrence.⁶²⁹ Persons with international protection status are able to stay in the reception centres only for 30 days after the delivery of the decision on the status.⁶³⁰ For 2025, Menedék Association reported that in general, in the event of the previous ID expiring, the application for a new one takes 1-3 weeks. However, in the case of newborns (children of beneficiaries of international protection born in Hungary), the procedure is very long. It takes a long time for the parents to receive the child's birth certificate, which is necessary for submitting an application for recognition as a refugee. From the time the application is submitted, it takes about 2-3 months for the child to receive international protection. The competent government office is informed about the recognition of international protection status by post from the NDGAP. Unfortunately, the government office does not accept if the parent personally brings the recognition decision. Only after that, the parent can apply for the child's identity card.⁶³¹

Between the age of 18 and 65, the ID card is issued for a period of 6 years. Under the age of 18, children are provided with an ID card valid for 3 years. Both refugee and subsidiary protection status have to be examined by the NDGAP ex officio after at least 3 years counted from the day the status was granted. If the status is withdrawn as a result of the procedure, the ID card should be also invalidated. Until the end of the procedure, the beneficiary of international protection is still entitled for the ID card.

Menedék Association reported that an Afghan family rescued by the Hungarian Defence Forces in 2021 from Afghanistan and accommodated in the Balassagyarmat reception centre had to go through an excessively long ID card procedure in 2022. Members of the family were recognised as beneficiaries of subsidiary protection. The NDGAP asylum authority notified the competent government office and the reception centre about the family's status and their right to have an ID card, but the reception centre failed ⁶²⁶ ECRI: ECRI report on Hungary (sixth monitoring cycle), 9 March 2023, paras 90-91, available here.

⁶²⁷ Sections 7/A(1) and 14(1) Asylum Act.

⁶²⁸ See more information regarding the requirements and procedures to obtain an ID card in the report issued by the Immigration and Refugee Board of Canada, Hungary: Identity cards and address cards for nationals and non-nationals, including requirements and procedures to obtain the cards; description of the cards, including information on the cards (2016-July 2018), [HUN106146.E], 10 August 2018, available here.

⁶²⁹ Information received from the Menedék Association on 21 February 2025.

⁶³⁰ Section 32(1) Asylum Act.

⁶³¹ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

to notify the family, and as a result, it took more than 2 months for the family to receive their ID cards after they moved out from the reception centre.⁶³²

Menedék Association points out that by 2023-2024, the (first) application for an ID card by a beneficiary of international protection has become quite rare, given the number of asylum seekers and recognised refugees.⁶³³ Regarding renewals of ID cards, Menedék Association reported the following 2023 cases:

- ❖ In one case, a beneficiary of international protection has renewed his ID card, attaching to his application a certificate from the NDGAP stating that his/her status is still maintained by the NDGAP. Nonetheless, the renewed ID card was valid for a total of 8 months, for reasons unspecified.
- ❖ In another case concerning a renewal of the ID card of a beneficiary of international protection, the beneficiary did not attach the NDGAP certificate of his status, as the administrator did not ask for it. The beneficiary was issued with the requested document, but with the same date that was expired.⁶³⁴

In practice, refugee children or children with subsidiary protection who reside in Hungary with only one of their parents face obstacles upon the obtainment of ID cards. According to the law,⁶³⁵ both parents' consent is required to issue an ID card to children with no legal capacity (below the age of fourteen). Thus, the parent of the child not staying in Hungary must give their consent in writing (either in a private document providing full evidence or a statement taken before the Hungarian Consulate) and has to deliver the original copy of it to Hungary. In countries of origin such as Syria, Afghanistan or Somalia where public service does not function or in a limited way, and Hungarian Consulates do not operate this requirement amounts to difficulties for the parent to comply with. Not to mention the level of public security, which makes compliance with the law for a single mother even more difficult. As per the HHC, such a requirement for refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection is unnecessary and disproportionate. Furthermore, the regulation highlights that the law is not tailored to the situation of beneficiaries of international protection. Nevertheless, it may be assumed that these requirements continued to be applied in 2024.⁶³⁶

Menedék Association reported that in 2022, beneficiaries of international protection who returned to Hungary from other EU Member States faced difficulties in obtaining Hungarian documents, such as ID and address cards before the government offices. Such problems were not reported in 2023 or 2024. In 2025, this problem was spotted again. In the case of returns of international protection status holders from other EU Member States, the procedure for issuing documents in Hungary is not clear. The NDGAP does not issue them with a status certificate, as they do not have a valid Hungarian residence card upon return, therefore they must first obtain one. As a result, in the absence of a status certificate, they cannot apply for an identity card; all the documents can only be obtained in a lengthy procedure. This lengthy procedure happens despite the fact that prior to the readmission, the NDGAP presumably consulted the other EU Member State about the identity and legal title (status) of the person to be readmitted to Hungary.⁶³⁷

⁶³² Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC on 28 February 2022.

⁶³³ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC on 22 February 2024 and 21 February 2025.

⁶³⁴ Ibid.

⁶³⁵ Section 20 Government Decree 414/2015 (XII.23.) on the issuance of ID card and on the uniform image and signature recording rules.

⁶³⁶ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024 and February 2025.

⁶³⁷ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

2. Civil registration

2.1 Registration of child birth

Pursuant to the Act on Civil Registration Procedure,⁶³⁸ within one day from the birth of a child, parents have the obligation to register their birth at the competent Registry Office, which issues the birth certificate. None of the organisations interviewed reported systemic problems as to birth registration.

Main challenges concern the establishment and registration of a new-born child's citizenship. Hence, those children whose parents are beneficiaries of international protection are registered as unknown citizens given that Hungary does not have the competency to establish the nationality of another country. Since parents cannot contact the embassy of their country of origin to register their child, the new-born remains without an established citizenship.

The aforementioned practice is based on the current Hungarian legislation, according to which children of persons with international protection do not receive Hungarian citizenship ex lege at birth. This is a clear violation of Article 1(2)(a)-(b) of the 1961 Convention on the Reduction of Statelessness and Article 6(2)(b) of the 1997 European Convention on Nationality. Furthermore, it is in breach of Articles 3 and 7 of the 1989 Convention on the Rights of the Child.⁶³⁹ According to the Menedék Association, the struggle of obtaining citizenship for the child leads to frustration and anxiety for parents with international protection. The problem persisted in 2024.⁶⁴⁰

Menedék Association reported another issue with regard to birth registration in 2023 and in 2024: birth registration is difficult when the father and mother are not married or if the father is not in Hungary or is already deceased at the time of birth. This causes problems if the mother wants the child to bear the father's surname.

Menedék Association furthermore reported a problematic 2024 case concerning an Afghan newborn beneficiary of subsidiary protection. In the case, the registry office requested a recent official certificate of the parents' international protection status in order to issue a birth certificate for the baby. In addition, the registry office also requested a certificate from NDGAP that the parents were married - although the NDGAP could not change the marital status after the status had been obtained, even if it changed and the client notified them. The registry office asking for both certificates poses disproportionate administrative difficulties for the parents. NDGAP also found problematic that the parents' apartment rental contract did not include the newborn, the address declaration completed and signed by the owner was not sufficient, and the parents had to write a separate declaration stating that the child was living with them in the property they were renting. All of this meant that the newborn was without any documents for 8 months (+1 month before the decision on recognition arrived at the competent government office and the identity card and address card were issued).⁶⁴¹

In 2025, Menedék Association reported another difficulty, which is naming the child if the parents do not want to give the child the name previously specified by the ELTE Linguistics Research Center, which runs a legal register of first names, but want to give the name used in their country of origin. In such cases, Menedék tries to obtain a declaration from the Hungarian mission operating in the country of origin, or in the absence of it, a declaration from the parent, that the name is accepted in their country of origin.⁶⁴²

⁶³⁸ Act I of 2010 on Civil Registration Procedure.

⁶³⁹ 'Until 2002, the relevant Law-Decree did not contain any specific guidance for cases where the new-born child's nationality was not proven (e.g., neither of the parents was a Hungarian citizen, etc.). Based on anecdotal information and data gathered from individual cases known to the author, it appears that the practice was to register children automatically as having the same nationality as their parents.' see Gábor Gyulai, Nationality unknown? An overview of the safeguards and gaps related to the prevention of statelessness at birth in Hungary, January 2014, available here.

⁶⁴⁰ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC 21 February 2025.

⁶⁴¹ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC 21 February 2025.

⁶⁴² Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

2.2 Registration of marriage

As regards marriage in general, the same rules apply to beneficiaries of international protection as to Hungarian nationals. There is only one additional requirement that refugees and persons with subsidiary protection have to fulfil. As it is set out in the Act on Civil Registration Procedure, non-Hungarian citizens have to prove that no obstacle to the marriage exists pursuant to their personal law.⁶⁴³ The term ‘personal law’ is defined in the Act on International Private Law,⁶⁴⁴ meaning the law of any State of which the person is a national. Consequently, in practice beneficiaries of international protection would have the obligation to contact their embassy (in order to obtain their approval and eventually, the birth certificate). This might be dangerous for the person, and in any case is prohibited by the Asylum Act, or the person loses their international protection status. Therefore, in such cases, the Act on Civil Registration Procedure enables the applicants to ask for an exemption from the Registry Office⁶⁴⁵ and provides ex lege exemption in cases where the country of origin is knowingly unable to issue the required certificate.⁶⁴⁶

As per the experiences of the Menedék Association, requests for exemption are mostly accepted by the Registry Office, nonetheless they are aware of a case when during the asylum procedure the applicant claimed to be married but lost his wife soon afterwards. As a result of the lack of proper Somalian state registration and since the refugee was not able to contact the embassy due to his fear of persecution, there was no way to prove the death of his wife with documents and to certify the change in his marital status. In general, registration of marriage is a long procedure in which couples usually need the help of the Menedék Association to write an application for exemption from the abovementioned rules. As a positive development in 2020 and 2021, the Menedék Association noted that in certain districts of Budapest the officers are more welcoming towards people with international protection background and speak English. In the countryside, due the lack of experience of case officers, beneficiaries of international protection are often requested to provide original documents from their country of origin. Menedék Association did not report of any change in 2024 and confirmed that beneficiaries of international protection are still sometimes asked to present their birth certificates. In 2025, the Menedék Association reported that the lack of a birth certificate for those wishing to get married, the acquisition and re-authentication of the birth certificate or family status certificate continue to be a frequent problem and result in an extremely lengthy process, especially if there is no Hungarian mission in the country of origin.⁶⁴⁷

Under the law, the state must provide an interpreter upon submitting the request to get married and during the ceremony in case the parties do not speak Hungarian. In contrast to that, as noted by Menedék Association in 2025 and previous years, in practice the parties are asked to bring an interpreter, who cannot be a relative of the persons concerned, but a non-professional is also accepted.⁶⁴⁸

2.3. Rectification of gender data

The Fifteenth Amendment to the Fundamental Law, in force from 15 April 2025, added to the Fundamental Law: “The person is a man or a woman.” The Explanatory Memorandum explains that “a person is born biologically male or female and that the sex at birth cannot be legally changed.” The ban on legal gender recognition introduced in May 2020 is thus now constitutionally entrenched. This runs counter to the holding of the CJEU rendered in the Deldits case on 13 March 2025.⁶⁴⁹ The CJEU ruled that authorities must rectify gender data under Article 16 GDPR and cannot invoke the absence of national gender ⁶⁴³ Section 23(1) Act I of 2010 on Civil Registration Procedure.

⁶⁴⁴ As of 1 January 2018, Section 15 of Act XXVIII of 2017 on International private law.

⁶⁴⁵ Section 23(1) Act on Civil Registration Procedure.

⁶⁴⁶ Section 23(2) Act on Civil Registration Procedure.

⁶⁴⁷ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

⁶⁴⁸ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC on 21 February 2025 and 1 February 2026.

⁶⁴⁹ CJEU, C-247/23, 13 March 2025, available here.

recognition procedures to restrict this right.⁶⁵⁰ Under the GDPR, transgender individuals have the right to rectify inaccurate gender markers in public registers, such as asylum records, without being required to undergo surgery. The case centered on a trans refugee in Hungary whose request to update their register to "male" was refused despite providing medical documents, with the court finding that such requirements violate the rights to personal integrity, private life, and accurate data. The judgement did not bring any legislative changes, and recent domestic jurisprudence on requests to rectify the personal data register is denying its applicability, by invoking the distinction between the asylum registry and the Hungarian personal data register. The asylum register functioned as a primary identity register, whereas the Hungarian personal data register merely mirrors the civil registry's birth-sex entry. If a register is designed to record biological sex at birth, then a divergence from lived gender identity does not render it "inaccurate."⁶⁵¹

3. Long-term residence

Indicators: Long-Term Residence

1. Number of long-term residence permits issued to beneficiaries in 2025:	Not available
---	---------------

As of 1 January 2024, the TCN Act is no longer in force. The new law applicable to the entry and stay of third country nationals is the GRTCN Act, although certain provisions of the TCN Act remained applicable until 29 February 2024.

The GRTCN Act regulates long-term residence. Long-term residence status can be granted to those refugees or beneficiaries of subsidiary protection who have lawfully resided on the territory of Hungary continuously for at least the three preceding years before the application was submitted.⁶⁵² Continuity assumes that a person has not stayed outside the territory of Hungary for more than 270 days in the three preceding years before the application and for a maximum of less than 4 months per occasion.⁶⁵³ In practice, the 3-year term of residence is to be counted from the leaving of reception facilities by the beneficiary of international protection status and the subsequent establishment of domicile.

According to the GRTCN Act and the Asylum Act, there is no possibility to possess two legal residence titles in Hungary at the same time.⁶⁵⁴ This means that by receiving a new legal title for residence the person automatically loses their international protection status.

Upon the application for a long-term residence permit, the applicant has to submit the documents in proof of means of subsistence (no exact minimum amount defined in law) in Hungary and the Hungarian existing residence, as well as the full health insurance.⁶⁵⁵ The NDGAP has 70 days to examine the case and make a decision.⁶⁵⁶ The long-term residence permit is granted for an indefinite term of time, but the issued ID has to be renewed every 5 years. There are no different criteria prescribed for refugees and people with subsidiary protection status.

According to the GRTCN Act, in case of exceptional circumstances, the third-country national may be given a national permanent residence permit by the decision of the minister in charge of immigration even in the absence of the relevant statutory requirements. The minister in charge of immigration may consider the economic, political, scientific, cultural and sports interests of Hungary.⁶⁵⁷

⁶⁵⁰ HHC, Selected questions and recommendations for Hungary in the Article 7(1) TEU procedure, October 2025, available here.

⁶⁵¹ Attila Szabó, Clash between gender data vs Hungarian personal data register: Can an existing Hungarian registry system prevent the enforcement of trans rights based on the GDPR?, 30 March 2026, available here.

⁶⁵² Section 83 (1) a) GRTCN Act.

⁶⁵³ Section 84 GRTCN Act.

⁶⁵⁴ Section 7(1) GRTCN Act; Section 1(3) Asylum Act.

⁶⁵⁵ Section 68(1) GRTCN Decree.

⁶⁵⁶ Section 81 GRTCN Act.

⁶⁵⁷ Section 85(2) GRTCN Act.

4. Naturalisation

Indicators: Naturalisation

1. What is the waiting period for obtaining citizenship?
❖ Refugees	3 years
❖ Subsidiary protection beneficiaries	8 years
2. Number of citizenship grants to beneficiaries in 2025:	21

The main criteria for naturalisation are laid down in Section 4(1) of the Citizenship Act as the following:

- The applicant has resided in Hungary continuously over a period of eight years (there is a shorter minimum period for refugees);
- According to Hungarian laws, the applicant has a clean criminal record and is not being indicted in any criminal proceedings before the Hungarian court;
- The applicant has sufficient means of subsistence (no exact minimum amount defined in law) and a place of residence in Hungary;
- Their naturalisation is not considered to be a threat to public policy or to the national security of Hungary; and
- The applicant provides proof that they have passed the exam in basic constitutional studies in Hungarian, or provides proof for their exemption from such exam.

