As a result of the "8-kilometre rule" legalising push-backs, the daily limit of people admitted to enter the transit zone (5-5 persons during working days since February 2017), and the changes that entered into force on 28 March 2017¹ the number of registered asylum applications remains low.

In January-November 2017, 1075 asylum-seekers were granted protection (of which 95 were refugee and 980 were "subsidiary protection" statuses) while 2 761 applications were rejected. Recognition rates for those arriving from war- and terror-torn countries remain low.

Country of Origin	All in-merit decisions	Granted Protection	Refused Protection	Rate of Recognition
Afghanistan	1 666	483 (20 refugee, 463 subsidiary protection)	1 183	29 %
Iraq	576	140 (10 refugee, 130 subsidiary protection)	436	24 %

Syria	917	344 (10 refugee, 334 subsidiary protection)	573	38 %

From where?

In January-November 2017, the majority of asylum-seekers (83 %) came from war- and terror-torn countries, including 17 % from Syria, 42 % from Afghanistan, 23 % from Iraq and 0,3 % from Somalia. Of all the applicants, 46 % were children and 36 % women.

Where are they?

Based on the information provided to the HHC by UNHCR, on 27 November 2017 10 asylum-seekers were accommodated at open reception centres and 8 were detained in an asylum detention centre. On 25 November 2017, a total of 477 people were detained in the two transit zones, including 255 children.

Dublin returns

In January-November 2017, 128 asylum-seekers were returned to Hungary under the Dublin Regulation, primarily from Austria (78) and Germany (30). No transfers took place in October.

Returns to Serbia

Police statistics show that in January-July 2017, 140 irregular migrants were officially returned to Serbia. (Neither the refusal of the asylum applications in the transit zones, nor the "legalised" push-backs since 5 July result in such official readmissions). Of the 140 persons readmitted to Serbia, 95 were Serbian citizens. None of the returnees were Syrian, Afghan, Iraqi or Somali citizens.

¹ For further information on the „8-kilometre rule”, please see the HHC's note. According to the changes that entered into force on 28 March 2017, the so-called „8-kilometre rule” is applicable to the entire territory of Hungary when a „state of crisis due to mass migration” is in effect. The government proclaimed a nationwide „state of crisis due to mass migration” and it was in effect in November 2017.