The minimum period of residence prior to the naturalisation application is shorter for several categories of applicants who are treated favourably. Recognised refugees and stateless persons are two of the categories benefitting from preferential treatment and are required to have resided in Hungary for a continuous period of at least three years (as opposed to eight) directly prior to the submission of the application.⁶⁵⁸ However, regarding stateless persons the actual waiting time is 6 years, since they are not entitled to establish a domicile right after they were granted stateless status. In practice, this means that stateless persons must first apply for a national long-term residence permit, before, when it is obtained together with the registered domicile, they apply for Hungarian citizenship. According to the Menedék Association, in practice after 3 years with an established domicile refugees cannot be granted citizenship because they usually have difficulties fulfilling the other criteria due to the lack of proper integration support. In addition, it remains a problem that the period required for naturalization is counted when the applicant had a permanent address - if they have lost their (permanent) residence and only has a place of residence, the continuous residence is interrupted.

In 2024, 1 recognized stateless person submitted an application for naturalization.⁶⁵⁹ In 2025, 13 recognized stateless persons submitted an application for naturalization.⁶⁶⁰

As per the experiences of the HHC, having no stable accommodation (but living in a homeless shelter) and the lack of adequate Hungarian language skills are the most common difficulties beneficiaries of international protection face upon their application for Hungarian citizenship. Moreover, the high fees of the Hungarian Office for Translation and Attestation Ltd.⁶⁶¹ might result in further obstacles when it comes to naturalisation.

Section 4(2) of the Citizenship Act clarifies the distinction between refugee status and subsidiary protection, by providing preferential treatment only to refugees, while persons with subsidiary protection fall under the general rule of 8-year-long previous residence in Hungary. Moreover, the Asylum Act expressly states that beneficiaries of subsidiary protection shall not be entitled to the conditions for preferential naturalisation made available to refugees in the Citizenship Act.⁶⁶²

Procedure

⁶⁵⁸ Section 4(2) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁵⁹ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest, 4 February 2025.

⁶⁶⁰ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest, 22 January 2026.

⁶⁶¹ Website of the Hungarian Office for Translation and Attestation Ltd here.

⁶⁶² Section 17(4) Asylum Act.

The naturalisation procedure is conducted by the Government Office of Budapest. The application can be submitted at any local government office, which transfers the case file to the Government Office of Budapest. Pursuant to Section 2(1) of Government Decree No. 125/1993 (IX. 22), following receipt of the application for citizenship, the authority shall verify the applicant's identity, as well as the applicant's knowledge of the Hungarian language, and shall certify this, as well as the authenticity of the applicant's signature, by signing the application. The verification of Hungarian language proficiency covers both oral and written communication. This may also include writing a resume (in case of adults) in the presence of the authority. Menedék Association points out that such request places illiterate applicants in a difficult situation as their applications are generally rejected. As the reason of rejection is not officially communicated, Menedék Association only concludes from informal communications that the reason for rejection is the illiteracy of the applicant and the fact that they could not produce a hand-written CV. Menedék Association reported a case in 2024 where the beneficiary of international protection, who otherwise spoke fluent Hungarian – was not even asked by the case-officer to conduct a Hungarian dialogue, but whose application was forwarded to the decision-making department of Government Office with a comment from the case-officer stating that the applicant did not speak Hungarian, a reason which normally serves as a rejection ground of naturalisation applications.⁶⁶³ Case officers sometimes use a technical language with the applicant during the procedure which makes communication more difficult.

According to the law,⁶⁶⁴ the constitutional exam can be substituted by a certificate issued by an accredited school proving that the person had attended the programme equating to 8 years of elementary school or by certification of the completion of special education. A certificate issued upon successful completion of the final grade of high school, vocational school, or skills development school certifies a secondary school diploma.

Regarding the problem of authentication of foreign documents – the relevant obligation of the authentication is provided by Section 14(5)(a) Citizenship Act – a study on Hungarian nationalisation written by Gábor Gyulai, expert on naturalisation and statelessness procedures in Hungary points out the following:

'[O]fficial foreign documents must go through diplomatic legalisation (authentication) before submission, unless this would take an unreasonably long time (according to the declaration of the competent consular officer) or if this would result in seriously adverse legal consequences for the applicant. This latter exception could constitute an important safeguard for refugees and other beneficiaries of international protection; nonetheless, there is no information whether it is applied as such in practice.'⁶⁶⁵

Menedék Association reported that since the 2021 amendment of Act I of 2010 on Civil Registration Procedure, no exemption regarding the submission of original birth and marriage certificates may be requested in naturalisation procedures. This legal modification caused difficulties for those beneficiaries of international protection who initiated such procedures in 2022, 2023 and 2024. Menedék Association points out that although the amendment primarily concerns marriage procedures, it has also been applied in naturalisation procedures. As a result, beneficiaries of international protection are requested to submit their original birth and marriage certificates and are thereby asked to contact the authorities of their countries of origin, should they lack the original copies of those documents. The government case-officers refer to paragraphs 118-125 of the UNHCR Handbook on Procedures and Determining Refugee Status under the 1951 Convention and 1967 Protocol relating to the Status of Refugees⁶⁶⁶ when articulating such requests, according to which the acquisition of such documents from the national authorities cannot be regarded as re-availment of protection and cannot therefore be regarded as a reason to withdraw international protection. Menedék Association highlights, however, that persons of concern are not only afraid of their status being withdrawn, but also of the authorities of their countries of origin being aware of ⁶⁶³ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC on 21 February 2025.

⁶⁶⁴ Section 4/A(2)(b) Citizenship Act

⁶⁶⁵ HHC, The Black Box of Nationality: The naturalisation of refugees and stateless persons in Hungary, 2016, available here, 18.

⁶⁶⁶ UNHCR Handbook on Procedures and Determining Refugee Status under the 1951 Convention and 1967 Protocol relating to the Status of Refugees, reissued in 2019, available here.

their whereabouts. Menedék Association reported a concrete case where a client from Palestine was specifically asked by the case-officer of the naturalisation procedure to travel to Tel-Aviv, Israel, to have the diplomatic legalisation of his documents via the Hungarian embassy there.⁶⁶⁷ This problem still persists in 2025.⁶⁶⁸

There is an ex lege eventual practice of the Government Office of Budapest, according to which the authority summons the applicant for a so-called 'data checking'. In fact, it is a proper interview held with the applicant about the very detail of their professional and private life, including questions regarding their family life, past, hobbies and everyday life in Hungary, worldview, income, housing, political opinion, religion and future plans etc. There are only hand-written notes taken by the questioning officer, but there is no copy of it served to the applicant. Since the procedure is not transparent, the interview's role as to the result of the decision is not clear.⁶⁶⁹ According to the Government Office of Budapest, it results from the judgment of the Budapest Metropolitan Court No. 105.K.701.143/2023/6, that concluded that where the law does not stipulate that a given condition must exist at a specific point in time, the provision is to be interpreted as meaning that this condition must exist throughout the entire duration of the proceedings. Based on the foregoing, the conditions for naturalization may be examined throughout the entire course of the proceedings.⁶⁷⁰

Decision-making

The Government Office of Budapest shall forward the applications for naturalisation to the Minister of the Prime Minister's Office, as the Minister responsible for citizenship matters within five days.⁶⁷¹ The processing time for the Minister is 3 months,⁶⁷² which may be extended by three months in justified cases.⁶⁷³ The following deadlines are not included in these deadlines:

- a) the time from the request to remedy the deficiency until its completion;
- b) the duration of the suspension of the procedure;
- c) the duration of the required opinion;
- d) the time from the request to another authority or state body to obtain data or documents concerning citizenship until the receipt of the response.⁶⁷⁴

In practice, the general procedural time takes at least 6 months to 1.5 years.⁶⁷⁵

As the law states, decisions in connection with petitions for the acquisition of Hungarian citizenship by way of naturalisation or repatriation shall be adopted by the President of the Republic based on the recommendation of the Minister of the Prime Minister's Office.⁶⁷⁶

The President of the Republic shall issue a certificate of naturalisation attesting the acquisition of Hungarian citizenship. Subsequently, the applicant must take a citizenship oath or pledge of allegiance, for which the mayor of the district of their residence shall send the invitation.⁶⁷⁷ The naturalised person shall acquire Hungarian citizenship on the date of taking the oath or pledge of allegiance.

With regard to Article 12 of the 1997 European Convention on Nationality, governing the requirement that administrative or judicial remedies be available against rejection decisions, Hungary entered a reservation. Consequently, the President of the Republic's decision on naturalization becomes final immediately; no legal remedy may be sought against the decision, and there is no possibility of appeal or ⁶⁶⁷ Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 28 February 2023.

⁶⁶⁸ Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

⁶⁶⁹ Practice-informed observation of the HHC, 2021.

⁶⁷⁰ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest, 5 May 2026, in the scope of their right to reply.

⁶⁷¹ Section 13(4) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁷² Section 17(2) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁷³ Section 17(4) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁷⁴ Section 17(5) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁷⁵ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC on 1 February 2026.

⁶⁷⁶ Section 6(1) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁷⁷ Section 16(2) Citizenship Act.

judicial review. However, an application for citizenship may be submitted an unlimited number of times, regardless of whether it has been rejected.⁶⁷⁸

Since the decision on granting citizenship cannot be appealed, the procedure for naturalisation lacks the provision of information and the most basic procedural safeguards of transparency, accountability and fairness.⁶⁷⁹ The experience of the Menedék Association confirms the aforementioned. According to the Association, besides some positive decisions, several applications from applicants with substantially similar background were rejected in the last years. In January 2020 some rejected applicants submitted complaints to the Ombudsman objecting the lack of reasoning provided by the Government Office. As a result of the procedure, the Office of the Commissioner for Fundamental Rights of Hungary issued a decision pointing out a few reasons why the applicants' petitions were rejected. However, this positive development did not last for long, as according to information provided by the Menedék Association, in the following months, the Ombudsman rejected the complaints, claiming to be unable to review the procedure of the President of the Republic - despite that these complaints concerned the procedure prior to the President's decision. Furthermore, the Ombudsman pointed out that further complaints submitted by the applicant, would be rejected without an in-merit examination.

Menedék Association points out that reasons of rejection of citizenship applications were still not transparent in 2024, nor in 2025.⁶⁸⁰ The biggest difficulty is that the applicant cannot find out the reason for the rejection in the naturalization procedure - this also calls into question the validity and impartiality of the decision. In 2025, naturalization applications were rejected in many cases, even in cases where the applicant had already fully integrated and met all objective conditions, and in the case of many applicants, naturalization was only successful for the second time (but the circumstances did not really change).

Citizenship by declaration

Refugee children and children having been granted subsidiary protection who were born in Hungary and did not obtain their parents' citizenship by birth might obtain Hungarian citizenship by declaration taken five years after their birth under the Citizenship Act provided that their parents had a Hungarian domicile at the time of their birth.⁶⁸¹ As opposed to the naturalisation procedure described above, if the Government Office of Budapest rejects the declaration, the applicant has the possibility to request a judicial review.⁶⁸²

Menedék Association reported that the application for citizenship by declaration of a child of refugee parents was rejected in 2022, as, according to the Government Office, the child might obtain the citizenship of his mother, based on the law in effect in the country of origin. As the parents of the child are refugees, they refuse to contact the authorities of their country of origin.⁶⁸³ The pattern seems to show that the government office would consider eligible only the children of recognised stateless parents, even though the Citizenship Act does not mention such criteria. This raises serious problems, since contacting the authorities of the country of origin to prove that the child did not obtain citizenship might even result in the loss of refugee status.⁶⁸⁴ According to the Government Office of Budapest, there is no established practice in this regard, as the Government Office considers only the children of stateless parents to be eligible; no applications for citizenship on this basis were submitted in either 2024 or 2025. Two applications were received in 2023. Applications from children of parents with Ethiopian and Syrian citizenship were rejected on the grounds that both children had acquired their parents' citizenship by birth. In 2022, applications were rejected not only due to statelessness but also due to the lack of other legal requirements (the parents' residence in Hungary).⁶⁸⁵

⁶⁷⁸ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest, 5 May 2026, in the scope of their right to reply.
⁶⁷⁹ HHC, The Black Box of Nationality: The naturalisation of refugees and stateless persons in Hungary, 2016, available here.

⁶⁸⁰ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC on 21 February 2025 and 1 February 2026.

⁶⁸¹ Section 5/A (1) (b) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁸² Section 5/A (3) Citizenship Act.

⁶⁸³ Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 28 February 2023.

⁶⁸⁴ Section 11(2) Asylum Act.

⁶⁸⁵ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest, 5 May 2026, in the scope of their right to reply.

According to the Government Office of Budapest, refugee parents were not encouraged to contact the authorities in their country of origin. They added that, if possible, the Government Office would itself contact the Embassies of the countries concerned or the relevant department of the Ministry of Justice for information on the rules governing the acquisition of nationality in the country of origin. The Government Office also highlights that the issue of statelessness was indeed a problem in this procedure, as it was not regulated by law. This was resolved by the amendment made to Act LV of 1993 on Hungarian Citizenship, which entered into force on 1 July 2023, according to which, if the child themselves become stateless - regardless of the status of the parents or their citizenship - they can acquire Hungarian citizenship by declaration.⁶⁸⁶

However, Menedék Association reported that in the child's birth certificate it is not written that the child is stateless, but that they are of unknown nationality and since according to the Government Office, it is only possible to acquire Hungarian citizenship by declaration for stateless persons, such children would not receive Hungarian citizenship.⁶⁸⁷ According to the Government Office of Budapest, it is not true that only stateless persons can obtain Hungarian citizenship by declaration. Citizenship entry in the birth certificate is irrelevant in this procedure. They do not take it into account, so the fact that the certificate does not list the person as stateless does not affect the decision.⁶⁸⁸

Statistical information

In 2024, 79 beneficiaries of international protection applied for Hungarian citizenship (50 refugees and 29 beneficiaries of subsidiary protection) and one stateless person. In the same year, 8 refugees (2 Nigerian and 2 stateless/Palestine, 1 Libyan, 1 Cameroonian, 1 Ethiopian, 1 Afghan), 8 beneficiaries of subsidiary protection (2 Afghan, 2 Cuban, 1 Ethiopian, 1 Syrian, 1 Pakistani, 1 Libyan) and 2 stateless persons obtained citizenship. Out of the 18 people, 2 former refugees (2 Nigerian nationals) were minors. The applications of beneficiaries of international protection were rejected in 42 cases: the applications of 21 refugees (breakdown by the three main nationalities: 6 Afghans, 3 Iranians, 2-2-2 Armenian, Iraqi and Turkish) and 21 beneficiaries of subsidiary protection (breakdown by the nationalities: 13 Afghans, 2-2 Iraq, Syria).⁶⁸⁹ The number of applicants is approximately the same as it was in 2023 (80). In 2025, 29 persons with refugee status applied for citizenship (8 Afghans, 3 Iranians, 3 of unknown nationality, 1 Jordanian, 2 Cameroonians, 1 Kosovar, 1 Nigerian, 1 Russian, 1 Pakistani, 4 Palestinians, 1 Sri Lankan, 1 Syrian, 1 Somali and 1 Sudanese), 32 persons with subsidiary protection status (9 Afghans, 4 Iraqis, 1 of unknown nationality, 2 Nigerians, 2 Pakistanis, 4 Palestinians and 10 Syrians) and 13 persons with stateless status. All together this means 74 applications, 59 naturalization applications of persons with refugee status were rejected (16 Afghans, 1 Egyptian, 1 Ethiopian, 1 Iraqi, 2 Iranians, 12 persons of unknown nationality, 4 Kosovars, 1 Nigerian, 2 Russians, 5 Armenians, 1 Pakistani, 9 Palestinians, 1 Serbian, 2 Syrians and 1 Sudanese). 29 applications for naturalization of persons with subsidiary protection were rejected (17 Afghans, 2 Iraqis, 2 Yemenis, 3 Palestinians, 4 Syrians and 1 Sudanese). 13 applications for citizenship from stateless persons were rejected. 14 people with refugee status acquired Hungarian citizenship (2 Afghans, 1 Iraqi, 1 Iranian, 3 Cameroonians, 1 Nigerian, 1 Palestinian, 2 Syrians, 2 Turkish and 1 US citizen. Out of those 3 were minors (1 Nigerian and 2 Syrians). 7 persons with subsidiary protection acquired Hungarian citizenship (5 Afghans, 1 Yemeni and 1 Nigerian). Out of those 1 was a minor (Yemeni). 4 stateless persons acquired Hungarian citizenship. No revocation of citizenship was initiated against the persons who previously held international protection or statelessness status.⁶⁹⁰

⁶⁸⁶ Information added after receiving the comments of Government Office of Budapest on 25 June 2024.

⁶⁸⁷ Information received from the Menedék Association by the HHC on 1 February 2026.

⁶⁸⁸ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest, 5 May 2026, in the scope of their right to reply.

⁶⁸⁹ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest received by the HHC on 4 February 2025.

⁶⁹⁰ Information provided by the Government Office of Budapest, 22 January 2026.

5. Cessation and review of protection status

Indicators: Cessation

1. Is a personal interview of the beneficiary in most cases conducted in practice in the cessation procedure? Yes No
2. Does the law provide for an appeal against the first instance decision in the cessation procedure? Yes No
3. Do beneficiaries have access to free legal assistance at first instance in practice? Yes With difficulty No

5.1 Criteria for cessation and revocation

The Asylum Act rules the grounds for cessation of status and revocation of the recognition of status under the same Section.⁶⁹¹ Section 11(1) provides that refugee status shall cease if (i) the refugee acquires Hungarian nationality or (ii) recognition as refugee is revoked by the refugee authority. There are several grounds of revocation determined in the law as follows:⁶⁹²

- (a) The refugee has voluntarily re-availed themselves of the protection of the country of their nationality;
- (b) The refugee has voluntarily re-acquired their lost nationality;
- (c) The refugee has acquired a new nationality and enjoys the protection of the country of their new nationality;
- (d) The refugee has voluntarily re-established him or herself in the country which they had left or outside which they had remained owing to fear of persecution;
- (e) The circumstances in connection with which they had been recognised as a refugee have ceased to exist, subject to the exception of a well-founded fear arising from past persecution;⁶⁹³
- (f) The refugee waives the legal status of refugee in writing;
- (g) The refugee was recognised in spite of the existence of the reasons for exclusion referred to in Section 8(1) of the Asylum Act or such a reason for exclusion is established against them;
- (h) The conditions for recognition did not exist at the time of the adoption of the decision on their recognition;
- (i) The refugee has misled the authorities during the asylum procedure by presenting false information or documents or by withholding relevant information or documents, provided that it had a decisive impact on the decision for the granting of refugee status.

Furthermore, status as a refugee shall be withdrawn if the refugee is subject to the grounds for exclusion under Section 8(4)⁶⁹⁴ and (5)⁶⁹⁵ Asylum Act (see detailed in section on Withdrawal of protection status). The conditions for the cessation of subsidiary protection status are essentially the same as those concerning refugee status.⁶⁹⁶ As of 1 January 2022, the grounds for exclusion from subsidiary protection were complemented by an additional case.⁶⁹⁷ Accordingly, a foreigner shall not be granted subsidiary protection if there are reasonable grounds for believing that, prior to their admission by Hungary, they have committed an offence in their country of origin punishable in Hungary by a term of imprisonment of up to three years or more and there are reasonable grounds for believing that the applicant left their ⁶⁹¹ Sections 11 and 18 Asylum Act.

⁶⁹² Section 11(2) Asylum Act.

⁶⁹³ Section 11(4) Asylum Act.

⁶⁹⁴ 'A foreigner whose stay in Hungary endangers national security cannot be recognised as a refugee.'

⁶⁹⁵ 'A foreigner who has been recognised as a refugee by a court (a) has been sentenced by a final judgment to imprisonment for a term of five years or more for an intentional offence, (b) has been sentenced to imprisonment by a final judgment for the commission of an offence committed as a repeat offender, multiple repeat offender or violent multiple repeat offender, (c) sentenced to imprisonment for a term of imprisonment of three years or more by a final judgment for an offence against life, limb or health, an offence against health, an offence against human liberty, an offence against sexual freedom or sexual morality, an offence against public order, an offence against public security or an offence against the public administration'.

⁶⁹⁶ Section 18(2) (g) Asylum Act.

⁶⁹⁷ Section 15(c) Asylum Act (introduced by Act CXX of 2021).

country of origin only in order to avoid the penalty for the offence. This ground serves as a basis for the withdrawal of subsidiary protection status, as well.⁶⁹⁸

5.2 Procedures and guarantees

According to the Asylum Act, the determining authority shall examine the compliance with the conditions for refugee status and subsidiary protection at a minimum three-year interval.⁶⁹⁹ The NDGAP shall also examine compliance with the conditions for refugee status or subsidiary protection if the extradition of the person concerned is requested.⁷⁰⁰

Review of the international protection status is governed by the general rules of the asylum procedure (set out in Chapter VII of the Asylum Act), and Sections 57-68 of the Asylum Act.⁷⁰¹ This means in practice that as a result of the review procedure, the status is either granted or terminated/revoked. The procedure starts ex officio and shall be conducted within 60 days.⁷⁰²

Proceedings for the withdrawal of refugee status or subsidiary protection are also opened ex officio,⁷⁰³ but as the HHC observed in practice, generally for some reason that the authority becomes aware of, which could be a ground for exclusion of protection/non-recognition. The difference of withdrawal procedure from the status review procedure lies therein: while the status-review procedure is to be opened by the authority every three years regardless of whether or not any change in the circumstances of the applicant is observed or suspected by the authority, the status withdrawal procedure is normally initiated for a specific reason (e.g., the NDGAP becomes aware of the applicant traveling their country of origin).

The rules of the general asylum procedure shall be applied also during the withdrawal proceedings.⁷⁰⁴ The NDGAP shall interview the person holding international protection status and in 60 days decide if the conditions for refugee status or subsidiary protection are still applicable.⁷⁰⁵ Nevertheless, the HHC is aware of cases where the NDGAP conducted the procedure in the absence of the person concerned. If there is no ground for withdrawal of the status, the proceedings shall be terminated.⁷⁰⁶ However, the NDGAP often does not conduct a proper assessment of the situation in the country of origin of the beneficiary of international protection. The HHC reported that the questions in a status review procedure address the current financial situation of holders of international protection, which should not be relevant for this procedure.⁷⁰⁷

The resolution on the termination/revocation or withdrawal of recognition of refugee status or subsidiary protection may be subject to judicial review.⁷⁰⁸ The petition for judicial review shall be submitted to the asylum authority within 8 days following the date of delivery of the decision, which then forwards it to the court without delay.⁷⁰⁹ The petition for judicial review shall be decided by the court, within 60 days following the receipt of the petition, in contentious proceedings. The judicial review shall provide for a full and ex nunc examination of both facts and points of law.⁷¹⁰ The personal hearing of the applicant is obligatory in the procedure challenging status withdrawal, but not in the procedure challenging the result of status review procedure. In this latter case, it is only an option and is obligatory only if the applicant is in asylum detention.⁷¹¹ The court may not overturn the decision of the NDGAP, but only abolish the decision it finds unlawful and, if necessary, order the refugee authority to reopen the case. If the court

⁶⁹⁸ Section 18(2)(g) Asylum Act.

⁶⁹⁹ Sections 75/A(1) and (2) and 14(1)(2) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰⁰ Section 7/A (2) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰¹ Section 75/A(1) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰² Section 75/A(2) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰³ Section 72/A(1) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰⁴ Section 72/A(2) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰⁵ Section 72/A (3) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰⁶ Section 74 (1) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰⁷ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, February 2026.

⁷⁰⁸ Sections 68 and 75(1) Asylum Act.

⁷⁰⁹ Sections 68(1) and 75(2) Asylum Act.

⁷¹⁰ Sections 68 (4) and 75(3) Asylum Act.

⁷¹¹ Sections 68 (2)-(3) and 75(4).

annuls the decision without ordering the asylum authority to conduct a new procedure, the review procedure is closed and the status of the beneficiary of international protection is maintained. Due to legislative changes, between 1 July 2020 and 14 May 2021, a review before the Curia could be requested against the court's decision (as an extra-judicial remedy).⁷¹²

6. Termination/revocation of protection status following a status review-procedure

The NDGAP opened a status-review procedure in 273 cases in 2024 (breakdown of the five main nationalities: 129 Afghans, 49 Syrians, 45 Iraqis, 13 Iranians, 5 Palestinians) and issued a decision on termination/revocation in zero case.⁷¹³ In 2025, the NDGAP initiated a status-review procedure in 288 cases (74 Afghans, 51 Syrians, 42 Pakistanis, 25 unknown nationality, 20 Iranians) and did not terminate any status.⁷¹⁴

In the last years, the HHC experienced many cases where Afghan beneficiaries of subsidiary protection did not have their status renewed after 3 years because the asylum authority considered their return to Afghanistan safe. In these cases, the authority systematically established either the city of Kabul or the province of Balkh as an internal protection alternative for Afghans whose region of origin is struggling with instability, despite the deteriorating situation in both destinations reported by different sources and the lack of family links or sufficient means of subsistence. However, since the seizure of power by the Taliban in August 2021, the HHC is not aware of any decision where the NDGAP would have expelled anyone to Afghanistan as a result of the withdrawal proceeding. On the contrary, even persons who had previously been expelled were granted humanitarian status on account of the general situation in Afghanistan. In 2025, the HHC became aware of cases, where Afghan citizens were not granted any protection and were expelled. In one case, the person was actually deported to Afghanistan.⁷¹⁵ As to Syrian citizens, Damascus remained to be applied by the NDGAP as an IPA throughout 2022 and 2023. The HHC had no such case in 2024. In 2025, Damascus was still considered as IPA by NDGAP.

The HHC is also aware of the case of a Pakistani man whose status review procedure was initiated for the fourth time in four years. The applicant has been living in Hungary since 2013 as a beneficiary of subsidiary protection. He had a successful status review procedure in 2018 and 2019. In 2020, however, a new one was initiated resulting in status withdrawal with reference to classified data. This decision was successfully challenged before the court and the NDGAP eventually had to leave the applicant's status intact. In 2021, a new status review procedure was initiated against him. As a result, the authority withdrew his status for the 2nd time, again with reference to classified data and the credibility of the applicant, but the decision was challenged before the court. In its judgment of May 2022, the court, having looked into the classified data files, found that the applicant was credible and quashed the asylum authority's withdrawing decision accordingly. It is worth noting that the applicant won a case against Hungary before the ECtHR, regarding his unlawful detention during his asylum procedure.⁷¹⁶

Termination/revocation of the protection status based on national security grounds, due to serious crime committed by the beneficiary or due to re-availment of the protection of the country of origin of the beneficiary

Since the difference between the status review and withdrawal procedure is essentially a difference of terminology, but not of substance in terms of content and outcome, please refer to points 7.1, 7.2, 7.3. below.

⁷¹² Sections 68(6) and 75(5) Asylum Act.

⁷¹³ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2025.

⁷¹⁴ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁷¹⁵ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, February 2026.

⁷¹⁶ ECtHR, M.K. v. Hungary, App no. 46783/14.

7. Withdrawal of protection status

The NDGAP initiated the withdrawal of international protection status of 18 persons and issued a decision on withdrawal in the case of 50 persons (breakdown of the five main nationalities: 10 Syrian, 8 Afghans, 6 Turkish, 6 Yugoslav, 5 Somali) in 2024, which is a huge decrease compared to 2021-2022 (see AIDA report 2021 reporting 237 initiated withdrawal procedures, see AIDA report 2022 reporting 99 decision on withdrawal), but approximates to the number of 2023 (42). The NDGAP did not provide a breakdown of the type of international protection status.⁷¹⁷ In 2025 the NDGAP initiated the withdrawal of international protection status in 86 cases (36 Yugoslavians, 29 Romanians, 7 Afghans, 5 Iraqis, 2 unknown nationality). They withdrew 187 statuses (61 Afghans, 36 Syrians, 34 Yugoslavians, 15 Iraqis, 15 Romanians).⁷¹⁸

The HHC is aware of a case from 2021 where the NDGAP initiated a withdrawal procedure for a Palestinian beneficiary of international protection because the man had obtained a Palestinian passport. Nevertheless, he clarified during the procedure that he requested the passport for administrative purposes and that he contemplated to travel to Palestine. Based on his statements and justification, the NDGAP terminated the procedure and thus, maintained his status. In 2025, the HHC reported that in one case, the NDGAP did not inform the beneficiary of international protection that they believed that he returned to his country of origin before making a withdrawal decision and thus did not provide him the opportunity to show proof that he did not return.

As for re-availment of protection of the refugee's country of origin, a report of EMN published in November 2019⁷¹⁹ states that 'any trip to the country of origin could be considered to provide sufficient reason to presume that the individual had re-availed him/herself of the protection of his/her country of origin.' The asylum authority furthermore considers any type of contact with authorities of the country of origin as re-availment of protection of the country of origin. According to the report, in case Hungarian authorities become aware of the contact, this would automatically lead to cessation of refugee protection. In practice, a more sophisticated approach is followed: the HHC had a case in 2024 where the procedure started because the government office responsible for citizenship applications flagged to the NDGAP that the client's marriage certificate, which he submitted with a citizenship application, was issued by the Afghan consulate in Peshawar. At the hearing, the applicant explained that his brother contacted the Afghan consulate on his behalf and arranged his marriage certificate back in 2007. The NDGAP terminated the procedure in ca. 1,5 months, without withdrawing protection. A positive example of 2023 may also be highlighted: the HHC represented an Afghan client with subsidiary protection who travelled to Pakistan and was deported back to Afghanistan from there. He spent a year in Afghanistan and then got back to Hungary with the help of the Hungarian Embassy in Iran. The NDGAP initiated a status withdrawal procedure but eventually did not withdraw the client's status. However, they only made a decision to terminate the procedure due to issues regarding the coordination of the department's work. The HHC nonetheless argued the client's lack of accountability in going back to Afghanistan, his recorded mental illness, and the likelihood that his family members in Afghanistan would be targeted by the Taliban.

A case of an Azerbaijani refugee is also worth noting for potentially shaping the practice of withdrawals in a positive manner. The authority started a status withdrawing procedure against the Azerbaijani national, represented by the HHC, in October 2021. The said national was granted refugee status when he was only 10 years old, together with his family members and especially for his father having been persecuted in their country of origin for political reasons. As a result of the procedure, his status was withdrawn, with a reference to national security reasons and to the fact that the applicant, who became an adult in the meantime, could safely return to Azerbaijan. The authority, however, kept the status of the other family members intact, no procedure was initiated in their cases. The decision was challenged by a judicial review request. In its judgment of January 2023, the court held that only in the event of a significant and ⁷¹⁷ Information provided by NDGAP 19 February 2025.

⁷¹⁸ Information provided by NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁷¹⁹ European Migration Network, Beneficiaries of International Protection Travelling to and Contacting Authorities of their Country of Origin, November 2019, available here.

lasting change of circumstances may a change of circumstances be relied on as a reason to withdraw international protection, in particular since the applicant was granted the status primarily by "right" of his father, and the status of the father was not withdrawn.⁷²⁰

In the case of a Bangladeshi family, where the husband (and father of the children) received refugee status, and the family joined him in Hungary via family reunification, the father lost his refugee status because he was classified as a national security risk and because he requested a passport from his country of origin. However, when the family members' status review procedure was conducted, although their refugee status was revoked, the NDGAP granted them subsidiary protection.

The HHC is also aware of cases where withdrawal of status happened in absentia.

7.1 Withdrawal of the protection status based on national security grounds

In 2020, the matter of status withdrawal based on national security reasons came at the forefront in the HHC's work, as a result of the relatively increased number of such cases concerning not only beneficiaries of international protection but also third-country nationals residing lawfully in Hungary.⁷²¹ According to the Asylum Act, the Counter-Terrorism Office (CTO) and the Constitutional Protection Office (CPO) involved in the asylum procedure⁷²² might establish that the third-country national poses a threat to the national security without any further reasoning.⁷²³ In these cases, the underlying data substantiating the national security threat is classified by the security agencies with reference to the protection of public interest, i.e. national defence, national security, law enforcement and crime prevention activities.⁷²⁴ The opinions of the special authorities are binding for the NDGAP, which is subsequently obliged to withdraw international protection status.⁷²⁵

The Classified Data Act provides for the possibility for the person concerned to request knowledge of the classified data from the special authorities.⁷²⁶ However, as per the experience of the HHC, there has been no cases in which access was granted between 2020 and 2023. Furthermore, even if access would be granted, the law does not provide clearly for its usage in the procedure. Due to the lack of efficient mechanism by which the person could access at least the essence of the reasoning as required by the CJEU and the ECtHR in its relevant case-law and in the absence of permission for its usage, the person concerned is not in a position to effectively challenge the decision of the NDGAP before the courts. Consequently, the HHC is of the view that in these cases the right of the beneficiary of international protection to adversarial proceedings, the principle of equality of arms, their right of access to files, to defence and to be heard, as well as the right to an effective remedy and finally the right to a competent authority deciding on withdrawal are equally violated.

In September 2021, the HHC, in cooperation with the Polish Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights (Poland) and Kisa (Cyprus), published a Comparative Report on Access to Classified Data in National Security Immigration Cases in Cyprus, Hungary and Poland.⁷²⁷ The HHC interviewed in December 2021 one of their clients affected by the unlawful national security invoking practice of the NDGAP on how her life and that of her family was affected by the fact that after 20 years the Hungarian authorities see her stay in the country as a risk to national security.⁷²⁸ In April 2024, the HHC published a comparative study

⁷²⁰ Metropolitan court, 11.K.704.380/2022/3., 26 January 2023,

⁷²¹ See Hungarian Helsinki Committee: Flagrant Breach of the Right to Defence in National Security Cases and the Systematic Denial of the Right to Family Life within the Hungarian Legal Framework, Information Note of the Hungarian Helsinki Committee, 15 September 2020, available here.

⁷²² Section 2/A(a) of the Government Decree no. 301/2007 (XI.9.)

⁷²³ Section 57(6) of Act LXXX of 2007

⁷²⁴ Section 5(1)(c) of the Act CLV of 2009 on the Protection of Classified Data ("Classified Data Act")

⁷²⁵ Section 57(3) Asylum Act.

⁷²⁶ Section 11 Classified Data Act.

⁷²⁷ HHC, Helsinki Foundation for Human Rights, Kisa, The Right to Know: Comparative Report on Access to Classified Data in National Security Immigration Cases in Cyprus, Hungary and Poland, March 2021, available here.

⁷²⁸ HHC, I'm tired – interview with Ms. Gáborné Nagy, the "embodied national security risk", 15 December 2021, here.

on access to classified data in national security related immigration cases in the EU, discussing extensively the practice of 25 EU member states, including Hungary.⁷²⁹

While the withdrawal on national security grounds per se is permissible under the Qualification Directive, the procedure itself (as mentioned above) constitutes a violation of EU law. The HHC identified five main points where the Hungarian asylum legislation and practice regarding exclusion from international protection on national security grounds contradict EU law and jurisprudence, including the clear non-transposition of Article 14(6) of Qualification Directive (as interpreted by the CJEU in the M case⁷³⁰).⁷³¹ The information update concluded that Hungarian law does not provide any reasoning as to the national security risk allegedly presented by the person concerned. This is contrary to Article 47 of the Charter and violates the provisions of the Procedures Directive ensuring the enforcement of the right to an effective remedy and, in particular, the rights of the defence (Articles 46(3), 11(2), 45(1), (3) and Preamble (20) of the Procedures Directive). Furthermore, the mere access by the courts to the classified data provided by the Hungarian law does not on its own guarantee the respect of the applicant's rights of the defence and hence, violates the rights of access to information and data underlying the decision on exclusion (Articles 12(1)(d), 23(1) and 45(4) of the Procedures Directive). A further problematic point is due to the binding nature of the security agencies' opinion over the asylum authority. It results that a decision on exclusion based on national security grounds is ultimately made by the security agencies. This diverges from the requirement that the determining authority is responsible for the examination of the recognition, refusal or withdrawal of international protection (Article 4 of the Procedures Directive). Further on, the automatic rulings of the Hungarian asylum authority when delivering exclusion decisions on national security grounds violates the requirement of individual assessment, including the examination of proportionality (Articles 4, 10(3), 14(4)(a) and Article 17(1)(d) of the Qualifications Directive; Preamble (20) of the Procedures Directive).

Noticing these shortcomings, on 27 January 2021 the Metropolitan Court in Hungary stayed the judicial review procedure of a Syrian refugee, represented by the HHC, whose status had been withdrawn based on national security grounds and referred five questions to the CJEU to be interpreted in a preliminary reference ruling (case C-159/21). As a result, on 22 September 2022, the CJEU ruled that the relating Hungarian regulation is in breach with EU law and held that asylum seekers and beneficiaries of international protection must have access to at least the essence of the grounds of the expert authority's decision on national security risk and that the asylum authority must state in its decision the reasons for which protection is being refused and cannot rely solely on the unreasoned decision of the expert authorities and which cannot be binding for the asylum authority.⁷³²

Following the standards set by the CJEU in case C-159/21, the Budapest Court quashed the reviewed decisions and ordered the asylum authority to repeat the procedure, making it possible for the applicant to be provided with the essence of the grounds of the information indicating the national security allegation.⁷³³ The Security agencies however refused to disclose whatsoever and in most of the cases preferred to issue new opinions, which no longer found a security risk. Finally in 2024, the CPO started to disclose some information, however according to the HHC, the information did not fulfil the required standard of the 'essence of the grounds'.

Hungarian law further contains two provisions regarding the withdrawal of protection status that are in breach of EU law, namely the one based on the commission of a serious crime and the other based on the re-availing of the country of origin's protection regarding persons with subsidiary protection.

⁷²⁹ Katalin Juhász: The Right to Know in the European Union: Access to Classified Data in National Security Related Immigration Cases, April 2024, available here.

⁷³⁰ CJEU, joined cases C-391/16, C-77/17 and C-78/17, M v. Ministerstvo vnitra, 14 May 2019, available here.

⁷³¹ See HHC, National Security Grounds for Exclusion from International Protection as a Carte Blanche: Hungarian asylum provisions not compliant with EU law, Information Update by the Hungarian Helsinki Committee, 20 December 2021, available here.

⁷³² CJEU, Case C-159/21, GM v. OIF and Others, 22 September 2022, available here.

⁷³³ First such decision: Judgment of Budapest Court (Fővárosi Törvényszék), 11.K.704.569/2022/7-II. of 9 February 2023, paragraph 12. This was later followed by the judgments of Budapest Court (Fővárosi Törvényszék), 22.K.703.693/2022 of 15 February 2023 and 22.K.704.407/2022 of 23 March 2023.

7.2 Withdrawal of the protection status due to serious crime committed by the beneficiary

Until 31 December 2018, the Asylum Act prescribed, similarly to the exclusion from refugee status, that an applicant is excluded from subsidiary protection if 'he or she has committed a crime that is punishable under Hungarian law by five years of imprisonment or more.'⁷³⁴ A preliminary ruling was requested by the Metropolitan Administrative and Labour Court on 29 May 2017 regarding this provision considered by the HHC lawyer as more restrictive than the parallel EU norm (and thus unlawful). The CJEU confirmed the unlawfulness of the provision'.⁷³⁵

Due to the aforementioned CJEU judgment, the relevant provisions of the Asylum Act were amended coming into effect 1 January 2019. However, according to the HHC, the new regulation is still not in line with the Qualification Directive, since it excludes the possibility for the decision maker to carry out a full investigation into all the circumstances of the individual case concerned. The amended relevant provision now declares that a person cannot be recognised as a refugee,⁷³⁶ or as a beneficiary of subsidiary protection,⁷³⁷ who has been sentenced by the court:

- (a) for imprisonment of five years or more for the intentional commission of a criminal offense;
- (b) for imprisonment for committing a crime as a recidivist, habitual recidivist or a recidivist with a history of violence who had been already convicted by a final judgment for imprisonment;
- (c) for imprisonment of three years or more commission of a criminal offense against life, physical integrity, health, personal liberty, sexual freedom, public peace, public security, or administrative procedures.

In accordance with the regulations currently in force, both refugee status⁷³⁸ and subsidiary protection⁷³⁹ are to be revoked on the basis of Section 8(5) of the Asylum Act. This is in breach of the Qualification Directive since the Asylum Act does not differentiate between the two statuses as EU law does, therefore it applies the same level of seriousness regarding the committed crime⁷⁴⁰ and it lacks the cumulative conditions (namely the threat to national security the person has to pose besides the serious crime) as to the refugee status. Furthermore, Article 14(6) of Qualification Directive is not properly transposed because the rights enshrined therein are not provided to those refugees who are excluded from protection based on Section 8(5) of the Asylum Act. Moreover, despite the Ahmed judgment, the lack of individual assessment and discretion of the asylum authority with regard to all the circumstances of the case in determining the seriousness of a crime as the reason for exclusion from international protection still prevails.⁷⁴¹ The provision on the withdrawal of the refugee status furthermore is in contrast with the Geneva Convention.⁷⁴²

7.3 Withdrawal of the subsidiary protection status due to re-availment of the protection of the country of origin of the beneficiary

In contrast to the Qualification Directive, the Asylum Act applies the ground for withdrawal of the refugee status based on the re-availment of the protection of the country of origin to persons with subsidiary ⁷³⁴ Section 15(ab) Asylum Act.

⁷³⁵ CJEU, Case C-369/17, Shajin Ahmed v Bevándorlási és Menekültügyi Hivatal, Judgment of 13 September 2018, available here.

⁷³⁶ Section 8(5) Asylum Act.

⁷³⁷ Section 15(ab) Asylum Act.

⁷³⁸ Section 11(3) Asylum Act.

⁷³⁹ Section 18(1)(g) Asylum Act.

⁷⁴⁰ The Qualification Directive requires the crime to be 'particularly serious' [Article 14(4)(b) read together with Article 14(5)] with regard to refugees, and to be 'serious' with regard to beneficiaries of subsidiary protection status (Article 17(1)(b)).

⁷⁴¹ See in detail HHC, Preserved legal deficiencies post-CJEU Ahmed judgement: Hungarian asylum provisions on exclusion from international protection still not compliant with EU law, Information Update by the Hungarian Helsinki Committee, 7 April 2021, available here.

⁷⁴² See UNHCR, UNHCR observations on legislative amendments related to exclusion from and revocation of refugee status and subsidiary protection status, December 2020, available here.

protection, as well. As per HHC knowledge, the provision is applied by the NDGAP as a basis for status withdrawal that is clearly in violation of the EU law.

For the withdrawal procedure, see above in section on Cessation: Procedures and guarantees.

B. Family reunification

1. Criteria and conditions

Indicators: Family Reunification

1. Is there a waiting period before a beneficiary can apply for family reunification?
 Yes No
2. Does the law set a maximum time limit for submitting a family reunification application?
 - ❖ General conditions: All beneficiaries Yes No
 - ❖ Preferential conditions: Refugees (for 3 months) Yes No
3. Does the law set a minimum income requirement?
 - ❖ General conditions: All beneficiaries Yes No
 - ❖ Preferential conditions: Refugees Yes No

Under Hungarian law, family reunification applicants are the family members of the refugees (sponsors of family reunification) residing in Hungary, not the refugees themselves. The following family members may be family reunification applicants:

- ❖ Spouse,⁷⁴³ if they had married with the sponsor before the refugee reached the territory of Hungary,
- ❖ minor children (including adopted and foster children) of the sponsor,
- ❖ the parent or legal guardian of UAM refugee,
- ❖ dependent parent of the sponsor,
- ❖ siblings and direct relatives of the sponsor if they are unable to provide for themselves for their health condition.⁷⁴⁴

Procedure and substantive requirements imposed

Family members must apply at the Hungarian consulate accredited to their country of origin or of residence. According to the law, family reunification applicants shall lawfully reside in the country where they submit the claim.⁷⁴⁵ Refugees' family members are often themselves refugees in countries neighbouring the country of origin. In most cases, the family members stuck in the first country of asylum are unable to obtain a legal status there (and documentary proof thereof) that would be considered as 'lawful stay' in the sense of Hungarian law. Therefore, the family members must first obtain some kind of documents to prove the legality of their stay in the country where they reside. In some cases, consulates helped clarify that person's 'lawful stay'.

Although family members are required to apply at the competent Hungarian consulate, it is the NDGAP that considers the application and takes the decision. The applicants are required to prove their relationships with the sponsors. The consulate records the biometric data of the applicant when submitting the application. The applicants must prove their subsistence income, accommodation, and a comprehensive health insurance (or sufficient savings to fund medical treatment) in Hungary, or the sponsor (who is the recognised beneficiary of international protection in Hungary) may do so by declaring ⁷⁴³ Although the relevant law does not provide that no same-sex spouses may be reunited via this procedure, as Hungarian law does not recognize marriage of same-sex couples, the authors of this report expect that in such cases the NDGAP would reject the application made on that basis, with potential reference to the absence of valid marriage under Hungarian law. The HHC, however, has not encountered any such case so far.

⁷⁴⁴ Section 71 (3) and (7) of GRTCN Act

⁷⁴⁵ Section 216 (1)-(2) of GRTCN Decree

that they undertake the support of the applicant's family member. The requirements regarding the volume of funds verifying the subsistence are not defined in the law. In the experience of HHC lawyers, this causes uncertainty as usually the income considered as sufficient must be quite high compared to the Hungarian labour market, and to the widespread practice of employment in the grey area, which furthermore makes it possible to verify only part of the actual income.

According to Hungarian law, there is no time limit to initiate the family reunification. The embassy shall forward all documents without delay to the NDGAP. The time limit for the administration of NDGAP is 21 days, which shall not include:

- ❖ the period of designation of the competent immigration authority in proceedings for the exclusion of an immigration authority,
- ❖ the time elapsing between the date of the request to rectify the deficiencies or to provide the information necessary to clarify the facts and the date of its execution or the date of the expiry of the time limit specified in the request without result
- ❖ the duration of the suspension of the proceedings,
- ❖ the duration of the procedure of expert authorities,
- ❖ the duration of the summons,
- ❖ the duration of a breakdown or other unavoidable event which prevents the NDGAP from functioning for at least one full day,
- ❖ the duration of the preparation of the expert opinion,
- ❖ the period from the date of dispatch to the date of service of the request or decision, with the exception of a request sent at the time of production or detention, and the period of publication of the notice,
- ❖ in the case of a request for clarification of the facts by another body or department, the period from the date of dispatch of the request for a check until the date of receipt by the aliens' registration authority of the notification of the results of the check.⁷⁴⁶

In the experience of the HHC, the procedure normally last at least 6 months, from the application made at the embassies till a substantive decision made by the NDGAP.

In Hungary, only refugees are entitled to family reunification under preferential conditions within three months following the recognition of their status.⁷⁴⁷ They are exempted from fulfilling the usual material criteria: subsistence, accommodation, health insurance. No preferential treatment is applied to beneficiaries of subsidiary protection. The reasons for fleeing their countries of origin of beneficiaries of subsidiary protection are often similar to those of refugees. They rarely have the means to fulfil the strict material conditions for family reunification. It demands sacrifice and even luck to find a job or multiple jobs where the beneficiary could earn a salary that is high enough to meet the criteria of the family reunification. Consequently, the lack of any preferential treatment de facto excludes many beneficiaries of subsidiary protection from the possibility of family reunification, which often has a harmful impact on their integration prospects as well.

Evidentiary and documentation requirements

The authorities are strict regarding necessary documents making family reunification more difficult. They notably request all the documents bear an official stamp, proving that they are originals, as well as an official stamp from the Hungarian consulate.⁷⁴⁸ as well as all documents to be translated to English or Hungarian and bear an official stamp, which is very costly. The decisions made by the NDGAP are predominantly based on these documents and there is relatively small space for other ways to prove family links. In 2020, some of the family members could not prove their family link with the sponsor because the submitted certificates turned out to be falsified/not accepted as original by the NDGAP without the family members' knowledge of any falsification. The NDGAP rejected the applications at first and second instance. The HHC represented these families successfully before the court, and the NDGAP had to re-examine the applications. In the new procedures, both families' reunifications were granted. According to Hungarian law, DNA tests could be used to establish family links in several cases when the documents are missing, but since 2017 they cannot be initiated by the applicants and have instead to be ordered by the NDGAP. No DNA tests have been ordered for the purpose of family reunification in 2021. There was no data for 2024 in that regard.

⁷⁴⁶ Section 173 (1)-(2) GRTCN Act.

⁷⁴⁷ The favourable rule was amended by Section 29 Decree 113/2016. (V.30).

⁷⁴⁸ Practice-informed observation by the HHC.

Hungary does not accept certain travel documents, such as those issued by Somalia for example. Nevertheless, unlike other EU Member States, Hungary refuses to apply any alternative measure that would enable for a one-way travel with the purpose of family reunification in such cases.⁷⁴⁹ Consequently, certain refugee families are de facto excluded from any possibility of family reunification based on their nationality or origin. The NDGAP suggested to one of these families to apply for a 'Schengen visa', as the Schengen Code allows the use of separate sheet for visa stickers. However, in the procedure for a Schengen visa application, the family members of refugees cannot refer to the preferential conditions of family reunification, and therefore they would still be deprived of their right based on their nationality or origin.

For 2025 the NDGAP reported that 11 family members of 5 persons with refugee status (from Georgia, Iraq, Iran, Syria, Palestine) and 11 family members of 4 persons with subsidiary protection status (from Afghanistan, Georgia, Pakistan, Syria) applied for family reunification. The NDGAP issued 15 positive and 5 negative decisions. 2 appeals were submitted.⁷⁵⁰

An appeal may be lodged within 8 days of the notification of the decision with the aliens' registration first instance NDGAP authority.⁷⁵¹ The time limit for deciding on an appeal is 21 days.⁷⁵² A judicial review request may be submitted against the second instance NDGAP rejection, within 30 days of receiving the second-instance decision.⁷⁵³

2. Status and rights of family members

When granted residence permission and a visa, family members of the sponsor have 30 days from entering Hungary to either take the residence permit or to apply for asylum. In the asylum procedure, family members of recognised refugees are automatically granted the same status as the sponsor, as stated in the Asylum Act.⁷⁵⁴ However, according to the definition of family members provided by the Asylum Act,⁷⁵⁵ only the sponsor's minor children, spouse if married before the sponsor's arrival to Hungary, and parents of a minor sponsor are considered family members. Adult children, siblings and parents of adult sponsors are not automatically granted refugee status. Regardless of the connection, all family members are required to apply and start the procedure.

After a successful family reunification procedure, not all the newly arrived family members have the right to apply for asylum according to the Act L of 2025. The asylum application may be submitted only by a spouse or a child who is still a minor at the time of submission. Other family members joining a refugee or beneficiary of subsidiary protection must choose between the uncertain declaration of intent procedure ⁷⁴⁹ Alternative measures applied by other Member States include the issuance of a specific temporary laissez-passer for foreigners (e.g. Sweden, Netherlands, France, Austria, Italy), the acceptance of specific travel documents issued by the Red Cross for the purpose of family reunification (e.g. Austria, UK) and the use of the so-called EU Uniform Format Form, based on Council Regulation (EC) No 333/2002 of 18 February 2002 on a uniform format for forms for affixing the visa issued by Member States to persons holding travel documents not recognised by the Member State drawing up the form (e.g. UK, Germany).

⁷⁵⁰ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁷⁵¹ Section 210 (2) of the GRTCN Act

⁷⁵² Section 210 (8) of the GRTCN Act

⁷⁵³ Section 114 of GAC and Section 39(1) of Code on Administrative Litigation.

⁷⁵⁴ Section 7(2) Asylum Act.

⁷⁵⁵ Section 2(j) Asylum Act.

with the costly travel to Belgrade and the uncertainty of residence permits by trying to find every time a purpose and to fulfil the rest of the residence permit application criteria.

Family members with a residence permit have access to education and vocational training however, they are excluded from health care, employment and self-employment, social security and assistance.⁷⁵⁶

Family members of beneficiaries of subsidiary protection are not automatically granted subsidiary protection and must apply for asylum and prove their cases.

During the asylum procedure, family members of the sponsor have the same rights as asylum seekers. This means that before applying for asylum, the grantees of family reunification must actually obtain their residence permits. In case they decide not to apply for asylum but take their residence permit, they will not have the same rights and entitlements of the sponsor but highly reduced ones.

C. Movement and mobility

1. Freedom of movement

Refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection have freedom of movement within the territory of the State. There is no related restriction prescribed in law. Most NGOs providing shelter for refugees and persons with subsidiary protection are in Budapest, which means that the placement of beneficiaries is concentrated in the capital of Hungary.

2. Travel documents

The duration of validity of travel documents issued to beneficiaries of international protection is of one year, both for persons with refugee status and subsidiary protection. Refugees receive a 'refugee passport', a bilingual travel document specified in the 1951 Refugee Convention, while holders of subsidiary protection receive a special travel document, not a refugee passport.⁷⁵⁷

A refugee is entitled to a bilingual travel document under the Refugee Convention, unless compelling reasons of national security or public order otherwise require.⁷⁵⁸ There are no geographical limitations, except for travelling to the country of origin.

The NDGAP can deny the issuance of a travel document for beneficiaries of international protection in case the national security agencies, the National Tax and Customs Administration of Hungary or the Police provide information to the NDGAP according to which the person should not get a travel document for reasons of national security and public order.⁷⁵⁹ The resolution rejecting the issuance of a bilingual travel document to the refugee may be subject to judicial review.⁷⁶⁰ As it is fixed in the Asylum Act, the petition for judicial review shall be submitted to the asylum authority within 3 days following the date of delivery of the decision.⁷⁶¹ The NDGAP shall, without delay, forward the petition for judicial review to the competent court together with the documents of the case and any counterclaim attached.⁷⁶² The petition for judicial review shall be adjudged by the court within 8 days in non-contentious proceedings, relying on the available documents.⁷⁶³ The court may overturn the decision of the refugee authority. The same rules are applied to refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection.

⁷⁵⁶ Wolffhardt et al., The European benchmark for refugee reintegration: A comparative analysis of the National Integration Evaluation Mechanism in 14 EU countries, 2019, here, 74.

⁷⁵⁷ Section 11/A Decree 101/1998. (V. 22.) on the execution of Act XII of 1998 on travelling abroad.

⁷⁵⁸ Section 10(3) (a) Asylum Act.

⁷⁵⁹ Section 4/A Asylum Decree.

⁷⁶⁰ Sections 10(5) and 17(2a) Asylum Act.

⁷⁶¹ Section 10(5) Asylum Act.

⁷⁶² Section 10(5) Asylum Act.

⁷⁶³ Section 10(6) Asylum Act.

In practice, in order to receive the travel document, beneficiaries of international protection have to apply for it in a separate form at the competent office of NDGAP. The fee of the procedure is around € 20 and the applicant must have already obtained their ID card and the address card. Obtaining the latter could be problematic because of the difficulties beneficiaries face concerning housing (see section on Housing). The authority issues the travel document within 22 working days.⁷⁶⁴

According to the statistics of NDGAP there were 894 travel documents issued for beneficiaries of international protection in 2024.⁷⁶⁵ In 2025, 853 travel documents were issued.⁷⁶⁶

D. Housing

Indicators: Housing

- | | |
|---|---------|
| 1. For how long are beneficiaries entitled to stay in reception centres? | 30 days |
| 2. Number of beneficiaries staying in reception centres as of 31 December 2025: | 7 |

Recognised refugees and beneficiaries of subsidiary protection can stay in the reception centre up to 30 days after receiving the decision on their status.⁷⁶⁷ On 31 December 2024, no beneficiary of international protection was being accommodated in Vámosszabadi.⁷⁶⁸ In Balassagyarmat, 13 persons were placed on that day, of which 4 have been asylum-seekers and 9 persons have been subjected to aliens policing procedure, but none of them was a beneficiary of international protection.⁷⁶⁹ Throughout the year, the highest number of persons that were accommodated at the same time in Balassagyarmat was 28 (in October). In Vámosszabadi, only one person was placed there in April (asylum seeker). Besides accommodation, people are entitled to receive food during their 30-day stay. On 31 December 2025, 7 persons with subsidiary protection were accommodated in Balassagyarmat and none in Vámosszabadi. Throughout the year, the highest number of persons that were accommodated at the same time in Balassagyarmat was 18 (in August).⁷⁷⁰

In June 2016 all forms of integration support were eliminated, therefore beneficiaries of international protection are no longer eligible to any state support such as housing, financial support, additional assistance or others. A policy analysis on housing of beneficiaries of international protection published by the Menedék Association in 2021, confirms that there are no targeted public housing solutions or housing policies for refugees and beneficiaries of international protection in Hungary.⁷⁷¹

Those who were previously granted international protection status by the Hungarian authorities and who return from another Member State (not voluntarily but, e.g., under a readmission agreement) face particular difficulties; they cannot count on any housing other than homeless shelters.⁷⁷²

Accommodation by civil society and church-based organisations

In the last years, NGOs and social workers reported extreme difficulties for beneficiaries of international protection moving out of reception centres and integrating into local communities.⁷⁷³ Accommodation free of charge is provided to a very limited extent exclusively by civil society and church-based organisations.

⁷⁶⁴ NDGAP, Kétnyelvű úti okmányok kiállítására, available here.

⁷⁶⁵ Information provided by NDGAP on 19 February 2025.

⁷⁶⁶ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁷⁶⁷ Section 41(1) Asylum Decree.

⁷⁶⁸ Information provided by the NDGAP on 19 February 2024.

⁷⁶⁹ Ibid.

⁷⁷⁰ Information provided by the NDGAP on 9 March 2026.

⁷⁷¹ Pósfai, Zs., Szabó, L., Policy Analysis and Proposal for the Improvement of the Housing of Beneficiaries of International Protection in Hungary, Social Integration of Beneficiaries of International Protection in Hungary – NIEM Policy Briefs, Institute of Public Affairs (Poland) and Menedék – Hungarian Association for Migrants, 2021, available here, 5.

⁷⁷² Information received from the Menedék Association on 1 February 2026.

⁷⁷³ EASO, Description of the Hungarian asylum system, May 2015, available here, 10.

Moreover, the contacted organisations' activity is limited to the capital of Hungary. The situation was aggravated by the fact that the Ministry of Interior withdrew all the calls for tenders funded by AMIF in the beginning of 2018.⁷⁷⁴ This means that by 30 June 2018 all programmes whose integration support activity relied on this funding ceased. No such calls were reissued until 2021.⁷⁷⁵ In the absence of housing services provided by the state/local government, only homeless shelters – e.g., Temporary Homeless Shelter of the Baptist Integration Centre – and a few NGOs and church-based organisations' housing programmes remained available for beneficiaries of international protection. However, as the numbers and the general capacities of the provided help shown below, civil society and church-based organisations cannot meet all the needs of people with international protection. The HHC is aware of a case from 2020 when a German lawyer contacted several organisations (also the ones listed below) to know if there was available accommodation for a family with international protection in case of their return. The contacted organisations could provide no solution for the family which clearly shows the limits of the housing capacities. As per the Menedék Association, there are a few local governments open to address housing problems concerning beneficiaries of international protection. Nevertheless, in the absence of sufficient resources and support, such initiatives have not been realised so far. Menedék Association reiterated that in 2024, beneficiaries of international protection could still not rely on any state support regarding more permanent housing. The Association points out that it is not realistic to find housing solutions within 30 days after receiving the international protection status and that there are no other options than live in rented accommodation on market basis and in temporary homeless shelters. Specifically for 2024, Menedék Association highlights that another problem for their refugee clients was that they could not be included in the housing programme for beneficiaries of international protection because they had been living in Hungary under another legal status for years prior to recognition - this remains the case as the Asylum, Migration and Integration Fund Plus is designed to support the social integration of "new arrivals", and housing support is only available within 18, and in some cases 36, months of arrival in Hungary. Longer-term integration and inclusion is supported by other EU funds (Operational Programmes supported by the European Social Fund Plus), but these do not target refugees and migrants (Moreover, following the full-scale military offensive launched by Russia against Ukraine, many programmes specifically targeted refugees from Ukraine, others did not).⁷⁷⁶

The Evangelical Lutheran Church (Diakonia) in Hungary arranged short-term crisis placement for 30 persons with international protection (together with the family members, a total of 66 people benefitted from the services, one third less than one year ago) in Budapest in 2021. Accommodation was provided in a hostel, in the community house of the Church, and in a workers' hostel. As reported by the Evangelical Lutheran Church, the homeless shelters provide the most feasible and economic solution for beneficiaries of international protection after receiving protection status (cca. 30 EUR/month). No report has been received from Evangelical Lutheran Church regarding 2022. In 2023, Diakonia supported 10 families with international protection either with rent subsidies or rented accommodation in Budapest, in hostels or apartments rented in Mandak House. They also assisted 1 person with tolerated status and 1 formerly stateless person by paying their accommodation fee. Diakonia stated that in 2023 they did not refuse anybody due to lack of financial capacity. They also supported 3 family reunification cases of beneficiaries of international protection by giving out admission declarations to Mandak House.⁷⁷⁷ In 2024, the Diakonia could only provide direct housing in a very limited way. Until June 2024, it could accommodate families for a few months in two small apartments in the courtyard of the Józsefváros Evangelical Church. It was also able to provide a few nights' accommodation in hostels for people in crisis. The Diakonia provided housing support for a larger number of people by compensating the shortfall in the amount needed to move into a rental property with a housing subsidy.⁷⁷⁸

⁷⁷⁴ The withdrawn calls inter alia covered the improvement of reception conditions for unaccompanied children, the support of their integration, legal assistance to asylum seekers, housing and integration programmes. Belügyi Alapok, 'Tájékoztatás pályázati kiírások visszavonásáról', 24 January 2018, available in Hungarian here.

⁷⁷⁵ Modified following the authorities' comments to the report.

⁷⁷⁶ Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 21 February 2025 and 1 February 2026.

⁷⁷⁷ Information received from the Evangelical Lutheran Diakonia by the HHC on 24 February 2024.

⁷⁷⁸ Information received from the Evangelical Lutheran Diakonia by the HHC on 10 March 2025.

In 2023, the JRS reported that they see many of their clients receiving one-off social assistance 'stuck' in refugee accommodation, perhaps mainly due to a lack of appropriate labour market skills and a high proportion of dependants per household. The impact of negative stereotypes about refugees and foreigners is not negligible in this context either.⁷⁷⁹ In 2025, JRS could not provide an actual accommodation, but we were able to provide housing and subsistence support for a minimum of 3 months, and in many cases even 11 months. During the period of support, the clients were continuously accompanied by their social workers and educational colleagues.⁷⁸⁰

The Baptist Integration Centre opened its temporary home for families in June 2020. The home has a capacity of 80 people (Hungarian as well as foreign citizens). According to the Centre, in June 2020, 90 families were on their waiting list.⁷⁸¹ The Baptist Integration Centre provided housing a total of 22 persons with international protection in three temporary homeless shelters and 6 people were hosted in the Exit Centre in 2022. As opposed to the yearly decrease in the number of residents in the previous years, the number of 2022 has not changed significantly compared to the year before. No report was received from the Baptist Integration Centre concerning 2024 nor 2025.

Kalunba has been providing a housing programme for years. However, with the end of the AMIF funding the number of people supported by the organisation and the length of the offered help significantly decreased. In 2020, Kalunba supported around 40 people international protection status for a 3-month time with rented apartments. Due to COVID-19, this time based on the individual situation everyone was given an extension. The number of beneficiaries of the Kalunba's complex housing programme decreased in 2021 due to the difficulties and restrictions the pandemic brought about. Kalunba reported that throughout 2022 the presence of beneficiaries of international protection in their work was insignificant, which they attributed to the fact that given the legislative changes, less asylum-seekers could access protection in Hungary.⁷⁸² No report arrived from Kalunba concerning 2023, 2024 or 2025.

As of 2019 the Budapest Methodological Centre of Social Policy and Its Institutions (BMSZKI), the homeless service provider of Budapest Municipality,⁷⁸³ has no special programme targeting beneficiaries of international protection given the non-availability of the AMIF funding. The Institution runs temporary accommodation shelters and night shelters for homeless people that are open for beneficiaries of international protection, as well. However, the temporary accommodation shelters are running at full capacities and have long waiting lists to get in, while night shelters are also full and provide 15-20 bedrooms. According to BMSZKI, these conditions are not in line with the needs of refugees who are often severely traumatised, do not know the language – interpreter is not available - and since the institute cannot guarantee the respect of the unity of families.⁷⁸⁴ BMSZKI reported that in 2022 they had no housing programme specifically targeting beneficiaries of international protection. They accommodated 3 Pakistani refugee families in 2022, otherwise their housing provision services concerned beneficiaries of temporary protection.⁷⁸⁵ No report arrived from the BMSZKI concerning 2023 or 2024. In 2025, BMSZKI reported that persons with international protection are rarely accommodated in their shelters.⁷⁸⁶

Next Step Hungary Association also run their housing programme in 2023, reaching 5 people of migratory/refugee background.⁷⁸⁷ The Association sent no updates for 2024.

⁷⁷⁹ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 12 April 2024.

⁷⁸⁰ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 9 March 2026.

⁷⁸¹ Baptist.hu, 'Elkészült a Baptista Integrációs Központ családok átmeneti otthonának új épülete', 12 June 2020, available here.

⁷⁸² Information received from Kalunba Non-Profit Organisation by the HHC on 6 February 2023.

⁷⁸³ BMSZKI, Leaflet, available here.

⁷⁸⁴ Families and couples (apart from a limited number of places regarding the latter) cannot be placed together.

⁷⁸⁵ Information received from BMSZKI by the HHC on 13 February 2023.

⁷⁸⁶ Information received from BMSZKI by the HHC on 20 February 2026.

⁷⁸⁷ Information received from the Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 2 May 2024.

Issues in accessing the housing market

Due to the lack of apartments on the market, the rental fees are too high to be affordable for beneficiaries who have just been granted status. In addition to this struggle, landlords usually prefer to rent out their apartments to Hungarians rather than foreign citizens.⁷⁸⁸

A further problem regarding housing is the difficulty of getting an address card. Landlords usually require prospective tenants to have an address card, which is impossible to obtain, unless someone has a contract and the confirmation statement of the owner of the flat that they can use the address as their permanent address. On the other hand, landlords in general are not willing to give their approval to tenants and allow them to register the leased property's address as their permanent residence.⁷⁸⁹

In the autumn of 2024, the JRS assessed the needs of their beneficiaries. They found that respondents consistently indicated a need for financial support (87%), food (64%) and long-term accommodation (49%). Rapid price increases have exacerbated the financial burden on refugees, making it difficult to afford basic necessities. The importance of health services has increased compared to 2023, which also highlights the increasing number of vulnerable people with serious health problems among JRS beneficiaries. They found that refugees from Ukraine are increasingly open to discussing mental health challenges and seeking psychological support. The responses revealed that the housing situation of Ukrainian refugees in Hungary remained precarious, exacerbated by high rents and limited supply.⁷⁹⁰ Despite ongoing efforts by NGOs and support agencies, there is a lack of affordable and stable housing options. Long-term housing, meanwhile, was among the top five most pressing issues for respondents, with older respondents reporting a greater need for stable housing, as did single mothers. Housing stability remained a concern, with more than half of respondents unsure how long they would be able to stay in their current place of residence. Discrimination experienced by clients in their search for housing remained a recurring issue.⁷⁹¹

According to the JRS, most of the funding is still focused on supporting people arriving in Hungary from Ukraine, ignoring the needs of people arriving from other countries. Despite all the efforts of their organization, it is difficult to offer them meaningful support due to a lack of resources, even if their needs are the same as those of Ukrainian refugees.⁷⁹²

E. Employment and education

1. Access to the labour market

Refugees and persons with subsidiary protection have access to the labour market under the same conditions as Hungarian citizens.⁷⁹³ This means that no labour market test is applicable regarding their employment. There is only one provision established in the Asylum Act, which makes a difference as to beneficiaries of international protection. Accordingly, beneficiaries may not take up a job or hold an office or position, which is required by law to be fulfilled by a Hungarian citizen.⁷⁹⁴ Typically, the positions of public servant and civil servant demand Hungarian citizenship.

There is no statistical data available on the employment of beneficiaries,⁷⁹⁵ thus the effectiveness of their access to employment in practice cannot be measured. In practice, the main obstacle beneficiaries of ⁷⁸⁸ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁷⁸⁹ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁷⁹⁰ For more information, see AIDA, Country report: Hungary – Annexe on Temporary Protection, 2024 Update, available here.

⁷⁹¹ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 28 February 2025.

⁷⁹² Information received from JRS by the HHC on 9 March 2026.

⁷⁹³ See the general right to equal treatment in Section 10(1) Asylum Act.

⁷⁹⁴ Section 10(2)(b) Asylum Act.

⁷⁹⁵ Information provided by the Employment Department of Budapest Government Office, 14 March 2018.

international protection have upon job search is Hungarian language. This has been confirmed by Next Step Hungary Association, an NGO supporting integration of people with migratory/refugee background, concerning 2023⁷⁹⁶ According to the Next Step, language barriers and financial instability prevent people from accessing expensive courses or vocational trainings and the labour market, and sometimes also the lack of knowledge on academic certificate recognition.⁷⁹⁷ There is no state support targeting specifically people with international protection to obtain employment. Beneficiaries of international protection are entitled to use the services of the National Labour Office under the same condition as Hungarian citizens, even though it is hard to find an English-speaking case officer. According to the statistics available, in 2024, 11 refugees and 3 beneficiaries of temporary protection were registered as job-seekers.⁷⁹⁸ In 2025, 15 refugees, 2 persons with subsidiary protection and 6 beneficiaries of temporary protection were registered as job-seekers.⁷⁹⁹

In practice, having recognised that the absence of social capital, the knowledge of local language and the cultural differences pose major challenges for beneficiaries seeking jobs, such as regarding housing (see Housing), NGOs provide some assistance in this sector as well. However, their activities are limited to Budapest.

Even though the 'MentoHRing' programme of the Menedék Association⁸⁰⁰ was terminated with the end of the AMIF funding in June 2018, the organisation still had certain activities facilitating the job search of beneficiaries of international protection in 2020. In the absence of state information provision on the legislative changes concerning labour law introduced in response to the pandemic, the Menedék Association provided information and counselling to beneficiaries of international protection in 2022 too. In addition, Menedék Association ran a project, Skills for refugees in 2023 together with IKEA. The initiative aims at helping beneficiaries of international protection gain new skills and work experience, so that they have a better chance of finding a job, either in IKEA stores and units or in other companies. In this way, they have better opportunities to integrate into their new host communities.⁸⁰¹ In 2024, as well as in 2025, Menedék within their complex integration program continued helping foreigners living in Hungary, including beneficiaries of international protection and asylum seekers, to find employment.⁸⁰²

In 2023, Workconnect, the labour market office of the Evangelical Lutheran Diakonia, was established, where, in addition to personalised job search and job placement services for beneficiaries of international protection, the charity provides targeted labour market counselling. Diakonia states 95% of their clients were Ukrainian temporary protection beneficiaries, but 6 persons enjoying international protection also used their service.⁸⁰³ Their services continued in 2024 and 2025.

Kalunba has a coaching programme which, similarly to previous years, supported beneficiaries of international protection. The programme entails job market counselling, mediation and mentoring. It ran in 2022.⁸⁰⁴ No report arrived from Kalunba regarding 2023, 2024 nor 2025.

Reportedly, due to language and cultural barriers access to employment is essentially limited to certain sectors such as physical labour (as working in construction, storage etc.) and hospitality. The average working hours are 12 hours per day (although in many cases people are provided only with a part-time contract), which renders integration of people with international protection status more difficult since they have no free time besides work. Next Step Hungary Association also points out that there are not enough ⁷⁹⁶ Information received from Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 2 May 2024.

⁷⁹⁷ Information received from Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 19 February 2026.

⁷⁹⁸ Information received from the Ministry of national economy, 12 February 2025.

⁷⁹⁹ Information received from the Ministry of national economy, 19 March 2026.

⁸⁰⁰ See the programme here.

⁸⁰¹ Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 28 February 2023. See Menedék, 'Skills for Refugees', available here.

⁸⁰² Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 26 February 2025 and 1 February 2026.

⁸⁰³ Information received from the Evangelical Lutheran Diakonia by the HHC on 24 February 2024.

⁸⁰⁴ Information received from Kalunba Non-Profit Association by the HHC on 6 February 2023.

institutions carrying out skill validation/recognition, therefore, hindering the labour market access of well-experienced beneficiaries.⁸⁰⁵

Pursuant to Section 9(2) of Act C of 2001 on the Recognition of Foreign Certificates and Diplomas, the proceeding authority (the Hungarian Equivalence and Information Centre operating within the framework of the Educational authority) shall decide in the procedure for recognizing the level of qualification within 45 days from the day following the receipt of the application, and in the procedure for recognizing professional qualifications within a further 75 days. The procedure requires the attachment of a certified translation of certificates and diplomas, which costs a significant amount of money, which beneficiaries of international protection often cannot afford, and the recognition procedure is also subject to a fee. The recognition of secondary vocational qualifications is generally within the competence of the Pest County Government Office or the National Hospital Directorate General. In the case of those granted international protection, the problem is that in many cases they do not have documents (diplomas, certificates) issued in their country of origin. If they do, it may be difficult for the authority conducting the recognition procedure to contact the educational institution operating in the country of origin. In addition, it often happens that they have not obtained a formal vocational qualification in their country of origin/previous residence either.⁸⁰⁶

According to the JRS experience and their 2024 needs assessment data, financial support remains the greatest need (87%), as even those with jobs continue to struggle with financial difficulties. The primary obstacle to employment for refugees living in Budapest is the lack of knowledge of the Hungarian language, which affected nearly half of the respondents. The need to care for household members, limited access to childcare services, and the lack of decent job opportunities also represented significant obstacles.⁸⁰⁷

In 2025, the HHC became aware of the problem, that the banks refused to open bank accounts of refugees from Russia or even closed their already existing bank accounts. The reason given was that in order to have a bank account, the residence permit is necessary, but persons with international protection status in Hungary do not receive residence permits.

2. Access to education and vocational training

In the case of unaccompanied children, the law provides for the right to education. The reception centre and guardians struggle with actively assisting children to enrol in schools and helping them to attend classes. Unaccompanied children who have been granted international protection are enrolled in the mainstream Hungarian child welfare system and the same rules apply to them as to all other children, which is the right to education.⁸⁰⁸

Education for unaccompanied children is in practice provided by a limited number of public schools in Budapest. Access to effective education remained difficult in the last years.

While all unaccompanied minors in the Children's Home in Fót were enrolled in schools, some complained of the low quality of education in their secondary schools. Schools were not always chosen for students based on their abilities, wishes and potential, but rather on the availability of empty places. There is no official state-funded language learning support for refugee children when entering the school system.⁸⁰⁹ This has been pointed out as a systemic issue by Menedék Association along the enrolment of foreign minors to schools.⁸¹⁰

⁸⁰⁵ Information received from the Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 6 February 2023.

⁸⁰⁶ Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 26 February 2025.

⁸⁰⁷ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 28 February 2025.

⁸⁰⁸ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁸⁰⁹ Wolffhardt et al., The European benchmark for refugee reintegration: A comparative analysis of the National Integration Evaluation Mechanism in 14 EU countries, 2019, here, 141.

⁸¹⁰ Information received from Menedék Association on 1 February 2024 by the HHC.

Unaccompanied children receiving protection status before they turn 18 are eligible to aftercare services that grant them the right to free education and housing. Depending on their individual circumstances and the level of education they are receiving, they may benefit from aftercare until they turn 30.⁸¹¹ On 31 December 2023, 11 beneficiaries of international protection received aftercare services from the Károlyi István Children's Home in Fót. There were 3 children with international protection registered in Fót on 31 December 2023.⁸¹² On 31 December 2023, 5 beneficiaries of international protection received aftercare services in Fót.⁸¹³ On 31 December 2025, 5 beneficiaries of international protection received aftercare services in Fót.⁸¹⁴

In the case of children with families, the situation is also difficult. Hardly any school is ready to offer the specialised care and support refugee children need. The growing anti-refugee sentiment may make it even more difficult for schools to admit children receiving international protection for fear of facing a backlash from parents or donors.⁸¹⁵

Both unaccompanied children and children staying with their families are provided on a weekly basis assistance in their integration to the education system by the Jesuit Refugee Service and cooperating volunteers. They are helped with Hungarian language skill development as well as with specific school subjects. The teaching of Hungarian as a foreign language was still one of the main elements of the Jesuits activities in 2023. In addition to adults, in 2023 they worked with 23 secondary school age students on a weekly basis, studying in 7 different schools in Budapest. Monitoring the progress of enrolled students was also one of their core services, as was intensive contacting with all the actors involved. Two camps for secondary school pupils were organised by the Jesuits during the summer of 2023 (drama and English camps, the latter in two groups by language level) In Budapest, they also organised other leisure activities, teacher workshops and a teachers' club to support teachers in 2023. The charity organisation offered weekly Hungarian language as a foreign language classes and informal supportive conversations for unaccompanied minor children in the Károlyi István Children's Home in Fót.⁸¹⁶ Kalunba also provided an afterschool programme for children and young adults in 2020 and 2021 and 2022 entailing correspondence with the schools and the educational support of the children. No report was received from Kalunba since 2023.

The teaching of Hungarian as a foreign language was still one of the main elements of the JRS activities in 2024. In addition to adults, they worked with 35 primary and secondary school age students on a weekly basis, studying in 5 different schools in Budapest. Monitoring the progress of enrolled students was also one of their core services, as was maintaining intensive contact with all stakeholders. In the summer of 2024, they organized 5 multi-day daycare sessions, two of which focused on the English language, one focused on theatre and drama, and two were for the youngest, with a story week and a series of school preparation sessions. Compared to 2023, the age distribution was wider; in 2024, they welcomed not only secondary school students, but also primary school students in addition to kindergarten students. They also continued the teacher clubs launched in 2023, which support teachers who work with children with refugee and migrant backgrounds. The charity organisation offered weekly Hungarian language as a foreign language classes and informal supportive conversations for unaccompanied minor children in the Károlyi István Children's Home in Fót.⁸¹⁷

According to the JRS, educational institutions have a fundamentally inclusive and supportive attitude towards their clients, although they often face significant capacity shortages. Typically, places are available in Hungarian kindergartens, but enrolment challenges remain, mainly due to underfunding and limited resources for language support. Schools still do not have a package of teaching materials and tools that would enable the gradual acquisition of the Hungarian language and local curriculum, which

⁸¹¹ Section 77(1)(d), (2) and Section 93 Child Protection Act.

⁸¹² Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 20 February 2024.

⁸¹³ Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 28 February 2025.

⁸¹⁴ Information provided by the Directorate-General for Social Affairs and Child Protection on 28 January 2026.

⁸¹⁵ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁸¹⁶ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 3 March 2023 and on 12 April 2024.

⁸¹⁷ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 28 February 2025.

would also support the integration of non-Hungarian speaking children into school. Institutions are not well equipped to deal with very special needs - this concerns autistic and mentally disabled school-age children, whose placement is not only a challenge for the Hungarian system, but in their case the lack of Hungarian language skills is an additional aggravating circumstance. The needs assessment also highlighted that children with disabilities face additional challenges. The slowness of diagnostic processes - and sometimes high fees - limits timely access to special education and health resources, and the lack of recognition of disability further complicates access to support. Parents reported a lack of resources for children with special education and upbringing needs, such as personalized materials and services, both in schools and other institutions. There are few classes specifically designed for children with neuro-atypical development in schools, and if they exist, they are mostly inaccessible to refugee/asylum-seeking children. For them, private paid solutions are generally out of the question. The secondary school admission system makes it difficult to continue children's education appropriately and there is no alternative. There is no mandatory language support available to third-country students not coming from Ukraine. In many places, there is no distinction in the level of expectations from Hungarian-speaking students, so continuous failure leads to further lagging behind, lack of motivation, and school stress. The 2024 needs assessment showed that education remains a significant concern among refugee families in Hungary. The phenomenon of students studying exclusively through distance learning or combining distance and face-to-face education continued in 2024. Occasional bullying further complicates the children's school experience.⁸¹⁸

In the 2023/2024 school year, 401 children attended kindergarten, 1,805 elementary school and 2018 secondary school. In the 2025/2026 school year, 379 children are attending kindergarten, 1,812 elementary school and 154 secondary school.⁸¹⁹

Higher and adult education

Beneficiaries of international protection have the same rights to access education as Hungarian nationals.⁸²⁰ Nevertheless, there are administrative barriers regarding higher education to which beneficiaries are exposed. On the one hand, beneficiaries face problems regarding the obligation to provide proof of their secondary education upon accessing university, since they cannot contact their country of origin in case, they do not have the necessary certificates. According to Hungarian law, the head of the university might give exemption from such administrative obligations to refugees.⁸²¹ Nevertheless, there is no protocol to follow in this regard. In 2019, Wolffhardt et al. wrote the following: 'Barriers that negatively impact on access to the higher (upper secondary, postsecondary/tertiary) levels of education are more widespread and exist in [...] Hungary, [...]. Mostly, they relate to proving previous stages of educational attainment without authorities regulating the equivalence procedures or proceedings in the absence of proper documentation.'⁸²²

Menedék Association reports that when beneficiaries of international protection submit their certificates to the national authorities for national recognition, the proceeding authority sometimes contacts the competent institution in the country of origin, thereby potentially exposing beneficiaries to the authorities of the persecuting country of origin.⁸²³ The HHC is aware of a positive example from 2020. A beneficiary of international protection fleeing their country of origin during their academic years had no official proof of secondary school graduation in their home. The university accepted an official certificate issued by the NDGAP stating that their highest education is secondary school as a replacement for their secondary school certificate.

⁸¹⁸ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 28 February 2025.

⁸¹⁹ Information received from the Educational authority by the HHC on 16 March 2026. The Office does not run a segregated statistics, so these numbers reflect the number of beneficiaries of international protection, asylum seekers and holders of temporary protection.

⁸²⁰ Section 39(1)(b) of Act CCIV of 2011 on Higher Education.

⁸²¹ Section 4(2) of Act C of 2001.

⁸²² Wolffhardt et al., The European benchmark for refugee reintegration: A comparative analysis of the National Integration Evaluation Mechanism in 14 EU countries, 2019, 139.

⁸²³ Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 28 February 2023.

Besides the administrative hurdles, the comprehensive study of the Menedék Association on 'Opportunities for supporting the higher education studies of beneficiaries of international protection' from 2021, identified further barriers for beneficiaries of international protection regarding access to education, namely the lack of Hungarian language skills and of state financial support programmes.⁸²⁴ Additionally, the absence of 'catch-up courses' for beneficiaries of international protection and the low number of secondary education institutions makes it difficult for refugees to access higher education. The results of the study published by the Menedék Association as well as experiences of refugees with regard to access to education was discussed at a panel discussion organised by the She4She and the HHC on 20 June 2021.⁸²⁵ Menedék Association furthermore points out that one of the factors hindering beneficiaries of international protection in accessing higher and adult education is that in many cases they do not have documents (diplomas, degrees) issued in their country of origin. If they do and they submit the documents for recognition in Hungary, the determining authority sometimes contacts the educational institution in the country of origin.⁸²⁶ Menedék Association reported that similar problems continued to exist in 2024 and 2025.⁸²⁷

Young adults and adults have the same access to vocational trainings as nationals. However, access is hindered by the fact that the trainings granted by law are only available in Hungarian, thereby the specific needs of beneficiaries of international protection as a vulnerable group are not taken into account.⁸²⁸ On the other hand, beneficiaries of international protection face no administrative obstacles in accessing such trainings.⁸²⁹

Young adults and adults have access only to a limited number of courses offered by NGOs. Kalunba offered Hungarian language course free of charge for refugees who have just been granted status. The organisation provided supervision for children of the parents attending the language class. The Jesuit Refugee Service with the help of volunteers also provided Hungarian language coaching for adults throughout 2020 - 2025.⁸³⁰

Next Step Hungary Association (formerly MigHelp) is an adult education institute. According to their website,⁸³¹ the Association offers among others Hungarian, German, French, and English classes, computer training, classes in vehicle driving, and provides child day care for migrants and refugees. Their programmes are free of charge although according to the organisation, spoken English on an intermediate level is a precondition to attend their courses. The Kids' Coding courses were attended and completed by 1 refugee. The organisation attributes the low number of enrolled people with international protection status to the restrictive asylum policies implemented by the Hungarian government.⁸³² In 2025 the Next Step organised a Web development course, category B driving course, Hungarian language course, Forklift operator course, beading workshop, coding and robotics workshop for potential teachers and coding.⁸³³

Next Step Hungary Association has a practice of prioritizing vulnerable migrants coming from countries of concern whenever possible. On average, approximately 50-60% of the Association's courses and activities are attended by vulnerable migrants. Next Step noted that due to irregular working hours, some of the enrolled people with international protection status were unable to fully commit to starting and/or ⁸²⁴ See NIEM, Opportunities for Supporting Higher Education Studies of Beneficiaries of International Protection in Hungary, Policy Brief 8, 2021, available here.

⁸²⁵ The recording of the discussion is available here: HHC, 'Panel discussion about refugee women's access to education', 2 July 2021, available here.

⁸²⁶ Information provided by Menedék Association, 1 February 2024.

⁸²⁷ Information provided by Menedék Association, 26 February 2025 and 1 February 2026.

⁸²⁸ Wolffhardt et al., The European benchmark for refugee reintegration: A comparative analysis of the National Integration Evaluation Mechanism in 14 EU countries, 2019, here, 113.

⁸²⁹ Wolffhardt et al., The European benchmark for refugee reintegration: A comparative analysis of the National Integration Evaluation Mechanism in 14 EU countries, 2019, here, 114.

⁸³⁰ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 3 March 2023, 12 April 2024, 28 February 2025 and 9 March 2026.

⁸³¹ See: Next Step Hungary Association, available here.

⁸³² For more information, see previous updates of AIDA, country report: Hungary, available here.

⁸³³ Information received from Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 19 February 2026.

completing courses that were much needed to improve their employment status.⁸³⁴ As for 2023, the Association reports that their Hungarian Language Courses were attended by 127 participants, their robotics and coding training for teachers, their robotics and coding courses for children by 168 participants, their B category Drivers' License course by 11 participants, their hand craft session by 65 persons, their education workshops on the Hungarian education system and the housing market in Budapest by 80 participants, their summer camps for children on robotics by 43 participants. The Association stated that around 65% of the participants are of Ukrainian background, while the remaining people are – supposedly – of other migratory or refugee background.⁸³⁵ Next Step Hungary did not provide updated reports for the year 2024. For 2025, the Next Step reported that 20 people with international protection status attended their courses, out of which 14 completed them.⁸³⁶

The Central European University relaunched its Open Learning Initiative (OLive) programme in 2021⁸³⁷ specifically targeting asylum seekers and refugees in the autumn semester of 2020 after it was on a pause for two years due to the ambiguity of the so-called 'Stop Soros' legislation package,⁸³⁸ which came into force in August 2018 levying a 25% tax on financing or activities 'supporting' immigration or 'promoting' migration in Hungary. Courses were offered throughout 2021-2022. It was announced, however, that the programme is going to be terminated in 2023.⁸³⁹ In 2024, OLive resumed its activities, but as an Association registered under Hungarian law.⁸⁴⁰ OLive is still running in 2025 as well. The European Commission in its 2024 rule of law report highlighted Hungary's failure to repeal legislation 'in particular the immigration tax'⁸⁴¹ and ECtHR communicated a case in which the Open Society Institute Budapest Foundation is challenging this act.⁸⁴²

F. Social welfare

In general, the law provides access to social welfare for beneficiaries of international protection and does not make any distinction between refugees and subsidiary protection beneficiaries.⁸⁴³ Therefore, beneficiaries of international protection are entitled to attendance to persons in active and retired age, limited public health care and unemployment benefit, amongst other entitlements e.g. family allowances, sickness and maternity benefits.⁸⁴⁴ Social welfare is provided to beneficiaries under the same conditions and on the same level as for nationals.

Local governments usually limit housing application and allocation systems to long-term local residents.⁸⁴⁵ Such conditions certainly present difficulties for beneficiaries of international protection who have just received protection. Furthermore, the job seeker benefit requires at least 365 days of coverage (being employed or self-employed) in the last three years which is hardly the case for beneficiaries of international protection right after being granted international protection status. Social assistance is provided by either the competent district government office or the local governments.

⁸³⁴ Information received from Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 6 February 2023.

⁸³⁵ Information received from Next Step Hungary Association on 2 May 2024.

⁸³⁶ Information received from Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 19 February 2026.

⁸³⁷ See here.

⁸³⁸ HHC, Criminalisation and Taxation – The summary of legal amendments adopted in the summer of 2018 to intimidate human rights defenders in Hungary, 25 September 2018, available here.

⁸³⁹ MÉRCE: Megszüntetné a CEU a menekültek népszerű oktatási programját, 4 February 2023, available in Hungarian here.

⁸⁴⁰ OLive, OLive Weekend Program Budapest, available here

⁸⁴¹ EC, 2024 Rule of Law Report – Country chapter on the rule of law situation in Hungary, SWD(2024) 817 Final, 24 July 2024, available here.

⁸⁴² The Open Society Institute Budapest Foundation v. Hungary, Application No. 44928/19, available here.

⁸⁴³ Ministry of Human Resources, Tájékoztató a szociális ellátásokról, 2017, available in Hungarian here.

⁸⁴⁴ For a summary, see US Social Security Administration, Social Security Programs Throughout the World: Europe 2018, September 2018, available here.

⁸⁴⁵ Pósfai, Zs., Szabó, L., Policy Analysis and Proposal for the Improvement of the Housing of Beneficiaries of International Protection in Hungary, Social Integration of Beneficiaries of International Protection in Hungary – NIEM Policy Briefs, Institute of Public Affairs (Poland) and Menedék – Hungarian Association for Migrants, 2021, available here, p. 6.

As to managing social welfare issues, difficulties mainly stem from the general slowness and tardiness of the administration system and from the language barriers owing to the lack of interpreter provided to refugees or persons with subsidiary protection at place.

Due to the COVID-19 pandemic, many became unemployed (see section on Access to the labour market). The unemployment benefit is available for a maximum of 90 days (equals to the amount of 60% of the last payment). The application form for unemployment benefit, available only in Hungarian, is not easy to fill in, therefore people in need must have requested the help of NGOs, such as Kalunba.

G. Health care

According to the Hungarian Health Act,⁸⁴⁶ beneficiaries of international protection fall under the same category as Hungarian nationals. However, for the first 6 months after granting of status, they are entitled to health services under the same conditions as asylum seekers. Therefore, the asylum authority funds the health care expenses of the beneficiaries for 6 months, if they are in need and cannot establish other health insurance format. However, as per the Menedék Association's experience, in practice this is not always accepted by the health care service providers. Menedék Association points out that the fact that beneficiaries of international protection cannot obtain their social security cards within 6 months after receiving their statuses still posed a difficulty in accessing health care services as providers were not aware of the relating legislation and of the fact that these beneficiaries are entitled to be provided.⁸⁴⁷ The Evangelical Lutheran Church (Diakonia) also reported of such difficulties occurring in 2023.⁸⁴⁸ Diakonia did not provide such information for 2024 or 2025.

Since 2018 the card is delivered by post which makes it longer than receiving it in person and thus extends the duration of the procedure and delays the start of the employment. As per the Evangelical Lutheran Church, since the issuance of the health insurance card lasts so long, it is not requested immediately upon the granting of the status in Városszabadi, but only after the person establishes their domicile out of the reception facility. The possibility to obtain the health insurance card is further hindered by the difficulties arising with regard to the issuance of the identification and address card (see section above on Residence permit), as without those the application for the health insurance card cannot be initiated.

In practice, similarly to asylum seekers (see Health Care), beneficiaries of international protection face significant barriers regarding access to health care. Barriers mainly stem from language difficulties, i.e. the lack of interpreters or the lack of basic English spoken by the doctor. NGOs' assistance is the only available solution for that. The obstacles, furthermore, might stem from administrative difficulties or simply from lack of awareness of the law.⁸⁴⁹

The Cordelia Foundation is the only organisation that specifically focuses on bio-psycho-social support provision among people with international status (see above under Reception Conditions). Next Step reported in 2021 that people with international protection status and other vulnerable migrants with traumatic experiences might have more significant difficulties concentrating on and fully committing to long-term and more complex courses organised by the NGO. Therefore, Next Step offered mental health assistance to its community members throughout 2022 too.⁸⁵⁰ No similar activity was reported for 2023, 2024 or 2025.

JRS reports that their beneficiaries reported limited and inconsistent access to health services. For example, what constitutes "emergency care" often appears to be fluid and largely depends on the discretion or judgement of individual health providers. Financial burdens and long waiting times are ⁸⁴⁶ Section 3(s) Act CLIV of 1997 on Health Care.

⁸⁴⁷ Information received from Menedék Association by the HHC on 28 February 2023.

⁸⁴⁸ Information received from the Evangelical Lutheran Diakonia by the HHC on 24 February 2024.

⁸⁴⁹ Practice-informed observation by the HHC, January 2024.

⁸⁵⁰ Information received from Next Step Hungary Association by the HHC on 6 February 2023.

particularly severe for those seeking treatment for chronic conditions such as cancer. Language barriers remain a challenge for many, with many refugees relying on interpreters for medical consultations, but telephone translation services are often inadequate or unavailable. Another difficulty during medical consultations is that many doctors, despite the fact that them and the patient speak excellent English, are unwilling to communicate with the patient in this common language during a treatment or examination.⁸⁵¹

⁸⁵¹ Information received from the Jesuit Refugee Service by the HHC on 28 February 2025.

ANNEX I - Transposition of the CEAS in national legislation

Directives and other CEAS measures transposed into national legislation

Directive	Deadline for transposition	Date of transposition	Official title of corresponding act	Web Link
Directive 2011/95/EU Recast Qualification Directive	21 December 2013		Act LXXX of 2007 on Asylum	https://bit.ly/32tlEHb (HU)
Directive 2013/32/EU Recast Asylum Procedures Directive	20 July 2015		Act LXXX of 2007 on Asylum	https://bit.ly/32tlEHb (HU)
Directive 2013/33/EU Recast Reception Conditions Directive	20 July 2015		Act LXXX of 2007 on Asylum	https://bit.ly/32tlEHb (HU)
Regulation (EU) No 604/2013 Dublin III Regulation	Directly applicable 20 July 2013		Act LXXX of 2007 on Asylum	https://bit.ly/32tlEHb (HU)

The following section contains an overview of incompatibilities in transposition and implementation of the CEAS in national legislation:

Directive	Article	Domestic law provision	Non-transposition or incorrect transposition
Directive 2011/95/EU Recast Qualification Directive	4, 10(3), 14(4)(a) and 17(1)(d)		The withdrawal of refugee status or subsidiary protection or exclusion from such status is based on an unreasoned decision that is based solely on an automatic reference to a binding position of a special authority establishing a threat to national security and which is also without justification and which does not allow for derogations. The automatic rulings of the Hungarian asylum authority when delivering exclusion decisions on national security grounds violates the requirement of individual assessment, including the examination of proportionality.
	14(4)(b), 14(5), 17(1)(b)	8(5) Asylum Act	Persons committing a '(particularly) serious crime' can be excluded from both types of international protection based on the same provision (Section 8(5) of the Asylum Act). This is contrary to the Qualification Directive. The latter requires the crime to be 'particularly serious' (Article 14(4)(b) read together with Article 14(5)) with regard to refugees, and to be 'serious' with regard to beneficiaries of subsidiary protection status (Article 17(1)(b)). The condition 'to constitute a danger to the community' from Article 14(4)(b) of the Qualification Directive is not transposed as a cumulative condition in Section 8(5) of the Asylum Act.
	14(6)	8(4), 8(5) Asylum Act	The rights enshrined in Article 14(6) of the Qualification Directive are not provided to those refugees who are excluded from protection based on Section 8(4) and 8(5) of the Asylum Act.
Directive 2013/32/EU Recast Asylum Procedures Directive	4		Due to the binding nature of the security agencies' opinion over the asylum authority, a decision on an exclusion is ultimately made by the security agencies. This diverges from the requirement that the determining authority is responsible for the examination of the recognition, refusal or withdrawal of international protection.
	4(3)		According to Article 4(3), Member States shall ensure that the personnel of the determining authority are properly trained and persons interviewing applicants shall also have acquired general knowledge of problems, which could adversely affect the applicants' ability to be interviewed, such as indications that the applicant may have been tortured in the past. No similar provision could be located in the Hungarian transposing measures (paras 1.2.7.2 and 1.2.8.2 of Joint order No. 9/2010 of the Minister of the Interior and the Minister of Public Administration and Justice).

6(1), 6(2) and 9			EU law obliges Hungary to ensure that every person in need of international protection has effective access to the asylum procedure, including the opportunity to properly communicate with the competent authorities and to present the relevant facts of their case. EU law also provides that asylum seekers should – as a general rule with very strict exceptions – be provided with the right to stay in the Member State’s territory pending a decision by the competent asylum authority. Under the amended Asylum Act and the Act on State Border, the Hungarian police automatically pushes out from Hungarian territory any irregular migrant apprehended anywhere on the territory, regardless of eventual protection needs or vulnerabilities, denying any opportunity to file an asylum claim. Finally, the new asylum system introduced by Transitional Act (now under Act L of 2025), by which almost no-one can apply for asylum in Hungary (not even if legally present) is clearly against Article 6 of the Asylum Procedures Directive.
6(1) second sub-paragraph		Section 35(1)(b) Asylum Act	The provision foresees that registration shall take place ‘no later than six working days’ after the application is made, if the application for international protection is made to other authorities which are likely to receive such applications, but not competent for the registration under national law. As referred to in Section 35(1)(b) Asylum Act, if an application for international protection was submitted to any other authority, asylum procedure shall commence from the registration of the application by the refugee authority. However, no provision regarding the timeframe of the registration by the refugee authority can be located in the Hungarian implementing measures. Besides, due to the pushback legislation and new asylum system introduced in Transitional Act, the applications are not accepted at all.
8(2)			Access of NGOs to detention centres is hindered.
10(3)(d)		Section 78A Asylum Decree	As no criteria are set out in law or established by administrative practice indicating when a medical examination for the purpose of drafting a medical report should be carried out ex officio by the asylum authority, it seems that the newly introduced amendment on this issue could be interpreted that it is up to the applicant to undergo a medical examination on their own initiative and at their own expense in order to investigate any signs of previous persecution or serious ill-treatment.
11(2)			When an applicant is considered to be a threat to national security or public order by a Security agency, who suggests his/her exclusion, such an opinion contains no reasoning and the opinion is binding for the NDGAP.

	12(1)(d) and 12(2)		The applicant neither his/her representatives have access to the information (not even the summary), why the applicant is considered a threat to nat. security or public order.
	23(1)(b)		The applicants who are declared to be a risk to national security or public order do not get access to not even an essence of the data based on which the risk is established, as the data is classified. The national law does not guarantee that their rights of defence are respected.
	24(1)	Section 3 Asylum Decree	The Directive provision requires Member States to assess within a 'reasonable period of time' after an application for international protection is made whether the applicant is an applicant in need of special procedural guarantees. The Hungarian law provides that the refugee authority shall assess whether the person seeking international protection is in need of special treatment or not. However, there is no formal identification mechanism in place and the 'reasonable period of time' is not implemented by the Hungarian law. Therefore, it is not exactly clear when the examination process is carried out by the refugee authority and without this time guarantee, an asylum seeker belonging to vulnerable group may lose the ability to benefit from the rights and comply with the obligations provided for an 'applicant in need of special procedural guarantees'. Furthermore, there is a huge concern on how the refugee authority examines the applicant as the employees of the refugee authority are neither doctors nor psychologists (assumed based on Section 3(2) Asylum Decree). Hence, it is not clear how and in what basis they can make judgment on whether an applicant is a victim of torture, rape or suffered from any other grave form of psychological, physical or sexual violence. Based on Section 3(2) of the Asylum Decree, the refugee authority 'may' use the assistance of a medical or psychological expert, therefore it is clear that people working for the refugee authority are not medical or psychological experts.
	24(3), first sub-paragraph	Section 29 Asylum Act; Sections 33(1) and 35(4) Asylum Decree	These provisions conform to Article 24(3), first subparagraph of the Directive. However, it should be mentioned that the Hungarian transposing provision does not determine detailed rules on how and in what form adequate support shall be provided to the persons in need of special treatment. The Hungarian law only ensures separated accommodation in the reception centre for persons seeking international protection in cases justified by their specific individual situation as referred to in Article 33(1) of the Decree.
	24(4)		The transposition of Article 24(4) into Hungarian law could not be located.
	25(3)(a)-(b)		The transposition of this provision into Hungarian law could not be located.

	25(5), first sub-paragraph	Section 44(1) Asylum Act; Section 78(1)-(2) Asylum Decree	Based on Section 78(2) of the Asylum Decree, if the person seeking recognition debates the outcome of the expert examination regarding their age, they may request a new expert to be designated by the refugee authority. In case of contradicting expert opinions, it is up to the refugee authority to decide whether to appoint another expert or to determine which expert opinion shall be used regarding the age of the applicant. This provision is not in alignment to the Directive provision as if Member States still have doubts concerning the applicant's age after the age assessment, they shall assume that the applicant is a minor.
	25(5), second sub-paragraph		The transposition of this provision into Hungarian law could not be located. In practice, the age assessment methods are definitely not adequate.
	25(6)	Sections 51(7) 71/A(7) Asylum Act	Article 51(7) of the Asylum Act incorrectly transposes the provision, as Hungarian law does not exclude unaccompanied minors from the scope of accelerated procedure, while the provision of the Directive permits unaccompanied minors to be channelled into an accelerated procedure only in cases specified in Article 25(6)(a)(i)-(iii).
	28(2)		The Hungarian legislation does not provide for the option of re-opening a discontinued case, as foreseen in Article 28(2) of the recast Asylum Procedures Directive. An asylum seeker is obliged to submit a new application, which is considered a subsequent application as per Article 40 of the recast Asylum Procedures Directive.
	28(3)		See Article 18(2) Dublin III Regulation further below.

	37-38	Sections 51(2)(e), 51(4)(a)-(b) Asylum Act; Sections 1-2 Government Decree 191/2015	These have not been transposed into Hungarian law in a conform manner, due to the following reasons: <ul style="list-style-type: none"> - According to Sections 1-2 Government Decree 191/2015 (entering into force on 1 August 2015), candidate states of the European Union qualify as a safe country of origin and as a safe third country. The Hungarian government adopted a national list of safe third countries, which includes – among others – Serbia (candidate states of the European Union). The automatic reliance on this Decree and inadequate assessment of whether Serbia is a safe third country was found in violation of Article 3 of the Convention in Ilias and Ahmed v. Hungary case. - Hungary has not laid down rules in its national law on the methodology by which the competent authorities may satisfy themselves that a third country may be designated as a safe third country within the meaning of Section 2(i) of the Act on Asylum. Nor is any explanation or justification provided in Government Decree 191/2015 as to how the Government arrived at the conclusion that each country listed qualifies as safe. The criteria listed in Article 38(1) of the recast Asylum Procedures Directive are not applied.
	45(1), 45(3) and 45(5)		When withdrawal is based on the risk to national security or public order, the applicant does not get to know the reasons for such decision.
	46(3)	Section 53(4) Asylum Act	The judge has to take a decision in 8 days on a judicial review request against an inadmissibility decision and in an accelerated procedure. The 8-day deadline for the judge to deliver a decision is insufficient for 'a full and ex nunc examination of both facts and points of law' as prescribed by EU law. Five or six working days are not enough for a judge to obtain crucial evidence (such as digested and translated country information, or a medical/psychological expert opinion) or to arrange a personal hearing with a suitable interpreter. The Hungarian law does not provide any reasoning as to the national security risk allegedly presented by the person concerned. This violates the provisions of the Procedures Directive ensuring the enforcement of the right to an effective remedy and, in particular, the rights of the defence.

	46(5) and (8)	Sections 45(5)-(6) and 53(2) Asylum Act	Based on the Directive provision, Member States shall allow the applicant to remain in the territory pending the outcome of the procedure to rule whether or not the applicant may remain on the territory, laid down in paragraphs 6 and 7 of Article 46 of the Directive. Nonetheless, the Hungarian law does not ensure suspensive effect on the enforcement of the refugee authority's decision (which contains expulsion) as set out in Section 53(2) of the Asylum Act (with the exception of decisions made under Sections 51(2)(e) and 51(7)(h)). According to the GRTCN Act, it is not possible to request a suspensive effect in appeals against expulsion decisions,
Directive 2013/33/EU Recast Reception Conditions Directive	8(2)	Section 31/A(2) Asylum Act	The Asylum Act does not provide the factors that need to be taken into account during the individual assessment of the asylum seeker. No clear criteria can be located in the Asylum Act as regards the individual assessment, therefore it is the sole discretionary power of the refugee authority to detain an applicant instead of using other measures securing availability. Detention orders lack individualisation and alternatives are not assessed automatically.
	8(4)	Sections 2(l), 31/A(2) and 31/H(1) Asylum Act	According to the Directive provision, Member States shall ensure that the rules concerning alternatives to detention are laid down in national law. The Hungarian national law lists the possible alternative measures, however there is a lack of a detailed regulation on the application of alternative measures. Clear criteria for the application of each alternative measure should be laid down in the Asylum Act for the purpose of legal clarity.

	9(1) and (5)	Sections 31/A(6)-(7) and 31/A(8) Asylum Act	According to the Directive provision, an applicant shall be detained only for as short period as possible. Despite this fact, the Asylum Act foresees an excessively long maximum period for the judicial prolongation of detention (60-day interval), so in practice 60 days shall pass until the judicial review of detention regardless of the situation e.g. mental state of the applicant concerned in the detention centre. This 60-day interval cannot be regarded as 'a short period'. Practice so far shows that the asylum authority, for reasons of administrative convenience, automatically requests the court to prolong detention for the maximum period of 60 days. Furthermore, it should be mentioned that asylum detention may last for thirty days in case of a family with minors according to the Hungarian law. The detention of families with children is a form of discrimination on the ground of the family status of the child as detention of unaccompanied/separated asylum-seeking children are prohibited by Hungarian law, whereas the same national law provides a ground for detention of children who are accompanied by a family member. This is contrary to international human rights standards, in particular Article 2(2) of the UN Convention on the Rights of the Child.
	11(1), second sub-paragraph		No regular monitoring and adequate support taking into account vulnerable persons situation is ensured.
	11(5), first sub-paragraph	Section 31/F(1) Asylum Act; Section 36/D(3) Asylum Decree; Section 3(8) Decree 29/2013	The Directive provision requires Member States, where female applicants are detained, to ensure that they are accommodated separately from male applicants, unless the latter are family members and all individuals concerned consent thereto. Nevertheless, the Hungarian law does not require all individuals' concerned consent to accommodate family members together in detention centres, it is automatic.
	19(2)		No regular mental health care is provided in asylum or immigration detention.
	22		There is no official protocol and effective identification mechanism in place to systematically identify torture victims and other vulnerable asylum seekers in the framework of the asylum procedure or when ordering or upholding detention, in breach of the Directive. ⁸⁵²

⁸⁵² In their comments provided in the context of the right of reply to this report received on 25 June 2024, the authorities stated that "Protect questionnaire is completed", however the HHC has never seen this questioned used in practice.

	25(1)		No systematic, specialised and state-funded medical care and monitoring is ensured for victims of torture or other forms of violence in asylum or immigration detention. ⁸⁵³
	25(2)		In breach of Article 25(2) of the recast Reception Conditions Directive, there is no systematic training for those who order, uphold or carry out the detention of asylum seekers regarding the needs of victims of torture, rape or other serious acts of violence.
	28		No appropriate (independent) ⁸⁵⁴ monitoring of reception or detention centres is ensured.
Regulation (EU) No 604/2013 Dublin III Regulation	18(2)		The new asylum system in force does not foresee the possibility to submit an asylum application for a Dublin returnee. The asylum procedure would also not continue, when the returned foreigner had previously received a negative decision and did not seek judicial review. This is problematic when the NDGAP issued a decision in someone's absence. The asylum seeker who is later returned under the Dublin procedure to Hungary will have to submit a subsequent application and present new facts and evidence in support of the application, although according to the new asylum system a Dublin returnee cannot even submit an asylum application in Hungary. According to Article 18(2) of the Dublin III Regulation, the responsible Member State that takes back the applicant whose application has been rejected only at the first instance shall ensure that the applicant has or has had the opportunity to seek an effective remedy against the rejection.
Council Implementing Decision 2022/382	Article 2(2)	Section 2(2) and 2(3) Government Decree 86/2022. (III. 7.)	While the Council Decisions prescribes 'adequate protection' in lieu of applying the Council Decision in case of stateless or third country nationals other than Ukrainians who cannot return to their country of origin but possess a valid long-term residence permit in Ukraine, the Govt. Decree prescribes the task of managing the migratory situation of such individuals under the aliens policing authority as opposed to the asylum authority. Since it is not possible to apply for asylum in Hungary, these persons are only issued a 30-day temporary residence permit on humanitarian grounds. The 30-day temporary residence permit cannot be regarded as any form of protection as it merely allows the holder of the permit to remain on the territory.

⁸⁵³ In their comments provided in the context of the right of reply to this report received on 25 June 2024, the authorities stated that "access to relevant appropriate specialist care for persons with special needs, such as victims of torture, etc. is provided", however in the HHC's view the referral to specialist care only in emergency cases cannot be considered as a systemic medical care provided to victims of torture.

⁸⁵⁴ In their comments provided in the context of the right of reply to this report received on 25 June 2024, the authorities stated that "the Prosecutors' Office conducts checks 2 times a month, and holds hearing for detainees on the circumstances of their detention". In the HHC's view this cannot be considered as independent monitoring.

	Article 2		Third-country nationals without valid travel documents and those who were residing in Ukraine prior to 24 February 2022 and left Ukraine later but then returned, are not granted entry to Hungary. These people, even if eligible, cannot access temporary protection procedure in Hungary. People (including Ukrainians) with an entry ban issued by an EU Member State are also refused entry. The asylum procedure is not accessible to those who cannot apply for TP.
Council Directive 2001/55/EC on minimum standards for giving temporary protection in the event of a mass influx of displaced persons and on measures promoting a balance of efforts between Member States in receiving such persons and bearing the consequences thereof	Article 13	Sections 3 and 18 of Government Decree 104/2022. (III. 12.) on the placement, support and on the measures relating to the people arriving to Hungary owing to the humanitarian catastrophe in the neighbouring country during a state of crisis	Although the Temporary Protection Directive requires that Member States ensure that beneficiaries of temporary protection have access to suitable accommodation, only those may be provided with state-subsidized accommodation whose former residence is in a “war-affected” area of Ukraine, which is directly impacted by military operations. Apart from these, only those could keep their state subsidized accommodation, who have some special vulnerabilities and whose leniency request is accepted by the Government Commissioner. The law does not deal with the situation of those who arrived after the 10 th of July 2024, therefore, they cannot anyhow be provided with state-subsidized accommodation, unless they came from a war affected area. There are no clearly set criterion as to which areas are to be regarded war-affected.